A. THINKING ABOUT AND DISCUSSING YOUR GOALS AND VALUES

Consumer's Tool Kit for Health Care Advance Planning, by the ABA Commission on Law and Aging is available for free download at: <http://ambar.org/agingtoolkit>.

The Conversation Project, an initiative begun in 2010 by noted columnist Ellen Goodman and a group of her colleagues, concerned media, clergy, and medical professionals, all dedicated to helping people talk about their wishes for end-of-life care. Resources include the Conversation Starter Kit at: www.theconversationproject.org/.

The Go Wish Game, a card game for sorting out values related to end-of-life decision-making, created by the Coda Alliance, a community organization in Santa Clara County, California. An easy, entertaining way to think and talk about what's important to you if you become seriously ill. Available for purchase at: www.codaalliance.org.

PREPARE web site. This free web site is designed to help people and their loved ones prepare for medical decision making by guiding the user through five easily understandable steps of preparation for decision-making with the help of multiple video aids. The result is a printable action plan. Available at: www.prepareforyourcare.org.

Advance Care Planning: Tips from the National Institute on Aging. This tip sheet describes advance care planning and offers some questions to get the process going. It also describes ways to share your wishes with others. Available at: <http://www.nia.nih.gov/health/publication/advance-care-planning>.

B. HELPING YOU DRAFT AN ADVANCE DIRECTIVE

Five Wishes. Published by Aging with Dignity. This nationally used, popular advance directive and guide lets your family and doctors know:

- Who you want to make health care decisions for you when you can't make them.
- The kind of medical treatment you want or don't want.
- How comfortable you want to be.
- How you want people to treat you.

- What you want your loved ones to know.

Available for purchase/download at: www.agingwithdignity.org.

Caring Conversations Workbook, published by the Center for Practical Bioethics, is both a workbook and advance directive. It can be downloaded for free from their web site: <http://practicalbioethics.org/files/caring-conversations/Caring-Conversations.pdf>.

Thinking Ahead: My Way, My Choice, My Life at the End. This workbook and video were created by California advocates with developmental disabilities. However, it is a good tool for anyone who wants a simple, easy-to-follow workbook. Available for free at: <http://coalitionccc.org/tools-resources/people-with-developmental-disabilities>.
