Contents

About the Editor xi
About the Authors xxiii
Dedication and Acknowledgments xxi

CHAPTER ONE
Introduction 1
ROBIN CANTOR AND SHIREEN MEER

New Issues in Product Liability 1
The ERM Context 2
Identifying and Classifying Risks 3
Quantifying Risks 5
Monitoring Risks 6
Strategies for Risk Management 7

CHAPTER TWO
Product Risk Assessment and the Role of Government 9
E. DONALD ELLIOTT AND GAIL CHARNLEY ELLIOTT

Introduction 9
Of Naughty Sayings and Dead Fish 12
The Devil You Know Versus . . . 14
Fiber Versus Fiber 15
Reflections on the Case Studies 17
How Much Information Is Enough? 17
Conflicts of Interest 18
Other Observations 20
Should Product Due Diligence Be More Like Environmental Due Diligence? 20
Should the Government Regulate Private-Product Due Diligence? 23
Conclusion 25
CHAPTER THREE
Current Issues in U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission Section 15 Notification Requirements
ERIC A. RUBEL

Introduction
Duty to Notify CPSC Under CPSA Section 15
Definition of “Consumer Product”
Failure to Comply with a Rule, Regulation, Ban, or Standard Under Any Act Enforced by CPSC
“Substantial Product Hazard”
Factors to Consider
Relevance of Voluntary and Mandatory Standards
Non-U.S. Information
“Unreasonable Risk of Serious Injury or Death”
Timing of the Reporting Obligation
Who Must Notify CPSC Under Section 15 and What to Report
Confidentiality
Routes to a Recall
Preliminary Determination Process
Fast Track Program
Civil Penalties for Late Reporting
Factors in Size of Penalty
Statutory Factors
Additional Factors
Civil Penalty Case Study
Civil Penalty Data
Criminal Penalties for Section 15 Violations
The Search for Objective Reporting Standards: “Working Model”
Conclusion

CHAPTER FOUR
Product Recalls: Decision Making, Management, and Prevention Strategies to Reduce Product Liability Risk
ARTHUR MILLER, BRADLEY MURLICK, AND MELANIE NEUMANN

Introduction
Food Product Recall Decision Making and Management
Overview
Federal Agencies and Their Recall Authorities
Federal Laws and Jurisdictions
CHAPTER FIVE

Emerging Solutions for Risk Transfer in Product Liability

ANDREA TECCE, JAMES T. H. DEAVER, AND ROBERT P. JACOBS

Introduction
Identifying Obvious and Obscure Risks for Product Manufacturers
Statistically Stable Product Liability Risks
Statistically Unstable Product Liability Risks
Product Liability Risks That Resist Pooling
Existing and Emerging Risk Transfer or Management Options

Options for Statistically Stable Product Liability Risk
   Traditional Insurance
   Sidecars
   Customizing a Traditional Insurance Program
   Purchasing Groups
Substituting a Risk Pool for Traditional Insurance
Managing Retained Risk Using Forms of Self-Insurance
   Captives
   Fronting Insurance
   Rent-a-Captive
   Protected Cell Captive
   Risk Retention Group

Options for Statistically Unstable Product Liability Risks
and Product Liability Risks That Resist Pooling
   Finite Insurance Contracts
   Catastrophe Bonds
   Bermuda Form High-Level Catastrophic Coverage
   Risk Walling—Protection from Contingent Liabilities

Conclusion

CHAPTER SIX

Perspectives from Europe: A Pan-European Tour of a Changing Landscape

JOHN EVANS, JAMES BARRATT, AND COLLETTE RAWNSLEY

The Evolving European Union Product Safety Regime
The Product Safety Directive: An Overview
   The Duty
   A Summary
   Recall
   Impact of the Directive
Consultation on the General Product Safety Legislative Initiative:
   An Evolving European Framework
Other Product Liability Developments in Europe
   The Product Liability Regime in Europe
   Directive 1999/34/EC
   The Third Report
   Collective Redress
The Future of Class Actions in the European Union
Antitrust Developments as Predictors of Future Developments in Product Liability
Recommendations of the Office of Fair Trading
CHAPTER SEVEN
Asbestos Claims and Litigation 125
ROBIN CANTOR, MARY S. LYMAN, AND RICHARD REISS

Introduction 125
The Early History 125
Asbestos Basics 125
Early Litigation and Efforts at Government Indemnity 128
1990s and Early 2000s: The Growth Years of Asbestos Claims Against Companies 130
Joint Defense Mechanisms: The ACF and CCR 131
The New Environment 135
State Tort Reform 135
Manville Trust Criteria 137
The Silica Order: Mass Screening Questioned 137
2005 Jack Order 138
Effect on Asbestos Claims 138
The Result: Declining Claims 139
Recent Litigation Emphasizes the Medical Science and Exposure Factors 143
What Does the Future Hold? 145

CHAPTER EIGHT
Strategic Enterprise Risk Management and Pharmaceuticals 147
CATHY L. BURGESS, STEVE NIEDELMAN, AND JOHN R. FLEDER

Introduction 147
FDA’s Enforcement Arsenal Against Pharmaceutical Companies 148
Warning and Untitled Letters 149
Seizures 152
Injunctions 154
Civil Monetary Penalties 156
Criminal Prosecutions 158
CONTENTS

- Application Integrity Policy (AIP) Procedures 161
- Debarment 162
- Detention 165
- Private Enforcement Actions 167
- Offshore Supplier Quality 168
- Product Liability Litigation 173
  - Manufacturing Defect 173
  - Design Defect 174
  - Defective Warning or Instruction 174
  - Strict Liability 174
  - Negligence 175
- Breach of Warranty 175
- Recommendations for Risk Mitigation 182
  - Establish and Maintain a Strong Compliance Program 182
    - Comply with cGMPs 183
    - Carefully Monitor the Organization’s Promotional Activities 183
    - Be Vigilant About Supplier Quality 183
    - Consistent Evaluation of Adverse Events and Other Risk Information 186

CHAPTER NINE

Changing Perspectives on Chemical Product Risks 187

MONICA M. WELT, ELIZABETH L. ANDERSON, AND CHARLES A. MENZIE

- Introduction 187
- An Overview of the U.S. Risk Assessment Process for Chemicals 189
  - Nature of the Regulatory Risk Assessment Process and the Sharp Differences Between That Process and Scientific Analysis 190
  - New Standards for Risk Assessments 194
  - Toxic Tort Liability Ramifications Under Changing Regulatory Standards 195
- The Use of Biomonitoring Studies 198
  - Biomonitoring Studies: Design and Limitations 199
  - Biomonitoring Results: Will Biomonitoring Results Lead to More Conservative Risk Assessments with Implications for Toxic Tort Liability? 202
- Changing Exposure Pathways 204
  - Genotoxicity and the Liability to People Never Exposed 211
- Emerging Chemical Exposure Ecosystem Issues 212
  - Evolving Views on Bioavailability 213
  - Chemical Exposures in “New” Environments 214
  - Implications of Climate Change 215
  - Environmental Fate-and-Transport Theories in Practice 216
- Thoughts on the Future of Tort Liability: A Sea Change in Chemical Regulation 220
- Conclusion 223
CHAPTER TEN

New on the Horizon: Nanotechnology  225

LYNN L. BERGESON

Products of Nanotechnology in Commerce  225
Potential Liabilities and Governance Mechanisms  227
  Product Liability  227
  Securities Law Reporting  229
  Insurance  230
  Acquisitions  231
  Governance Mechanisms  232
Government-Sponsored Voluntary Initiatives  233
Federal EPA Regulatory Initiatives  236
State Regulatory Initiatives  239
Risk Management and Product Stewardship Strategies  242
  Key Industry Standard-Setting Initiatives  242
  Key Government-Led Initiatives  242
  Key Private-Sector Stewardship Initiatives  243
Conclusion  246

APPENDIX

Government-Sponsored Voluntary Initiatives  247

Table of Cases  257
Index  261