

About the Authors

ALEXANDRA (ALEX) WILSON ALBRIGHT has been on the faculty of the University of Texas School of Law since 1988, became of counsel to Alexander Dubose Jefferson & Townsend in 2003, joining the firm as a partner in 2017. She specializes in civil procedure, having taught the first-year Civil Procedure course (based on the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure) and Texas Civil Procedure for many years. She has represented clients and testified as an expert in class action litigation. Professor Albright is a longtime member of the American Law Institute, Texas Supreme Court Advisory Committee on Court Rules, and the Texas Pattern Jury Charge Oversight Committee. She is board-certified by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization in Civil Appellate Law and admitted to practice in the Circuit Courts of Appeal of the Fifth and Eleventh Circuits, and in the federal district courts for the Northern, Southern, and Eastern Districts of Texas. Professor Albright is a graduate of the University of the South (summa cum laude) and the University of Texas School of Law (with high honors), where she was a Chancellor, a Teaching Quizmaster, and member of the Texas Law Review. She was a law clerk for Judge Thomas M. Reavley of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and a partner in the firm of Thompson & Knight in Dallas, Texas, before she began teaching.

DARRYL ANDERSON is a partner in the Houston office of Norton Rose Fulbright US. His practice focuses on antitrust and competition litigation and investigations, as well as a range of other complex business litigation matters, including class actions, RICO, securities and fiduciary duty litigation, False Claims Act, and other general corporate litigation matters. Mr. Anderson has represented both plaintiffs and defendants in complex antitrust matters involving claims of monopolization and conspiracy, as well as in responding to government investigations both national and international in scope. He has represented clients defending nationwide and statewide class actions in cases involving antitrust claims, RICO allegations, securities claims, insurance claims, and oil and gas royalty issues. He has also advised clients on a range of corporate governance matters, including options backdating litigation and whistleblower litigation arising out of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street

Reform and Consumer Protection Act. Previously, Mr. Anderson served as a law clerk for the Honorable R. Lanier Anderson III, Chief Judge, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit.

LEONARD ARAGON is a partner at Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro, LLP in Phoenix, Arizona, where he specializes in class actions and other complex litigation. Mr. Aragon graduated from Stanford Law School after serving in the United States Army.

RICHARD J. ARSENAULT has been recognized as one of America's 50 Most Influential Trial Lawyers by The Trial Lawyer magazine and was nominated for the 2015 Trial Lawyer of the Year Award by the Public Justice Foundation. Mr. Arsenault has been involved in over 25 multidistrict litigation proceedings, often serving in leadership capacities. He currently serves as Co-Lead Counsel in the Actos MDL where a jury rendered a $9 billion verdict. He subsequently served on the negotiating team that secured a $2.4 billion settlement, which is the largest single mass tort settlement for a drug that is still on the market. He was also appointed to serve on the Pinnacle MDL plaintiff executive committee and is a member of the trial team where one jury rendered a verdict in excess of $500 million and another jury rendered a verdict in excess of $1 billion. The Wall Street Journal has described Mr. Arsenault as having "national notoriety," BusinessWeek described him as "a Dean of the Louisiana Tort Bar," and The New York Times described him as one of the "big players" in the legal community. He is listed in the Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers as well as The Best Lawyers in America. He has an AV Martindale-Hubbell rating and has served on the LSU Law School's Trial Advocacy faculty. He is also a past president of the Alexandria Bar Association, and past president as well as founding member of the Alexandria American Inns of Court.

RUTH A. BAHE-JACHNA is a principal shareholder in the Chicago office of Greenberg Traurig, LLP. She concentrates her practice in class actions, multidistrict litigation, products liability, and product safety counseling. She has co-chaired the class action committee of the Chicago Bar Association as well as her firm's class action practice group, and regularly consults on class action matters. She has extensive experience in multidistrict litigation involving class actions, and is currently lead class action counsel representing boxer Floyd Mayweather Jr. in an MDL proceeding pending in California involving the May 2015 Mayweather/Pacquiao boxing match. She was recognized as one of the "Top 100 Women Lawyers" in Illinois in 2012, and has been listed in the Leading Lawyers Network continuously since 2011.

JASON M. BEACH is Counsel at Hunton & Williams LLP. Mr. Beach has complex commercial litigation experience in privacy/data breach matters, class action defense, and financial services issues in both state and federal courts. Mr. Beach's clients include Fortune 500 companies such as major retailers, financial services institutions, and technology companies. He often represents clients in high-profile class actions resulting from data exposures. Mr. Beach also has robust expertise in cyber security, incident response management, and enterprise information security remediation programs. His internal investigation work has involved regulatory, compliance, and enforcement advice with governmental entities such as the FTC, Federal Reserve Bank, FDIC, OCC, FBI, and the U.S. Secret Service. Mr. Beach regularly speaks and publishes articles about information security issues as well as class action litigation topics.

ANDREW F. BEHREND is Chief Counsel at the Alaska Railroad Corporation, where his practice focuses on real estate, environmental, and labor and employment law. Before joining the Alaska Railroad in 2010, he practiced complex commercial litigation at Heller Ehrman LLP and Stoel Rives LLP. He is admitted to practice before the state and federal courts of Alaska, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, and the U.S. Court of Federal Claims.

STEVEN P. BENENSON is a Principal of Porzio, Bromberg & Newman, P.C., in Morristown, New Jersey, and New York, New York. For over 30 years, Mr. Benenson has represented public and private companies in high risk and “bet the company” class action, commercial, business, and product liability litigations in trial and appellate courts across the country as national, “rescue” and lead trial attorney. The Best Lawyers in America describes Mr. Benenson as a “top notch litigator,” whose “ability to quickly understand complex factual situations or unfamiliar technical issues is unmatched [and] . . . translates into his ability to effectively convey his client’s position to any tribunal.” Mr. Benenson has been recognized in the International Who’s Who of Commercial Litigators, Best Lawyers for Commercial Litigation and Mass Tort Litigation/Class Actions—Defendants, and New Jersey Super Lawyers for Class Action Defense and Business Litigation. He is a Vice Chair to the ABA TIPS Business Litigation Committee and a member of the DRI Business Litigation Committee’s Class Action Specialized Litigation Group and has served on the American Land Title Association, Title Counsel Committee. Mr. Benenson is a frequent lecturer and author on complex litigation topics, including serving as Program Chair for the 2016 ABA TIPS National Class Action Symposium.

NICOLE BENJAMIN is a shareholder at Adler Pollock & Sheehan P.C. in Providence, Rhode Island, where she litigates complex commercial disputes and appellate matters. Ms. Benjamin and her colleagues represented Rhode Island’s governor, general treasurer, and employees’ retirement system in a high-profile, high-stakes class action concerning the constitutionality of legislative changes to pension benefits of nearly 60,000 retired, active, and inactive state and municipal employees. Ms.

Benjamin has been recognized in Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers for Business in the Up and Coming category in the area of Litigation: General Commercial, and as a Rhode Island Rising Star by the publishers of Super Lawyers.

CAMILLE BENNETT is Special Project Counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union of Illinois. Prior to joining the ACLU, Ms. Bennett was a counsel at Dentons. Ms. Bennett graduated from the University of Chicago Law School, where she was a member of the University of Chicago Law Review.

JAMES L. BERNARD is a partner in the litigation department of Stroock & Stroock & Lavan L.L.P. in New York City. His practice focuses mostly on complex federal litigation, including financial services litigation and accounting malpractice actions. He represented Grant Thornton International in various litigations arising out of the collapse of Parmalat, as well as other class actions. He clerked for Loretta A. Preska and Alvin K. Hellerstein, both of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York.

DAVID W. BERTONI is a partner in the law firm of Brann & Isaacson, with offices in Lewiston and Portland, Maine. He advises clients and serves as litigation counsel—in both class action lawsuits and government investigations—in the areas of advertising, consumer protection, privacy, state taxation, and telemarketing laws. Mr. Bertoni represented L.L. Bean, Inc.—and prevailed—in a major class action case before the Maine Supreme Judicial Court arising out of claims that the company had improperly collected sales taxes on credit card reward coupons (Flipppo v. L.L. Bean, 898 A.2d 942, 2006 Me. 62). He also successfully represented The Talbots, Inc. in a class action case involving automated telemarketing, obtaining a summary judgment in favor of the company in the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Washington, Case No. C09-911BHS (W.D. Wash. Jul. 7, 2010).

DAVID M. BIZAR is a partner in the Boston office of Seyfarth Shaw LLP. Mr. Bizar chairs the firm's Consumer Financial Services Litigation practice group and represents consumer banks and financial services companies in high-stakes disputes in the courts and before government authorities challenging the legality of their products and services, corporate practices, and regulatory adherence. He has defended numerous class actions, government investigations and enforcement proceedings, and individual cases with systemic exposure for national banks and federal savings associations, mortgage lenders and servicers, manufacturer and third-party automotive finance companies, credit card issuers, short-term lenders, and national retailers. Mr. Bizar is recognized as a preeminent litigator in the field of consumer financial services law. He is a Fellow of the American College of Consumer Financial Services Lawyers and Co-Chairs the Litigation and Arbitration Subcommittee of the Consumer Financial Services Committee of the American Bar Association. Financial institutions frequently select Mr. Bizar to litigate to judgment and through appeal important issues of first impression.

MOLLY A. BOOKER is of counsel with Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro LLP in Phoenix, Arizona, where she specializes in complex commercial litigation across a variety of industries including health care, financial services, real estate, and manufacturing. Ms. Booker is an Arizona native and graduate of the University of Arizona, James E. Rogers College of Law in Tucson, Arizona, and the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

JILL D. BOWMAN is a partner at Stoel Rives LLP, practicing in the litigation department in Seattle, Washington. She regularly handles federal and state court cases and appeals involving a broad range of corporate and commercial matters, including claims brought under state unfair practices laws, business torts, and federal and state labor and employment issues.

READE BRAMER is an associate with Shook, Hardy & Bacon in San Francisco. His practice includes general commercial litigation and products liability in a variety of industries. Mr. Bramer graduated from the University of California, Hastings School of Law.

JEFFREY A. BRAUER is a litigation partner at the Cleveland office of Hahn Loeser & Parks LLP, where he practices business litigation with a focus on construction and financial disputes. He has first-chaired matters in federal court, state court, and arbitration, and often handles matters involving difficult engineering, accounting, and technical issues in bet-the-company controversies. Mr. Brauer graduated from Vanderbilt University School of Law and from Northwestern University. Mr. Brauer is a frequent speaker and writer and serves as a leader in a variety of national, state, and local bar organizations, including serving as the Chair of the ABA TIPS Business Litigation Committee. Mr. Brauer recently joined the American Arbitration Association Panel of Arbitrators. Mr. Brauer has an AV Preeminent rating by Martindale-Hubbell and has been selected as an Ohio Super Lawyer.

ANN BROWN is a lawyer at Ann Brown Legal, P.C. in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, practicing primarily in areas of personal injury and employment law. She has been appointed as Class Counsel in numerous class actions ranging from employment claims to landlord/tenant claims. Ms. Brown attended Cornell College, where she graduated cum laude with a degree in political science, and the University of Iowa College of Law, where she graduated with distinction. Ms. Brown is admitted in all Iowa state courts, the Northern and Southern Districts of Iowa's federal courts, and the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals. She is a member of the Board of Directors of the Iowa Association for Justice and has been recognized by her peers by being awarded a Distinguished rating from Martindale-Hubbell and through selection to the Great Plains Super Lawyers.

KRISTEN BUSH is an attorney at Schwartz Semerdjian Cauley & Moot LLP in San Diego, California. Her practice primarily involves representing individuals and businesses in contract disputes, professional liability, employment, and commercial claims. Ms. Bush is a graduate of the University of San Diego School of Law and the University of California, Merced.

ELIZABETH J. CABRASER is a founding partner of Lieff Cabraser Heimann & Bernstein LLP, in San Francisco, New York, Nashville, and Seattle. Her practice focuses on the representation of plaintiffs in product liability and economic loss class actions, multidistrict, and complex litigation nationwide. She teaches class actions and complex litigation as an adjunct at Columbia and the University of California Berkeley law schools.

ROBERT J. CALDWELL is a shareholder of Kolesar & Leatham in Las Vegas, Nevada, where he concentrates his practice on matters involving business, sports and entertainment, real estate, employment and international law, litigation, and arbitration matters. Mr. Caldwell is former Revenue Officer, Governing Council member, and Chair of the Business Litigation Committee of the ABA Tort Trial and Insurance Practice Section. He is also President of the Litigation Commission of the Union Internationale des Avocats. Mr. Caldwell is the co-author of Handling Business Tort Cases (Thomson Reuters 2015). He graduated from the University of Alabama School of Law in 1999 and is admitted to practice in Kentucky, Indiana, and Nevada.

LEANE K. CAPPS is a shareholder at Polsinelli, P.C. and is a member of the firm's commercial litigation and appellate practice groups. She has extensive experience trying and appealing complex commercial disputes and has defended during her career numerous class actions and multidistrict litigation matters in a wide variety of industries, including cases involving product manufacturers, medical devices, technology products, aviation disasters, and components. Ms. Capps is the lead trial counsel for two collegiate sports conferences and has defended them in class actions involving claims by current and former student athletes. She has been repeatedly named in The Best Lawyers of America and Texas Super Lawyers.

ROBERT B. CAREY is a partner at the law firm of Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro, L.L.P. He concentrates his practice on consumer class actions. Mr. Carey specializes in class action lawsuits from his office in Phoenix, Arizona, working on recent cases such as the NCAA student-athlete likeness litigation, the Toyota unintended acceleration MDL litigation, and Hyundai and Kia litigation regarding misstatements of fuel economy ratings. He has tried numerous cases to verdict with as much as $75 million at stake, and acted as trial counsel on claims for counties and states for damages stemming from tobacco-related illnesses. From 1990 to 1996, Mr. Carey was the Arizona Chief Deputy Attorney General, where he supervised over 300 lawyers, and he later served as a superior court judge pro tempore. He currently serves on the Arizona State Bar Class Action and Derivative Suits Committee, and has taught graduate law and policy courses at the University of Colorado and Arizona State University. Mr. Carey earned his bachelor's degree at Arizona State University, and his MBA and law degree from the University of Denver.

DAVID B. CARPENTER is a senior associate at Alston & Bird and is also a member of the firm's Class Action Practice Team and Litigation and Trial Practice Group. He concentrates his practice in general business and commercial litigation, with special focus on consumer and privacy class action defense, business torts, and contract disputes. He has substantial experience representing companies in major consumer class action litigation, including cases involving privacy issues. He has represented a number of Fortune 500 companies in such litigation, moving to compel arbitration on multiple occasions, gaining dismissals through Rule 12 motions, and obtaining favorable settlements for clients in bet-the-company litigation. Mr. Carpenter was named to the Georgia Super Lawyers Rising Stars list for 2017 in the area of business litigation. He received his JD from Vanderbilt University in 2007.

KIRSTEN M. CASTAÑEDA is a partner in the Dallas office of the appellate law firm Alexander Dubose Jefferson & Townsend LLP. Her trial and appellate work in complex civil litigation over the past two decades has helped shape the law in several key areas, including the standards in Texas for class certification and decertification throughout the life of a class action. An active member of the American Bar Association's Council of Appellate Lawyers and Tort Trial and Insurance Practice Section, she has been recognized as a Texas Super Lawyer—Appellate and a Top 100 Dallas/Fort Worth Lawyer.

VAN A. CATES is Assistant General Counsel for Veolia Water North America Operating Services, LLC, an indirect subsidiary of Veolia Environnement, S.A., in Tampa, Florida. He has practiced law in the environmental consulting, engineering, construction, operations, and management industries, both in private practice and as in-house counsel, for over 30 years. He has practiced and managed litigation and bankruptcy matters and negotiated and managed numerous consulting, engineering, construction, and operations and management agreements, including large water and wastewater outsourcing agreements, with a wide variety of industrial and governmental entities in North America and the Caribbean. He is licensed to practice law in the states of Texas, Florida, and New Jersey and admitted to practice before the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, the U.S. District Courts for the Southern District of Texas and the District of New Jersey, and the state courts of Texas, Florida, and New Jersey.

PHILLIP CHONG is an associate at Duane Morris LLP and a member of the firm's Trial Department. Mr. Chong regularly advises and represents businesses in complex litigation matters throughout Maryland, including class action lawsuits. Mr. Chong is a 2012 graduate of George Mason University School of Law, a 2008 summa cum laude graduate of Virginia Tech, and a 2008–2009 Fulbright Scholar in South Korea.

CHRISTOPHER CHORBA is a partner in the Los Angeles office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP and Co-Chair of the firm's Class Actions Practice Group.

MARK D. CHRISTIANSEN is an energy and resources litigation lawyer with the Oklahoma City office of McAfee & Taft, P.C. He spends a substantial portion of his litigation practice representing defendants in statewide, multistate, and nationwide class action lawsuits in the energy industry. Since 1985, he has served as lead editor and co-author of national updates on energy litigation in the United States for the Year in Review publication of the American Bar Association's Section of Environment, Energy, and Resources, and is also a member of Energy Law 360's national advisory board. Mr. Christiansen is listed as a first-tier energy lawyer in Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers for Business, and in The Best Lawyers in America and Oklahoma Super Lawyers.

EZRA D. CHURCH is a partner at Morgan Lewis, based in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. His practice focuses on class action lawsuits and complex commercial and product-related litigation, with particular emphasis on the unique issues facing retail, e-commerce, and other consumer-facing companies. Mr. Church also focuses on privacy and data security matters, and regularly advises and represents clients in connection with these issues. He earned his JD, cum laude, from the University of Texas School of Law and his BA from Northwestern University. He is admitted in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Louisiana.

ALANNA CLAIR is a Senior Managing Associate at Dentons US LLP in Washington, D.C. As a litigator, she focuses on complex insurance defense and counseling and professional liability matters. She is the co-author of The Lawyer's Handbook: Ethics Compliance and Claim Avoidance. She is a graduate of Wellesley College and the University of Michigan Law School.

ROY ALAN COHEN is a Principal of Porzio Bromberg & Newman, P.C., Morristown, New Jersey, and New York, New York. He is a senior trial lawyer with 37 years of experience litigating and trying a wide variety of product liability, toxic tort, construction, environmental contamination, professional liability, premises liability, automotive and trucking, class action, and business litigation matters. He leads trial teams in New Jersey and New York, often working collaboratively with other lawyers around the country. Mr. Cohen serves as national, regional, and local counsel to foreign and domestic clients and their lawyers and is outside general counsel to a number of companies. He currently serves as Vice Chair of the American Bar Association's Tort Trial and Insurance Practice Section and has chaired the Membership Committee, Long Range Planning Committee, Commercial Transportation Litigation Committee, Self Insurers and Risk Managers Committee, Products Liability Committee, CLE Board, and Task Force on Corporate Counsel Involvement. He was also Chair of the International Association of Defense Counsel's Toxic and Hazardous Substances Committee and the New Jersey State Bar Association's Product Liability and Toxic Tort Section. Mr. Cohen has been certified and recertified six times since 1987 by the Supreme Court of New Jersey Board on Trial Certification as a Civil Trial Attorney and is a frequent author and lecturer on litigation and trial subjects.

MICHELLE N. COMEAU is Of Counsel at Alston Hunt Floyd & Ing, now in affiliation with Dentons, where she practices civil litigation. Ms. Comeau's practice areas include contract disputes, business torts, fraud, product liability, class actions, and appellate work. Prior to AHFI, Ms. Comeau worked as a litigator at Morrison & Foerster LLP and as a law clerk at both the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit and the U.S. District Court for the District of Hawai'i.

DIANA COMES is an attorney with Butler Snow, LLP's Memphis office, where she is a member of the Commercial Litigation and Written and Appellate Advocacy groups, focusing her practice on financial services litigation and intellectual property matters. Prior to joining Butler Snow, she clerked for the Hon. Jon P. McCalla, Chief Judge, U.S. District Court for the Western District of Tennessee, and for the Hon. Ronald L. Gilman, Senior Judge, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit.

CAITLIN COUNTS is an associate in the Litigation & Trial practice group at Alston & Bird L.L.P. in Raleigh, North Carolina, where her practice focuses on complex commercial and financial services litigation.

DARREN CRAIG is a Member in the Indianapolis, Indiana, office of Frost Brown Todd LLC and practices in the firm's Business Litigation Practice Group. He represents manufacturers, energy companies, health-care providers, and other businesses in a variety of disputes, including breach of contract actions, director and officer liability claims, antitrust investigations and litigation, and disputes relating to trade secrets and covenants not to compete. He also helps clients avoid litigation by assisting them with contract review and negotiation, as well as predispute negotiation and mediation. Mr. Craig frequently speaks and publishes on topics involving business litigation, including the Uniform Commercial Code and the antitrust laws. He is the co-author with Wm. T. (Bill) Robinson III of “Sale of Goods,” included as Chapter 119 in Business and Commercial Litigation in Federal Courts (Thomson Reuters & American Bar Association, 4th ed. 2016).

JOHN (“JACK”) A. CRAWFORD JR. is a partner at Butler Snow LLP in Jackson, Mississippi, where he specializes in commercial litigation across many industries including antitrust, bankruptcy, business torts, unfair competition, and securities. Mr. Crawford obtained both his undergraduate degree in accounting and later his law degree from the University of Mississippi.

KEVIN M. CUDDY is a commercial litigator with the Anchorage office of Stael Rives LLP. He has defended a variety of class actions in Alaska. He began his career with Ropes & Gray LLP in Boston.

JAMES C. DALE is a partner in the labor and employment practice group of Stael Rives LLP in Boise, Idaho. Mr. Dale’s practice is devoted to representing management on virtually every aspect of labor and employment law. He is licensed to practice law in Idaho and Utah and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. For many years Mr. Dale has been recognized in Chambers USA: America’s Leading Lawyers for Business as a first-tier employment lawyer in Idaho. He is also listed in The Best Lawyers in America and Mountain States Super Lawyers. Mr. Dale is a founding member of the Management Labor and Employment Roundtable and a Fellow in the College of Labor and Employment Lawyers.

LAURIE WEBB DANIEL is the leader of Holland & Knight’s Atlanta Litigation Practice Group and chair of the firm’s national Appellate Team. Based in Atlanta, she has appeared in appellate and trial courts nationwide, including the U.S. Supreme Court. Ms. Daniel is known for her approach to complex litigation, which combines the skills of an appellate advocate with those of substantive specialists at the start of the case to ensure that legal issues are well positioned for a favorable outcome—whether in the trial court or on appeal. As a result, in addition to handling appeals, Ms. Daniel routinely assists trial lawyers (at outside firms as well as her own) with high-stakes litigation. Ms. Daniel has served as a commentator for CNN on Supreme Court arguments and on the faculty of many continuing legal education programs. She has served twice as chair of the American Bar Associations Standing Committee on Amicus Curiae Briefs. She also was part of the American Bar Association’s “reading group” that vetted the writings of U.S. Supreme Court nominee, now Justice, Sonia Sotomayor.

BRAD DANIELS is a partner in the Litigation practice group and is also active in the Property Tax section of Stoel Rives LLP in Portland, Oregon. His practice focuses on class actions, securities litigation, complex business litigation (including shareholder disputes, unlawful trade practices, and derivative cases), appellate litigation, and property tax issues. He has represented individual and corporate clients in state and federal courts and in Financial Industry Regulatory Authority and other arbitrations.

CARI K. DAWSON is a partner with the law firm of Alston & Bird LLP and chairs the Class Action Practice Team. Ms. Dawson is a creative problem solver, legal strategist, and committed advocate. She has an established track record of successfully defending Fortune 500 companies as lead counsel in high-profile enterprise litigation throughout the United States. Over the past 20 years, Ms. Dawson has defended hundreds of class actions across an array of industries, including automotive, retail, cosmetics, insurance, and consumer goods and services. Her areas of practice include product liability, privacy and data security, toxic tort, environmental, consumer fraud, deceptive trade practices, and false advertising. She provides strategic counseling to clients and works with them to develop crisis management plans. In 2015, Ms. Dawson was named one of the country’s “Most Influential Black Lawyers” by Savoy Magazine and a “Woman Worth Watching” by Diversity Journal. In 2014, Ms. Dawson was named one of the Top 50 Women Super Lawyers in Georgia by Super Lawyers magazine and one of the “Most Powerful & Influential Women” by the National Diversity Council. In 2013, the National Law Journal named Ms. Dawson one of the “100 Most Influential Lawyers in America.”

MATTHEW A. DEKOVICH is a partner in the disputes group at Norton Rose Fulbright in Houston, Texas. His practice is focused on civil trials and appeals in both state and federal courts, with a concentration in energy litigation, class actions, and complex commercial litigation. Mr. Dekovich graduated from Harvard Law School in 2004. Before beginning his practice, he served as a law clerk to the Hon. Simeon T. Lake III of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas.

JOHN M. DESTEFANO is an associate at Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro LLP, in Phoenix, Arizona, where his practice focuses on consumer, antitrust, and media-related class actions. His recent work includes price-fixing claims against the nation’s largest propane manufacturers, consumer protection claims against Hyundai and Kia for misstating fuel economy, and employment claims against Swift Transportation alleging systemic underpayment of truck drivers. Previously, Mr. DeStefano served as a law clerk to the Honorable William C. Canby Jr. on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit and the Honorable Neil V. Wake on the U.S. District Court for the District of Arizona. He earned his AB from Harvard College and his JD from the University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law.

JAIME L. DODGE is the founding director of Emory Law School's Institute for Complex Litigation & Mass Claims. She began her academic career as a faculty member at Harvard Law School, where she taught Cross-Border Class Actions and Aggregate Dispute Resolution: Public and Private Process Design Seminar. Professor Dodge's scholarship focuses on how the structure of procedural regimes, from aggregate litigation to alternative dispute resolution models, affects the exercise of rights and enforcement of substantive law. A panel of scholars drawn from the Yale, Harvard, and Stanford faculties recognized her scholarship as among the best by a tenure-track professor in civil procedure and dispute resolution, and was one of two selected for presentation at the Stanford/Harvard/Yale Forum. Her work has been published in the Harvard Law Review, Virginia Law Review, Notre Dame Law Review, and Minnesota Law Review. A past fellow at the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution, she has also served as a consultant on dispute resolution systems design and implementation for a variety of local, state, national, and international organizations, over the past 20 years. Before joining academia, Professor Dodge practiced within the complex litigation bar for a number of years, with Paul Hastings and, later, Gibson Dunn.

KYLE A. DOLINSKY is an associate in the Philadelphia office of Pepper Hamilton LLP and a member of the Health Sciences Department. His practice focuses primarily on representation of pharmaceutical and health-care clients.

BARBARA B. EDELMAN is a partner at Dinsmore & Shohl, LLP in Lexington, Kentucky. She has extensive complex commercial litigation experience and has litigated, prosecuted, and defended civil cases including contract disputes, fiduciary duty claims, lender liability, fraud, negligent misrepresentation, trade secrecy, and financial class actions in state and federal courts. Over the course of her career, Ms. Edelman has tried more than 50 jury trials in state and federal courts and handled more than 30 appeals to the Kentucky Court of Appeals, Kentucky Supreme Court, and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit. She is listed in The Best Lawyers in America in appellate law, Bet-the-Company, and commercial litigation. She has also been selected by Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers for Business in commercial litigation, Kentucky's Super Lawyers for 2016, Kentucky's Super Lawyers for 2016 Top 25 Women, Kentucky's Super Lawyers for 2016 Top 50 Lawyers in the State, and Benchmark Litigation as a "Local Litigation Star," as well as a Top 250 Women in Litigation in the nation.

MARC I. EIDA is an attorney with Porzio, Bromberg & Newman, P.C., a member of the firm's Life Sciences Compliance and Regulatory Counseling Department, and a Compliance Associate with the firm's subsidiary, Porzio Life Sciences, LLC. He counsels pharmaceutical, medical device, and biotechnology companies on a variety of compliance and litigation issues, including federal and state fraud and abuse laws, FDA promotional regulations, transparency and aggregate spend, industry standards regarding interactions with health-care professionals, and sampling requirements. Mr. Eida was an Assistant District Attorney in the Bronx County (NY) District Attorney's Office, where he served in the Felony Trial Bureau, tried numerous cases to verdict, and was responsible for all pretrial matters, including grand jury presentations, plea negotiations, discovery, motion practice, and witness preparation. Mr. Eida also served as an Assistant District Attorney in the Appeals Bureau, where he successfully wrote and argued numerous appeals before state and federal courts.

RYAN ETHRIDGE is a senior associate in the Raleigh office of Alston & Bird LLP and a member of the firm's Litigation & Trial Practice Group. His national practice focuses on complex commercial litigation with an emphasis on class action defense in the financial services industry. While representing individuals and companies in a variety of industries, Mr. Ethridge has prosecuted and defended claims involving breach of contract, consumer fraud, unfair and deceptive trade practices, fair lending, and alleged violations of various state and federal laws and regulations. His recent work includes securities fraud claims against a leading hedge fund administrator, multi-million-dollar cross-contract claims on behalf of a Fortune 200 auto parts distributor, and BOLI-related claims by a Fortune 500 bank. Previously, Mr. Ethridge served on the North Carolina Business Court as law clerk to the Honorable Albert Diaz, who is currently on the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals.

THEANE EVANGELIS is an appellate, class action, and general commercial litigation partner in the Los Angeles office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. She serves as Co-Chair of the firm's Class Actions Practice Group and as Vice Chair of the California Appellate Practice Group. She joined Gibson Dunn after serving as a law clerk to Justice Sandra Day O'Connor during October Term 2004. Before clerking for Justice O'Connor, Ms. Evangelis was a law clerk to the Honorable Alex Kozinski of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. Ms. Evangelis graduated summa cum laude from New York University School of Law in 2003 and received the University Graduation Prize, which is awarded to the student with the highest grade point average in the graduating class. Among other representative matters, Ms. Evangelis persuaded the Supreme Court of the United States to reverse the certification of the largest employment class action in American history, and obtained a unanimous victory for Standard Fire in the Supreme Court of the United States in a case involving the proper interpretation of the Class Action Fairness Act. In 2016 and 2017, the Daily Journal named her to its list of Top Women Lawyers, and in 2016, she was recognized as a "Class Action MVP" by Law360.

SARAH BRITE EVANS is a litigation partner at Schwartz Semerdjian Cauley & Moot LLP in San Diego, California. Ms. Evans counsels corporate and individual clients in employment, commercial and tort litigation matters. Her practice primarily focuses on individual and class action employment and consumer protection claims.

BLAINE H. EVANSON is a partner in the Orange County office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher L.L.P., practicing in the firm's Class Actions and Appellate & Constitutional Law practice groups. He has defended numerous class actions at both the appellate and trial court levels in a wide variety of substantive areas of the law, including employment, consumer fraud, securities, antitrust, and product liability. He graduated from Columbia Law School in 2006, where he was a James Kent Scholar and an editor for the Columbia Law Review. Before joining Gibson Dunn, he clerked for Judge A. Raymond Randolph of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit.

BRUCE W. FELMLY is a partner in the Manchester, New Hampshire, office of McLane Middleton, P.A., and a senior trial lawyer in the firm's litigation department. He has tried many cases in state and federal court to both juries and judges. His practice involves representing companies and individuals in trial in a wide range of commercial disputes, including employment matters, antitrust, class actions, trade secret and patent litigation, construction, environmental, insurance recovery, real estate, and other business disputes. Mr. Felmly is a former President of the New Hampshire Bar Association and a Fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers, and served on the Board of Regents of the College from 2006 to 2010. He has been recognized by Chambers USA in Litigation and The Best Lawyers in America in Appellate Law, Commercial Litigation, Personal Injury Litigation, and Bet-the-Company Litigation. He is the author of the handbook on preparing cases for trial, Preparing for Trial—60 Days and Counting (American Bar Association/First Chair Press, 2015).

RICHARD L. FENTON is a litigation partner in the Chicago office of Dentons US LLP. Mr. Fenton serves as co-chair of the firm's appellate practice group, and specializes in complex commercial litigation and class action defense at both the trial and appellate levels. Mr. Fenton is a member of the bar of Illinois, of the U.S. Supreme Court, of the U.S. Courts of Appeal for the Second, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Circuits, and of the U.S. District Courts for the Northern District of Illinois, the Southern District of Illinois, the Eastern District of Wisconsin, and the District of Colorado. He has been recognized repeatedly in The Best Lawyers in America and in Illinois Super Lawyers.

IAN H. FISHER focuses on consumer class action (defense), real estate, antitrust, trade secret, and business tort disputes. He is a partner with Hahn, Loeser & Parks LLP's Chicago office and often appears in Illinois state courts, as well as in federal courts around the nation. He has been repeatedly recognized as a Leading Lawyer in both Class Action/Mass Tort Defense and in Commercial Litigation. Mr. Fisher has also been regularly named as an Illinois Super Lawyer, including as one of the "Top Attorneys in Illinois." He is an active member of the leadership of the ABA Section of Litigation, currently serving on its Membership and Marketing Committee.

DONALD R. FREDERICO is a partner in the Boston office of Pierce Atwood LLP, where he chairs the firm's class action defense practice. Mr. Frederico represents defendants in a wide variety of class actions in Massachusetts and nationally, and is the editor of his firm's class action blog, First Class Defense (<http://www.firstclass-defense.com>). From 2010 to 2011, Mr. Frederico served as President of the Boston Bar Association.

RACHEL E. FREEMAN is an associate in the Phoenix office of Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro LLP. Her practice focuses on complex civil litigation and nationwide class actions, including consumer fraud and mass tort. Ms. Freeman represented student-athlete plaintiffs in the highly publicized cases Keller v. Electronic Arts and In re NCAA Student-Athlete Name & Likeness Licensing Litigation. She is a member of the Hagens Berman auto group and currently works on behalf of the economic loss plaintiffs in the In re General Motors LLC Ignition Switch Litigation multidistrict litigation. An Arizona native, Ms. Freeman is a graduate of the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law at Arizona State University.

THOMAS C. GALLIGAN JR. was named the Dean of the LSU Paul M. Hebert Law Center effective July 1, 2016. Prior to serving as the Dean of the LSU Law Center, Professor Galligan served as the President and Professor of Humanities at Colby-Sawyer College. He was formerly the Dean and the Elvin E. Overton Distinguished Professor of Law at the University of Tennessee College of Law, where he also taught torts and admiralty. He also taught at the LSU Law Center from 1986 to 1998, where he was named the Dr. Dale E. Bennett Professor of Law and was honored by the students as the Outstanding LSU Professor six times. During his career he has taught Torts, Admiralty, UCC Sales, Remedies, Comparative Tort Law, Advanced Tort Theory, and other courses. He has served as a member and chair of the American Bar Association Accreditation Committee and is a frequent continuing legal education speaker on his areas of expertise. His scholarship has been cited by courts including the U.S. Supreme Court, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, various U.S. District Courts, the Louisiana Supreme Court, and various state appellate courts. It also has been cited, discussed, and relied upon by legal scholars in treatises, law review articles, and the proposed Restatement (Third) of Torts: Liability for Physical Harm. He holds an AB in political science from Stanford University, a JD from the University of Puget Sound (now Seattle University) School of Law, where he graduated summa cum laude, and an LLM from the Columbia University Law School.

STEVE GALLOWAY is a trial attorney in the Litigation practice group of Stoel Rives LLP. His practice focuses on complex civil litigation, including contract disputes, business torts, civil fraud, commercial finance and real estate, and health-care disputes.

CATHERINE Y.N. GANNON practices law at Hagens Berman Sobol & Shapiro LLP in Seattle, Washington. Ms. Gannon focuses her practice on securities and antitrust litigation, as well as nationwide consumer protection cases involving large corporations. She has been recognized as a 2016 Rising Star in Super Lawyers magazine in both 2016 and 2017.

LAURA L. GEIST is a partner in the Oakland and San Francisco offices of Dentons US LLP. Her core practice is handling complex litigation for insurance and financial service clients including consumer class actions focused on product design, pricing and sales practices, parallel regulatory actions, and business disputes.

ED GENTLE is the founding partner of the Birmingham, Alabama, law firm of Gentle Turner Sexton & Harbison, LLC. He has five college degrees (Auburn BS 1975, Miami MS 1977, Oxford BA 1979 and MA 1981, and Alabama 1981) and specializes in special mastering, mediating, and administering mass cases. He is a member of the Alabama State Bar and various federal bars.

ALAN S. GILBERT is a trial and appellate lawyer with Dentons US LLP, where he is co-head of Denton's Global Financial and Securities Litigation Group. He has a broad practice, with a concentration on complex commercial cases, particularly financial disputes, class actions, and multijurisdictional proceedings for financial services and insurance companies. Mr. Gilbert graduated from Princeton University and the University of Chicago Law School and clerked for Judge William J. Bauer of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit.

MAUREEN GORMAN is a media buying and planning expert with more than 40 years of experience. Her work experience includes management roles at major media agencies and Nielsen. Her clients have included leading brands in almost all major advertising categories including telecommunications, packaged goods, automotive, and fast food. In addition to her work at Kinsella Media, Ms. Gorman conducts professional training seminars in media planning and buying throughout the country as a Senior Instructor for the Media Buying Academy.

HALEY F. GREGORY is an associate in the Commercial Litigation Group at Butler Snow LLP in Jackson, Mississippi. Ms. Gregory's practice includes complex commercial disputes, business torts and unfair competition, and insurance coverage and construction disputes. She graduated from the University of Mississippi School of Law and holds a BA and an MBA from Mississippi College. Ms. Gregory has co-authored several articles on topics including unfair and deceptive trade practices, enforcement of arbitration agreements against nonsignatories, and the fiduciary requirements of financial advisers and broker dealers.

STEVEN F. GRIFFITH, JR., is a shareholder in the New Orleans office of Baker Donelson Bearman Caldwell & Berkowitz, PC, and he serves on its Board of Directors. His national practice assists clients in various industries, including affordable housing, construction, hospitality, and marine. He is admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, and the federal and state courts of Louisiana, and has represented or advised clients regarding matters in over 35 states. From 2000 to 2001, he served as judicial clerk for Chief Justice Pascal F. Calogero Jr., in the Louisiana Supreme Court.

BRADLEY J. HAMBURGER is a litigation associate in the Los Angeles office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. He practices in the firm's Class Actions, Appellate and Constitutional Law, and Labor and Employment practice groups, and focuses on complex litigation and class actions in both trial courts and on appeal. Mr. Hamburger has defended clients in class actions across numerous substantive areas of law, including employment, consumer fraud, antitrust, and products liability. Prior to joining the firm, Mr. Hamburger served as a law clerk to the Honorable James V. Selna in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California. Mr. Hamburger graduated cum laude from Harvard Law School in 2009.

LORRIE L. HARGROVE is a Shareholder at Maynard, Cooper & Gale in Birmingham, Alabama, where she focuses on complex and appellate litigation, with a specialty in class action litigation. Ms. Hargrove has over 20 years of class action litigation experience in state and federal courts throughout the United States. She graduated from the University of Maryland in 1990 and from the University of Virginia School of Law in 1993. Prior to joining Maynard, Cooper & Gale, she clerked for the Hon. William M. Acker Jr. of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Alabama.

CHRISTINA T. HASSEL is admitted to practice in both Ohio and Illinois. Ms. Hassel has represented and advised clients in connection with complex commercial cases in both state and federal courts. Her experience covers both individual and class action litigation, and a wide breadth of legal issues, including contracts, business torts, agency, fraud, consumer protection defense, unfair and deceptive trade practices, ADA, intellectual property, and appellate litigation.

JOHN C. HAWK IV is a partner at Womble Bond Dickinson in Charleston, South Carolina. He focuses his practice on consumer finance, lender liability, and insurance, including life insurance and ERISA.

G. CALVIN HAYES is a partner at Buchanan Ingersoll & Rooney in Tampa, Florida. His practice focuses on complex business, health care, False Claims Act/qui tam, and class action litigation and related investigations. Mr. Hayes routinely represents clients in Florida statewide and nationwide class actions in federal and Florida state courts. Mr. Hayes is often involved in defending multidistrict class actions in federal court. Mr. Hayes is Co-Chair of the ABA Class Action and Derivative Suits Subcommittee on Mass Torts.

ERIC A. HERZOG is a partner in the Los Angeles, California, office of Norton Rose Fulbright US LLP. His practice involves a wide range of complex litigation, including class actions, unfair business practices, insurance, and securities litigation.

HAROLD HIRSHMAN is a senior counsel at Dentons US LLP. He has been litigating securities cases since the early 1970s and briefly taught securities laws. Mr. Hirshman graduated from the University of Chicago Law School, where he was a member of the University of Chicago Law Review.

ROBERT L. HODGES is senior counsel in the Complex Commercial Litigation Group of McGuireWoods LLP in Richmond, Virginia, where he focuses on complex litigation and class action defense arising from commercial relationships including vendor-purchaser disputes (including real estate, sale of goods, and warranty matters) and lender-borrower disputes (including lender liability and consumer credit matters). He also has a substantial practice representing clients in appellate litigation. He is admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States, the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Third and Fourth Circuit, the U.S. District Courts for the Eastern and Western Districts of Virginia and Northern District of Illinois, and the Supreme Court of Virginia. He has taught Sales and Leases (UCC Articles 2 and 2A) as an adjunct professor at the T.C. Williams School of Law at the University of Richmond since 1993.

ERIC HOLLAND leads a nationally recognized law firm from its St. Louis headquarters. He has litigated and tried cases throughout the United States and has obtained a host of record-setting jury verdicts and settlements. Mr. Holland is one of the architects of and leads mass tort cases in the City of St. Louis, Missouri, one the country's most active state court dockets. He has also been appointed to lead counsel, steering committee, and executive committee positions in complex cases from coast to coast. Sought after by the media, he has been regularly featured in local, national, and international media outlets regarding class action, mass tort, and railroad cases. Mr. Holland has received dozens of awards and honors including Martindale's AV Preeminent rating, the Super Lawyers designation, Top Attorneys, and Top 100 Trial lawyers, to name a few. He serves as designated legal counsel for a member union of the AFL-CIO's Transportation Trades Department, is a special assistant State's Attorney in Illinois, and continues to regularly represent the nation's most catastrophically injured rail and maritime workers.

TIMOTHY C. HOLM has been a shareholder with Modrall, Sperling, Roehl, Harris & Sisk in Albuquerque, New Mexico, since 1993. His practice focuses on civil defense litigation, including class action, products liability, and consumer protection actions. He is listed in The Best Lawyers in America (Products Liability, Mass Torts, and Railroad Law). He is also a member of the Local Rules Advisory Committee for the U.S. District Court for the District of New Mexico. He graduated from the University of North Carolina School of Law in 1987 with high honors and still considers himself a Tar Heel.

S. AULT HOOTSELL III is a partner in the New Orleans, Louisiana, office of Butler Snow LLP. For more than 30 years, Mr. Hootsell has counseled corporate and individual clients in complex commercial and tort litigation matters. His practice includes the defense of class action and mass joinder litigation in both federal and state court. He is among a select group of lawyers listed in a nationwide client survey published in Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers for Business. He is listed in The Best Lawyers in America in the areas of Bankruptcy and Creditor Debtor Rights law, Insolvency and Reorganization Law, and Litigation—Bankruptcy, and in Louisiana Super Lawyers for Business Litigation. He is also board-certified in the area of Business Bankruptcy Law by the American Board of Certification, and is recognized as a Business and Bankruptcy Law Specialist by the Louisiana Board of Legal Specialization.

KATHY J. HUANG is a partner in the Litigation and Trial Practice Group with Alston & Bird in Los Angeles, California. She focuses her practice on class action defense and high-stakes business litigation. Her clients are life insurance and financial services companies, nutrition and product supplement companies, and major sports apparel retailers and manufacturers, as well as other Fortune 500 corporations. Ms. Huang received her BA in English and political science and her MA in sociology from Stanford University. She attended Georgetown University Law Center for law school. Ms. Huang has been named a 2017 Rising Star by Southern California Super Lawyers for the practice area of Class Actions/Mass Torts and a 2016 Next Generation Leader with The Committee of 100, a national nonpartisan leadership organization of prominent Chinese Americans in business, government, academia, and the arts.

BENJAMIN W. HULSE is a partner at Blackwell Burke P.A. in Minneapolis, Minnesota. He is an accomplished class action defense lawyer and has helped build Blackwell Burke into one of Minnesota's go-to class action defense firms. His clients have included leading companies from several different sectors of the economy, including food, health and fitness, oil and gas, construction equipment, banking, and insurance. His recent accomplishments include defeating several putative class actions on motions to dismiss, winning decertification of an environmental class action in the Eighth Circuit, and forging a settlement of a food marketing class action that has become a model for settling these difficult-to-resolve cases. Before entering private practice, he clerked for the Hon. James B. Loken, then Chief Judge of the Eighth Circuit.

LOUISE K.Y. ING is a founder of Alston, Hunt, Floyd & Ing, now in affiliation with Dentons, in Honolulu, Hawai'i. Her practice focuses on helping businesses resolve their disputes, prevent future ones, and get back to their mission. She provides services in the areas of complex commercial, employment, creditors' rights, receivership, intellectual property and real estate and class action litigation and dispute resolution. She has been recognized as a 2017 Benchmark Litigation Star, as The Best Lawyers in America's 2015 Hawai'i Lawyer of the Year for both Bankruptcy Litigation and Bet-the-Company Litigation; as a Benchmark Litigation Top 250 Women in Litigation; and by The Best Lawyers in America in the categories of Commercial Litigation, Bet-the-Company Litigation, Bankruptcy Litigation, Labor and Employment Litigation, and Real Estate Litigation; Martindale-Hubbell AV rating; and Super Lawyers. She is past president of the Hawai'i State Bar Association, Hawai'i State Bar Foundation, and Hawai'i Women's Legal Foundation. She earned her JD from Berkeley Law, University of California, and her BA from Yale University.

F. SHANE JACKSON is an associate with Kolesar & Leatham in Las Vegas, Nevada, where he handles a wide range of civil litigation and appellate matters. Mr. Jackson recently graduated from the William S. Boyd School of Law at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. As a student at Boyd, he was recognized as one of the top oral advocates in the prestigious Duberstein Bankruptcy Moot Court Competition in New York. Mr. Jackson also served as a judicial extern for the Eighth Judicial District Court in Clark County, Nevada.

MYRECE R. JOHNSON concentrates her practice in the area of civil litigation and general liability, representing businesses and individuals sued in Georgia. Ms.

Johnson defends premises liability suits, product liability actions, professional liability actions, and general tort litigation in state and federal court throughout Georgia and the Southeast. Her experience includes toxic exposure cases involving Diacetyl and popcorn lung litigation. Ms. Johnson also represents and assists insurance companies on coverage disputes and with bad-faith claims. She has experience in all stages of litigation, including appellate work. Ms. Johnson joined Swift, Currie, McGhee & Hiers, LLP, in 2009. She received her BA in political science from Michigan State University in 2005 and her JD, summa cum laude, from Georgia State University College of Law in 2009. While in law school, Ms. Johnson served as an associate editor on the Georgia State University Law Review. Ms. Johnson is admitted to practice in all Georgia State and Superior Courts, U.S. District Court for the Northern & Middle District of Georgia, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit, and Georgia Court of Appeals.

KATHERINE S. KAYATTA is an associate at Pierce Atwood LLP, where she represents defendants in a variety of class actions in federal courts in Maine and Massachusetts.

ASHLEY KUTZ KELLEY, a partner at Womble Bond Dickinson in Charleston, South Carolina, is an experienced litigator with a broad-ranging practice in complex federal and state matters, including employment, business, financial services, product liability, and construction law. Following her selection to the ABA TIPS Leadership Academy, she was appointed to the ABA Diversity and Inclusion Taskforce, and as Vice Chair of the Trial Techniques, Employment Law and Litigation, and Business Litigation committees. Ms. Kelley is also currently Chair-Elect of the South Carolina Bar (Labor & Employment Section). In 2014, the Charleston Regional Business Journal selected and recognized Ms. Kelley for the prestigious “Forty Under 40” award.

CHRISTOPHER G. KELLY is a partner in Holland & Knight’s New York office. He focuses on complex commercial litigation, including aviation defense, defense of mass and toxic torts, product liability, class actions (consumer, labor/employment, data privacy and cybersecurity), and insurance. Mr. Kelly has an international reputation for pioneering innovative and cost-effective strategies for risk minimization in both litigation and corporate transactions. His clients include domestic airlines, international carriers, food and chemical manufacturers, domestic and foreign insurers, and public and private companies in the professional and consumer services industries. Mr. Kelly is ranked in Chambers USA, where clients noted in particular his ability to “navigate problems large and small effectively.”

KERMIT L. KENDRICK is a partner with Burr & Forman L.L.P. in Birmingham, Alabama, practicing in the litigation section and focusing on consumer finance, transportation, and commercial litigation. Mr. Kendrick was elected to the TIPS

Council and is a vice chair of the Business Law, Public Relations, and Professional Officers Directors and Liability Committees.

MEGAN B. KIERNAN is a litigation associate in the Washington, D.C., office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher L.L.P. She practices in the firm's Appellate and Constitutional Law and Class Actions practice groups. Prior to joining the firm, Ms. Kiernan served as a law clerk to the Honorable Joan Humphrey Lefkow of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the Honorable Karen Nelson Moore of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit. Ms. Kiernan graduated magna cum laude from Northwestern University School of Law, where she was elected into the Order of the Coif. She received a BA in history from the University of Pennsylvania.

J. BENJAMIN KING is a partner in the Dallas, Texas, office of Reid Collins & Tsai LLP. Mr. King handles a variety of complex litigation, including the prosecution of consumer class actions and cases arising out of the insolvency of major companies and institutions. Mr. King has recovered millions of dollars on behalf of consumers in several successful class cases, and he has handled actions seeking to recover multi-million-dollar fraudulent transfers, as well as high-stakes cases alleging director, officer, auditor, and other professional liability. After graduating first in his class from Cornell Law School in 1998, Mr. King clerked for Judge Alan E. Norris of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit. He then practiced at a major firm in Washington, D.C. Prior to joining Reid Collins & Tsai LLP, Mr. King was a partner with Diamond McCarthy LLP.

KATHERINE KINSELLA founded Kinsella Media in 1991 after a successful career as a high-level communications strategist in the advertising, marketing, and public relations fields. The firm was one of the primary architects of due process class action notice, and as the leader, Ms. Kinsella worked to establish the methodology and quantification methods that became the industry standard for class action notification programs—standards that continue to guide the firm's approach to notice. Ms. Kinsella is the author or co-author of many thought-leadership articles and communications, and she has spoken at numerous conferences, events, and symposiums.

KELLY A. KOSEK is a litigation partner at Hahn Loeser & Parks LLP in Cleveland, Ohio. Ms. Kosek practices in the area of business litigation, including consumer litigation, product liability litigation, and toxic torts. She devotes a significant portion of her practice to class action defense. Ms. Kosek was awarded a JD from the College of William and Mary, Marshall-Wythe School of Law, and a BA from Allegheny College in History and Political Science. Ms. Kosek received an AV Preeminent rating from Martindale-Hubbell and has been selected as a Rising Star by Ohio Super Lawyers. She also is an editor of the real estate class action blog The Class-Action and Compliance Sentinel (<http://www.realestateclassactions.com>).

MICHELLA KRAS is Of Counsel at Hagens, Berman, Sobol, Shapiro, LLP, where her practices focuses on class actions and complex litigation. Ms. Kras has worked on several successful class actions in both state and federal court and she has extensive expertise in complex litigation in a variety of commercial contexts.

DANIEL KUROWSKI is a partner at Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro, LLP in Chicago, Illinois, where he specializes in class actions and other complex litigation.

LAYNE E. KRUSE is a partner at Norton Rose Fulbright US LLP and is head of its Antitrust and Competition Group in the United States. He is former Chair of the Texas State Bar's Antitrust and Business Litigation Section and is named in Chambers, Best Lawyers in America, International Who's Who of Competition Lawyers, Expert Guide—Competition, and Antitrust Lawyers. He has handled jury trials, government investigations, class actions, injunctions, arbitrations, and appeals; and is certified in Civil Trial Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. He is Chair of the ABA Antitrust Section's Exemptions and Immunities Committee, and previously chaired the Trial Practice Committee of the Antitrust Section. Mr. Kruse graduated from Yale Law School, JD; London School of Economics, MSc; and Texas A&M University, BA; and served as a judicial clerk to Chief Judge John R. Brown, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit.

SARAH LANGBERG is a litigation attorney with the Anchorage office of Stoel Rives LLP. Sarah's experience includes cases involving the National Environmental Policy Act, the Clean Water Act, government procurement codes, and other general litigation matters.

ELIZABETH LEE is an associate with Shook, Hardy & Bacon L.L.P. in San Francisco. Her practice focuses on health-related product liability actions, business litigation, and class actions. Ms. Lee attended the University of California, Hastings College of Law, where she was the Executive Notes Editor for Hastings Law Journal.

NETA LEVANON, an associate in Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher's New York office, is a member of Gibson Dunn's Labor & Employment and Litigation Practice Groups. She has represented employers in class and collective action litigation in a wide range of employment matters, including those involving employee misclassification, meal and rest breaks, and off-the-clock work. She also has experience counseling employers with respect to employee compensation, personnel policies and employee handbooks, and enforcement of nonsolicitation and noncompetition agreements.

In addition to her employment practice, Ms. Levanon has represented clients in complex, high-stakes commercial litigation, including as part of the federal court trial team that obtained a complete defense verdict for Francois Pinault's Artemis S.A., recognized in the California Daily Journal as one of the Top Defense Verdicts of 2012. Ms. Levanon previously served as a law clerk to the Honorable Pamela K. Chen in the Eastern District of New York. She received her JD, with honors, in 2011 from Columbia University School of Law, and her BA in 2008 from the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University.

JOSHUA D. LICHTMAN is a partner in the Los Angeles, California, office of Norton Rose Fulbright LLP. His practice primarily focuses on complex litigation, including insurance, antitrust, unfair business practices, and business torts, in both individual and class actions.

F. A. LITTLE JR., U.S. District Judge (retired) of the Western District of Louisiana, is of counsel to Gold, Weems, Bruser, Sues and Rundell of Alexandria, Louisiana.

CRISTINA C. LONGORIA is a senior associate in the Los Angeles office of Norton Rose Fulbright US LLP. Her practice focuses on class actions and other complex commercial litigation. Ms. Longoria also devotes significant time to pro bono work, including representation of immigrants seeking asylum and low-income tenants in habitability litigation. She received her JD from the University of Texas and her BA from Harvard University.

TIM LOOSE is a partner in the Los Angeles office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher and a member of the firm's Litigation, Class Actions, and Privacy, Cybersecurity, and Consumer Protection Practice Groups. Mr. Loose has extensive experience in a broad range of business litigation, with a focus on class and mass action litigation. He frequently defends the products and advertising of companies in the technology, banking, automotive, health-care, food, and entertainment industries against claims of unfair business practices, false advertising, and concealment.

BETHANY G. LUKITSCH is a partner in the Antitrust and Trade Regulation Department of McGuireWoods LLP in Richmond, Virginia. She serves as a co-chair of the firm's class action practice and has nearly 20 years of experience, including significant first chair and liaison counsel experience, litigating class actions and complex litigation. Ms. Lukitsch defends global companies and product manufacturers in antitrust matters, consumer class actions, mass tort and product liability claims, and commercial disputes in various federal and state courts around the country. She also counsels clients regarding multidistrict litigation and practices before the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation.

SCOTT H. MARDER is a partner in the Baltimore office of Duane Morris LLP. He is a member of the firm's Trial Department, with a national practice focusing on complex business and construction litigation, and government investigations. Mr. Marder has considerable experience defending publicly traded companies, and their officers and directors, in class action lawsuits in Maryland. Mr. Marder received his JD, magna cum laude, from the University of Miami School of Law in 1991 and is admitted to practice before the federal and state courts of Maryland and Florida.

RICHARD W. MARK is a partner in the New York City office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP, practicing in the firm's Class Action, Environmental Litigation and Mass Tort, and Appellate and Constitutional Law groups. He has defended manufacturers in product liability litigation involving diverse products, such as lead pigment and vaccines, and defended wage-and-hour class action cases. Mr. Mark is a graduate of Dartmouth College and Columbia University Law School. He clerked for the Hon. Thomas P. Griesa of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York, served as an assistant U.S. Attorney in that district from 1984 to 1994, and was Chief of the Civil Division from 1991 to 1994. Mr. Mark was First Deputy Commission of the New York City Department of Investigation from 1994 to 1996. From 1988 through 2006, Mr. Mark was an adjunct professor at Fordham University Law School.

DANIEL M. McCLURE is a partner in the disputes group at Norton Rose Fulbright US LLP in Houston, Texas, and is co-chair of his firm's class action practice group. His practice is focused on civil trials and appeals in both state and federal courts, with a concentration in complex commercial litigation and class actions. Mr. McClure is a 1978 graduate of Harvard Law School. He is certified in Civil Trial Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. Mr. McClure is listed in The Best Lawyers in America, Chambers USA, Leading Lawyers, and the BTI Client Service All-Star Team.

ALLAN McGARVEY is a partner in the firm McGarvey, Heberling, Sullivan & Lacey, P.C. in Kalispell, Montana. He has served as class counsel in large-scale litigation including a $97 million profit-sharing settlement (CFAC), class and group claims over the W.R. Grace asbestos contamination in Libby, Montana, and nationwide (ZAI), the Montana Power Company shareholder litigation ($113 million settlement), and numerous class actions challenging insurance company conduct.

MATTHEW P. McGUIRE is a partner in the Litigation & Trial Practice Group at Alston & Bird L.L.P. and is the Partner in Charge of the firm's Raleigh, North Carolina, office. His practice focuses on complex commercial and business tort litigation, including class action defense, financial services litigation, and antitrust litigation. He has represented companies across a wide variety of industries in the prosecution and defense of claims involving breach of contract, unfair and deceptive trade practices, antitrust violations, trade secret theft, commercial defamation, predatory lending and usury, negligent loan servicing, wrongful foreclosure, telecommunications law, complex disability insurance disputes, and product liability issues. He has been acknowledged by his peers for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America for both Commercial Litigation and Banking & Finance Litigation.

ADAM E. MILLER is a Shareholder at Capes Sokol in St. Louis, Missouri, where he serves as the firm's Litigation Co-Chair. Mr. Miller's practice includes complex, mass tort, and class action product liability and environmental litigation involving consumer and commercial products containing polychlorinated biphenyls, benzene, solvents, iodine-uptake inhibiting compounds, dioxins, caustics, tobacco products, and PAHs. He recently served as trial counsel for Monsanto Company in numerous trials in Los Angeles County and Missouri state courts in which plaintiffs claimed to have contracted various forms of non-Hodgkin's lymphomas due to their exposures to PCBs. He also has considerable experience defending industrial dischargers of hazardous wastes in cases in which those discharges have been alleged to result in the diminution in property values in neighboring communities and to require medical monitoring among adjacent residents. Mr. Miller has lectured on topics ranging from the legal and medical aspects of successfully defending medical monitoring class actions to the emerging scientific issues associated with mass torts arising out of novel claims of exposure to industrial chemicals in the food chain. Mr. Miller earned his law degree from Washington University School of Law in 1990 and his undergraduate degree from Northwestern University in 1987.

CAITLIN MORGAN is an associate in the Dallas office of Polsinelli PC. Her practice focuses on class actions and other complex commercial litigation. Ms. Morgan has represented a variety of clients defending collective actions and antitrust class actions. She also has expertise in multidistrict litigation involving class actions. Ms. Morgan graduated from Albany Law School magna cum laude and served on the Albany Law Review. She has been listed as a Texas Super Lawyers Rising Star in Business Litigation each year since 2014. Ms. Morgan is also a fellow of the Texas Bar Foundation and devotes time to pro bono projects.

CHRISTOPHER D. MORRIS is a senior counsel in the Ridgeland, Mississippi, office of Butler Snow LLP. His practice focuses on the defense of pharmaceutical and medical device manufacturers in mass tort and individual cases pending in various state and federal courts throughout the country. Mr. Morris is AV-rated by Martindale-Hubbell, and he has been selected as a Rising Star in Mid-South Super Lawyers each year since 2011.

MICHAEL J. MUELLER is a partner in Hunton & Williams LLP's Washington and Miami offices and is co-head of the firm's nationwide Retail & Consumer Products Litigation Practice Group. He has been lead counsel in over 50 class or collective actions in various industries. Mr. Mueller has appeared in all levels of the U.S. courts and many state courts. He has tried a dozen class action or representative actions to verdict, which may be a record in the United States. He has received numerous awards and recognitions for his work in the area of class action trials and appeals, including The American Lawyer's "Litigator of the Week," The National Law Journal's "Litigation Trailblazer" and "Defense Hot List," and Law360's "Class Action MVP." Mr. Mueller has been listed as a Washington Super Lawyer for a number of years.

LINDA S. MULLENIX is the Morris and Rita Atlas Chair in Advocacy at the University of Texas School of Law. Professor Mullenix holds MPhil and PhD degrees from Columbia University. She earned her law degree from Georgetown Law Center and practiced appellate litigation in Washington, D.C. She has been a scholar-in-residence at the Rockefeller Bellagio Research Center in Bellagio, Italy, and held the Fulbright Distinguished Senior Chair in Law at the University of Trento, Italy. She has been a visiting professor at Harvard Law School and the University of Michigan Law School. She is an elected Life Member of the American Law Institute, an elected Life Member of the Texas Bar Foundation, a Fellow of the American Bar Foundation, and an elected member of the International Association of Procedural Law. She was the Associate Reporter on ALI Restatement of the Law Governing Lawyers, and a consultant to the ALI Complex Litigation Project and the Transnational Rules of Civil Procedure. She is the author of Mass Tort Litigation (West Publishing, 3d ed. 2017) and numerous books and publications relating to federal practice and procedure, class action, and complex litigation. She was a regular columnist for 20 years for the National Law Journal, writing on topics relating to complex litigation and class actions.

JAMES D. MYRICK is a partner with Womble Bond Dickinson, in Charleston, South Carolina. Mr. Myrick has extensive experience in land use, personal injury, products liability, environmental, and commercial disputes and has argued appeals before the South Carolina Supreme Court and the South Carolina Court of Appeals. Mr. Myrick is listed in The Best Lawyers in America and South Carolina Super Lawyers.

AMIR NASSIHI is a partner in Shook, Hardy & Bacon's San Francisco office. Mr. Nassihi dedicates his national practice to defending product manufacturers in mass torts and class actions.

RANDALL D. NOEL is a partner of Butler Snow LLP, where he has chaired the firm's Litigation Department. He is engaged in a business litigation practice that has included antitrust, class action, data security, real estate, trade secret, banking, health-care, and automotive litigation. He has tried cases in Tennessee, Mississippi, and Arkansas. Mr. Noel is listed in Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers for Business, The Best Lawyers in America, Lawdragon 3000, and Super Lawyers. He is a former President of the Tennessee Bar Association, the American Counsel Association, the Tennessee Legal Community Foundation, and the Southern Conference of Bar Presidents. He is a Fellow of the American, Tennessee, and Memphis Bar Foundations, and he currently serves as a member of the Governor's Council for Judicial Appointments in Tennessee.

BRETT R. NOLAN is an associate in the litigation department of Dinsmore & Shohl LLP in Lexington, Kentucky, where his practice focuses on complex commercial litigation. He graduated from the University of Chicago Law School in 2013. Before joining Dinsmore & Shohl, he clerked for the Hon. Karen K. Caldwell, Chief Judge of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky.

RAND P. NOLEN is an attorney with Fleming, Nolen & Jez, L.L.P., in Houston, Texas. He is board-certified in Personal Injury Trial Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. He practices in the areas of class action, mass action, personal injury, products liability, commercial litigation, and appellate law. He is admitted to practice in the State of Texas, and is also admitted to practice in the U.S. Supreme Court, the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the First, Third, Fifth, Seventh, and Tenth Circuits, the U.S. Court of Federal Claims, and the U.S. District Courts for the Southern, Western, Northern, and Eastern Districts of Texas. He is an Associate of the American Board of Trial Advocates, and a Fellow of the Litigation Counsel of America, and has been listed in Texas Super Lawyers since 2012.

SAMUEL J. PARK is counsel in Alston & Bird's Los Angeles office. Mr. Park has more than a decade of experience representing companies in high-stakes class actions, complex commercial cases and arbitrations, and regulatory matters. He has spent his career effectively and efficiently guiding clients through all phases of class actions, including discovery, summary judgment, class certification, expert motions, pretrial work, and settlement.

ROBERT TED PARKER practices law at the Parker Law Firm in San Francisco, California, and was formerly a partner in K&L Gates LLP's San Francisco office. His practice is focused on complex and international civil litigation, including matters in securities and financial fraud, banking and commercial law, products liability, agriculture, film production, and business torts. He is admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court and the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Second, Ninth, and Federal Circuits, and federal and state courts of California. He has practiced pro hac vice in courts in Arizona, Arkansas, Illinois, New York, Kentucky, Florida, and the Republic of Palau. He was an editor of the Cornell Law Review. He served as Adjunct Professor of Law at Golden Gate University School of Law from 2002 to 2012, where he taught E-Commerce Law. During 2001, he served as Visiting Professor of Law at Appalachian School of Law, teaching Commercial Law and Conflicts of Law.

ROBERT D. (“BO”) PHILLIPS JR. is a partner in Alston & Bird’s San Francisco and Los Angeles offices. Mr. Phillips has nearly 40 years of experience assisting numerous companies in high-stakes class actions involving unfair competition, false advertising, privacy issues, product liability, labor and employment, life insurance, financial services, trade secret litigation, and food and beverage labeling. Mr. Phillips manages class actions in various jurisdictions around the country. He is a 1978 graduate of Duke University School of Law and returns to Duke often as a guest lecturer on topics including class action issues and ethical considerations faced by litigators in complex litigation.

TANYA J. PIERCE is an Associate Professor of Law at Texas A&M University School of Law, where she teaches Civil Procedure and related courses. Before joining the faculty, Professor Pierce practiced law at Fulbright & Jaworski (now Norton Rose Fulbright) and at Howrey & Simon. Her practice focused primarily on complex litigation issues. Her scholarship has been widely published, including in the Missouri Law Review, the George Mason Law Review, and the Georgia State University Law Review.

LYN P. PRUITT is a litigation partner with Mitchell, Williams, Selig, Gates & Woodyard in Little Rock, Arkansas. A significant part of her 32-year practice has focused on multiparty litigation, mass tort litigation, and class actions. Ms. Pruitt is a fellow of the International Academy of Trial Lawyers, the American College of Trial Lawyers, and the Litigation Counsel of America. She has been recognized in Mid-South Super Lawyers; in the International Who’s Who of Business Lawyers; in Chambers USA: America’s Leading Lawyers for Business; and in The Best Lawyers in America.

DERIK RAO is a member of Denton US LLP’s Litigation and Dispute Resolution practice, and represents clients in complex commercial litigation. Mr. Rao graduated from Washington University School of Law.

MATTHEW J. REYNOLDS is counsel in the Washington, D.C., office of McGuire-Woods LLP. His broad-based litigation practice focuses on government and corporate internal investigations, class action and antitrust litigation, and regulatory compliance. He currently serves as a Vice Chair of the ABA Antitrust Section’s Competition Torts Committee and is a co-editor of the Class Action Countermeasures blog (<http://www.classactioncountermeasures.com>), which focuses on strategic considerations in defending class actions.

PAT ROCHA is Chair of the Litigation Group at Adler Pollock & Sheehan P.C. in Providence, Rhode Island. Ms. Rocha has successfully tried and defended cases ranging from commercial litigation, product liability and toxic tort, employment discrimination, and redistricting litigation to bribery, wire fraud, honest services, and conspiracy. Ms. Rocha has been recognized in Chambers USA: America's Leading Lawyers as one of the "Leaders in Rhode Island" as well as in The Best Lawyers in America in the fields of administrative law, commercial litigation, health-care law, white collar criminal defense, and labor and employment law. Ms. Rocha has also been selected as a Rhode Island Super Lawyer.

JASON M. ROSENTHAL is the Managing Partner of Honigman Miller Schwartz & Cohn LLP's Chicago office, and also serves on the firm's Board of Directors. Mr. Rosenthal's practice is dedicated to representing businesses and individuals in complex litigation, and he also regularly advises corporate policyholders in insurance coverage disputes. He has been recognized as a Leading Lawyer, and as an Illinois Super Lawyer since 2008.

CHARLES F. RYSAVY is a partner in the Newark, New Jersey, office of K&L Gates LLP. His practice is focused on complex class action and other multiparty toxic tort, product liability, and commercial litigation. He has tried numerous jury cases, and filed numerous appeals and amicus briefs, in state and federal courts around the country. He is admitted to practice before the state and federal courts of New Jersey, the U.S. Supreme Court, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second, Third, and Tenth Circuits, and the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York.

JONATHAN A. SAMPER joined Stroock & Stroock & Lavan L.L.P. in October of 2016. He received his BA, summa cum laude, in 2011 from George Washington University and his JD in 2016 from New York University School of Law.

KIM SCHMIDT is a senior vice president at Rust Consulting. She has 17 years of settlement administration experience, leads Rust's government services practice area, and has substantial experience in consumer, finance, insurance, and health-care matters.

GRANT E. SCHNELL is an Atlanta litigation attorney with experience in complex civil litigation involving employment law, civil rights, intellectual property, business torts, and bankruptcy. He also has knowledge in complex litigation matters for the insurance and banking industries, as well as securities actions initiated under Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Prior to joining Holland & Knight, Mr. Schnell served for two years as a law clerk to the Honorable Anne C. Conway of the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Florida. As a judicial law clerk, Mr. Schnell aided the judge in managing both a civil and criminal docket, drafted memoranda and orders, advised the judge on legal issues, and assisted the judge during hearings and trials. During law school, Mr. Schnell served as the editor-in-chief of the University of Florida Journal of Technology Law & Policy and as a teaching assistant for the legal research and writing, appellate advocacy, and trial practice courses. He was also a student member of the Gerald T. Bennett Inn of Court and the University of Florida Levin College of Law Faculty Appointments Committee.

MARK G. SCHROEDER is a shareholder with Briggs and Morgan, P.A., in Minneapolis, Minnesota. In his business/commercial litigation practice, he specializes in class action defense, especially consumer finance litigation. He has defended financial institutions and mortgage lenders as lead trial and appellate counsel in dozens of class action lawsuits in state and federal courts. Mr. Schroeder's other class action experience includes wage and hour claims, securities/shareholder disputes, mass torts, and antitrust. He received his BA from the University of Minnesota and his JD from UCLA, where he was a member of the UCLA Law Review. After law school, Mr. Schroeder clerked for U.S. District Court Judge Donald D. Alsop in St. Paul, Minnesota. He is admitted to practice in Minnesota and California.

SCOTT SCHUTTE represents companies and individuals in commercial and civil litigation, with an emphasis on the defense of consumer class actions in U.S. state and federal courts. He regularly defends consumer service providers, financial services companies, and product manufacturers against high-exposure claims both in the class action and commercial litigation settings. Mr. Schutte serves as managing partner of the firm's Chicago office, a deputy chair of Morgan Lewis's global litigation practice, and co-chair of the Class Action Working Group.

RICK L. SHACKELFORD is Co-Chair of Greenberg Traurig's Class Action Practice, the Los Angeles office's Litigation Practice, and the firm's Food & Beverage Practice. His complex litigation practice is focused on consumer class actions, false advertising, and product liability. He has considerable experience in consumer class action litigation, serving as lead trial attorney for class actions in federal courts in several states. He was selected by Law360 as an "MVP for Food & Beverage" (2016), was recognized for having one of the "Top 20 Defense Verdicts in California" by the Los Angeles/San Francisco Daily Journal in 2011, and was named a "Client Service All Star" by BTI Client Service All-Star Reports in 2011. Mr. Shackelford graduated from Arizona State University Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law, 1990, and Harvard University, 1986, cum laude.

EDWARD F. SHERMAN is the David Boies Distinguished Chair in Law and Emeritus Professor of Law at Tulane University Law School. He is a co-author of casebooks on civil procedure, complex litigation, and alternative dispute resolution that are used in law schools around the country and of many articles on these subjects. He has been a counsel or expert witness in a large number of class actions and cases relating to his expertise in complex litigation. He has been an active arbitrator and mediator. He has served as Chair or Reporter of the ABA Task Forces on Preemption (2010), Disaster Insurance Coverage (2007), Asbestos Reform (2005), Class Action Legislation (2003), and Offer of Judgment Rule (1995).

DANIEL M. SILVER is a partner in the Intellectual Property/Information Technology and Business Litigation groups of McCarter & English, LLP. He focuses on intellectual property disputes and has extensive experience prosecuting and defending traditional patent litigation. In addition to his IP practice, Mr. Silver litigates complex corporate and commercial disputes including shareholder derivative cases, class actions, and antitrust matters.

JOHN M. SIMPSON has practiced law in the Washington, D.C., office of Norton Rose Fulbright LLP for 39 years. He has the longest continuous service in that office of any lawyer in the history of the firm. A member of the firm's Global Class Action Practice Group, Mr. Simpson is experienced in the conduct of complex, protracted federal court jury trials and other litigation and has a deep background in federal administrative law involving multiple U.S. regulatory programs. Mr. Simpson has 34 years' experience in employment law and has handled every type of discrimination claim that is cognizable in federal or state court. Several of those cases were precedent-setting. Mr. Simpson also is a nationally known practitioner in the area of animal law. He has argued appeals in multiple federal and state appellate courts. He is a member of the District of Columbia and North Carolina Bars, the Bar of the Supreme Court of the United States, and multiple lower federal appellate and trial court bars. Mr. Simpson received his undergraduate degree from Harvard University and his JD from Columbia University School of Law.

W. SCOTT SIMPSON is the managing member and founder of Simpson, McMahan, Glick & Burford, PLLC. In addition to engaging in private practice, Mr. Simpson is a Commercial Arbitrator for the American Arbitration Association and an adjunct professor of Arbitration Law and Alternative Dispute Resolution at the Cumberland School of Law in Birmingham, Alabama. He has served as an arbitrator and advocate in arbitration proceedings in over 40 states and has authored numerous publications regarding arbitration.

BENJAMIN SMYTH is a corporate and commercial litigator whose areas of practice include complex commercial matters and disputes involving Delaware corporations and alternative business entities. He advises clients in all aspects of Delaware law, assisting them with, among other things, the interpretation of corporate charters and bylaws, litigation arising from mergers and acquisitions, and statutory actions relating to the governance and control of Delaware business entities. He also tries complex commercial lawsuits that involve disputes arising under commercial contracts and agreements governing limited liability companies and partnerships.

TIM SNIDER is a partner of Stoel Rives LLP and chairs the firm-wide Litigation practice group. His practice emphasizes complex business litigation. Mr. Snider defends companies and executives in class actions, securities and antitrust cases, consumer and unlawful trade practices actions, and corporate governance disputes. He also represents businesses in commercial contract disputes and insurance coverage actions. He has appeared in federal and state courts around the country, including Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Connecticut, Oklahoma, and Texas. Mr. Snider works with public companies and privately held businesses in a number of industries including insurance, technology, telecommunications, transportation, health care, energy, construction, manufacturing, consumer products, and financial services.

STACY O. STITHAM, a graduate of Harvard University and Harvard Law School, is a partner in the law firm of Brann & Isaacson. Her practice includes litigation in state and federal courts and proceedings before administrative agencies on behalf of national corporations as well as local businesses and individuals, with a particular emphasis on intellectual property litigation.

STEPHANIE STROUP is senior counsel in the Los Angeles office of Norton Rose Fulbright LLP. Ms. Stroup's practice focuses on class actions and complex commercial litigation, representing food manufacturers, cosmetics companies, restaurants, supplement manufacturers, and homeopathic remedy manufacturers. Ms. Stroup is co-editor of the firm's Consumer Products Law Blog (<http://www.consumerproductslawblog.com>). She was selected as a Rising Star by Super Lawyers 2012–2016.

THOMAS J. SULLIVAN is a partner in Morgan Lewis's Litigation Practice in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and is a co-chair of the firm's Class Action Working Group. Mr. Sullivan's practice encompasses a variety of product liability and commercial civil litigation in state and federal courts, with a focus on the defense of putative class actions, mass torts, and other complex, serial, and multijurisdictional litigation. Mr. Sullivan has led the defense of consumer fraud, product, commercial, securities, and other types of class actions for companies in a wide variety of industries. Mr. Sullivan earned his PhD in philosophy from the University of Pennsylvania in 2003; his JD, cum laude, from the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 2001; his MA, with highest distinction, in moral, political, and legal philosophy from the University of Reading, England, in 1996; and his BA, cum laude, in philosophy from the College of the Holy Cross in 1995. He is admitted to practice in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

JOANNE GEHA SWANSON is a member of Kerr, Russell and Weber, PLC in Detroit, Michigan. Ms. Swanson specializes in civil litigation and appeals. Her litigation practice primarily involves complex commercial disputes, antitrust, class actions, business torts, and other related matters. Ms. Swanson also devotes a significant percentage of her professional time to state and federal appellate practice involving issues across the spectrum of subject areas, including constitutional challenges, questions of statutory interpretation, business torts, commercial disputes, insurance disputes, medical and legal malpractice, real estate disputes, and civil procedural questions. Ms. Swanson is a past chairperson of the Antitrust, Franchise, and Trade Regulation Section of the State Bar of Michigan, and currently serves as Chair-Elect of the State Bar's Appellate Practice Section. She is a member of the Board of Directors of the Detroit Bar Association, and chair of the DBA's Detroit Lawyer Editorial Board. Ms. Swanson is AV-rated by Martindale-Hubbell and is listed in Michigan's Super Lawyers, Super Lawyers—Corporate Counsel Edition, and DBusiness Top Lawyer.

GRAHAM TALLEY is a litigation associate with Mitchell, Williams, Selig, Gates & Woodyard, P.L.L.C. in Little Rock, Arkansas. His practice focuses on complex business disputes, mass tort litigation, class actions, and the defense of claims on behalf of clients in the health-care and pharmaceutical industries.

JAMES M. TERRELL is a shareholder in the law firm of McCallum, Methvin & Terrell, P.C. He received his JD from the University of Alabama School of Law in 1998 where he served as a Senior Editor of the Alabama Law Review. He was admitted to practice law in Alabama in 1998 and in Mississippi in 2001. Mr. Terrell practices in the areas of class actions, complex litigation, business litigation, and consumer protection. He is a past president of the Young Lawyers Section of the Alabama State Bar, a graduate of the Alabama State Bar Leadership Forum, and former chair of the Alabama State Bar Pro Bono and Public Service Committee. Mr. Terrell is also an active member of the American Bar Association's Tort Trial and Insurance Practice Section serving as a Vice Chair of the Business Litigation Committee, as a member of the Ethics and Professionalism Committee, and as a member of the Plaintiffs' Policy Task Force. Mr. Terrell is a frequent lecturer on class actions and has been selected as a Top Rated Class Actions/Mass Torts Attorney in Alabama/Mid-South Super Lawyers.

THOMAS W. THAGARD III graduated from the University of Virginia School of Law in 1991. He is a Shareholder at Maynard, Cooper & Gale in Birmingham, Alabama, where he serves as Co-Chair of the firm's Litigation Practice Group. He has a national practice focused on complex litigation matters, including class actions, antitrust, and mergers and acquisitions. His litigation results have been reported in news outlets all over the United States, and his litigation skills have been widely recognized by numerous legal industry publications and organizations.

ALLAN A. THOEN is a partner in the Philadelphia office of Pepper Hamilton LLP and a member of the Health Sciences Department. He has a litigation practice with a primary emphasis on representation of clients in the health-care sector.

MICHAEL S. TRUESDALE practices with the Austin, Texas, office of Enoch Keever, PLLC. His practices focuses on civil appellate litigation in both state and federal courts and in the preparation of cases for ultimate appellate review. He is board-certified in Civil Appellate Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. He is admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court and the Fifth, Seventh, Ninth, Eleventh, and Federal Circuit courts of appeals. He was the Chair for the State Bar of Texas Appellate Section and has served on various other bar-related organizations. Mr. Truesdale is a frequent national speaker on topics relating to the creation and operations of statewide appellate pro bono programs. He is AV-Peer Review rated by Martindale-Hubbell and has been repeatedly listed as a Texas Super Lawyer in the area of Appellate Law by Thompson Reuters Law and Politics.

ANDREW S. TULUMELLO is a litigation partner and Co-Partner in Charge of the Washington, D.C., office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher L.L.P.

KEVIN UNDERHILL is a litigation partner in the San Francisco office of Shook, Hardy & Bacon. He specializes in defending companies facing complex class action litigation and has represented numerous clients in product-defect and consumer-fraud actions in California and across the country. Mr. Underhill is an experienced appellate practitioner who has argued before the Eighth Circuit, the Ninth Circuit, and appellate courts in Missouri and California, including the California Supreme Court. He is also a frequent speaker on topics such as consumer law, legal ethics and legal writing, and a writer whose work has appeared in or been featured by the San Francisco Chronicle, The Wall Street Journal, The Recorder, The Daily Journal, Forbes, Huffington Post, and National Public Radio. He writes about strange-but-true legal news on his website, Lowering the Bar (<https://loweringthebar.net>), which the ABA Journal repeatedly selected for its Blawg 100 list before elevating it to the Hall of Fame in 2015.

JAMES A. WALKER is a member of Triplett, Woolf & Garretson, LLC in Wichita, Kansas. Mr. Walker has had a general, civil, and business litigation practice for over 40 years in the various state and federal courts, primarily in Kansas. His broad litigation practice has included matters involving securities law, antitrust, noncompete agreements, oil and gas, real estate, secured transactions, municipal finance, legal and accounting malpractice, derivative claims, estate and probate disputes, commercial fire loss, and higher-asset divorce cases. A few dozen of his engagements have involved class actions.

CLIFFORD H. WALSTON is a founder of the Houston, Texas, law firm of Walston & Bowlin, LLP. While at the University of Texas at Austin, he graduated from the Business Honors Program, with a specialization in finance, before continuing on to the University of Texas School of Law, where he also graduated with honors. Prior to founding Walston Bowlin, LLP, he served as the general counsel of a leading oil and gas advisory firm and believes his business background provides a much deeper understanding of the impact of litigation on his clients, not just in the courtroom, but also in the boardroom. He is a trial lawyer who handles all types of complex commercial litigation with a special emphasis on financial disputes, class actions, lender liability cases, and product liability litigation.

DANIEL S. WEBER is a practicing attorney at Simpson, McMahan, Glick & Burford, PLLC. His commercial litigation practice involves regularly drafting arbitration agreements and litigating before arbitration tribunals.

PAUL WELLER is an Executive Director and Senior Counsel for Aetna, Inc. Mr. Weller has been with Aetna since 2013, where he oversees a variety of litigation, including class actions. Prior to joining Aetna, Mr. Weller was the Head of Litigation for Coventry Health Care Inc. He assumed that position in 2010. Mr. Weller previously was a partner in the Litigation Section of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP. In that capacity, he worked in a variety of industries. He has tried arbitrations and bench and jury trials in both state and federal courts. He has substantial experience defending class actions across the country. He has also served as a trial advocacy instructor. Mr. Weller is a graduate of the Villanova University School of Law. He continues to be involved in speaking and providing materials at conferences regarding legal issues facing the managed care industry.

SHANNON WHEATMAN, PH.D., is the president of Kinsella Media, which has implemented notice programs for over 1,000 class action lawsuits and placed over $400 million in media advertisements. Dr. Wheatman is a court-recognized notice expert and uses her analytical expertise in designing, developing, analyzing, and implementing large-scale legal notification plans. She began her class action career in 2000 at the Federal Judicial Center, the education and research agency for the federal courts. She worked with the Civil Rules Advisory Committee on a number of class action studies and was instrumental in the development of model notices to satisfy the plain language amendment to Rule 23. Dr. Wheatman's plain language expertise was advanced by her education, including her doctoral dissertation on plain language drafting of class action notices and her master's thesis on comprehension of jury instructions. She also has a master's degree in legal studies and is a trained statistician who has developed court-approved methodologies to determine direct notice reach and class sizes in cases where comprehensive mailing lists are not available.

AMY M. WILKINS is the managing attorney at The Wilkins Law Firm, PLLC, in Phoenix, Arizona, where she practices business litigation, class actions, and appeals. Ms. Wilkins formerly worked at Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro, LLP, where she focused on class actions against vehicle manufacturers, including the Toyota unintended acceleration MDL litigation. She received her law degree from the University of Arizona, where she served as Editor-in-Chief of the Arizona Law Review.

AMY WILSON is a Member in the Indianapolis, Indiana, office of Frost Brown Todd LLC and practices in the firm's Labor and Employment Practice Group. She concentrates her practice in employment litigation and employer counseling. Ms. Wilson defends employers in single plaintiff and class and collective action litigation against claims filed under Title VII, the ADEA, the ADAAA, the FMLA, the FLSA, covenants not to compete, wage claims, and various other federal and state laws. In addition, Ms. Wilson counsels employers on all aspects of the employer-employee relationship, provides management and employee training, and drafts handbooks, agreements, policies, and procedures. She is a frequent speaker on employment law topics for a variety of business and professional organizations. Ms. Wilson is also the editor and one of the authors of The Practitioner's Guide to Defense of EPL Claims (American Bar Association).

GARTH WOJTANOWICZ is a partner at Seattle-based Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro LLP, where his practice focuses on consumer class action litigation. Mr. Wojtanowicz's recent work includes several high-profile class actions and mass tort cases with national scope, including In re Stericycle, Inc., Steri-Safe Contract Litigation, which was recently certified as a nationwide class for claims arising out of Stericycle's pricing practices. He also pursues cases as part of the firm's nationally lauded automotive litigation team, including the Toyota Sudden, Unintended Acceleration case and high-profile cases against General Motors relating to a series of defects and recalls that led to at least 100 fatalities. Mr. Wojtanowicz is also working on the firm's medical cases against the two largest dialysis companies in the United States relating to their use of GranuFlo, which was the subject of an FDA recall.

BRADLEY S. WOLFF is a partner with Swift, Currie, McGhee & Hiers, LLP in Atlanta, Georgia. Mr. Wolff practices in the areas of products and personal liability defense, with an emphasis in medical, biological, and pharmaceutical products. Mr. Wolff graduated from Vanderbilt University with honors in philosophy in 1983. He received his law degree, cum laude, in 1986 from the University of Georgia School of Law. Mr. Wolff practices throughout the United States, and is admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court. He is a member of the State Bar of Georgia and the Defense Research Institute.

MELONIE S. WRIGHT is an associate in Butler Snow LLP's Commercial Litigation group, where she focuses her practice on complex commercial disputes, data privacy and security, tort, employment litigation, and insurance defense. Wright is a regular contributor to Butler Snow's commercial litigation blog, BizLitNews (<http://www.bizlitnews.com>), on Internet and social media litigation and regulation. Ms. Wright received her undergraduate degree from the University of Akron, summa cum laude, and her JD from Emory University School of Law. Ms. Wright is admitted to practice in all state and federal courts in Alabama. She is a member of the American Bar Association, Federal Bar Association, Alabama Bar Association, and the Birmingham Bar Association.