

SECTIONS 409A AND 457

ANSWERS TO
250 FREQUENTLY
ASKED QUESTIONS

CONTENTS

CONTENTS	v
ABOUT THE AUTHORS	XXXI
NOTES ON CITATIONS	XXXV
INTRODUCTION	XXXVII
PLANS SUBJECT TO SECTIONS 409A AND 457	1
Q.1 What types of compensation and benefit plans are subject to Section 409A?	1
Q.2 What plans are not subject to Section 409A?	3
Q.3 What constitutes a deferral of compensation for purposes of Section 409A?	5
Q.4 When is it determined whether a plan is subject to Section 409A?	7
Q.5 When is a plan legally binding for purposes of Section 409A?	8
Q.6 Who is the service recipient for purposes of Section 409A?	10
Q.7 Who is a service provider for purposes of Section 409A?	11
Q.8 If a business engages an individual to write a book, song, software program, or similar item, and the parties agree that the business will acquire ownership of or distribution rights to the property produced in exchange for a monetary payment, does Section 409A apply to the arrangement?	12

Q.9 Are compensation and benefit plans of tax-exempt organizations subject to Section 409A?	13
Q.10 Are arrangements involving partnerships subject to Section 409A?	14
Q.11 What constitutes disability pay exempt from Section 409A?	16
Q.12 What constitutes a bona fide death benefit plan exempt from Section 409A?	17
Q.13 What constitutes a bona fide vacation or leave plan?	18
Q.14 What are the general requirements for nonqualified deferred compensation plans subject to Section 409A?	19
DOCUMENTATION REQUIREMENTS	21
Q.15 Are plans subject to Section 409A required to be in writing?	21
Q.16 When must a plan subject to Section 409A be documented?	22
Q.17 Are there specific features prohibited in plans subject to Section 409A that were frequently included in nonqualified plans before enactment of Section 409A?	23
Q.18 Is it appropriate to document the provisions of a plan designed to fall outside the scope of Section 409A?	24
Q.19 What are the minimum documentation requirements for a plan subject to Section 409A?	25
SHORT-TERM DEFERRALS EXEMPT FROM SECTION 409A	29
Q.20 Do amounts that are paid shortly after they are earned constitute deferred compensation subject to Section 409A?	29
Q.21 What is the short-term deferral rule?	30

Q.22 When is payment considered to have been made for purposes of the short-term deferral rule?	33
Q.23 What situations justify delay in payment of compensation designed to qualify as a short-term deferral beyond 2½ months after the end of the taxable year in which the compensation is earned?	34
Q.24 What is a substantial risk of forfeiture, and how does it relate to satisfaction of the short-term deferral rule for purposes of Section 409A?	36
Q.25 If a compensation arrangement qualifies as a short-term deferral exempt from Section 409A, can the parties change the form and time of payment under the arrangement after the services relating to the compensation have been performed without becoming subject to Section 409A?	39
Q.26 What is the relationship between the definitions of substantial risk of forfeiture under Section 409A, Section 83, and Section 457(f)?	40
Q.27 What is a vest and pay lump sum SERP?	41
DISTRIBUTION EVENTS UNDER SECTION 409A	43
Q.28 What are the primary permissible distribution events for purposes of Section 409A?	43
Q.29 What type of separation from service qualifies as a permissible distribution event for an employee under Section 409A?	45
Q.30 Will a service provider experience a separation from service if he or she goes on a leave of absence?	48
Q.31 Will a service provider experience a separation from service in connection with an asset sale?	49
Q.32 Will a spin-off or stock sale of a subsidiary cause the affected employees to experience a separation from service?	50

Q.33 May a transaction that is treated as a deemed asset sale under Section 338 be treated as an asset sale for purposes of the special separation from service rules described in Q.31?	51
Q.34 What constitutes a separation from service of an independent contractor for purposes of Section 409A?	52
Q.35 How is a separation of service defined when a service provider performs services for a service recipient both as an employee and independent contractor?	53
Q.36 Must a plan governed by Section 409A that is maintained by a publicly traded company require delayed payments to some plan participants, called “specified employees,” even though there is a valid separation from service?	55
Q.37 Who are “specified employees” of a publicly traded company, its subsidiaries, and its affiliates, for purposes of the six-month delay rule?	57
Q.38 How are specified employees identified following a corporate transaction involving two public companies?	60
Q.39 How are specified employees identified following a transaction involving a public company and a nonpublic company?	62
Q.40 How are specified employees identified following a spin-off?	63
Q.41 Are there alternative rules for identifying specified employees following a corporate transaction?	64

Q.42 Is it possible to comply with the requirement that payments to specified employees on account of separation from service must be delayed for six months after separation by requiring that payments to all service providers on account of separation from service be delayed for six months after separation?	65
Q.43 Could a specified employee have a claim for post-employment discrimination or retaliation against a service recipient for complying with the six-month delay requirement under Section 409A?	66
Q.44 What is the definition of disability for purposes of Section 409A?	67
Q.45 Can a plan's form and time of payment on account of disability be different from the plan's form and time of payment on account of separation from service?	68
Q.46 Once a distribution event that entitles a plan participant to receive payment occurs, when must the payment be made?	69
PAYMENTS	71
Q.47 When is a payment considered to have been made?	71
Q.48 Is the transfer of property that is subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture considered a payment under Section 409A?	73
Q.49 If a payment is to be made upon death, when must the payment be made?	74
Q.50 If a payment is to be made upon death, may the beneficiary select the year of payment?	75

Q.51 If the plan document specifies a more restrictive period for payment of death benefits than is permitted under the rules described in Q.49 , may the plan be amended to expand the period for payment of death benefits?	76
Q.52 Must the plan document specify the period during which death benefits may be paid?	77
Q.53 Do the rules applicable to payments upon the death of a participant apply upon the death of a beneficiary?	78
Q.54 Can the time of payment depend on the time the service provider executes a release?	79
Q.55 Can a plan provide that distribution occurs on the earliest of two or more permissible events?	80
Q.56 What is the anti-toggling rule and how is it applied?	81
Q.57 Can a plan provide for different forms of payment depending on whether the service provider is married or not when payment begins?	83
Q.58 Can a plan provide that distribution occurs on the earlier of a narrowly defined involuntary separation from service and another permissible distribution event?	84
Q.59 Are there any situations in which a late payment will be excused because of administrative impracticability?	85
Q.60 Are there any situations in which a late payment will be excused because of financial difficulties of the service recipient?	86
Q.61 What constitutes a downturn in the financial health of a service recipient?	87
Q.62 Can a plan provide that the form of distribution is based on the value of the service provider's benefit at the time distribution commences?	88

Q.63 If distribution of deferred compensation is scheduled to be made in cash, can the service recipient and service provider agree after the services related to the deferred compensation have been performed that distribution will instead be made in the form of restricted stock?	89
Q.64 Can distributions scheduled on account of separation from service under a deferred compensation plan subject to Section 409A be suspended if the employee is rehired and resumes eligibility under the plan?	90
Q.65 Does a 409A violation always occur if the service recipient refuses or inadvertently fails to make a payment of deferred compensation when due?	91
ACCELERATION OF BENEFITS	93
Q.66 May deferred compensation distributions be accelerated?	93
Q.67 What is an unforeseeable emergency for purposes of Section 409A?	95
Q.68 When can a plan be amended to provide for acceleration of distribution incident to death or disability?	97
Q.69 If a designated beneficiary has become entitled to payments upon the death of the participant, are there any situations in which the payments due to the beneficiary may be accelerated?	98
Q.70 May benefits be accelerated to comply with conflict of interest or foreign ethics laws?	99
Q.71 What constitutes a cash-out that can be accelerated and paid in a lump sum without violating Section 409A?	100

Q.72 May a cash-out of small benefits be conditioned on the election or consent of the service provider?	101
Q.73 May a plan provide that installment or annuity payments will be cashed out in a single sum if the present value of the service provider's remaining benefit falls below a specified level set forth in the plan?	102
Q.74 May a plan provide for a distribution of benefits upon a change of control?	103
Q.75 How is a change in ownership or effective control defined for purposes of Section 409A?	104
Q.76 What are the requirements for enforceability of a domestic relations order directing acceleration of distribution of amounts deferred by a participant under a plan governed by Section 409A?	105
Q.77 Is a deferred compensation plan subject to Section 409A required to accelerate distribution of amounts deferred by a participant or to divide the participant's account in favor of the adverse party named in a domestic relations order that satisfies the requirements for enforceability under Section 409A?	107
Q.78 In what circumstances may an employer terminate or liquidate a plan that is subject to Section 409A?	108
Q.79 Can an existing plan without a provision for termination be amended to provide for plan termination?	111
Q.80 Can a service recipient voluntarily terminate a plan with respect to one or more, but not all, service recipients participating in the plan?	112
Q.81 Does acceleration of vesting of deferred compensation alone cause a problem under Section 409A?	113

Q.82 Does Section 409A prohibit forfeiture, reduction, or voluntary relinquishment of deferred compensation?	114
Q.83 Does Section 409A permit offset of the amount due the service provider on distribution by the amount the service provider owes the service recipient?	115
Q.84 Does Section 409A permit offsets of deferred compensation to comply with federal debt collection laws?	116
TAX CONSEQUENCES	117
Q.85 What constitutes a violation of Section 409A that causes a service provider to incur tax liability under Section 409A?	117
Q.86 What is the general federal income tax scheme for plans subject to Section 409A?	118
Q.87 What are the federal income tax consequences of a breach of Section 409A?	120
Q.88 Are there situations in which a substantial risk of forfeiture will be disregarded for purposes of determining whether an amount is includible in income under Q.87 ?	121
Q.89 Who is responsible for payment of the taxes imposed on account of a breach of Section 409A?	122
Q.90 Is an employer required to indemnify plan participants against the taxes imposed by Section 409A if the related violation of Section 409A is due to the employer's own action or inaction?	123
Q.91 What is the aggregation rule, and how does it apply to determine federal income tax liability on account of a violation of Section 409A?	124
Q.92 Do the plan aggregation rules apply for other purposes under Section 409A?	126

Q.93 What is a documentary violation of Section 409A?	127
Q.94 What is the effect of a documentary violation of Section 409A?	128
Q.95 What is an operational violation of Section 409A?	129
Q.96 What is the effect of an operational violation of Section 409A?	130
Q.97 Does Section 409A replace all prior law governing federal income taxation of unfunded deferred compensation arrangements?	131
Q.98 Have any states imposed a personal income tax that parallels Section 409A?	132
Q.99 Can the negative income tax consequences of a breach of Section 409A be mediated?	133
DEFERRED COMPENSATION PLANS SUBJECT TO 409A	135
Q.100 How are participant account balance plans treated for purposes of Section 409A?	135
Q.101 How are employer account balance plans treated for purposes of Section 409A?	136
Q.102 How are employer non-account balance plans treated for purposes of Section 409A?	137
SERVICE PROVIDER ELECTIONS	139
Q.103 What types of service provider elections are typically provided for under deferred compensation plans subject to Section 409A?	139
Q.104 When must initial elections to defer and to designate the time and form of payment be made under Section 409A?	140

Q.105 Which year's deferral election applies to base pay earned during the final payroll period of one year and paid on the first pay date of the next year in accordance with the service recipient's standard payroll practice?	145
Q.106 How is performance-based compensation defined for purposes of Section 409A?	146
Q.107 Is a bonus deferral election that is subject to Section 409A cancelled if the service provider separates from service after the election is made or becomes final, but before the date the bonus amount is credited to the service provider's account?	148
Q.108 Does a service provider's ability to elect that compensation earned in a nine- or ten-month period, typically an academic year, be paid over a twelve-month period spanning two taxable years create nonqualified deferred compensation subject to Section 409A?	149
Q.109 Can a participant make a subsequent election to change the time or form of payment specified in an earlier election?	152
Q.110 Is a change of form of payment from one type of annuity to another actuarially equivalent annuity commencing at the same time subject to the requirements that apply to subsequent elections?	155
Q.111 Can a participant make a subsequent election to defer only a portion of an amount previously deferred?	156
Q.112 Can a participant make a subsequent election to defer periodic installments after distribution has begun?	157
Q.113 Can a participant make a subsequent election to change the form of payment from periodic installments to a single sum?	158

Q.114 Can a participant cancel an election to defer compensation during the plan year in which the compensation would otherwise have been paid in the absence of the election?	159
Q.115 Can a plan permit a service provider to elect multiple forms of payment with respect to various portions of a deferred amount?	161
Q.116 If a service provider is allowed to elect different deferral percentages for different types of compensation during a year, such as base pay, annual bonus and long-term bonus, will a Section 409A violation occur if the mix of the service provider's compensation changes mid-year?	162
Q.117 Can the subsequent election rule be used to increase participant flexibility in a plan with multiple annual election options?	163
Q.118 Can the subsequent election rule and the single or multiple payment election be used in combination to increase the security of benefits accrued under a participant individual account plan benefit?	164
Q.119 What is a rolling risk of forfeiture and how do the 409A rules apply to a rolling risk of forfeiture?	166
Q.120 How is the term "materially greater" defined for purposes of Section 409A in the context of rolling risks of forfeiture?	167
SEVERANCE PLANS	169
Q.121 What severance payments are exempt from Section 409A?	169
Q.122 May the severance plan exemption apply to service providers whose employment begins and ends in the same year?	170

Q.123 Must the design of a severance pay program use only the short-term deferral rule or only the severance plan rules, or can the two rules be used in combination?	171
Q.124 Is there any other exemption that could apply to severance payments under Section 409A?	173
Q.125 Can severance amounts payable on account of voluntary termination or termination for good reason qualify as severance pay or short-term deferrals for purposes of Section 409A?	174
Q.126 When is termination for good reason considered equivalent to involuntary severance?	175
Q.127 If a severance arrangement is exempt from Section 409A, can the parties modify the form and time of payment under the arrangement without making the arrangement subject to Section 409A?	177
Q.128 Is a mitigation provision permitted in a severance agreement that is subject to Section 409A?	178
Q.129 If all payments due under a severance arrangement do not meet the short-term deferral exception, the separation pay exception, or the small distribution exception, does the arrangement violate Section 409A?	179
Q.130 Can severance payments substitute for nonqualified deferred compensation payments that are being forfeited?	180
Q.131 What is a window program for purposes of the severance pay exception to Section 409A?	181
Q.132 Do collectively bargained severance plans and foreign severance plans required by local law get special treatment?	182

STOCK-BASED COMPENSATION	183
Q.133 Does Section 409A apply to incentive stock options or to options issued under a statutory employee stock purchase plan?	183
Q.134 Does Section 409A apply to nonstatutory stock options and stock appreciation rights (SARs)?	184
Q.135 How are a service provider’s rights to receive nonvested stock on the exercise of a stock right and to pay the exercise price with previously acquired shares treated under Section 409A?	186
Q.136 What constitutes service recipient stock for purposes of the stock-based compensation exception to Section 409A?	187
Q.137 May a service recipient grant stock rights to an individual before the individual becomes a service provider and still have the underlying stock qualify as service recipient stock?	189
Q.138 Can stock that is subject to a mandatory repurchase obligation upon a service recipient’s termination for cause or violation of a restrictive covenant qualify as service recipient stock?	190
Q.139 How is fair market value of service recipient stock calculated for purposes of determining the exercise price of an option or SAR?	191
Q.140 What is the relationship between Section 409A and ASC 718?	194
Q.141 Can the exercise price be extended or the option or SAR modified without causing loss of the exception from Section 409A coverage?	195
Q.142 How can a nonqualified stock option or SAR become subject to Section 409A?	196
Q.143 How can a nonqualified stock option or SAR be structured to comply with Section 409A?	197
Q.144 Does Section 409A apply to restricted stock, restricted stock units, or phantom stock units?	198

Q.145 Is a deferred compensation plan subject to Section 409A required to specify a valuation date for restricted stock units granted under the plan?	199
Q.146 Can dividend-equivalent distributions on phantom or restricted stock units qualify as current compensation or short-term deferrals?	200
Q.147 What are transaction-based compensation plans?	201
Q.148 What special payment rules apply to transaction-based compensation?	202
Q.149 How do the transaction-based compensation rules apply to stock options or stock appreciation rights that were exempt from Section 409A when issued?	203
EMPLOYMENT AGREEMENTS	205
Q.150 Which common provisions of an employment agreement might create issues under Section 409A?	205
Q.151 What issues do fringe benefit arrangements pose under Section 409A?	206
Q.152 If a former highly paid service provider is allowed to continue self-insured medical coverage for life by paying the full cost of coverage, is the arrangement subject to Section 409A?	208
Q.153 Is a provision in an employment agreement for a tax gross-up payment, such as to compensate an executive for golden parachute taxes, permitted under Section 409A?	209
Q.154 Are payments made pursuant to a settlement with an employer, payments made under indemnification agreements, or payments made to acquire directors' and officers' insurance treated as nonqualified deferred compensation subject to Section 409A?	210

Q.155 Are payments of employment-related legal fees and expenses deferred compensation and subject to Section 409A?	211
SPLIT-DOLLAR AND OTHER LIFE INSURANCE ARRANGEMENTS	213
Q.156 Which split-dollar life insurance arrangements are subject to or exempt from Section 409A coverage?	213
Q.157 Are split-dollar life insurance programs subject to grandfathering under Section 409A?	215
Q.158 What is a bonus life insurance or annuity plan, and how can it be used as a substitute for a nonqualified deferred compensation plan subject to Section 409A?	216
Q.159 Is a key person life insurance policy owned by the service recipient subject to Section 409A?	219
Q.160 Are other life insurance plans subject to Section 409A?	220
Q.161 Could Section 409A apply in connection with termination of a split-dollar life insurance arrangement that is generally exempt from Section 409A?	221
FOREIGN PLANS	223
Q.162 Does Section 409A apply to deferred compensation attributable to services rendered outside the United States?	223
Q.163 What are the requirements for the treaty exemption from Section 409A?	226
Q.164 What are the requirements for exemption from Section 409A for amounts subject to tax equalization agreements?	227
Q.165 What are the requirements for exemption from Section 409A for foreign social security arrangements?	228

Q.166 What are the requirements for exemption from Section 409A for broad-based foreign retirement plans?	229
Q.167 Can foreign earned income be subject to exemption from Section 409A under the generally applicable rules?	230
Q.168 How does Section 457A compare to Section 409A?	231
Q.169 If a plan is subject to Section 457A, may it also be subject to Section 409A?	233
LIMITATIONS ON LINKING PLANS	235
Q.170 Can participant elections under a nonqualified deferred compensation plan that is an excess plan be linked to and controlled by a qualified retirement plan?	235
Q.171 Can the benefits from one nonqualified plan be offset against the benefits of another nonqualified plan?	237
FUNDING	239
Q.172 Is a plan subject to Section 409A required to be funded?	239
Q.173 Does Section 409A permit assets in a rabbi trust or other trust to be applied exclusively to fund a nonqualified deferred compensation plan incident to a change in the employer's financial condition?	241
Q.174 May an employer use an offshore trust to hold assets acquired in connection with a nonqualified deferred compensation plan covered by Section 409A?	242
Q.175 May a nonqualified deferred compensation plan be informally funded through a rabbi trust while the plan sponsor maintains an underfunded tax-qualified defined benefit retirement plan?	243

Q.176 Do the Section 409A funding restrictions apply to grandfathered plans?	245
ENFORCEMENT	247
Q.177 Can an employer obtain an IRS letter ruling that a deferred compensation plan satisfies the requirements of Section 409A?	247
Q.178 Are there any issues involving deferred compensation plans subject to Section 409A on which the IRS will issue rulings?	248
Q.179 When will the IRS actively audit and enforce the requirements of Section 409A with respect to covered plans?	249
Q.180 Does the service recipient have income tax reporting obligations with respect to amounts accrued by service providers under its deferred compensation plans that are subject to Section 409A?	250
MITIGATION—DOCUMENTARY ERRORS	251
Q.181 Are there ways to limit the negative tax consequences of documentary errors under Section 409A?	251
Q.182 What types of documentary errors are subject to correction under Notice 2010-6?	252
Q.183 What types of plans are not eligible for correction of documentary errors under Notice 2010-6?	253
Q.184 What documentary ambiguities in a plan can be addressed by interpreting the ambiguous provision consistent with Section 409A without having to amend the plan?	254
Q.185 What types of errors in plan documentation can be corrected by plan amendment without recognition of income by a service provider?	256

Q.186 What types of documentary errors can be corrected by plan amendment with limited recognition of income for service providers who were subject to the documentary error before the corrective amendment?	258
Q.187 What type of documentary errors can be corrected by plan amendment with recognition of Section 409A income by affected service providers without exception?	262
Q.188 What special rules apply to stock plans?	263
Q.189 In what circumstances can a documentary error relating to a stock right intended to be exempt from Section 409A be corrected?	264
Q.190 What special rules apply to linked plans?	265
Q.191 When is correction deemed to occur for purposes of Notice 2010-6?	266
Q.192 What are the rules for recognition of service provider income incident to a documentary correction pursuant to Notice 2010-6?	267
Q.193 What additional reporting and disclosure requirements are imposed in connection with correction of a documentary error that requires a plan amendment?	268
Q.194 Can a documentary error in a new plan be corrected by plan amendment without being subject to the tax and reporting requirements generally required?	270
Q.195 What correction is available in the event of a scrivener's error?	271
Q.196 Are there any circumstances in which a documentary error in a plan subject to Section 409A can be corrected without complying with Notice 2010-6?	272

MITIGATION OF CONSEQUENCES— OPERATIONAL ERRORS	273
Q.197 Has the IRS published guidance on correction of inadvertent errors in the administration of deferred compensation plans subject to Section 409A?	273
Q.198 Is there a minimal level of administrative error under Section 409A for which the IRS does not require formal correction and reporting?	275
Q.199 Are there any plans for which the correction of operational defects pursuant to Notice 2008-113 does not apply?	276
Q.200 What analysis should be done to determine whether correction of an operational error pursuant to Notice 2008-113 is necessary?	277
Q.201 What correction is available for failure to defer compensation pursuant to the plan, the service provider’s deferral election, and Section 409A?	279
Q.202 What correction is available for late distribution of previously deferred compensation?	286
Q.203 What correction is available in the case of otherwise proper payment of amounts due a specified employee upon separation from service during the six months following the separation?	291
Q.204 What correction is available if the amount deferred on behalf of a service provider under the plan is greater than provided for in the plan or the service provider’s deferral election?	298
Q.205 What correction is available for payment of deferred compensation before the calendar year it is scheduled to be paid?	303
Q.206 What correction is available if distribution occurs in the correct calendar year but earlier than the scheduled distribution date?	310

Q.207 What correction is available for erroneously establishing the exercise price of a stock right below fair market value of the underlying stock on the date of grant?	317
Q.208 What is the limitation on elective deferrals under Section 402(g)(1)(B) of the Code?	319
Q.209 Who is an insider under Notice 2008-113?	320
Q.210 If earnings or losses are to be credited in connection with an applicable correction, but it is administratively impracticable to make the adjustment for earnings or losses by the deadline for corrections set forth in Notice 2008-113, is any relief available?	321
Q.211 What are the additional reporting and disclosure requirements regarding corrections pursuant to Notice 2008-113?	322
MITIGATION—DISQUALIFICATION BY IRS EXAMINATION	323
Q.212 When is a service recipient considered to be under IRS examination for purposes of the documentary and operational correction programs?	323
Q.213 When is a service provider considered to be under IRS examination for purposes of the documentary and operational corrections programs?	325
Q.214 How should a service recipient that uses a correction procedure address the audit status of its affected service providers?	326
Q.215 When will a correction be considered complete for purposes of determining whether the service provider or service recipient is under IRS investigation at the time of correction?	327

Q.216 What should a taxpayer do if the IRS audits the taxpayer's return for a year in which a correction after the year of error occurred?	328
Q.217 Will participation in a correction program increase a taxpayer's audit risk?	329
Q.218 If an operational failure is corrected under the principles described in Notice 2008-113 and a substantially similar operational failure subsequently occurs, can the subsequent failure be corrected by applying these principles again?	330
Q.219 Why doesn't the IRS offer a Section 409A correction program like the Employee Plans Compliance Resolution System (EPCRS) for tax-qualified retirement plans?	331
Q.220 What is the statute of limitations for breach of Section 409A?	332
EFFECTIVE DATES	333
Q.221 What was the statutory effective date of Section 409A?	333
Q.222 When is a grandfathered plan considered to have been materially modified?	334
Q.223 Can a grandfathered plan be amended to permit addition of a life insurance contract for notional investment crediting purposes without causing the plan to lose grandfathered status?	336
Q.224 If a grandfathered plan is amended to change the form and time of payments under the plan, will such a material modification result in a violation of Section 409A?	337
Q.225 How are amounts eligible for grandfathering determined?	338
Q.226 Are grandfathered amounts subject to any restrictions on distribution?	340

Q.227 What was the effective date for actual compliance with Section 409A?	341
Q.228 What were the standards for compliance with Section 409A for the transition period between the statutory effective date, January 1, 2005, and December 31, 2008?	342
PLANS OF TAX-EXEMPT ENTITIES	343
Q.229 What regulatory guidance has been issued with respect to deferred compensation plans of tax-exempt and governmental entities, and when is the regulatory guidance effective?	343
Q.230 What are the general tax rules governing nonqualified deferred compensation arrangements of tax-exempt entities?	344
Q.231 Why are the rules associated with the taxation of deferred compensation for tax-exempt entities different from the rules applicable to taxable employers?	345
Q.232 What is the definition of deferred compensation in the tax-exempt employer context?	346
Q.233 If a plan is subject to Section 457, may it also be subject to Section 409A?	347
Q.234 What plans are treated as not providing for a deferral of compensation for purposes of Section 457?	348
Q.235 When is a plan legally binding for purposes of Section 457?	349
Q.236 What is a bona fide severance pay plan for purposes of Section 457?	350
Q.237 How does the definition of “bona fide severance pay plan” differ for purposes of Sections 409A and 457?	351

Q.238 What constitutes a bona fide death benefit plan exempt from Section 457?	352
Q.239 What is a bona fide disability pay plan for purposes of Section 457?	353
Q.240 What is a bona fide sick and vacation leave plan?	354
Q.241 What is the short-term deferral rule in the context of Section 457?	355
Q.242 How does the definition of “substantial risk of forfeiture” differ for purposes of Sections 409A and 457?	356
Q.243 What is recurring part-year compensation?	358
Q.244 May an employee of a tax-exempt organization elect to defer salary or other vested compensation subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture and thereby achieve deferral of income taxation under Section 457?	359
Q.245 May an employee of a tax-exempt employer achieve a deferral of income taxation of an amount subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture by extending the substantial risk of forfeiture to a future date?	361
Q.246 How do the rules under Section 457 relating to rolling risks of forfeiture differ from the Section 409A rules?	362
Q.247 If an amount is includable in income under Section 457(F) before payment of the deferred amount is made, how is the taxable amount of compensation determined?	363
Q.248 How is the present value of compensation deferred under an account balance plan determined for purposes of Section 457?	364
Q.249 How is the present value of deferred compensation under a plan that is not an account balance plan determined?	365

Q.250 If an amount is includable in income under Section 457 before payment is made, how are earnings accruing after the date of income inclusion treated?	366
APPENDIX A	367
APPENDIX B	369
APPENDIX C	375
APPENDIX D	381
APPENDIX E	385
APPENDIX F	389
APPENDIX G	391
APPENDIX H	393
TABLE OF AUTHORITIES	397
INDEX	409