Contents

Foreword                    xvii
Nina E. Olson

About the Author            xxi

Introduction                xxiii

Chapter One
Diamonds Are Forever        1
   More Than a Matter of Gender  4
   The Law as a Vocation       7
   A Day in the Life: Lisa A. Siciliano  12

Chapter Two
The Right and Privilege to Be a Lawyer  13
   Left Behind at the Start     13
   A Woman’s Right and Privilege to Be a Lawyer—Denied  14
   The Lawyers and Suffragettes  15
   Equal Protection for Women under the Fourteenth Amendment  19
   The Twentieth Century        21
   I Wanted to Be a Lawyer Since Childhood  23
   Law School—The Early Years   24
      Taking the Place of a Man  25
   Conclusion                  26
   A Day in the Life: Diana Savit  29
Chapter Three
Fair Treatment
- Woman’s Nature 31
- Not Tough Enough 32
- Too Tough 34
- A Woman’s Touch 35
- Speak UP! 37
- Men’s Work vs. Women’s Work 38
- The Presumption of Competence 41
- Equal Treatment vs. Special Treatment 42
- Tokenism 45
- Have All the Battles Been Won? 48
- Secretarial Strife 51
- Exclusion from the Inner Circle 52
- Confronting Sexism 55
- Gender Matters and Legal Protections 57
- Feminists and Queen Bees 61
- Conclusion 63
- A Day in the Life: Denise Pekelnicky 67

Chapter Four
Career Choices
- Large Firms 70
- Solo or Small Firms (Being Your Own Boss) 73
- Demanding Fields: Labor Lawyer, Mergers and Acquisitions, and Trial Lawyer 77
- Nontraditional Fields—Tax Law 78
- Counsel to the Court and Law Clerk 79
- Government Practice 81
- The District Attorney 83
- In-House Counsel 83
- The Judiciary 85
- Teacher 88
- Judge Advocate General’s Corps (JAGC) 90
- Alternative Careers 93
Nonprofit 94
Business 94
Conclusion 95
A Day in the Life: Dana Kwidis 97

Chapter Five
Supporters, Mentors, and Role Models 99
Mentors and Sponsors 101
To Become a Lawyer 102
More Than a Few Good Men 104
With Thanks to Our Mothers 106
Women Lawyers as Role Models 108
Conclusion 112
A Day in the Life: Kristen Sinisi 115

Chapter Six
A Glass Ceiling 117
What Do Lawyers Earn? 117
Size of Employer Matters 118
Geography 119
Employment in the Public Sector 120
In-house Counsel 120
Gender: The Pay Gap 121
Law Firm Management 124
Flexibility 124
Area of Practice—Where Are the Women? 125
Reexamining the Pay Gap in Private Practice 126
“Women Are Doing Terribly” 129
Equal Pay Act 130
The Path Toward Equality 131
Women’s Own Perceptions 133
Conclusion 135
A Day in the Life: In-House Counsel from Washington, D.C. 143
Contents

Defining Success 199
How to Have It All 200
The Anxiety of Doing It All 202
Feeling Guilty 204
Having Outside Interests 206
Conclusion 207
A Day in the Life: Jean McQuillan 209

Chapter Eleven
Part-Time Work: Is It for You?  211
Who Needs Part-Time Work?  211
What Is Considered Part-Time?  213
Trends in Part-Time  213
“Of Counsel” Redefined  215
Understanding the Differences: Part-Time Work, Family Leave, Medical Leave  215
Part-Timers Get No Respect  216
The Cost of Part-Time  218
Be Assertive About Setting Limits on Part-Time Work  221
Part-Time Means Less Power  222
Part-Time in a Small Firm  223
What’s Right with Part-Time Work?
  For Employers  226
  Not Every Job Can Be Part-Time  227
Finding a Firm That Is Part-Time Friendly  228
Flex-Time and a Reasonable Billable-Hour Expectation Can Replace Part-Time  229
Conclusion  231
A Day in the Life: Laura  234

Chapter Twelve
Time Out  235
Confirming Men’s Worst Expectations—Quitting  236
Loss of Career Equals Loss of Status and Income  237
Reentry—the Fear of Falling Behind  238
Margaret Brent Award Winner and U.S. Eastern District Court Senior Judge Norma Shapiro 240
Philadelphia Common Pleas Court Judge Carolyn Temin 241
Kathryn Carlson: Late Start 242
Grace Kennedy 243
Cherie Fuchs 244
Geraldine Ferraro, congresswoman and vice-presidential candidate 245
Philadelphia Common Pleas Court Judge Susan Schulman 245
Pennsylvania Superior Court Judge Phyllis Beck: Late Start 246
Bobbie Corley O’Keefe: Late Start 247
Barbara S.: Late Start 248
Lynne Guimond Sabean: Late Start 250
Conclusion 251
A Day in the Life: Lynne Guimond Sabean 253

Chapter Thirteen
Attrition 255
National Trends 256
The Leaky Pipeline 259
Issues That Contribute to Attrition 260
Billable Hours 262
Problems with Reentry 262
“Non-Advancement” 263
Discrimination in the Form of Bias 264
Compensation 264
Rainmaking 265
Care for Aging Parents 266
Flexibility and Family Income 267
An Unbalanced Life 268
Where Do Women Go When They Leave Their Firms? 269
The Future 269
A Day in the Life: Philadelphia Civil Litigator 273
Appendix A

2008 Epstein Survey

Personal Narratives from 560+ Women Attorneys 325
Private Practitioners/Solo Practitioners 326
Small-Firm Narratives: Alumni of Larger Law Firms 327
Being Your Own Boss 328
Career and Family Challenges 328
Worried About the Future—“Not all I had hoped for” 329
Medium-Size Law Firms 329
Stalled Career Advancement 329
Changed Family Life 330
Large Law Firm Narratives 330
Part-Time 331
Hours and Flexibility 332
Extra-Large Law Firm Narratives 332
Impact on Life 333
Impact on Career 334
Trying to Balance 334
Hate It 335

Interviews

My Classmates 337
Kathryn G. Carlson 337
The Honorable Toby Lynn Dickman 337
Cherie Fuchs 338
Cheryl Kritz Gold 338
Susan Holmes 338
Josy W. Ingersoll 338
Bernice Koplin 338
Adelina Gerace Martorelli 339
Carmen L. Rivera Matos 339
Karen W. Mcdonie 339
Jacqueline M. Roberts 339
Rona Rosen 340
Susan Schulman 340
Jayne Spangler-Weiss 340
Paula M. Szortyka 340
A. Taylor Williams 340
The Women of 2002 341
Cynthia Mason 341
Sara Shubert 341
Four Law Professors 341
Professor Alice Abreu 342
Professor Marina Angel 342
Professor Laura Little 342
Professor Diane Maleson 343
Three Chancellors of the Philadelphia Bar Association 343
Deborah R. Willig 344
Doreen Davis 344
Audrey Talley 344
Women of Excellence 345
Leslie Anne Miller, first woman president of the Pennsylvania Bar Association 345
The Honorable Lynn Abraham, former Philadelphia District Attorney and Candidate for Mayor 345
Charisse Lillie, former Philadelphia City Solicitor 346
Deborah Epstein Henry 347
The Honorable Sandra Schulz Newman, first woman seated on the Pennsylvania Supreme Court (1996) 347
The Honorable Judge Mary Ann Cohen, United States Tax Court Judge 348
Roberta Jacobs-Meadway 348
Jane Bergner 349
Catherine Barone, University of Pennsylvania class of 1948 349
The Honorable Nora Barry Fischer 349
Jami Wintz McKeon 350
The Honorable Phyllis Beck, Senior Judge to the Pennsylvania Superior Court 350
Jane Broderson, business entrepreneur and mother of five 351
Nancy Caron, in-house counsel to Firemen’s Fund Insurance Company and mother of four 351
Grace Kennedy, first woman associate with a New York Wall Street firm 351
The Honorable Lisa Richette, Philadelphia Common Pleas Court Senior Judge, Criminal Division 352
Lila Roomberg, partner, Ballard Spahr Andrews & Ingersoll 352
The Honorable Norma L. Shapiro, U.S. Eastern District Court Senior Judge, first woman on the United States Eastern District Court 352
The Honorable Carolyn Engle Temin, Philadelphia Court of Common Pleas Judge, Criminal Division 353
Captain Tammy P. Tideswell, Judge Advocate General’s Corps, U.S. Navy 354
Barbara Vetri, Temple University class of 1960 355
Diane Uniman 355
Barbara Kron Zimmerman, University of Pennsylvania Law School class of 1956 356

Acknowledgments 357

Bibliography 359

Index 387