Contents

Dedication ............................................................................................................................... ix
About the Author .................................................................................................................. xi
Introduction ........................................................................................................................... xiii

Chapter 1
Identifying the Proper Plaintiff—Standing, Ownership, and Stakeholders ................................................................. 1
1. Ownership and Standing ................................................................................................. 2
2. Ownership and Development .................................................................................. 5
3. Identifying the Proper Stakeholders within a Plaintiff Group .................................. 9
4. Taking the Litigation History ....................................................................................... 11
5. The Preliminary Technical Check .......................................................................... 16
6. The Business of Trade Secret Litigation: Identifying the Client’s Goals ............... 19

Chapter 2
Legal and Business Considerations in Identifying the “Proper” Defendant(s) ................................................................. 25
1. Identifying the “Legally Correct” Defendants ............................................................ 26
2. Creating the “Legally Correct” Defendant and the Use of Pre-suit Demand Letters .................................................. 30
3. Procedural Issues Impacting How One Handles the “Correct” Defendants ......... 38
4. Considering the Business Impact When Naming Otherwise Legally Correct Defendants ........................................ 43
5. Dealing with the “Foreign Defendant” and the “Aider and Abettor” .................... 52

Chapter 3
Identifying the Trade Secrets, Internally and During the Action ............................................................ 57
1. Preparing an Identification of Trade Secrets for Internal Planning ................................................................. 57
2. Designation of the Trade Secrets During the Discovery Phase .................................................. 64
3. Amending the Trade Secret List Before Trial............................. 77
4. Preparing the Identification of Trade Secrets for Trial .............. 80

Chapter 4

Identifying the Nature and Type of Trade Secret Misappropriation, Addressing the Statute of Limitations, and Action Items for the Pre-litigation
Checklist ................................................................. 85
1. Identifying the Particular Form of Actual Misappropriation ... 86
2. The Inevitable Disclosure Doctrine ..................................... 92
3. Addressing Threatened Misappropriation ............................. 96
5. Action Items for the Pre-litigation Checklist ......................... 102
   a. Witness Investigation .............................................. 102
   b. Information Management and Document Retention/Collection ......................................................... 105
   c. Internal “PR” ...................................................... 109
   d. External Public Relations ....................................... 109

Chapter 5

Identifying Additional Claims to Pursue and Preemption,
Pretrial Resolution Scenarios and Mediation,
Anticipating Fee Awards and Statutory Bad Faith .............. 113
1. Identifying Additional Claims to Pursue and Preemption ..... 113
2. Pretrial Resolution Scenarios and Mediation ...................... 117
3. Anticipating Fee Awards and Statutory Bad Faith ............... 119

Chapter 6

Choosing between Jurisdictions and Alternative Venues:
Federal versus State Courts, Jury versus Bench Trials,
Arbitrations, and Proceedings before the ITC .................... 125
1. Selecting Federal or State Court, and between Alternative Venues ............................................... 126
   a. Personal Jurisdiction ........................................ 126
   b. Subject Matter Jurisdiction ................................. 128
   c. Illustrative Factors When Evaluating Multiple Potential Venues ............................................. 130
2. Jury and Bench Trials ............................................. 135
3. Whether to Proceed by Way of Arbitration ....................... 141
4. Pursuing Misappropriation Claims Before the ITC .......... 145
Chapter 7
Protective Orders and Document Preservation Orders .......... 149
1. Protective Orders ................................................................. 150
2. Preservation Orders ............................................................. 167

Chapter 8
TROs, Preliminary Injunctive Relief, and Expedited
Discovery .................................................................................... 173
1. The TRO ...................................................................................... 174
2. The Preliminary Injunction ....................................................... 177
3. Expedited Discovery ................................................................. 182

Chapter 9
Special Masters, Court-Appointed Neutral Experts, and
Technical Advisors ................................................................. 189
1. The Use of Special Masters ....................................................... 190
2. Handling the Process of Court-Appointed Neutral Experts and Technical Advisors ............................................................. 200

Chapter 10
Addressing the Elements of Reasonable Efforts to Protect Secrecy and Independent Economic Value ......................... 205
1. Addressing the Requirement of “Reasonable Efforts” as a Means of Implementing Public Policy .............................. 206
2. The Evidentiary Significance of the Requirement of Reasonable Efforts ..................................................................... 209
3. The Relationship between Reasonable Efforts,
Independent Economic Value, and Available Remedies .... 214

Chapter 11
Headstart Injunctions and Other Forms of Post-judgment
Equitable Relief ........................................................................... 219
1. “Preliminary” and “Permanent” Injunctions in Trade
Secret Litigation .......................................................................... 220
2. Availability of Headstart Injunctive Relief to Address
Acts of Misappropriation ............................................................ 221
3. The Impact of Reverse Engineering and Preliminary Injunctive Relief on the Duration of a Headstart
Injunction .................................................................................... 224
4. Setting the Breadth of a Headstart Injunction ................. 225
5. The Impact of Headstart and Future Damages on the Scope of Injunctive Relief and Conditional Use Injunctions ................................................................. 226
6. Addressing Divergent Private and Public Interests When Considering the Potential for a Headstart Injunction .......... 228

Chapter 12
The Impact of Contractual Boilerplate Provisions on Trade Secret Litigation .................................................................................................................. 231
1. The Arbitration Clause ................................................................. 232
2. The Choice of Law Clause ............................................................. 239
3. Venue/Jurisdiction Clauses .......................................................... 241
4. Fee Clauses ........................................................................ 245
5. Integration Clauses .................................................................. 247
6. Indemnification Clauses .............................................................. 249
7. Release Clauses ...................................................................... 252
8. Marking Clauses ...................................................................... 255

Chapter 13
The Trade Secret Fitness Audit .......................................................... 259
1. Key Objectives of the Fitness Audit ............................................ 260
2. Identifying the Trade Secrets Existing within the Universe of Business Information ......................................................... 261
3. Identifying/Addressing Risk Factors to the Protection of Trade Secrets ................................................................. 264
   a. Employer/Employee Relationships ........................................ 264
   b. Special Consultants and Contractors ..................................... 268
   c. Multicompany Collaborative Relationships and Joint Ventures ................................................................. 269
   d. Customer Relationships ...................................................... 270
4. After the Audit ...................................................................... 271

Appendix: Stipulated Protective Order for Litigation Involving Patents, Highly Sensitive Confidential Information and/or Trade Secrets ........................................... 273

Index ............................................................................................. 293