Contents

About the Editors iii
Author Acknowledgments xv
Author Biographies xix
Introduction xxvii

Part I Legal Context 1

Chapter 1 All Care, No Responsibility? 3
Justine Nolan
  Introduction 3
  The State (Not Nonstate) Duty to Protect Human Rights 6
  Corporate Responsibility (Not Necessarily Accountability) for Human Rights: Soft Law Getting Softer? 11
  Grasping at Straws? Alternative Mechanisms to Protect Human Rights 20
  Conclusion 25
Chapter 2
Multinational Corporations and Their Responsibilities under International Law 27
Ralph G. Steinhardt
The George Washington University Law School
Introduction 27
Clearing the Decks: Ask the Right Legal Question, Then Allocate the Burden of Answering It 29
International Law Recognizes the Legal Responsibilities of Multinational Corporations 39
Conclusion 50

Chapter 3
International Human Rights Law Perspectives on the UN Framework and Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights 51
Robert McCorquodale
Introduction 51
The State’s Duty to Protect Human Rights 53
Extraterritoriality 55
Attribution to a State for Actions of Business Enterprises 59
Corporate Responsibility to Respect 64
Corporate Social Responsibility 65
Responsibility 66
Due Diligence 68
Access to Remedy 72
States Remedies 72
Business Enterprises Remedies 75
Conclusion 77

Chapter 4
International Law’s Invisible Hand and the Future of Corporate Accountability for Violations of Human Rights 79
Penelope Simons
Associate Professor, University of Ottawa, Faculty of Law—Common Law Section, Canada
Introduction 79
Binding Obligations for Corporate Actors and the Approach of the SRSG 86
The “Protect, Respect and Remedy” Policy Framework, the Guiding Principles, and Governance Capacity 88
Governance Capacity: International Law and Institutions 94
Contents

The Postcolonial Era and Economic Governance 95
International Financial Institutions and Human Rights Governance 97
International Trade and Investment Law: Entrenching Liberalization Measures 101
Feminist Insights: Corporate Actors and the Structure of International Law 105
International Law’s Invisible Hand and the Future of Corporate Human Rights Accountability 111
Conclusion 118

Chapter 5
Trade and Investment Arrangements and Labor Rights 121
Jeffrey S. Vogt

Introduction 121
Free Trade Agreements 122
The United States (2001 to Present) 122
The Bush Administration Labor Template 124
The Compromise of May 10, 2007 127
An Obama Labor Template? 129
What Have These Agreements Accomplished? 130
Preratification/Certification 130
Postratification 135
Labor Rights in FTAs outside of the United States 141
Canada 141
European Union 143
Conclusions 144
Unilateral Trade Preferences 145
The United States 145
GSP 145
Case 1: Bangladesh 149
Case 2: Uzbekistan 152
Other U.S. Preference Programs 153
Haiti 153
The European Union 155
Evolution of Substantive Obligations 155
In Practice 159
EU GSP Reform 161
The United States versus the European Union 162
Bilateral Investment Treaties 163
Part II
Domestic Policy, Legislation, and Litigation

Chapter 6
Human Rights Litigation in U.S. Courts against Individuals and Corporations
Beth Stephens

Introduction
The Alien Tort Statute: Human Rights Litigation in U.S. Courts
The Early History of the ATS
The Filártiga Case
From Filártiga to Sosa
An Overview of ATS Litigation
The Multifaceted Goals of Human Rights Litigants
Corporate-Defendant Litigation under the Alien Tort Statute
Recognizing Private-Party Liability under the ATS
Corporate-Defendant Litigation, from Unocal through Kiobel
The Unresolved Debates over Alien Tort Statute Liability
Can Corporations Be Sued under the ATS?
Does the ATS Apply to Conduct That Occurs in the Territory of Another Sovereign State?
What Standard Governs Whether a Defendant Can Be Held Liable for Aiding and Abetting Violations of International Law?
Determining the Proper Forum for ATS Cases
U.S. Human Rights Litigation and the Global Accountability Movement
Why Are Civil Human Rights Lawsuits Feasible in U.S. Courts?
Analogous Human Rights Claims in Other Systems
Conclusion
Chapter 7
The Implications of Kiobel for Corporate Accountability Litigation under the Alien Tort Statute

Paul Hoffman

Introduction 201
The Kiobel Framework 202
Background 202
The Roberts Majority Opinion 204
The Alito Concurrence 208
The Breyer Concurrence 208
Some General Observations 209
The Issue of Corporate Liability 212
The Application of the Kiobel Presumption 213
Categorical or Case-by-Case Analysis 213
Cases against U.S. Defendants 216
Cases Involving Both Domestic and Extraterritorial Conduct 218
The Lessons of Morrison 218
Cases Advancing U.S. Foreign Policy Interests 219
No Safe Haven 220
The Transitory Tort Doctrine 222
The Future Direction of Corporate Complicity Litigation 223
Conclusion 225

Chapter 8
Environmental Litigation against Corporations: Where Now?

Neil A.F. Popović

Framing the Issue(s) 227
Defining the Problem (Factually) 228
Defining the Challenge (Legally) 228
The Range of (Litigation) Approaches and Their Varying Effectiveness 229
The Alien Tort Statute 229
Direct Attack—Environmental Harm as Human Rights Violation 230
Indirect Attack—Environmental Harms Associated with Human Rights Violations 233
“Mixed” Claims 235
Aiding and Abetting 237
The Special Problem of Corporate Liability 238
Justiciability Issues 240
Procedural Hurdles—Jurisdiction, Venue, and Extraterritoriality 242
Common Law Tort Theories 246
Where Now? 249

Chapter 9
Influencing the Impact of Business on Human Rights 253
Erika R. George

Introduction 253

Federal Legislation: Corporate Accountability through Information and Disclosure 256

Federal Statutes and Regulations: Obligations and Objectives 257
Section 1502 257
Conflict Commerce in the Context of the Democratic Republic of the Congo 258
The Content of Section 1502: Objectives and Obligations 260
Section 1504: Resource-Extraction Payment Reporting Legislation 267
Leveraging Securities Law to Promote Corporate Social Responsibility and Protect Human Rights 270
Proposed Legislation: Business Transparency on Trafficking and Slavery 272
Modern Slavery in the Stream of Commerce 274
Objectives and Obligations 274

State Legislation: Objectives and Obligations 276
California Transparency in Supply Chains Act (CTSCA) 276
Living-Wage Ordinances 279
Public Procurement Ordinances 280
Comparative Approaches to Corporate Social Responsibility 282
Litigation 282
Reporting Regulation 283

Multi-stakeholder Processes Taking Stock of Stakeholder Interests 286
The UN Framework and Guiding Principles 286
The UN Global Compact 287
Voluntary Initiatives, Nongovernmental Advocacy, Shareholder Activism 290
Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative 290
The Kimberley Process 291
The Electronic Industry Citizenship Coalition 292
Conscious Consumers and Activist Investors 293
The Impact of Responsible Consumerism 294
The Impact of Activist Investing 296

Conclusion 297
Chapter 10
The UK Context for Business and Human Rights
Rachel Chambers and Katherine Tyler

Contents

Introduction 301
Limitations of the United Kingdom’s Existing Legislation 303
English Criminal Law 304
Corporate Manslaughter and Corporate Homicide Act 2007 305
Bribery Act 2010 306
Serious Crime Act 2007 308
Offenses Attracting Universal Jurisdiction 309
Company Reporting Law 310
Comment on Legislation 314

Litigation: For Human Rights Abuses and Corporate-Related Harm Committed Outside the United Kingdom 315
BP Claims (2005 and 2008) 315
Trafigura Claim (2006) 316
Monterrico Claim (2008) 317
Shell Claim (2011) 318
Anglo-American Claim (2011) 319

Procedural Law Affecting the Ability to Bring Claims against Corporations in the UK Courts 320
Funding of Cases 324
Comment on the Litigation 325
Conclusion 327

Chapter 11
Current Trends and Future Effects in Transnational Litigation against Corporations in the United Kingdom
Shubhaa Srinivasan

Contents

Introduction 331
Development of Transnational Litigation in the United Kingdom 332
Essential Requirements for Transnational Litigation to Be Brought in the United Kingdom 334
Developments in Overcoming the Jurisdiction Hurdle 335
Corporate Veil, Parent Company Responsibility, and the Acts of Subsidiaries 338
Inherent Challenges in Transnational Litigation in the United Kingdom 342
Civil Wrongs Do Not Speak the Language of Rights 342
No Extraterritorial Operation 344
Legal and Procedural Obstacles 345
Host-State Compensation Levels 345
Identifying the Parties 346
Limitation/Prescription 348
Evidential Difficulties 348
Potential Costs Involved in Conducting Transnational Litigation 348
The Future of Transnational Litigation in the United Kingdom 349
Conclusion 352

Part III
Looking to the Future 355

Chapter 12
Foreign Direct-Liability Litigation 357
Peter Muchlinski and Virginie Rouas
School of Law, SOAS, University of London
Origins in Common Law Jurisdictions 360
Foreign Direct-Liability Litigation in Civil Law Jurisdictions 368
Litigation against MNEs and Other Economic Actors in Developing Countries 377
The Contribution of European and International Human Rights Developments 381
Concluding Remarks 389

Chapter 13
Labour Rights in the World Economy 393
Sheldon Leader
An Attempted Resolution 398
Two Types of Pluralism and Globalization 399
Chapter 14
Financial Institutions and Human Rights
Dr. Mary Dowell-Jones
The Human Rights Response to the Crisis
Financial Institutions and Human Rights: Understanding the Context
The Debate So Far: A Subsidiarity Approach to Human Rights Accountability
Current Initiatives: An Overview
Project Finance
Ethical Investing
Corporate Social Responsibility
The Vedanta Case
The Disconnect
Financial Institutions and the Guiding Principles
Conclusion

Chapter 15
B Corporations: Redefining Success in Business
Andrew Kassoy and Nathan Gilbert
Introduction
B Lab
Certified B Corporations and Their Legal Implications
B-Corp Legal Requirement
Need for a New Corporate Form: The Legal Impetus
The Sustainability Dilemma
Benefit Corporations
Benefit Corporation Legislation
Driving Capital to Impact
Impact Investing
Transparency Barriers
Global Impact Investment Rating System Ratings and Analytics
The Need for Standards
The B Impact Rating System
The Assessment Process
Education and Management Tool
Small and Medium-Sized Enterprises (SMEs)
Case Studies
Greyston Bakery 468
Cascade Engineering 468
Conclusion 469

Chapter 16
An Attorney’s Perspective on Corporate Social Responsibility and Corporate Philanthropy 471
Sarah A. Altschuller
Corporate Social Responsibility Practice
Foley Hoag LLP
Introduction 471
CSR and Corporate Philanthropy: The Evolution of a Distinction 472
Contemporary Definitions 472
The Evolution of CSR 474
Early Incarnations of CSR 474
1990s and Beyond: Codes of Conduct 476
Corporate Accountability: Litigation in U.S. Courts 477
An International Responsibility to Respect Human Rights That Is Neither Contingent Nor Time Bound 479
CSR and Corporate Philanthropy: The Attorney’s Role 482
The Dangers of Internal Misperceptions 482
Assessing Corporate Capacity 483
Building Strong Management Systems 484
Conclusion 485

Index 487