

Contents

Editors	xxi
Chapter Authors, Editors, and Contributors	xxiii
Foreword	xxxii
Preface	xxxv
Acknowledgments	xxxix
Dedication	xli
Chapter 1
The Appellate Courts' Role in the Federal Judicial System	1
Anne Marie Lofaso
A. Introduction	2
B. Federal Judicial System	3
1. An independent judiciary	3
2. Role of appellate courts: to correct errors, develop legal precedent, and do justice	3
3. The hierarchical appellate court structure	5
C. Appellate Review of Administrative Agency Decisions	8
D. Conclusion	9
Chapter 2
Professionalism and Ethics in Appellate Advocacy	11
Dennis Owens and Anne Marie Lofaso
A. Overview: Persuasion by Ethos	12
B. The Overarching Message of Professionalism	12
C. The Ethical Duties	13
1. Overview	13
2. The duty of competence	13
3. The duty of diligence	16
4. The duty of loyalty to the client	18
a. Overview	18
b. Communicate honestly with the client	18
c. Maintain client confidences	19
d. Avoid conflicts of interest	20
5. The duty of candor to the court	21

D. Professionalism in the Little Things 22
 E. Conclusion 23

Chapter 3

Preserving Issues for Appeal25

Jason Walta

A. Preservation Requirement for Appellate Review 26
 B. Practice for Preserving Issues for Appeal 27
 1. Placing objections on the record 29
 2. Making timely objections 30
 3. Stating all grounds for an objection 33
 C. Review of Unpreserved Issues 34
 D. Special Considerations for Appeals of Administrative Decisions .. 36

Chapter 4

Jurisdiction39

Lawrence D. Rosenberg, Victoria Dorfman, Jennifer Swize, Douglas N. Letter, Mark B. Stern, Jiny Kim, Ashley Compton, and Jessica Stohl

A. Reviewability 41
 1. General limitations 42
 a. Standing 42
 b. Prevailing parties 44
 2. Unappealable district court rulings 45
 a. State court judgments 45
 b. Transfer orders 46
 c. Requests for international extradition 48
 d. Administrative acts 48
 e. Three-judge panels 50
 f. Remand of bankruptcy cases 50
 g. Habeas corpus proceedings 51
 h. Abatement 52
 i. Other exceptions 52
 B. Finality 53
 1. Final judgment rule 53
 a. 28 U.S.C. § 1291: Jurisdiction of courts of appeals over final decisions of district courts 53
 b. Administrative finality 54
 2. Partial finality: Final judgment as to some, but not all, claims . 55
 a. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 54(b) 55
 b. Administrative finality in multiple-party and multiple-claim actions 59
 3. Exceptions to the rule of finality: Interlocutory appeals 59
 a. Collateral order doctrine 59
 b. Interlocutory appeals under 28 U.S.C. § 1292 63

- i. Appeals as of right under § 1292(a) and (c) 63
 - ii. Appeals by permission under § 1292(b) 64
 - c. Interlocutory review of administrative orders 66
- C. Statutory Authority for Appeal 67
 - 1. Federal question jurisdiction: 28 U.S.C. § 1331 67
 - 2. Diversity jurisdiction: 28 U.S.C. § 1332 75
 - a. Diversity of citizenship—State citizenship 76
 - b. Diversity of citizenship—Foreign states 77
 - 3. Amount in controversy 78
 - 4. Appeals to the Tax Court 80
 - 5. Jurisdiction over administrative appeals 82
 - 6. Federal circuit jurisdiction: 28 U.S.C. §§ 1292(c)–(d) and 1295 83
 - a. Federal Circuit jurisdiction—Generally 84
 - b. Appeals from patent actions 86
- D. The Rooker-Feldman Doctrine 87
- E. Extraordinary Writs 94
 - 1. Conditions governing issuance of a writ 95
 - 2. Practice in filing petitions for a writ 98

Chapter 5

Standard of Review 101

Jeffrey M. Hirsch

- A. Introduction 102
- B. Questions of Fact 102
 - 1. Review of jury-made factual findings 102
 - 2. Review of judge-made factual findings 103
 - 3. Review of administrative agencies’ adjudicatory findings . . . 104
 - 4. Special treatment of credibility findings 106
- C. Questions of Law 108
 - 1. De novo review 108
 - 2. Deference to administrative agencies 108
 - a. Heightened deference: “arbitrary and capricious” and Chevron review 108
 - b. “Persuasive” deference: Skidmore review 110
- D. Mixed Questions of Law and Fact 112
- E. Matters in Trial Court’s or Administrative Law Judge’s Discretion 113
 - 1. Abuse of discretion 113
 - 2. Harmless error doctrine 115
- F. Conclusion 117

Chapter 6

Electronic Filing 119

Sanford Hausler

A. Introduction 120

B. The Case Management/Electronic Case Filing System (CM/ECF) 120

 1. Overview 120

 2. A step-by-step description of how attorneys can use CM/ECF 121

 3. Log in 122

 4. Challenges in using an electronic case-filing system 122

C. Public Access to Court Electronic Records (PACER) 126

D. Conclusion 126

Chapter 7

Initial Filings 127

Lawrence D. Rosenberg, Mark M. Angehr, and Karen Precella

A. Notice of Appeal 128

 1. Content requirements 129

 2. Timing requirements 130

 a. Civil cases 131

 b. Criminal cases 132

B. Petitions for Review and Applications for Enforcement 133

C. Appeals by Permission 137

D. Docketing Statements 138

E. Procedural and Substantive Motions on Appeal 139

 1. Content and form of a motion on appeal 140

 2. Disposition of motions on appeal 144

 3. Procedural motions filed on appeal 146

 4. Substantive motions filed on appeal 148

 a. Motion to dismiss an appeal 149

 i. Voluntary or agreed dismissal motion 149

 ii. Involuntary or opposed dismissal motion 150

 b. Motion to transfer an appeal 151

F. Stay or Injunction Pending Appeal 153

G. Conclusion 155

Chapter 8

Settlement of Cases on Appeal 157

Todd A. Holleman

A. Introduction 158

B. Settlement Considerations for Appellate Litigants 158

C. Preparation for Settlement on Appeal 159

D. Federal Appellate Court Settlement and Mediation Programs:

 A Circuit-by-Circuit Review 160

E. Preparation of Parties for Settlement 168

F. Conclusion 168

Chapter 9

Record on Appeal and the Joint Appendix 169

Steven Richman

A. Introduction	170
B. Determining the Content of the Record	171
C. Ordering the Transcript	172
D. Correcting and Supplementing the Record	174
E. Forwarding the Record	175
F. Docketing the Appeal	176
G. Preparing the Appendix	176
H. Sanctions, Fines, and Effect of Failure to Comply	178
I. The Record on Appeal from Administrative Agencies	179
J. Local Rules	180
K. Conclusion	180

Chapter 10

The Appellate Brief 181

Lawrence D. Rosenberg

A. Key Steps in Preparing to Write a Winning Appellate Argument	183
1. Analyze the case	183
2. Examine the relevant parts of the record	183
3. Preliminarily identify your theme and the issue or issues that you will raise or address in your brief	184
4. Research the law pertaining to the issues you have identified	186
5. Complete your secondary research	187
6. Select the issues that you will present	188
7. Draft a focused outline	188
B. General Conventions for Excellent Legal Writing	189
1. Always employ respectful and appropriate language	189
2. Use the parties' names rather than the terms "appellant" or "appellee"	190
3. Use simple, clear language and relatively short sentences	191
4. Develop focused paragraphs with appropriate topic sentences	191
5. Avoid footnotes in most circumstances	192
6. Do not, under any circumstance, misrepresent or overclaim any fact or legal authority	193
7. Consider using helpful demonstrative aids	193
8. Review the rules of the court in which your case is pending	195
9. Edit carefully	195
C. Statement of the Issues Presented	196
1. Clearly and accurately state each issue	196
2. Use language that is likely to elicit a favorable response	196
3. Frame the issue(s) with whatever background material is necessary	197

- 4. A hypothetical case 197
- D. Statement of the Case and Facts 198
 - 1. Follow chronological order 199
 - 2. Adhere to a chronological structure even if you have to include a separate Statement of the Case 199
 - 3. Tell a compelling story 200
 - 4. Be rigorously accurate 202
 - 5. Avoid any argument or editorializing 202
 - 6. Carefully and completely set forth the procedural history 202
- E. Introduction/Summary of the Argument 203
 - 1. Draft a powerful opening paragraph or paragraphs 204
 - 2. Summarize all of your key arguments 204
 - 3. You may include case citations, but keep them concise 205
- F. The Argument 205
 - 1. Use argumentative point headings 206
 - 2. Make your best argument first in most circumstances 207
 - 3. Use the “IRAC” structure for each issue 207
 - 4. Make your best affirmative case before responding to your opponent’s actual or anticipated argument 210
 - 5. Rely most heavily on cases that apply the rule you advocate in circumstances analogous to those in your case 210
 - 6. Address controlling or significant contrary authority 211
 - 7. Avoid string cites, unnecessary citations, and long block quotes 211
 - 8. An example of a poor argument section 212
 - 9. An example of a much better argument section 212
 - 10. Do not construct reply briefs that are overly defensive 214
- G. The Conclusion 215

Chapter 11

The Introduction and Statement of Issues 217

William J. Baron and Kathryn C. Ashton

- A. Overview 218
- B. A Good Introduction Is Important 218
- C. The Statement of Issues Should Introduce Your Specific Case and Contentions 220
- D. Parting Thoughts 224

Chapter 12

Substantive Statements and Summary of Argument 225

Doug Letter and Mark Stern

- A. Overview 226
- B. Statement of the Case 226
- C. Statement of Facts 228

1. Introduction	228
2. The Statement of Facts Should Tell a Compelling Story in a Chronological, Non-argumentative Manner	228
a. Basic principles of fact writing	228
b. What facts to leave in	229
c. What facts to leave out and how much to say	230
d. The Statement of Facts should persuade the reader that your side should win without being argumentative	231
i. The facts section should not be argumentative	231
ii. The facts section should adhere strictly to the record	231
iii. The facts section should deal with relevant, adverse facts	232
iv. Placement of facts is crucial to creating a non-argumentative but persuasive tone	233
D. Summary of Argument	234
E. Conclusion	236

Chapter 13

Other Requirements of an Appellate Brief 237

William J. Baron and Kathryn C. Ashton

A. Overview	238
B. Covers and Binding	239
C. The Corporate Disclosure Statement	240
D. Table of Contents	241
E. Table of Authorities	244
F. The Conclusion or “Take-Away”	245
G. Certificate of Compliance	247
H. Certificate of Service	248
I. Parting Thoughts	251

Chapter 14

Interjurisdictional Certification 253

Sanford Hausler

A. Introduction	254
B. Historical Underpinning of the Certification Process	254
C. The Supreme Court Discovers Certification	257
D. Certification versus Abstention	260
E. Availability of Certification: When State Courts Might Decline to Answer Certified Questions	261
F. Conclusion	265

Chapter 15

Oral Argument 267

Lawrence D. Rosenberg

A. Introduction	269
B. The Basics of Effective Advocacy as Defined in Aristotle’s Rhetoric	269
1. Ethos	270
2. Pathos	272
3. Logos	273
4. “ Lame-os ”	275
C. The Key Steps to Preparing for an Oral Argument	277
1. Select the key issues for oral argument	277
2. Become intimately familiar with the record and the facts of your case	278
3. Become intimately familiar with the primary authorities relevant to your case	278
4. Carefully analyze how the primary authorities apply to the facts of your case	279
5. Anticipate the main arguments that your opponent will make	279
6. Anticipate the questions your panel is likely to ask	280
7. Find out as much information as possible about your panel	281
8. Prepare an oral argument outline or “cheat sheet”	281
9. Craft your introduction, conclusion, and argument structure	282
10. Determine whether you wish to use any demonstratives or visual aids	283
11. Perform a moot court or practice argument	283
12. Revisit your issues for argument and make your final selection of the one, two, or three that you wish to emphasize	284
13. Practice your argument again	285
D. Key Tips for Delivering an Outstanding Oral Argument	285
1. Answer the panel’s questions directly and honestly.	285
2. Quickly deliver your introduction and attempt to adhere to your argument structure	286
3. Weave your key message into your answers to the panel’s questions	287
4. Do not under any circumstance disrespect the court or belittle the questions you are asked	288
5. Accurately portray the relevant authorities and facts of your case	289
6. Don’t make a jury speech	289
7. Be very careful using analogies or maxims in your argument	290
8. Deliver your argument clearly and at a moderate pace	291
9. Be very careful with use of any visual aids	292
10. Act professionally at all times	292

11. Dress professionally 293
 12. Be very careful in using humor 293
 13. Watch and listen carefully to the arguments that precede yours 294
 E. Conclusion 294

Chapter 16

Post-briefing, Post-argument, and Post-decision Filings 295

Douglas N. Letter and Mark B. Stern

A. Introduction 296
 B. 28(j) Letters 296
 C. Docketing of Judgment and Issuance of Mandate 298
 D. Petitions for Rehearing and Rehearing en Banc 298
 E. Stay of Mandate and Petitions for Certiorari 301
 F. Conclusion 302

Chapter 17

Circuit Variations 305

Lori Ploeger

First Circuit 310
 A. Geographic Jurisdiction 310
 B. Motions 310
 C. Mediation 311
 D. Briefs 311
 E. Oral Argument 312
 F. Appendices 313
 G. Decisions 313
 Second Circuit 314
 A. Geographic Jurisdiction 314
 B. Motions 314
 C. Mediation 315
 D. Briefs 315
 E. Oral Argument 316
 F. Appendices 317
 G. Decisions 318
 Third Circuit 319
 A. Geographic Jurisdiction 319
 B. Emphasis on the Standard of Review 319
 C. Motions 321
 D. Mediation 322
 E. Electronic Filing 323
 F. Briefs and Appendices 324
 G. Oral Argument 325
 H. Decisions 326
 I. Petitions for Rehearing 326

J. Award of Costs	327
K. Imposition of Sanctions	328
Fourth Circuit	328
A. Geographic Jurisdiction	329
B. Motions	329
C. Mediation	330
D. Briefs	331
E. Appendices	332
F. Oral Argument	332
G. Decisions	333
Fifth Circuit	334
A. Geographic Jurisdiction	334
B. Practicing in the Fifth Circuit	334
C. Offices	335
D. Notice of Appeal	335
E. Docketing an Appeal	335
F. The Record	336
1. Ordering the record	336
2. Filing the record	337
3. Supplementing the record	337
G. Mediation	337
H. Briefs	338
1. The Certificate of Interested Persons and Corporate Disclosure Statement	338
2. Citation to unpublished Fifth Circuit authority	339
3. References to the record in the brief	340
4. The briefs	340
5. Strict briefing rules	340
6. Amicus briefs	342
I. Record Excerpts	342
J. Filing	344
K. Electronic Filing System	345
L. Screening Panels	345
M. Oral Argument	346
N. Opinions/Entry of Judgment	348
O. Decision to Publish	348
P. Mandate	349
Q. Motions	349
1. Form	349
2. Certificate of Conference	350
3. Filing	350
4. Computing time	350
5. Routing procedures	350
6. Inaccessibility of Clerk's Office	351
R. Particular Motions	351

1. Emergency motions	352
2. Motions for extension of time	353
3. Motion to expedite appeals	354
4. Motion for extra-long briefs	355
5. Motions for reconsideration/petitions for rehearing	355
6. Petition for rehearing en banc	355
7. Motion to reinstate	356
8. Motion to dismiss	357
9. Writ of Mandamus and Prohibition	357
S. Resources	357
Sixth Circuit	358
A. Geographic Jurisdiction	358
B. Motions	358
C. Mediation	358
D. Briefs	359
E. Appendices	360
F. Oral Argument	360
G. Decisions	361
Seventh Circuit	361
A. Geographic Jurisdiction	361
B. Motions	362
C. Mediation	363
D. Briefs	363
E. Appendices	364
F. Oral Argument	365
G. Decisions	366
Eighth Circuit	367
A. Geographic Jurisdiction	367
B. Motions	367
C. Mediation	367
D. Briefs	368
E. Appendices	369
F. Oral Argument	369
G. Decisions	370
Ninth Circuit	370
A. Geographic Jurisdiction and Caseload	371
1. Size of the circuit and impact on duration of appeals	371
2. Impact of immigration caseload	372
B. Distinctions of ninth circuit practice	372
1. Admission to practice	372
2. Civil appeals docketing statement	373
3. Transition to e-filing	373
4. Circuit mediation program	374
5. Motions practice	374
6. Oral argument	375

7. Procedures for panel and en banc rehearing	376
Tenth Circuit	378
A. Geographic Jurisdiction	378
B. Motions	378
C. Mediation	379
D. Briefs	380
E. Appendices	380
F. Oral Argument	381
G. Decisions	382
Eleventh Circuit	382
A. Geographic Jurisdiction	382
B. Civil Appeal Statement, 11th Cir. R. 33-1	383
C. Jurisdictional Questions	383
D. Briefs	384
1. Contents of brief	384
2. Certificate of Interested Persons and Corporate Disclosure Statement	385
3. The format of the certificate	386
E. Electronic Briefs	387
F. Record Excerpts	388
G. Mediation	388
1. Confidential mediation statement	389
H. Electronic Filing System	390
I. Electronic and Facsimile Filing of Emergency Papers	391
J. Clerk's Office in Atlanta	391
K. Papers Sent Directly to Judges' Chambers	391
L. Miami Satellite Office	392
M. Screening Panels	392
N. Oral Argument	393
O. Citations to Supplemental Authority	393
P. Particular Motions	394
1. Emergency motions	394
2. Motions for extension of time	395
3. Motions for stay or injunction	396
4. Motions for reconsideration	396
5. Motion for release or for modification of conditions of release	396
6. Motion for leave to withdraw in a criminal appeal	396
7. Motions for procedural orders acted upon by the clerk	397
8. Motions acted on by single judge	397
9. Two-judge panels	397
10. Argument of motions	397
11. Effect of ruling	398
12. Motion to reconsider an order	398
Q. Tips for Eleventh Circuit Practitioners	398

The Federal Circuit	400
A. The Federal Circuit’s Unique Jurisdiction	400
B. Federal Circuit Practice and Procedure	403
1. Motions and petitions for writ of mandamus	404
2. Briefs	405
3. Oral argument	407
4. Decisions	408
5. Rehearing	408
6. Court Mediation Program	409
District of Columbia Circuit	411
A. Geographic Jurisdiction	411
B. Motions	411
C. Mediation	413
D. Briefs	414
E. Appendices	414
F. Oral Argument	415
G. Decisions	416
H. Rehearing	416
Circuit Contact Information	417
Circuit Variation Charts	420
Links to Court Web Sites and Local Rules	420
Links to Internal Operating Procedures and Other Helpful Resources	421
Settlement and Mediation Programs	423
Electronic Filing of Briefs	429
Rules Governing Citation of Opinions	431
 Chapter 18
Appeals from Agency Decisions	439
Theodore Hirt
A. Overview	440
B. Petitions for Review of Agency Orders	440
C. Rule 15 of the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure	442
D. Jurisdictional and Related Issues	444
E. Limitations Periods	446
F. Applications to Enforce an Agency Order	446
G. Contents and Service of the Petition	447
H. Interventions	448
I. Multiple Petitions for Review	449
J. Compiling and Filing the Administrative Record	450
K. Stays of Agency Orders Pending Judicial Review	454
L. Other Applicable Rules	456
M. Conclusion	456
 Index	457