Table of Contents

Acknowledgments ....................................................... ix
Introduction: Pleadings ................................................. xi

PART ONE: DRAFTING A COMPLAINT .............................. 1

Chapter 1: Before You Begin ............................ 3
  A. Making Sense of Your Client's Story  3
  B. Causes of Action  5
    1. What Are Your Client's Causes of Action?  5
    2. What Are The Elements of The Cause of Action?  6
    3. What Is The Statute of Limitations?  8
    4. Does Your Client Have Standing?  8
  C. What Relief Do You Want?  9
    1. Remedies for Your Causes of Action  11
    2. Your Client's Right to The Relief S/he Seeks  12
  D. The Proper Venue  12
    1. What Court Is Proper?  13
    2. What Court Do You Want to Be In?  14
  E. Jurisdiction  15
    1. Subject Matter Jurisdiction  16
      a. Judicial Prejudice  18
    2. Personal Jurisdiction  20

Chapter 2: Writing The Complaint ......................... 25
  A. The “Boilerplate”  25
  B. The Parties  27
  C. The Facts  29
  D. The Counts  33
    1. Count IV—Negligence  33
E. The Wherefore Clause 36
F. Miscellaneous Considerations 37
   1. Verification 37
   2. Jury Trial 38
   3. Other Local Requirements 38
   4. Inconsistent Causes of Action 40
   5. Service 41
   6. Amendments 42
   7. The Key 43

PART TWO: DRAFTING A RESPONSE ............ 45

Chapter 3: Before You Begin ................. 47
   A. Deadlines 47
   B. Extensions 49
   C. The Poorly-Written Complaint 51
   D. Fact Investigation 54
   E. The Law 56
   F. Use It Or Lose It 58

Chapter 4: Deciding on Your Strategy .......... 59
   A. Lack of Subject Matter Jurisdiction 61
   B. Lack of Personal Jurisdiction 62
   C. Failure of Service 64
   D. Failure to State A Claim 66
   E. Defenses versus Denials 68
   F. Venue, Removal, Remand 70

Chapter 5: Drafting The Answer ............... 71
   A. Answering The Numbered Paragraphs 71
   B. Answering The “Speaking Complaint” 76
   C. Affirmative Defenses 77
   D. Counterclaims 79
Chapter 6: Going Through The Motions 89
A. Find out The Nomenclature and The Requirements 90
B. Strategize 94
C. Drafting A Brief 101

Chapter 7: Conclusion 105

TEXT BOXES
1. “Dry” versus “Wet” Or “Juicy” Pleadings xii
3. What Is A Pleading? xvi
4. What A Complaint Looks Like xix
5. What Is A Cause of Action? 7
6. Are There Pre-Suit Requirements? 10
7. Remedies 11
8. State versus Federal: The Issues 17
9. Service of Process and Personal Jurisdiction 19
10. Jurisdiction versus Standing 21
11. Jurisdictional Analysis 23
12. A Word About Twombly and Iqbal—Or Any Caselaw 34
13. Dry versus Wet Pleadings, Part 2 43
14. Do You Answer The Complaint? Or Do You Respond? 48
15. Time Is of The Essence 50
16. Sometimes Clients Lie 56
17. What An Answer Looks Like 58
18. What Are Your Defenses? 61
19. Failure of Service of Process—The Longer Version 67
20. Does The Defendant Have Claims?   81
21. Please Judge, May I Have Attorneys' Fees?   87
22. Venue and Forum Non Conveniens   99
23. Ethical Considerations   100

CHECKLISTS AND LITIGATION BUDGET   . . . 107
   Checklist for Drafting A Complaint   108
   Checklist for Drafting A Response   109
   Litigation Budget Template   110

Index   ............................................. 113

About the Author   ......................... 119