

FOREWARD

The American Bar Association Section of Antitrust Law is proud to continue its long-standing tradition of scholarship and service for the practitioner with this Second Edition of Consumer Protection Law Developments (CPLD). Since its first edition in 2009, the mission of CPLD has been to synthesize consumer protection law into a coherent and objective summary of court decisions, enforcement actions, agency regulations, and guidelines, in an important and evolving area of law. This second edition covers significant consumer protection developments since the last hardbound publication, including the addition of a separate chapter on the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB), which was established with the passage of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010, as well as significant discussions about the impact of new technologies on consumer protection law, the expansion in state consumer protection law enforcement, and ever-growing importance of international legal precedent.

Like many of the Section's publications, the second edition of CPLD is the product of the labors of many talented individuals. Special thanks go to Daniel Savrin and Christine Sommer, who served as the editorial chairs and oversaw the entire publication effort. They were assisted by an exceptionally capable editorial board consisted of Christopher Cole, Aryeh Freidman, Gregory Fortsch, Megan Gray, David Mallen, Sheila Millar, Gonzalo Mon, Katrina Robson, and Erv Switzer. Also contributing to this book were the Section's Officers and Council members who reviewed and edited the completed manuscript, most notably Publications Officer Barry Nigro and Consumer Protection Officer Thomas Zych.

Thanks also go to the dozens of individuals who worked diligently to gather, analyze and synthesize a huge amount of information, which greatly enhanced the quality of this book. With apologies in advance to anyone who may inadvertently have been omitted, the Section would like to thank the following drafters, researchers, and other contributors:

And we thank the hard work of many at WilmerHale LLP, including the professional support of Mary Stoddard-Gore and Catherine Sircy, and the following paralegal and document support personnel: Ernest Aglipay, Russell Davis, Sharon Funk, Trameka Germain, Meghan Grissler, Christopher Hurley, Margaret Jones, Pablo Lafuente, Gwynn Roberson, Naticia Porche, and Nancy Tillotson-Fletcher.

Importantly, we are also grateful for the work of Michael Schwalbert, whose contributions equal that of any editorial board member, and to Robin Moore, who provided invaluable insight and expertise on key substantive and stylistic decisions. Finally, thanks go to Arcangelo Cella and Elizabeth Marie Sartori for their significant contributions, attention to detail, and tireless efforts in finalizing the manuscript. The book would not have been nearly as polished a product without their capable assistance.

It is our hope and expectation that consumer protection practitioners and enforcers will find this edition of CPLD a valuable tool.
