CONTENTS

About the Editors xxix
About the Authors xxi
Preface xli
Acknowledgments xliii

CHAPTER 1
Introduction 1
James F. Nagle

I. Introduction 1
   A. Governing Law 2
   B. Statutes 3
   C. Regulations 3
   D. Individuals 8
   E. Forums for Dispute Resolution 9
   F. Agencies 10

II. Conclusion 11

CHAPTER 2
Sealed Bidding 13
Todd Henry
James F. Nagle
Ryan M. Gilchrist

I. Introduction 13
II. Sealed Bidding 15
III. Responsiveness 16
IV. Responsibility 20
V. Bid Mistake 24
VI. Conclusion 26

CHAPTER 3
Competitive Negotiation 27
Elizabeth M. Gill
James E. Moye
D. Joseph Darr

I. Introduction 27
   A. What Is Competitive Negotiation? 27
   B. Historic Acquisition Reform 28
II. Source Selection Processes and Techniques

- A. Best Value Continuum
- B. Trade-off Process
- C. Special Procedures for Cost-Reimbursement Contracts for Construction
- D. Lowest Price Technically Acceptable Source Selection Process

III. Solicitation and Receipt of Proposals and Information

- A. Distribution of Advance Notices and Solicitations
- B. Inspection of Work Site and Examination of Data
- C. Request for Proposals—The Solicitation
- D. Two-Phase Design-Build Procedures
- E. Submission, Modification, Revision, and Withdrawal of Proposals
- F. Amendment and Cancellation of the Solicitation

IV. Source Selection

- A. Source Selection Objective
- B. Source Selection Responsibilities
- C. Proposal Evaluation
- D. Clarifications and Award without Discussions
- E. Communications with Offerors before the Competitive Range Is Established
- F. Competitive Range
- G. Exchanges with Offerors after Establishment of the Competitive Range
- H. Oral Presentations
- I. Proposal Revisions
- J. Source Selection Decision

V. Past Performance Information

- A. What Is Past Performance Information?
- B. Sources of Past Performance Information and Prior Responsibility Determinations
- C. Uses of Past Performance Information on a Particular Procurement

VI. Pre-award, Award, and Post-award Notifications and Debriefings

- A. Notices to Unsuccessful Offerors
- B. Debriefings

VII. Mistakes

---

CHAPTER 4

Architect-Engineer Contracting

Jaimee L. Nardiello

- I. Introduction
- II. The Architect-Engineer (A-E) Selection Process
  - A. Lack of Price Competition
  - B. Insight into the QBS Process
  - C. The Design Professional Contract and Scope of Services
- III. Particular Issues in A-E Contracts
CHAPTER 5
Alternate Delivery Systems: Design-Build, At-Risk Construction Management, and IDIQ Contracts
Michael C. Loulakis
Lauren P. McLaughlin
Lynn P. Thompson
I. Introduction 103
II. Design-Build
A. Historical Overview of Design-Build on Federal Projects 104
B. Details of the Clinger-Cohen Act 106
C. Design-Build Disputes on Federal Contracts 109
III. At-Risk Construction Management
A. Framework for At-Risk Construction Management 132
B. Which Federal Agencies Are Using CM/GC? 133
C. State Use of CM/GC 137
D. Case Law Discussing CM Rights and Obligations 137
IV. Indefinite-Delivery and Indefinite-Quantity Contracts 139
A. The Federal Acquisition Streamlining Act of 1994 and Current ID/IQ Contract Requirements Implemented in the Federal Acquisition Regulation 139
B. The “Back and Forth” in Congress on Task Order Bid Protest Jurisdiction 144
C. Protecting the “Fair Opportunity to Compete” through the Claims Process 151

CHAPTER 6
Federal Bid Protests
Adam K. Lasky
I. Introduction 155
II. History and Background of Bid Protest Forums 155
A. Agency-Level Protests 155
CHAPTER 7
The Role of the Contracting Officer and Other Unique Issues in Government Contracting
Michael A. Branca
Aaron P. Silberman
I. The Christian Doctrine
II. The Authority of Officials to Bind the Government
   A. Actual Authority
   B. Ratification
   C. Implied Authority
   D. Apparent Authority
III. Conflicts of Interest
   A. Government Employees’ Personal Conflicts of Interest
   B. Organizational Conflicts of Interest
IV. The Government’s Duty of Good Faith
   A. Implied Duty of Good Faith and Fair Dealing
   B. Metcalf and the Clarification of the Duty
   C. Kiewit-Turner: A Win for the Contractor under the Metcalf Standard
   D. Post-Kiewit-Turner
   E. Conclusion
V. Past Performance Evaluations

CHAPTER 8
Changes
David Mancini
I. Introduction
   A. Overview
   B. History of the Changes Clause
II. The Clause
III. Issuing the Change Order
   A. The Contracting Officer
   B. Unauthorized Actions of Government Representatives
   C. Actions by Representatives of the Contracting Officer and Other Government Officials
IV. Scope of Changes
   A. The Timing and Form of Change Orders
B. The Intended Scope of Work 238
C. Changes outside the General Scope of the Contract 239

V. Equitable Adjustment
A. The Equitable Adjustment in Price 242
B. The Equitable Adjustment in Time 243
C. Processing the Formal Change Order 244

VI. Constructive Changes 246
A. Elements of a Constructive Change Order 247
B. Types of Constructive Changes 248

VII. Notice Requirements
A. Government Knowledge of the Basis of Claim 264
B. Claim Considered on the Merits 265
C. Failure to Notify Not Prejudicial 265
D. The Contractor’s Duty to Perform Changed Work 266

VIII. Value Engineering 267

CHAPTER 9
Differing Site Conditions 271
Donald G. Gavin
Daniel J. Donohue
Brian P. Waagner

I. Introduction 271

II. Common Law Background 272
A. The Common Law Rule 273
B. Superior Knowledge 273
C. Fraud and Misrepresentation 274
D. Consequences of the Common Law Rule 275

III. The Differing Site Conditions Clause and Its Requirements 275
A. Origin of the Differing Site Conditions Clause 275
B. The Differing Site Conditions Clause 276
C. The Site Investigation Clause 277
D. The Physical Data Clause 279

IV. Practical Issues in Differing Site Conditions Cases 280
A. Notice 280
B. The Condition Must Predate the Contract 282
C. The Condition May Be Natural or Man-Made 282
D. The Condition Must Be “At the Site” 284
E. Interpretation of “Differing Materially” 285

V. Proving a Type I DSC Claim 286
A. Requirement for “Indications” in “Contract Documents” 286
B. Types of Contract Indications 289
C. Foreseeability 292
D. Reasonable Reliance 293
VI. Proving a Type II DSC Claim 295
   A. Requirement That the Site Condition Be Unknown 296
   B. Requirement That the Site Condition Be Unforeseeable 297
   C. Requirement That the Condition Be Unusual 297

CHAPTER 10
Inspection, Acceptance, and Warranties 299
Steven L. Reed
   I. Introduction 299
   II. Inspection Clauses 301
      A. Inspection of Construction 301
      B. CQC Contract Specifications 303
      C. Other Applicable Provisions 306
   III. Inspection Rights and Duties 307
      A. Government’s Right—But Not Duty 307
      B. Government Inspections: Time, Place, and Manner 308
      C. Government Punch Lists 309
      D. Government Inspectors: Conduct and Authority 310
      E. Government Waiver 312
   IV. Who Pays the Cost? 312
      A. Initial Inspections 312
      B. Inspection and Constructive Changes 315
      C. Government Inspection Delays 323
   V. Nonconforming Work: Government Rights 324
      A. Government Notice of Rejection 324
      B. Contractor Opportunity to Cure Deficiencies or Defects 325
      C. Economic Waste Issues 325
      D. Credits of Deductive Changes 325
   VI. Government Acceptance 326
      A. Who Has Authority to Accept the Work? 326
      B. When and Where Does Acceptance Occur? 326
      C. How Does Acceptance Occur? 327
      D. What Are the Consequences of Acceptance? 327
   VII. Exceptions to the Finality of Acceptance 328
      A. Latent Defects 328
      B. Fraud and Gross Mistakes Amounting to Fraud 328
      C. Warranties 329
   VIII. False Claims Exposure 332
   IX. Conclusion 332

CHAPTER 11
Payment and Contract Funding 333
Lori Ann Lange
   I. Introduction 333
   II. Progress Payments 333
III. Prompt Payment 337
   A. Proper Invoices 337
   B. Disputed Invoices 338
   C. Required Due Date under Construction Contracts 339
   D. Payment Date 340
   E. Rate of Interest and Length of Payment 340
   F. Contract Financing Payments 340
   G. Prompt Payment to Subcontractors and Suppliers 341
   H. Government Overpayments 342
IV. Assignment of Payments 343
   A. Validity of Assignments 343
   B. Requirement for a Valid Assignment 344
   C. The Government’s Right to Set Off Assigned Payments 345
   D. Obligations of the Parties 345
V. Contractual Limitations on Funding 346
VI. Government Setoff and Debt Collection 348
   A. Common Law and Statutory Right of Setoff 348
   B. FAR Debt Collection Procedures 349

CHAPTER 12
Socioeconomic Issues in Government Contracting 355
Angela R. Stephens
Tim Matheny
Lori Ann Lange
I. Introduction 355
II. The Constitutionality of Affirmative Action Programs 355
   A. Legal Parameters of Race-Based and Gender-Based Programs 356
III. Other Socioeconomic Contracting Programs 361
   A. Small Business Contracting Programs 361
   B. SBA’s Small Disadvantaged Business Program 365
   C. 8(a) Business Development Program 366
   D. Women-Owned Small Business and Economically Disadvantaged, Women-Owned Small Business Programs 369
   E. Service-Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business Programs 373
   F. Historically Underutilized Business Zone (HUBZone) 375
   G. SBA Mentor-Protégé Programs 377
   H. Department of Transportation’s Disadvantaged Business Enterprise Program 380
I. The Buy American Act and the Buy America Regulations 383
J. Wage Rate Requirements (Construction) Statute (Davis-Bacon Act) 389
K. Service Contract Labor Standards Statute (Service Contract Act) 391
IV. Conclusion 395
Chapter 13
Termination for Convenience 397
Joseph D. West
Lindsay M. Paulin

I. Introduction 397
II. The Right to Terminate for Convenience 397
   A. Corliss and the Absolute Right to Terminate 397
   B. Torncello’s Limit to Convenience Terminations 398
   C. Krygoski and the Impact of the Competition in Contracting Act on Convenience Terminations 400

III. The Parties’ Rights and Duties upon Termination for Convenience 401
   A. Duties of the Government 401
   B. Duties of the Contractor 404

IV. Monetary Recovery 407
   A. Negotiated Settlements 407
   B. Settlements by Contracting Officer (Unilateral) Determination 408
   C. Profit and Loss 415

V. Partial Terminations for Convenience 417
   A. Partial Termination for Convenience versus Deletion of Work by Change Order 418

VI. Conclusion 420

CHAPTER 14
Termination for Default 421
William E. Franczek
Michael L. Sterling

I. The Standard for Default 421
   A. Historical Background 421
   B. Comparison to Commercial Contracts 422
   C. Nature of Default Termination 423
   D. Current Clauses 423
   E. Functions of the Standard Clause 424
   F. Conversion into Convenience Termination 428

II. Default for Failure to Timely Perform 430
   A. The Government Right to Terminate for Untimely Performance 430
   B. The Effect of Substantial Completion 431

III. Default for Failure to Make Progress 434
   A. The Government Right to Terminate for Failure to Make Progress 434
   B. Traditional versus Modern View 434
   C. Construction versus Supply Contracts 436
   D. Proving Failure to Make Progress 436
   E. Waiver 438
   F. Government’s Burden of Proof 439
IV. Contractor’s Duty to Proceed 440
   A. Failure to Proceed versus Anticipatory Repudiation 440
   B. Exceptions to Duty to Proceed 441
V. Defense of Excusable Delay 443
   A. Foreseeability 443
   B. Subcontractor Delay 444
   C. Proving Excusable Delay 444
   D. Enumerated Excusable Delays 446
   E. Unenumerated Excusable Delays 451
   F. Contractor Notice Requirements 452
VI. Defense of Government-Caused Delays 453
   A. Delayed Government Approval 453
   B. Delayed Contract Award 454
   C. Delayed Payment 454
   D. Delayed Approval of Subcontractors 456
   E. Constructive Changes 456
   F. Overinspection 456
   G. Defective Specifications and Impossibility 459
VII. Waiver of Completion Date 460
   A. Forbearance versus Waiver 460
   B. Waiver after Completion Date 461
VIII. Excess Costs of Reprocurement 463
   A. The Requirement 463
   B. Calculating Excess Costs 467
   C. Government Completion of Work 468
   D. Challenging Assessment of Excess Costs—Fulford Doctrine 469
IX. Other Government Remedies 469
   A. Damages for Breach of Contract 470
   B. Deferred Payment Agreements 470
   C. Cost-Reimbursement Contracts 471
   D. Nonresponsibility Determinations 471
X. Liquidated Damages 472
   A. Assessment of Liquidated Damages 472
   B. Enforceability 473
   C. Contractor Defenses 474
XI. Contractor Appeals Challenging Default Terminations 475
XII. Conclusion 476

CHAPTER 15
Equitable Adjustments and Claims 477
Laurence Schor
Aaron P. Silberman
   I. Introduction 477
   II. Requests for Equitable Adjustment 477
III. Claims
   A. The Contract Disputes Act of 1978
   B. The FAR Definition of a “Claim”
   C. Requirements for Raising Claims as Defenses
   D. Interest on Claims
   E. Claim versus Request for an Equitable Adjustment
   F. Certification
   G. Timeliness Requirements
   H. The CO’s Final Decision

CHAPTER 16
Litigating with the Federal Government

Paul A. Varela
Michael M. Suga
Brian R. Dugdale

I. Introduction
II. Forums in Which to Pursue a Claim
   A. The Court of Federal Claims
   B. Boards of Contract Appeals
III. Implied Contracts
IV. Six-Year Limitation on Appeals
V. Time to Appeal
VI. Binding Election of Forum and Fragmentation of Claims
VII. Prehearing Procedures
   A. Rules of Procedure and Discovery
   B. Appeal File
   C. Motions Practice
VIII. The Hearing
   A. Accord to Be Given the Contracting Officer’s Final Decision
   B. The Judges
   C. Senior Deciding Group/Full Board Consideration
   D. Conduct of the Trial or Hearing
   E. Bifurcation
   F. Hearing Location
   G. Trial Lawyers
   H. Time to Receive a Decision
   I. Accelerated and Simplified Procedures
IX. Selection of Forum
X. Getting Paid
XI. Attorney’s Fees and Expenses
   A. Requirements for Recovery
   B. Net Worth and Size Limits
   C. Prevailing Party
   D. The Government’s Position Was Not Substantially Justified
Contents

E. No Special Circumstances 515
F. Timely Application 516
G. Recoverable Fees and Expenses 518
H. Partial Success 521

XII. Appellate Review of a Board or Court Decision 521
A. Time to Appeal 521
B. Standard of Review 521

XIII. Binding Precedent 522
XIV. Conclusion 522

CHAPTER 17

Alternative Dispute Resolution 523
Adrian L. Bastianelli, III
Lori Ann Lange
Susan Elliott

I. Introduction 523
II. Negotiation 523
A. Negotiating with the Government 523
B. Timing of Negotiation 525

III. Alternative Dispute Resolution Act 525
A. Authority to Use ADR 525
B. Timing of ADR 526
C. Confidentiality 527
D. The Neutral 528

IV. Types of Government ADR 529
A. Arbitration 529
B. Mediation 531
C. Mini-trial 532
D. Dispute Resolution Board 532

V. ADR at the Boards of Contract Appeals 533
A. The Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals (ASBCA) 533
B. The Civilian Board of Contract Appeals (CBCA) 534
C. Perceived Advantages and Disadvantages of ADR at the Boards 535

VI. ADR at the Court of Federal Claims 536

VII. ADR at the Government Accountability Office in Bid Protest Disputes 536

CHAPTER 18

Defective Specifications—Impracticability/Impossibility of Performance 537
Robert K. Cox
Arnie B. Mason

I. The Government’s Construction Contract Specifications 537
A. Types of Specifications 538
B. Distinguishing among the Types of Specifications 545
II. The Allocation of Risk between the Government and Its Contractors for Defective Construction Contract Specifications and Drawings
   A. The Government’s Implied Warranty of Its Design Specifications 547
   B. When the Implied Warranty Does Not Apply 560
III. Recovery for the Government’s Defective Specifications 565
   A. Elements and Burden of Proof 565
   B. Government Defenses to Recovery for Breach of the Implied Warranty of Specifications 568
IV. Impossibility and Impracticability of Performance 571
   A. The Doctrines of Impossibility and Impracticability 571
   B. Assumption of Risk 579
V. Conclusion 582

CHAPTER 19
Delay, Suspension of Work, Acceleration, and Disruption 583
Andrew D. Ness
I. Basic Delay Concepts 583
II. Critical Path Delays versus Use of Available Float or Slack Time 583
III. Categories of Delay 584
   A. Excusable Delay 585
   B. Compensable Delay 587
   C. Unexcused Delay 589
IV. Suspension of Work 591
   A. Directed Suspension of Work 592
   B. Constructive Suspension 593
   C. Notice Requirements for Suspension of Work 594
   D. Changes versus Suspension of Work 594
V. Additional Delay Concepts and Issues 595
   A. The Right to Finish Early 595
   B. Concurrent Delays 597
   C. Apportionment of Project Float (Who Owns the Float?) 601
VI. Proving Delays 603
   A. Need for Realistic and Accurate CPM Analysis 603
   B. Total Time Method 607
   C. Impacted As-Planned Method 607
   D. Collapsed As-Built Method 609
   E. Time Impact Analysis and Windows Analysis 610
VII. Acceleration 614
   A. Directed Acceleration 614
   B. Constructive Acceleration 615
VIII. Disruption: Loss of Labor Efficiency 618
CHAPTER 20
Pricing of Claims 625
Stephen B. Shapiro
Dirk D. Haire

I. Introduction 625
II. Fundamental Principles of Contract Pricing 625
  A. General Rule of Damages 625
  B. Proof of Adjustment 626
  C. False Claims 628
III. Basic Methods of Calculation 629
  A. Actual Cost Method 629
  B. Cost Estimates 630
  C. Total Cost Method 632
  D. Modified Total Cost Method 633
  E. Equitable Adjustment 633
  F. “Jury Verdict” Method 635
IV. Elements of Construction Damages 636
  A. Labor Costs 636
  B. Equipment Costs 648
  C. Material Costs 656
  D. Field Office Overhead/General Conditions
     and Home Office Overhead 659
  E. Profit 659
  F. Interest 660
  G. Additional Bond Premiums 660
  H. Attorney’s Fees and Legal Costs 660
  I. Cost Principles 661
V. Miscellaneous Pricing Issues 661
  A. Deductive Modifications 661
  B. Variations in Estimated Quantities 661

CHAPTER 21
Overhead Costs 663
John Marshall Cook
W. Stephen Dale
Richard F. Smith

I. Introduction 663
  A. Applicable FAR Provisions 664
  B. FAR Supplements 665
  C. Contract Limitation of Overhead Clauses 665
  D. Other Sources 668
II. Recovery of Project Overhead Costs on Equitable
    Adjustments and Claims 668
A. Methods to Price Project Overhead 670
B. Full Recovery of Project Overhead 672

III. FAR Restriction on Project Overhead Costs Recovery—
The Requirement to Select and Use a Single Method 674
A. M.A. Mortenson Co. 674
B. Caddell Construction Co., Inc. 677
C. Impacts of Mortenson and Caddell 678

IV. Recovery of Home Office Overhead 679
A. Home Office Overhead Increases Resulting from Delay 680
B. Evaluating Home Office Overhead 681
C. Evolution of the Eichleay Formula 682
D. The Eichleay Elements in Practice 686
E. Criticism of the Eichleay Method 693

V. Cost-Reimbursement Contracts 694
A. Types of Cost-Reimbursement Contracts 695
B. Allowable, Reasonable, and Allocable 695
C. Cost Limitation Provisions 699
D. Other Cost Principles 702

VI. Conclusion 703

CHAPTER 22
Subcontracting 705
Lawrence M. Prosen

I. Subcontractors 705
A. Definition of “Subcontractor” 706
B. What Law Controls 707

II. Government Control over Subcontracting 710
A. Government Consent to Subcontractors/Subcontracts 710
B. Award of Subcontracts 714
C. Government-Directed Subcontractors 714
D. Subcontractor Listing Requirements 715
E. Subcontractor Responsibility Determinations 715
F. Small and Disadvantaged Business Requirements 715

III. Formation of Subcontracts 716
A. Offer and Acceptance of Subcontractor’s Bid 717
B. Effect of Subcontractor Mistakes 718
C. Failure to Comply with All Material Terms of the Solicitation 719
D. Bid Expiration 719

IV. Bid Protests by Subcontractors 720

V. Flow-Down Clauses 721
A. Impact of Flow-Down Clauses on Subcontractor’s Rights against the Government 721
B. Mandatory Flow-Down Clauses 722

VI. Progress Payments 723
A. Progress Payments 724
H. Other Payment Bond Defenses 783
CHAPTER 24
The False Claims Act 793
Barbara G. Werther
Meredith R. Philipp
Kevin P. Gilliland

I. Introduction 793
A. History of the False Claims Act 794
B. Overview of the FCA 795

II. The Seven Deadly Sins under the False Claims Act 796
A. False or Fraudulent 797
B. Materiality 799
C. Presenting a Claim 800
D. Acting Knowingly 802
E. Damages under the FCA 804
F. Relief from Retaliatory Actions 805

III. Procedural Requirements for FCA Actions 806
A. Qui Tam Actions 806
B. Asserting an FCA Action 806
C. Recovering under an FCA Action 808

IV. Common FCA Actions in Government Construction Cases 809
A. Presenting False Invoices and Applications for Payment 809
B. Falsely Representing Small or Minority Business Status 817
C. Falsely Representing Compliance with Contract Requirements 820
D. Falsely Representing Compliance with Federal Statutes 821
E. Failure to Provide the Government with Discounts Given to Non-governmental Entities 823
F. Mislabeled, Substandard, or Improperly Substituted Materials 824
G. Bid Rigging 824

V. Defenses against Allegations of FCA Violations 825
A. Knowledge of the Contractor 825
B. The Claim Is Not False 827
C. The Claim Is Not Material 828
D. The Complaint Is Not Pled with Sufficient Particularity 829
E. Public Disclosure Bar and First-to-File Bar 831

VI. Avoiding FCA Liability 831
A. Compliance Programs 832
B. Self-Reporting FCA Violations 832
C. Maintaining Relationships and Documentation 833

VII. Conclusion 834
CHAPTER 25
Introduction to Overseas Federal Construction Projects 835
David B. Wonderlick
Christopher M. Burke
Rae D. Mueller

I. Procurement and Prime Contracting 836
   A. Military Agencies 836
   B. Civilian Agencies 836

II. Unique Features of OCONUS Construction Contracts 837
   A. Subcontracting 838
   B. Labor and Material Procurement 838

III. Performance 840
   A. Bonding 840
   B. Code Requirements 841

IV. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act 841
   A. Anti-bribery Provisions 842
   B. Accounting Provisions 845
   C. The Yates Memo 846
   D. Self-Reporting Pilot Program 848

V. Dispute Resolution 849
   A. International Arbitration 849
   B. Administrative Bodies 850

Table of Cases 853
Index 943