ABOUT THE EDITORS

Jill Rhodes is Vice President and Chief Information Security Officer for Option Care, Inc. in Bannockburn, Illinois where she is responsible for building and implementing an information security program for this multibillion-dollar healthcare company. Her work includes all facets of information security governance, education, process development, and technology implementation. Before moving to the private sector, Ms. Rhodes spent 20 years working in various capacities with the intelligence and national security communities of the federal government. Ms. Rhodes has written and speaks regularly about several national security law topics. She was the co-editor of the first edition of this Handbook and also edited the book National Security Law, Fifty Years of Transformation: An Anthology (ABA 2012). Ms. Rhodes has been a member of the ABA Standing Committee on Law and National Security as well as a member of its Advisory Committee.

Ms. Rhodes is a graduate of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, the University of Cincinnati, College of Law (JD), and the George Washington University College of Law (LLM). She is also a certified information security manager, certified information privacy professional/IT, and certified project management professional.

Robert S. Litt served as the second General Counsel of the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) from June 2009 until January 2017. Before joining the ODNI, Mr. Litt was a partner with the law firm of Arnold and Porter, LLP. He served as a member of the governing body of the American Bar Association’s Criminal Justice Section and a member of the Advisory Committee to the Standing Committee on Law and National Security. He previously worked at the Department of Justice, where he served as Deputy Assistant Attorney General in the Criminal Division and as the Principal Associate Deputy Attorney General; as special advisor to the Assistant Secretary of State for European and Canadian Affairs; and as an U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York.

Mr. Litt started his legal career as a clerk for Judge Edward Weinfeld of the Southern District of New York and Justice Potter Stewart of the U.S. Supreme Court. He holds a BA from Harvard College and an MA and JD from Yale University.