About the Editors

Brad D. Brian
Mr. Brian, comanaging partner of Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP, is a renowned trial lawyer who represents clients in their most challenging, high-profile lawsuits and government investigations. A fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers and the International Academy of Trial Lawyers, Mr. Brian is listed in The Best Lawyers in America in five categories, including business litigation, criminal defense, and bet-the-company cases. He also has been identified by California Law Business for 20 consecutive years as one of the 100 most influential lawyers in California. In 2016, he was selected by The American Lawyer Magazine as a Litigator of the Year and in 2015 earned recognition as a California Lawyer Attorney of the Year.

Mr. Brian has conducted more than 100 internal corporate investigations in the areas of securities regulation, environmental compliance, government contracts, the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, the False Claims Act, bribery, and other matters. He regularly lectures about internal investigations and crisis cases and has taught trial advocacy at the University of Southern California Law Center, Harvard Law School’s trial advocacy program, and the National Institute for Trial Advocacy. In 2005–2006, Mr. Brian served as chair of the American Bar Association’s Section of Litigation. Mr. Brian graduated magna cum laude in 1977 from the Harvard Law School, where he served as managing editor of the Harvard Law Review. He also served as an assistant U.S. attorney in Los Angeles.

Barry F. McNeil
Mr. McNeil, senior counsel in the Dallas office of Haynes and Boone, LLP, is a fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers and a former chair of the Litigation Section of the American Bar Association. For 35 years, Mr. McNeil has defended companies and senior officers before juries throughout the country in criminal and civil proceedings. Mr. McNeil oversees the firm’s 35-lawyer White Collar, Antitrust, and Securities Group. He has served as counsel for numerous special litigation committees, audit committees, and outside directors, where he advises on issues arising under federal and state securities and antitrust laws, federal criminal statutes, and conspiracy and fraud charges. In The National Law Journal’s “Biggest Defense Verdict of 1999” (May 22, 2000), Mr. McNeil led the successful defense of a national health care provider, winning a “slam-dunk defense verdict.” Mr. McNeil is an adjunct professor at the University of Texas School of Law, where he teaches a course on white-collar crime.

Lisa J. Demsky

Ms. Demsky is a litigation partner with Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP whose practice is focused on internal investigations, complex commercial cases, and white-collar defense. Ms. Demsky often is called upon to handle challenging internal corporate investigations, including in the areas of government contracts, the False Claims Act, the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, and compliance issues. She has conducted numerous international investigations, including for publicly traded companies and defense contractors with overseas subsidiaries or operations.

Ms. Demsky is an experienced trial lawyer who represents a broad range of clients in federal and state courts nationwide and has handled a number of civil litigation matters with parallel government investigations or proceedings. She was recognized as colead counsel on a defense trial victory that was named among The Daily Journal’s Top Verdicts of 2016. Ms. Demsky graduated from Yale Law School, clerked on the Ninth Circuit for the Honorable Cynthia H. Hall, and served as a visiting lecturer at the University of Chicago Law School before joining Munger Tolles in 1998.
About the Contributors

Scott N. Auby, deceased, was formerly counsel in the Washington, D.C., office of Debevoise & Plimpton, LLP. Mr. Auby was a talented attorney and a wonderful colleague. He will be sorely missed by those who had the privilege of working with him.

S. Jack Balagia, Jr. retired in 2016 from ExxonMobil Corporation, where he was vice president and general counsel.

Nancy E. Barton, deceased, was a former senior vice president, general counsel, and secretary at General Electric Capital Corporation, Stamford, Connecticut.

Dennis J. Block is senior chairman of global mergers and acquisitions at Greenberg Traurig, LLP, New York, New York.

Stacy L. Brainin is a partner in the Dallas office of Haynes and Boone, LLP. She regularly represents and advises health care providers in civil and criminal disputes with state and federal government agencies. She also is experienced in handling internal investigations and routinely advises clients regarding difficult compliance and disclosure issues.

Robert B. Buehler is a partner in the Investigations, White Collar, and Fraud Practice Group in the New York office of Hogan Lovells US LLP. He regularly conducts internal investigations on behalf of major corporations and financial institutions and represents individual corporate executives in such investigations.

Winston Y. Chan is a partner in Gibson Dunn’s San Francisco office, a member of the firm’s White Collar Defense and Investigations Practice Group, and a former assistant U.S. attorney for the Eastern District of New York.
Richard E. Coe is a commercial litigation partner at Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP specializing in disputes raising fiduciary duty and other corporate governance issues and disputes arising from mergers and acquisitions. He has conducted internal investigations for several special litigation committees and other board committees and advised clients on the formation of special litigation committees.

Joshua Dick is of counsel in the San Francisco office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP. He represents companies in a variety of foreign and domestic investigations and civil suits.

Rupal Doshi is an associate in the San Francisco office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP. She represents companies in internal investigations and a variety of civil suits.

Lawrence J. Fox is a partner at Schoeman Updike & Kaufman, LLP.

David S. Frankel is a partner engaged in the defense of white-collar criminal cases, SEC enforcement actions, and other administrative agency proceedings at Kramer Levin Naftalis & Frankel LLP in New York, New York.

Larry A. Gaydos is a partner at Gaydos Duffer, LLP. Prior to joining Gaydos Duffer, Mr. Gaydos was senior counsel at Haynes and Boone, LLP, in Dallas, Texas.

Veronica Glick is an associate in the Washington, D.C., office of Debevoise & Plimpton, LLP.

Anna R. Gressel is an associate in the New York office of Debevoise & Plimpton, LLP.

Taryn M. McDonald is an associate in the Dallas office of Haynes and Boone, LLP. She represents and advises health care providers in civil and criminal disputes with state and federal government agencies.
Mark Miller is a partner with Baker Botts LLP in Washington, D.C.

Bill Morrison is vice president and assistant general counsel at Tenet Healthcare Corporation.

Gary P. Naftalis is a partner engaged in the defense of white-collar criminal cases, SEC enforcement actions, and other administrative agency proceedings at Kramer Levin Naftalis & Frankel LLP in New York, New York.

Trey Nicoud is a partner in the San Francisco office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP. Mr. Nicoud concentrates on antitrust matters. He represents businesses in both civil and criminal antitrust investigations and civil suits and in connection with the antitrust aspects of proposed transactions. He also provides counseling with respect to antitrust compliance and the management of collaborative efforts among competitors.

John V. Ponyicsanyi is a former associate at Debevoise & Plimpton, LLP, in Washington, D.C.

Edwin G. Schallert is a partner at Debevoise & Plimpton, LLP, in New York, New York.

Michael J. Shepard is a partner in the San Francisco office of Hogan Lovells US LLP and a member of the American College of Trial Lawyers. He conducts internal investigations of all kinds in many places around the world and when not conducting them represents executives who are under investigation. Before private practice, he was a federal prosecutor in Chicago and Washington, D.C., focused on bribery and corruption and financial crimes.

Charles J. Stevens is the partner-in-charge of the San Francisco office of the law firm Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP; cochair of the White Collar Defense and Investigations Practice Group; and a former U.S. attorney for the Eastern District of California.

Randall J. Turk is a partner with Baker Botts LLP in Washington, D.C.
Jason D. Vendel is counsel for ExxonMobil Corporation.

Michael Waldman is a partner at the firm of Robbins, Russell, Englert, Orseck, Untereiner & Sauber LLP in Washington, D.C.

Gregory J. Weingart is a partner at Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP in Los Angeles, California.

Samuel R. Welch is an associate at Hogan Lovells US LLP. He has assisted Michael J. Shepard with internal corporate investigations (and the representation of individuals implicated in them) since 2014.