

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Chapter 1: Michael L. O'Donnell and LaMar F. Jost; Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP, Denver

A founder and chair of Denver-based Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP, Michael L. O'Donnell's national litigation practice focuses on complex civil litigation involving product liability, professional liability, tort, class action, commercial, and bet-the-company matters. Mike has appeared as lead counsel in 40 states and serves as national counsel for a number of Fortune 500 companies, including General Electric, Advanced Bionics, Boston Scientific, Skyjack, and Michelin. An elected Fellow of the International Academy of Trial Lawyers, American College of Trial Lawyers, and American Board of Trial Advocates, Mike was selected as the number one lawyer in Colorado for 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, and in 2017 by Colorado Super Lawyers.

LaMar F. Jost is a trial lawyer and partner with the Denver law firm Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell LLP, where he has devoted the first decade of his career to successfully trying cases in federal and state courts across the country. Because of his extensive trial work in practice areas ranging from medical malpractice to environmental and commercial law, LaMar has been selected as a "Rising Star" by Colorado Super Lawyers for seven years running and named to the top "Forty under 40" of all business professionals in Colorado. Prior to joining Wheeler Trigg O'Donnell, LaMar had the honor of clerking for the Honorable Clarence Brimmer in the District of Wyoming and for the Honorable Bobby Baldock at the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Chapter 2: James M. Miller; Akerman LLP, Miami

James M. Miller, a partner at Akerman's Miami office, has been trying civil cases before juries since 1976. He has tried or arbitrated a wide variety of civil cases ranging from antitrust to zoning with intellectual property, trade secrets, products liability, general commercial, and catastrophic torts in between. Jim graduated from the University of Chicago Law School and received his BA, magna cum laude, from the University of Miami. He is currently listed in Best Lawyers of America for Commercial Litigation and by Who's Who International: Litigation. He is a former chair of The Network of Trial Law Firms.

Chapter 3: W. Scott O'Connell; Nixon Peabody, Boston & Manchester

W. Scott O'Connell is the chair of Nixon Peabody's Litigation Department and a member of the firm's Management Committee. He is a trial attorney who has appeared as lead counsel in 20 states. He focuses on class action and aggregate litigation, corporate control contests, and unfair and deceptive trade practices claims. He is currently representing financial services, healthcare, manufacturing, and energy companies in high exposure disputes with associated significant reputational harm in parallel civil, criminal, and regulatory proceedings. He is a former chair of The Network of Trial Law Firms. He earned his JD from the Cornell Law School where he was an editor of the Cornell Law Review and the chancellor of the Moot Court Board. He received his BA from St. Lawrence University.

Chapter 4: Honorable David T. Schultz; United States District Court, Minneapolis

David T. Schultz was sworn in as United States Magistrate Judge for the District of Minnesota on February 7, 2017. Prior to his appointment, David was a partner at Maslon LLP for 11 years, where he focused his practice on high stakes litigation in the areas of product liability, healthcare, commercial disputes, civil and criminal fraud, and intellectual property. As a litigator, he tried cases to verdict in state and federal courts throughout the country and developed an active appellate practice, having argued more than 50 cases before several federal circuits as well as the Minnesota Supreme Court and Court of Appeals. While in private practice, Judge Schultz regularly devoted hundreds of hours to pro bono representation every year and served on the board of Innocence Project of Minnesota (IPMN). As a result of his tireless work to help free the wrongfully convicted and reform the criminal justice system, he was recognized with the IPMN's 2016 Never Forgotten Award. He was also selected as a Minnesota Lawyer 2016 Attorney of the Year. David graduated from Stanford Law School in 1985 and received his bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, from Carleton College.

Chapter 5: Jessalyn H. Zeigler and Charles G. Jarboe; Bass, Berry & Sims PLC, Nashville

Jessalyn H. Zeigler is a partner with Bass, Berry & Sims PLC, located in the firm's Nashville, Tennessee, office. With more than 23 years of experience representing clients in products, environmental, health, and safety litigation matters, Jessie Zeigler's counsel has saved clients millions in losses. Jessie defends product manufacturers across various industries, including consumer products, food, automotive, pharmaceutical, chemical, and general manufacturing. She also represents clients in claims related to deceptive business practices under state Consumer Protection Acts and the both federal and state False Claims Acts. Whether she is representing a Fortune 500 company or a large municipality, Jessie has returned successful results for all of the cases she has handled for clients throughout the country.

Charles G. Jarboe is a senior litigation associate in the Nashville, Tennessee, office of Bass, Berry & Sims, where he focuses on complex business litigation, with a particular focus on representing public and private companies, as well as individuals, in the healthcare, technology, communications, and financial services industries. He has experience at all stages of the litigation process, including jury and bench trials, and has successfully represented clients in state and federal courts throughout the United States. His practice also includes counseling clients in their contract and business negotiations to help them avoid costly future disputes.

Chapter 6: Sawnie A. McEntire; Parsons McEntire McCleary & Clark, PLLC, Dallas

Sawnie A. McEntire is a shareholder and director in the law firm of Parsons McEntire McCleary & Clark PLLC, a law firm with offices in Dallas and Houston, Texas. He has been practicing trial law for over 36 years, and has substantial jury trial experience in both state and federal courts in Texas and throughout the country. He has been involved in several hundred depositions. He is a frequent speaker and author. He specializes in products liability litigation and complex commercial tort litigation.

Chapter 7: Jean L. Bertrand; Schiff Hardin, San Francisco

Jean L. Bertrand practices primarily in the areas of real estate, toxic torts, and commercial litigation. She has substantial trial experience and has argued several cases on appeal. Jean also has extensive experience in the administration of complex litigation.

Chapter 8: John Jerry Glas and Raymond C. Lewis; Deutsch Kerrigan, LLP, New Orleans

John Jerry Glas is the vice-chair of Civil Litigation at the law firm of Deutsch Kerrigan, LLP in New Orleans, Louisiana. He has tried more than 70 jury trials to verdict and has been enrolled pro hac vice in 11 states. Mr. Glas has taught trial practice as an adjunct professor at Loyola University New Orleans College of Law, and recently authored the chapter entitled “Feeding Lions During Closing Argument” in Volume 1 of the ABA’s From the Trenches series.

Raymond C. Lewis is a partner at the law firm of Deutsch Kerrigan, LLP in New Orleans, Louisiana. Raymond is a civil litigator with experience in trial and appellate practice. Before joining the firm, Raymond served as law clerk for Louisiana state-court judges and attended law school at Louisiana State University, where he was a member of the Louisiana Law Review. He litigates commercial lawsuits, products liability lawsuits, and contractual and insurance coverage disputes.

Chapter 9: Daniel J. Stephenson; K&L Gates, Los Angeles and Raleigh

Daniel J. Stephenson is a complex commercial trial lawyer with K&L Gates. Dan splits his time between Los Angeles and Raleigh, the two cities where his grandchildren live. Dan has been trying cases across the country for 35 years. He specializes in class actions, multi-district litigation, intellectual property, and cases involving computer technology, aviation, and pharmaceuticals. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan (JD) and the University of California, Los Angeles (BSME). Dan is a world champion masters swimmer and the author of a published novel, The Underwater Window.

Chapter 10: Jackson R. Sharman, III; Lightfoot, Franklin & White, Birmingham

As the leader of Lightfoot's white-collar defense and corporate investigations practice, Jackson R. Sharman III tries federal criminal cases and represents clients in Congressional inquiries, corporate internal investigations, kickback and bribery cases, grand jury investigations, criminal environmental offenses, public-corruption prosecutions, enforcement of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, healthcare criminal matters, and investigations by military officials. Jack blogs on white-collar matters at "White Collar Wire" (www.jacksharman.com) and publishes the firm's Twitter feed about white-collar crime and enforcement matters at @WhiteCollarWire. Jack is a graduate of Washington & Lee University and Harvard Law School.

Chapter 11: John R. Mitchell; Thompson Hine LLP, Cleveland

John R. Mitchell is a first-chair trial attorney with a national white-collar criminal defense practice. He has extensive first-chair trial experience defending individuals facing significant criminal exposure from alleged violations of federal and state law. His criminal practice consists of traditional white-collar criminal matters, internal corporate investigations, environmental crimes, grand jury investigations, and related administrative proceedings. With a comprehensive understanding of federal and state criminal laws, he also counsels public and privately held corporations and individuals facing governmental scrutiny. Many of his greatest successes are also the least publicized, especially those that resolved highly sensitive matters without criminal charges or adverse publicity.

Chapter 12: Lewis S. Wiener; Eversheds Sutherland (US) LLP, Washington, DC; Ronald W. Zdrojeski and Meghana D. Shah; Eversheds Sutherland (US), New York

Lewis S. Wiener, an experienced trial and appellate attorney with three decades of trial and counseling experience, represents a broad array of clients in state, federal, and appellate court litigation throughout the United States. Lew co-chairs the firm's global Financial Services Disputes and Investigations (FSDI) practice and serves as a member of the firm's Executive Committee. His extensive litigation and trial experience as a former prosecutor and senior trial attorney with the U.S. Department of Justice includes serving as class action defense counsel, conducting large internal investigations, handling complex litigation matters, and representing entities in litigation brought by and against the federal government. Lew also represents clients in eminent domain/inverse condemnation, environmental, and land-use litigation before state and federal trial and appellate courts.

With nearly three decades of trial experience, Ronald W. Zdrojeski is co-head of the Eversheds Sutherland (US) and global Litigation groups. His practice focuses on counseling and defending businesses in complex commercial litigation, including market manipulation, fraud, and other white-collar matters. Ron has litigated in 48 of the country's 50 states, defending Fortune 500 companies, insurers, and corporate officers in criminal and civil investigations, including class action, toxic tort, trade secret, intellectual property, environmental, and maritime litigation.

Meghana D. Shah is a partner in Eversheds Sutherland's New York City office with over ten years of experience representing a broad range of clients in an array of complex commercial matters. Her industry experience spans multiple areas, including representing clients in the environmental, toxic tort, food and beverage, insurance and financial services, and energy arenas. She also represents clients in connection with domestic and international investigations involving multiple jurisdictions and federal, state, and foreign regulatory bodies.