3. Critical Components of a Compliance Program .....	13
3.1 Commitment from the Top .....	13

- 3.1.1 Senior Management Should Adopt a Public Policy of Zero Tolerance of Bribery..... 14
  - 3.1.1.1 Senior Management Should Treat Bribery and Corruption Risks in the Same Manner as Other Risks Faced by an Entity ..... 14
- 3.1.2 Senior Management Should Be Actively Engaged in an Entity’s Approach to Addressing Bribery and Corruption Risks ..... 15
  - 3.1.2.1 Strategies and Policies for Managing and Monitoring the Risk of Bribery or Corruption Should Be Approved and Periodically Reviewed at a Senior Level ..... 15
  - 3.1.2.2 Prompt and Effective Responses Should Be Taken to Significant Bribery and Corruption Events to Improve Systems and Controls and Various Aspects of Compliance Programs ..... 15
- 3.1.3 Senior Management Should Ensure that Policies and Procedures Are Applied Consistently and Effectively ..... 16
  - 3.1.3.1 Senior Management Should Ensure that Policies and Procedures Are Clear and Appropriate and Communicated Throughout an Entity’s Organization ..... 16
  - 3.1.3.2 Disciplinary Measures Should Be Applied Consistently Against Senior and Lower-Level Officials as Well as Employees, Agents, and Other Intermediaries..... 17
- 3.1.4 Senior Management Should Promote Accountability and Assign Clear Responsibility..... 17
  - 3.1.4.1 One or More Specific Senior and Respected Members of Management Should Be Designated and Assigned

	Responsibility for Overseeing and Implementing a Compliance Program .....	18
3.1.4.2	Senior Management Should Be Engaged with the Oversight Process and Ensure that Decisions on the Allocation of Compliance, Audit, and Other Resources Are Adequate and Risk-Based .....	18
3.1.5	Senior Management Should Promote Coordination and Information Sharing Across the Organization .....	19
3.1.5.1	Senior Management and Oversight Officials Should Be Provided Critical Information on a Timely Basis .....	20
3.1.5.2	Compliance Officials Should Have Full Access to the Due Diligence Conducted on Business Opportunities.....	20
3.2	Policies and Proportionate Procedures .....	21
3.2.1	Policies and Procedures Should Be Tailored to Address the Particular Needs of an Entity .....	21
3.2.1.1	Policies and Procedures Should Be Proportionate to the Risks of Corruption an Entity Faces and Be Designed to Address the Nature, Scale, and Complexity of an Entity’s Activities .....	22
3.2.1.2	Policies and Procedures Should Be Communicated and Be Readily Accessible to All Employees and to Anyone Acting on an Entity’s Behalf.....	22
3.2.2	Policies and Procedures Should Be Clear, Concise, and Understandable to All Employees and to Those Conducting Business on an Entity’s Behalf.....	23
3.2.2.1	Policies and Procedures Should Be Sufficiently Clear and Understandable

	to a Person Unsophisticated or Unfamiliar with the Relevant Issues and Should Be Conveyed in the Local Language with Practical Examples .....	23
3.2.2.2	Policies and Procedures Should Address Relevant Areas of Concern without Becoming Unduly Burdensome, Unresponsive, or Unable to Adjust to Ever-Changing Needs .....	24
3.2.3	Policies and Procedures Should Outline Responsibilities within an Entity and Set Out Disciplinary Procedures .....	24
3.2.3.1	The Policies and Procedures Should Extend to Any Individual or Entity Acting on an Entity’s Behalf .....	24
3.2.3.2	Policies and Procedures Should Be Designed to Help an Entity Identify Whether Someone Acting on Its Behalf Is Corrupt.....	25
3.3	Record-Keeping .....	25
3.3.1	Accurate Record-Keeping .....	26
3.3.1.1	Records Should in Reasonable Detail Accurately and Fairly Reflect the True Nature of a Transaction.....	26
3.3.1.2	Adequate Procedures Should Be Put in Place to Ensure that There Is Adequate Specificity in the Records of the Third Party as to the Reasons for Third-Party Payments .....	26
3.3.1.3	A Record of the Nature and Extent of Due Diligence Should Be Carefully Prepared and Preserved for Extended Periods Well Beyond Any Statute of Limitations .....	27
3.4	Risk Assessment .....	27
3.4.1	Risk-Based, Appropriate Additional Monitoring and Due Diligence Should Take Place for Higher-Risk Situations .....	28
3.4.1.1	Consideration Should Be Given to Risks Associated with the Products

	and Services Being Offered, the Jurisdictions Where Business Is Conducted, and the Business Practices in Those Jurisdictions.....	28
3.4.1.2	An Entity’s Approach to Providing Corporate Hospitality, to Making Charitable and Political Donations, and to Relying on the Use of Third Parties Should Be Regularly Assessed .....	28
3.4.2	The Risk of Staff or Third Parties Acting on an Entity’s Behalf Should Be Addressed Across the Business, Including All Jurisdictions Where an Entity Operates through Third Parties and Across All Business Channels .....	29
3.4.2.1	Among the Factors That Should Be Kept in Mind Is Whether Staff in Higher-Risk Positions May Be Vulnerable to Violating Policies and Procedures .....	29
3.4.2.2	Risks Are to Be Addressed in a Coordinated Manner Across the Business and Information Should Be Readily Shared .....	30
3.4.3	Incentive or Remuneration Structures Should Be Addressed to Ensure that They Do Not Increase the Risk of Bribery and Corruption .....	30
3.4.3.1	Staff in Higher-Risk Positions Should Not Be Linked to the Amount of Income or Profit They Produce, Particularly When Bonuses Form a Major Part of Their Remuneration .....	31
3.4.3.2	Compliance Issues Should Be Tied to Promotions, Bonuses, and Other Incentives and Not Solely Tied to Income-Related or Profit-Related Considerations.....	31

- 3.4.4 An Entity Should on a Regular and Ongoing Basis Assess the Nature and Extent of Its Exposure to Potential External and Internal Risks of Corruption of Individuals and Entities Associated with It..... 32
  - 3.4.4.1 Regular Assessments of Bribery and Corruption Risks Should Be Made with a Specific Senior Person Responsible for These Assessments, Taking into Account the Country and Class of Business Involved as Well as Other Relevant Factors ..... 32
  - 3.4.4.2 Steps Should Be Taken to Ensure that Review Teams Undertaking the Assessments Have Sufficient Knowledge of Relevant Issues and, Where Necessary, External Expertise Should Be Sought..... 33
- 3.4.5 Staff Should Be Vetted Using a Risk-Based Approach, Taking into Account the Seriousness and Relevance of the Risk in the Context of an Individual’s Role or Proposed Role ..... 33
  - 3.4.5.1 Enhanced Vetting Should Not Only Take Place for Senior Staff but Also for More Junior Staff in Positions Where They May Be Exposed to Bribery or Corruption Risks ..... 33
  - 3.4.5.2 Temporary or Contract Staff Should Not Receive Less Vigorous Vetting than Permanent Staff Carrying Out Similar Roles..... 34
- 3.4.6 Risks Should Be Assessed and Addressed in Good Faith..... 34
  - 3.4.6.1 A Dispassionate Consideration of All Relevant Factors Should Be Required ..... 34
  - 3.4.6.2 An Entity Should Not Rely Exclusively on Informal Means or General Perceptions to Assess Bribery and Corruption Risks ..... 35

3.5	The Compliance Function .....	35
3.5.1	Due Diligence Should Be Adjusted in a Proportionate Manner to Address the Level of Risk and the Circumstances Unique to Each Situation .....	36
3.5.2	Compliance Officials Assigned Responsibility Should Have Appropriate Seniority and Experience as Well as Clear Reporting Lines .....	36
3.5.2.1	The Compliance Official or Officials Assigned Primary Responsibility Should Be Well Respected and Have Significant Seniority within an Entity’s Organization .....	36
3.5.2.2	Compliance and Internal Audit Staff Should Have Sufficient Competence in Terms of Experience and Specialized Training to Address Relevant Compliance Issues.....	37
3.5.3	Compliance Officials Should Have Adequate Autonomy from Management and Sufficient Resources to Ensure that an Entity’s Compliance Program Is Implemented Effectively .....	37
3.5.3.1	Compliance Officials Should Have Direct Access to an Entity’s Governing Authority, Such as the Board of Directors and Committees of the Board of Directors.....	38
3.5.3.2	Adequate Staffing and Resources Need to Be Provided and, Whenever Necessary, an Entity Should Bolster Insufficient Knowledge or Resources with External Expertise .....	38
3.5.4	An Entity’s Compliance Function Should Have Oversight of All Third-Party Relationships .....	38
3.6	Implementing Policies and Procedures.....	39
3.6.1	Disciplinary Procedures Should Be Communicated and Applied Consistently Throughout an Entity’s Organization.....	39

3.6.2	Adequate Resources Need to Be Readily and Continuously Available to Ensure that the Compliance Function Is a Meaningful Part of the Regular Operations of an Entity.....	40
3.7	Training.....	40
3.7.1	An Entity Should Regularly Review and Identify Training Needs to Ensure that the Training Is Adequate and Proportionate to the Risks.....	40
3.7.1.1	Training Should Not Be Neglected in the Belief That Various Controls Are Sufficient to Combat Bribery and Corruption Risks .....	41
3.7.1.2	Higher-Risk Roles Should Be Subject to More Thorough Vetting and Training.....	42
3.7.2	An Entity’s Staff Must Understand Their Responsibilities .....	42
3.7.2.1	An Entity Should Regularly Test the Understanding of Staff and Use the Results to Assess Training Needs and the Overall Quality of Training.....	42
3.7.2.2	An Entity Should Evaluate an Employee’s Likely Exposure to Risks in Conjunction with His or Her Responsibilities and Whether the Employee Is Competent and Otherwise Capable of Carrying Out Preventive Functions Effectively .....	43
3.7.3	Training, Including Refresher Training and Training Materials, Should Be of Consistent Quality, Up-to-Date, and Appropriate to an Employee’s Role .....	43
3.7.3.1	Training Should Be Practical and Include Examples of Risks and How to Comply with Policies and Procedures.....	43
3.7.3.2	Staff Responsible for Training Should Have Adequate Training Themselves.....	44

3.7.4	Whistleblowing and Procedures to Escalate Concerns to Higher Levels Should Be Part of Training.....	44
3.8	Seeking Guidance and Advice.....	45
3.8.1	An Entity Should Encourage Employees to Seek Guidance from More Senior Officials with the Requisite Expertise When Confronted with Unclear or Complex Situations.....	45
3.8.1.1	Staff without the Requisite Expertise Should Not Be Placed in Situations to Make a Determination Relative to Compliance Issues without Having Ready Access to Staff with the Necessary Expertise.....	46
3.8.1.2	Challenging Situations Should Be Promptly Elevated to Higher Levels within an Entity to Staff with the Requisite Expertise.....	46
3.8.2	Procedures Should Be Put in Place So That Knowledgeable Officials Can Quickly Answer Questions and Respond to Concerns.....	47
3.8.2.1	To Enhance the Likelihood that Guidance Will Be Sought and Corrective Action Taken, Procedures Should Not Be Cumbersome or Perceived as Being Punitive.....	47
3.8.2.2	Genuine Efforts Should Be Made to Ensure that Anyone Seeking to Secure Guidance or to Make Appropriate Disclosures Is Not Subject to Retaliation.....	47
3.8.3	An Entity Should Have Whistleblowing Procedures That Are Clear and Accessible and That Respect Staff Confidentiality.....	48
3.8.3.1	A Compliance Program Should Include a Mechanism for Reporting Suspected Misconduct on a Confidential Basis.....	48

- 3.8.3.2 Policies Should Be Implemented to Ensure That No One Making a Confidential Disclosure Fears Retaliation ..... 49
- 3.9 Monitoring ..... 49
  - 3.9.1 A Compliance Program Should Be Regularly Reviewed to Adjust to Changing Circumstances and to Develop Ways of Improving Its Efficiency and Effectiveness ..... 50
    - 3.9.1.1 Policies and Procedures Should Be Regularly Reviewed and Updated on a Timely Basis to Address Emerging Risks and Recent Events ..... 50
    - 3.9.1.2 Audit Findings and Compliance Lessons Should Be Shared between and among Business Units ..... 50
  - 3.9.2 Care Should Be Exercised to Ensure that Policies and Procedures Are Applied Consistently and Effectively ..... 51
    - 3.9.2.1 The Effectiveness of Policies, Procedures, Systems, and Controls Should Be Monitored by Senior Management, Compliance Officials, and Internal Audit Staff ..... 51
    - 3.9.2.2 Effective Compliance Monitoring and Internal Audit Reviews Should Challenge Not Only Whether Processes to Mitigate Bribery and Corruption Have Been Followed but Also the Effectiveness of the Processes Themselves..... 51
- 3.10 Third Parties..... 52
  - 3.10.1 An Entity Should Know Its Third Parties, and Policies and Procedures Should Be Established Relative to Their Selection on a Risk-Sensitive Basis..... 52
    - 3.10.1.1 Higher or Extra Levels of Due Diligence and Approvals Should Be Required for Higher-Risk Third-Party Relationships, Especially

	When Third Parties Are Used to Introduce or Generate Business .....	53
3.10.1.2	Reasonable Steps Should Be Taken to Verify the Information Provided by Third Parties During the Due Diligence Process .....	53
3.10.1.3	The Qualifications and Associations of Third Parties Must Be Understood and Documented as Well as the Business Rationale for Using the Third Party.....	54
3.10.1.4	Those Approving Third-Party Relationships Should Not Have a Conflict of Interest or Be Perceived as Not Being in a Position to Make a Dispassionate Decision.....	54
3.10.2	Compliance Obligations Should Be Disclosed and Commitments Obtained from Third Parties .....	55
3.10.2.1	When Third Parties Are Being Considered as Intermediaries, an Entity Should Satisfy Itself that a Third Party Has an Adequate Compliance Program to Detect and Prevent Bribery .....	55
3.10.2.2	Compliance Provisions Should Be Required in Agreements Governing Relationships with Third Parties, Especially in Higher-Risk Situations .....	56
3.10.3	Due Diligence on Third Parties Should Be Documented.....	56
3.10.3.1	The Due Diligence Process Should Be Applied Consistently When Establishing and Reviewing Third-Party Relationships.....	56
3.10.3.2	Affirmative Measures Taken to Minimize Bribery and Corruption Risks, Such as Compliance Provisions in Written Agreements, Specialized

	Controls, and Other Affirmative Steps, Should Be Documented and Considered as Part of the Due Diligence Process .....	57
3.10.4	Third-Party Relationships Should Be Monitored on an Ongoing Basis, Especially in High-Risk Areas .....	57
3.10.4.1	Follow-Up Steps Should Be Taken to Ensure that the Business Reasons for Using the Third Party Are Supported by the Terms of Agreements, by the Timing and Manner of Payments, and by Verification of the Work Performed .....	58
3.10.4.2	An Entity Should Regularly Review in Sufficient Detail Its Relationships with Third Parties to Confirm that the Relationships Are Still Necessary and Appropriate.....	58
3.10.5	Regular and Thorough Monitoring of Third-Party Payments Should Take Place.....	58
3.10.5.1	Guidelines Should Be Set That Take into Account the Risk Factors Associated with the Role of a Third Party .....	59
3.10.5.2	Adequate Due Diligence and Approval of Third-Party Relationships Should Take Place Before Payments Are Made to a Third Party.....	59
3.10.5.3	An Entity Should Be Able to Produce a List of Approved Third Parties, Associated Due Diligence, and Details of Payments Made to Them.....	60
3.10.5.4	Third Parties Should Be Paid Directly for Their Work and Not in Cash .....	60

3.10.5.5	Payments to Third Parties Should Be Adequately Documented so That There Is a Clear Audit Trail .....	60
3.10.6	Third-Party Bank Accounts .....	61
3.10.6.1	Reasonable Steps Should Be Taken to Ensure that Bank Accounts Used by Third Parties to Receive Payments Are Actually Controlled by the Third Party for Whom the Payment Is Meant .....	61
3.10.6.2	Instructions from Third Parties Should Not Be Accepted to Make a Payment to Individuals or Entities That Have Not Been Subject to Due Diligence .....	61
3.10.7	Charitable Contributions and Gifts Should Be Subject to Scrutiny Similar to Third-Party Payments.....	62
3.11	Mergers and Acquisitions .....	62
3.11.1	Pre-Acquisition Due Diligence.....	63
3.11.2	Post-Acquisition Integration.....	63
