

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

David A. Zetoony is a partner in the Boulder, Colorado office of Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner, LLP, an international law firm. Mr. Zetoony leads the firm's global data privacy and security practice. He represents companies around the world on data privacy and security issues ranging from data breaches to regulatory investigations. He has advised hundreds of companies concerning the GDPR and has helped numerous companies design their GDPR compliance strategy.

Mr. Zetoony graduated cum laude with a dual degree in history and policy studies from Rice University in Houston, Texas and received his juris doctorate from the University of Virginia School of Law in Charlottesville, Virginia. He has served in various leadership roles within the privacy and data security community including as a co-chair for the Colorado chapter of the International Association of Privacy Professionals.

Mr. Zetoony frequently speaks and writes on issues of domestic and international data privacy and security law. He received a JD Supra Readers' Choice Award in 2017 and 2018 and was named a Cybersecurity & Data Privacy Trailblazer by the National Law Journal in 2016. In addition to his data privacy and security practice, he has received several awards for his pro bono contributions including the Pro Bono Partner of the Year Award from the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Washington, D.C., and the Commitment to Justice Award from the Central American Resource Center.