

About the Author

Jay D. Adkisson was graduated from the University of Oklahoma (B.A. 1986, J.D. 1988, with honors), where he was a member of the Oklahoma Law Review. He practices in the area of creditor-debtor law and captive insurance in the southwestern United States and has his offices in Las Vegas and Newport Beach, being admitted to practice law in Arizona, California, Nevada, Oklahoma, and Texas. Jay's participation in the American Bar Association includes Chair of the Committee on Captive Insurance, Business Law Section, 2011–2014; Chair of the Insurance and Financial Services Committee, Real Property Trusts & Estates Section, 2015–2016; and ABA Section Advisor to the following drafting committees of the Uniform Laws Commission: Uniform Voidable Transactions Act of 2014; Uniform Protected Series Act of 2017; Uniform Anti-SLAPP Act (in drafting); and Uniform Registration of Canadian Money Judgments Act (in drafting). His books include Asset Protection: Concepts & Strategies, with co-author Chris Riser (McGraw-Hill, 2004), and Adkisson's Captive Insurance Companies (iUniverse, 2007), and he writes the "Wealth Conservation" column for Forbes.com. Jay has also twice been an expert witness to the U.S. Senate Finance Committee.