
Table of Contents

Introduction to the Guidebook	xiii
Chapter 1: Attorney-Client Privilege for the In-House Attorney	1
I. The Corporation as Client—Who Holds the Privilege?	2
A. “Control Group” and “Subject Matter” Tests	3
B. “Upjohn Warnings”	4
II. Legal Advice Versus Business Advice—What Communications Are Protected?	7
A. Privilege Protects Communications, Not Facts	7
B. Communication Must Be To or From an Attorney Acting in That Capacity	8
C. Communication Must Be for the Purpose of Securing or Providing Legal Advice	9
III. Confidentiality of Communications	11
IV. Asserting the Privilege	11
V. Waiver	13
A. Corporation Is the Holder of the Privilege and Therefore Able to Waive It	13
B. Voluntary Waiver	13
C. Involuntary Waiver	15
VI. Conclusion—“It’s Different In-House”	16
Appendix A: Example of an Upjohn Warning Used in Internal Investigations	17
Chapter 2: Internal Corporate Investigations	19
I. Subject Matters Involved in Corporate Internal Investigations	20
A. Employment	21
B. Cybersecurity and Theft of Intellectual Property	21
C. Securities	22
D. Corruption	23
E. Consumer Protection	23
F. Environmental	23

iv • Guide for In-House Counsel: Practical Resource to Cutting-Edge Issues

II.	Ways Legal Departments Learn of Issues That May Warrant Investigation	24
A.	Whistleblowers	24
B.	Government Inquiry or Investigation	25
C.	Independent Auditors	25
III.	Internal Investigations: The Mechanics	26
A.	Is an Internal Investigation Necessary?	26
B.	Should Corporate Counsel “Outsource” the Internal Investigation?	27
C.	Conducting the Investigation	31
IV.	Self-Disclosure of Investigative Findings	36
V.	Conclusion	39

Chapter 3: Conducting a Sexual Harassment Investigation: A Practical Guide 41

I.	Introduction	41
II.	Applicable Law	42
A.	Quid Pro Quo Harassment	43
B.	Hostile Work Environment	44
C.	Defining Sexual Harassment	44
D.	Employer Liability	45
III.	Essential Steps for Conducting Workplace Sexual Harassment Investigations	47
A.	Take Control Quickly	47
B.	Maintain Confidentiality	48
C.	Preserve, Collect, and Analyze Relevant Documents	48
D.	Know Your Internal Policies and Procedures	49
E.	Select an Investigator	49
F.	Create an Investigative Plan	50
G.	Interview Witnesses	50
H.	Ensure No Retaliation	50
IV.	Creating a Harassment-Free Workplace	51
	Appendix A: EEOC Sexual Harassment Checklists	53
	Appendix B: Sample Document Hold Order	57

Chapter 4: Mediation and Arbitration: How to Prepare Your Company and Yourself 59

I.	Introduction	59
II.	Overview of Mediation	60
A.	What Is Mediation?	60
B.	The Mediator’s Role	60
C.	The Benefits of Mediation	61
D.	Additional Considerations Surrounding the Use of Mediation	63
E.	Best Advocacy Practices in Mediation	65
III.	Overview of Arbitration	66
A.	The Arbitrator’s Role	67
B.	The Benefits of Arbitration	67
C.	Additional Considerations Surrounding Arbitration	70

IV.	Strategic Drafting of Dispute Resolution Clauses	71
A.	The Importance of a Well-Drafted Dispute Resolution Clause	71
B.	The Standard Arbitration Clause	72
C.	Key Drafting Considerations	74
V.	Best Advocacy Practices in Arbitration	80
A.	Selecting the Best Arbitrator(s)	81
B.	Hiring Counsel Experienced in Arbitration	81
C.	Know the Rules	82
D.	Preparation for the Preliminary Hearing	82
E.	Prehearing	82
F.	Hearing	82
VI.	Conclusion	83
Chapter 5: Cybersecurity and Protecting Data Privacy		85
I.	Threat Sources	89
II.	Legal Framework	91
A.	Sampling of Industry-Specific Requirements	91
B.	Enforcement	94
C.	Cross-Border Issues	95
III.	Building Corporate Resilience	97
A.	Develop, Implement, and Maintain a Culture of Security	97
B.	Interdisciplinary Approach	98
C.	Vendor/Supplier Due Diligence and Appropriate Contract Terms	99
D.	Considerations for Corporate Transactions	100
E.	Ensure Cyberinsurance Coverage Is in Place	101
IV.	Preparing to Respond to a Breach—Develop, Test, and Update Incident Response Plan	102
A.	Incident Response Plans	102
B.	Responding to a Data Incident	105
V.	Practice Tips/Recommendations	108
A.	Threat Sources	108
B.	Legal Framework	109
C.	Building Corporate Resilience	109
D.	Preparing to Respond to a Breach	109
E.	Resources	109
VI.	Conclusion	110
Chapter 6: Requests for Proposal and Alternative Fee Arrangements as an Effective Tool for Evaluating and Selecting Outside Counsel		113
I.	Advantages of RFPs	114
A.	Level Playing Field	114
B.	Better Pricing	114
C.	Improving Diversity	115
D.	Assessment of Available Legal Service Providers	115

II.	Outside Counsel Evaluations as a Start	115
III.	Elements of an Effective Outside Counsel Evaluation	116
	A. Financial Results	116
	B. Speed to Resolution	118
	C. Accuracy	119
	D. Diversity	120
	E. Technical/Administrative	120
IV.	Culture	121
V.	The RFP Process	121
	A. Who Should Be on the Team?	121
	B. Who Should You Invite to Participate in Your RFP?	122
VI.	Conducting the RFP	125
	A. Introduction	125
	B. Overview of Law Firm and Description of Lawyers and Staff	125
	C. References	126
	D. Communication Expectations	126
	E. Pricing	126
	F. Timeline	126
	G. Questions to and from RFP Participants	127
VII.	RFP Submissions and Evaluation Process	127
VIII.	Interviews of Finalists	128
IX.	The Decision-Making Process	129
X.	Put It in Writing	130
XI.	Ongoing Evaluation	132
XII.	Alternative Fee Arrangements	132
	A. Reasons for AFAs	132
	B. Guidelines for AFAs	132
	C. Types of AFAs	133
	D. AFA Best Practices	135
	Appendix A: Outside Counsel Evaluation of Attorneys and Law Firm	136
	Appendix B: Outside Counsel Evaluation of the Law Firm	138

Chapter 7: Managing Regional and National Litigation 139

I.	Introduction	139
II.	Early Case Management	140
	A. Complaint Intake and Assessment	140
	B. Determine the Availability of Insurance Coverage	140
	C. Retention of Outside Counsel	141
	D. Immediately Institute a Broad Litigation Hold	142
	E. Developing a Public-Relations Strategy	143
	F. Should You Expect Copycat or Related Cases?	145
	G. Accounting Matters	145
III.	Conducting Internal Investigations	146
	A. Internal Versus Independent Investigations	146
	B. Internal Investigation in Aide of Litigation	147
	C. Related Issue: Personnel Actions	148

IV.	Initial Considerations in Responding to the Complaint	149
A.	Assessing Personal Jurisdiction	149
B.	Is Removal to Federal Court an Option?	150
C.	Assessing Venue	152
D.	Assessment of Claims and Defenses	154
V.	Multidistrict Litigation and Coordination within a Single Jurisdiction	155
A.	Consolidation of Federal Cases	155
B.	Coordination of Related State Actions	157
C.	Management of Related Regulatory Actions	157
VI.	Management and Coordination of Discovery	158
A.	Protecting Confidential Information	158
B.	Establishing a Realistic Discovery Schedule	159
C.	Managing Discovery of Electronically Stored Information	159
D.	Managing Depositions	161
E.	Managing Expert Discovery	162
VII.	Summary Judgment and Trial	162
VIII.	Settlement Discussions and Settlement	163
IX.	Conclusion	165
	Appendix A: Sample Document Preservation Notice	166
	Appendix B: Sample Upjohn Warning Statement	169
Chapter 8: The Impact of the Automatic Stay		171
I.	Filing Bankruptcy Invokes the Automatic Stay	172
II.	Scope of the Automatic Stay	172
A.	Litigation Involving the Debtor	173
B.	Actions Against Property of the Estate	175
C.	Co-Debtor Stay	177
III.	Statutory Exceptions to the Automatic Stay	178
A.	The Automatic Stay and Lessors	179
B.	Exception for Restitution under Section 362(b)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code	179
C.	Scope of the Police Power under Section 362(b)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code	180
IV.	Duration of the Automatic Stay	181
V.	Limitations on the Automatic Stay for Repeat Filers and Single-Asset Real Estate Cases	181
VI.	Modification and Termination of the Automatic Stay	182
A.	Relief under Section 362(d)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code	182
B.	Relief under Section 362(d)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code	184
C.	Relief under Section 362(d)(3) of the Bankruptcy Code	185
D.	Relief under Section 362(d)(4) of the Bankruptcy Code	185
VII.	Stay Stipulations in Lieu of Litigation	186
VIII.	Violations of the Automatic Stay Have Serious Consequences	187
A.	Willful Violations of the Automatic Stay	187
B.	Actions Violating the Automatic Stay May Be Void	187
C.	Damages for Violations of the Automatic Stay	188

D.	Damages under Section 362(k) of the Bankruptcy Code Are Available Only to Individual Debtors	189
E.	Lack of Notice and Violations of the Automatic Stay	189
IX.	Conclusion	190

Chapter 9: Managing Class Actions 191

I.	What Is a Class Action? Overview of Class Actions	191
II.	Can a Company Force Its Customers to Give Up the Right to Bring a Class Action? Arbitration Clauses and Class Action Waivers	192
III.	What Is Needed for a Litigation to Become an Official Class Action? The Elements of Federal Rule 23	193
IV.	Ascertainability	197
V.	What Happens When Multiple Class Actions Are Filed in Different Courts Stemming from the Same Facts?	197
VI.	Practical Considerations in Managing a Class Action	199
VII.	Standing of the Named Plaintiff	200
A.	Article III's Injury-in-Fact Requirement	200
B.	Does a Plaintiff Have Standing to Sue for Consumer Products or Securities the Plaintiff Did Not Purchase?	201
VIII.	Settlement of Class Actions	202
A.	Can a Defendant Simply Pay the Plaintiff to Eliminate the Possibility of a Case Proceeding as a Class Action? Mooting a Class Action Through Offers of Settlement	202
B.	If a Defendant Wishes to Settle, Should Mediation Be Considered?	203
IX.	Insurance Coverage Issues Related to Class Actions	204
A.	Types of Coverage	204
B.	Coverage Layers	205
C.	Five Key Coverage Issues	205
X.	Conclusion	207

Chapter 10: Electronic Discovery in Civil Litigation 209

I.	Identification of Relevant ESI: Finding What Matters	211
A.	Investigating and Identifying Potential Sources of Electronic Evidence	211
B.	Custodian Questionnaires and Interviews	212
II.	Preservation of ESI and Avoiding Claims of Spoliation of Electronic Evidence	213
A.	The Duty to Preserve	213
B.	Legal Holds	214
C.	Documenting Preservation Efforts	216
III.	Responding and Objecting to Written Discovery for ESI	217
IV.	Negotiating ESI Discovery Requests and Responses: The Meet and Confer	219
A.	Discovery Plan	220
B.	Culling Methods	220
C.	ESI Protocol	220

D.	Protective Orders	221
E.	FRE 502(d) Orders	221
V.	Collection of ESI	222
VI.	Leveraging Assistance from IT/Service Providers/Forensic Examiners	225
VII.	Review: How Best to Assess What Potentially Relevant ESI You Have	226
A.	Culling	226
B.	Document Review	227
VIII.	Form of Production	230
IX.	Spoilation and Sanctions	230
	Appendix A: Sample Custodian Questionnaire	233
	Appendix B: Sample Written Legal Hold Notice	236
	Appendix C: Sample Stipulated ESI Protocol	240
	Appendix D: Sample Stipulated Protective Order	250
	Appendix E: Sample Rule 502(d) Order	256
Chapter 11: In-House Counsel's Guide to Insurance Coverage		261
I.	Fundamentals of Insurance Coverage	261
A.	Different Types of Insurance Policies for Different Risks and Liabilities	261
B.	More Than One Policy May Provide Coverage for the Same Liability	262
C.	Insurance Law Is State Law Determinative	262
D.	Reading an Insurance Policy Need Not Be Overwhelming	263
E.	Rules of Construction: Tie Goes to the Policyholder	263
F.	Avoid Land Mines in Completing the Application	264
G.	Importance of Notice	265
H.	Settling Lawsuits with Insurance in Mind	265
I.	Protection in Commercial Agreements: Additional Insured Coverage and Indemnification	266
II.	Major Commercial Insurance Policies	266
A.	Commercial General Liability (CGL) Insurance	266
B.	D&O Liability Insurance	270
C.	First-Party Property Insurance	273
D.	Cyber Insurance	275
E.	Other Significant Commercial Insurance Policies	277
III.	Seeking Coverage for a Claim or Loss	278
A.	Dealing with a Claim	278
B.	Dealing with a Denial	278
Chapter 12: What Is a Trademark or Service Mark?		281
I.	The Scope of Trademark Protection	282
A.	Geographic Scope	282
B.	Goods and Services	282
C.	Famous Marks	283
II.	Requirements for Federal Trademark Protection	283
A.	Use in Commerce	283
B.	Distinctiveness	283
C.	No Likelihood of Confusion	285
D.	Eligibility for Trademark Registration under the Lanham Act	286

III.	Acquiring Rights in Marks	286
IV.	Federal Trademark Registration Benefits and Process	287
A.	The Principal Register	287
B.	The Supplemental Register	288
C.	The Registration Process	289
D.	Post-Application Considerations and Procedures	295
E.	Registration	297
V.	Trademark Protection in the Digital Age: Protecting Trademarks from Cybersquatting	300
A.	The Anti-Cybersquatting Consumer Protection Act (ACPA)	300
B.	Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy	301

Chapter 13: Patents 311

I.	What Is a Patent?	312
II.	What Does a Patent Allow?	312
III.	Discussion of the Law	312
IV.	Scope of Rights Conferred	313
V.	U.S. Patents	314
A.	Types of Inventions	314
B.	What Qualifies as an Invention?	314
VI.	Treaties and Foreign Patents	318
VII.	How to Get a Patent	319
A.	Who Has the Rights to a Patent? (Inventor Versus Company)	319
B.	Types of Filings	320
VIII.	Parts of an Issued Patent	321
A.	Summary Page	321
B.	Drawing Set	323
C.	Background of the Invention	325
D.	Brief Description of the Drawings/Brief Summary	325
E.	Detailed Description of the Invention	325
F.	Claims	325
IX.	After the Application	327
A.	Maintenance Fees	327
X.	Assignments and Licenses	327
A.	Recording of Assignments	328
XI.	Infringement	328
A.	Marking Requirement	329
B.	All-Elements Test	329
C.	Doctrine of Equivalents	330

Chapter 14: Copyright	333
I. Introduction	333
II. Legal Basis for Copyright Protection	334
A. Federal Law	334
B. State Law	335
C. Copyright Office	335
D. International Protection	335
III. Copyrightable Subject Matter	336
IV. Standards for Copyright Protection	338
A. Originality	338
B. Fixation	339
V. Copyright Owner’s Exclusive Rights	340
A. Exclusive Rights	340
B. Exceptions to the Copyright Owner’s Exclusive Rights	341
C. Compulsory and Statutory Licenses	344
VI. Moral Rights	345
VII. Copyright Ownership	345
A. Works Made for Hire	346
B. Joint Authorship and Ownership	347
C. Collective Works	348
VIII. Transfer of Copyright Ownership	348
A. Recording Transfer with the Copyright Office	349
B. Termination Rights	349
IX. Duration of Rights	349
X. Publication	351
XI. Notice	352
XII. Registration	352
XIII. Mandatory Deposit	353
XIV. Copyright Renewal	354
XV. Infringement Claims, Defenses, and Remedies	354
A. Civil Claims—Direct and Indirect Infringement	354
B. Criminal Copyright Infringement	355
C. Defenses	355
D. Remedies	356
About the Authors	357
Index	371