FOREWORD

The American Bar Association Section of Antitrust Law is pleased to publish this 2018 Annual Review of Antitrust Law Developments. This volume summarizes the significant antitrust developments from the United States and around the world during 2018, and it is designed to serve as a handy reference for antitrust practitioners everywhere. It is the twenty-second in our Annual Review series and the second annual supplement to Antitrust Law Developments (8th ed. 2016).

We are indebted to David C. Kully, who served as Editorial Board Chair and oversaw the publication effort. He was assisted by an exceptionally capable Editorial Board consisting of Jeny Maier, Sonia Pfaffenroth, Jeremy Robison, Peter Schwingler, Stacy Turner, and David Wales. The quality of this book is the direct result of their skill and dedication.

Thanks also go to Anna Hayes for her substantial assistance to the Editorial Board Chair in the preparation of this book.

This book is only possible as a result of the work of scores of individuals on the Antitrust Section’s committees who worked diligently to gather and analyze a huge volume of information and to distill it down to the significant developments addressed in this book, in a short period of time. With apologies in advance to any who may inadvertently have been omitted, the Section would like to thank the following drafters, researchers, and other contributors:
