

FOREWORD

The Antitrust Law Section is pleased to publish The Antitrust Compliance Handbook: A Practitioner's Guide, which we hope will be a valuable resource for in-house counsel and compliance practitioners with antitrust responsibilities, outside counsel who advise on compliance, and regulators seeking to impose or evaluate corporate compliance programs.

This handbook is the result of a collaboration among private practitioners, in-house counsel, and compliance professionals with antitrust expertise. We extend our deep appreciation to the authors who generously contributed their time, resources, and knowledge to individual chapters. The Section is especially grateful to Editorial Co-Chairs Alicia L. Downey, Elai Katz, and Dorothy G. Raymond for their work in overseeing the selection of authors and the drafting of individual chapters, and then weaving many disparate pieces into a unified whole.
