
ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Leslie Ahari, Partner, Clyde & Co. US LLC Washington, D.C. Ms. Ahari focuses her practice on directors and officers (D&O) and other professional liability claims. She represents insurers in coverage disputes in federal and state courts nationwide, at both the trial and appellate levels. For over 25 years, Ms. Ahari has represented and provided counselling to insurers in complex coverage claims arising from shareholder litigation, fiduciary liability, antitrust, private equity and investment management disputes, legal malpractice, bankers professional liability, and other professional liability matters.

Ralph Guirgis, Partner, Clyde & Co. US LLC Orange County. Mr. Guirgis principally investigates, litigates, and advises insurers on policy wordings and relevant emerging issues. He represents insurers in complex coverage disputes before state and federal courts and arbitration panels throughout the United States and internationally. Mr. Guirgis has litigated contractual and extra-contractual matters concerning a wide range of policies and reinsurance agreements including financial institutions, directors' and officers' reimbursement, professional liability, errors and omissions, property, and commercial general liability insurance.

Brian Harrison, Partner, Clyde & Co. US LLC San Francisco. Mr. Harrison represents domestic and international insurers in management liability matters, including D&O, employment practices liability, fiduciary liability, and commercial crime claims. He has successfully litigated numerous complex and high-exposure coverage disputes before state and federal courts and arbitration panels throughout the United States, and has extensive experience resolving coverage disputes and underlying claims through alternative dispute resolution proceedings.

Katelin O'Rourke Gorman, Partner, Clyde & Co. US LLC New York. Ms. O'Rourke Gorman counsels U.S. and London insurers on matters involving public company, private company, and not-for-profit D&O liability policies throughout North America and Europe. She has experience in both U.S. and cross-border claims concerning alleged Securities Act of 1933 and Securities Exchange Act of 1934 violations, shareholder derivative suits, and governmental (SEC, DOJ, and SFO) investigations.

Sean Simpson, Partner, Orange County, Clyde & Co. US LLC. Mr. Simpson focuses his practice on commercial insurance and reinsurance matters and has represented U.S. and London market insurers in litigation and counseling on complex matters pertaining to D&O liability, bankers liability and fidelity bonds, employment practices liability, commercial general liability, commercial property, intellectual property liability, and professional errors and omissions liability, including many of the highest profile and most significant matters in the past decade.

Susan Koehler Sullivan, Partner, Clyde & Co. US LLC Los Angeles. Ms. Koehler Sullivan has more than 25 years of experience as a commercial litigator, focusing her practice on corporate insurance matters. She handles insurance coverage investigations and disputes (including through trial or arbitration) under all types of policies, including fidelity, D&O, employment, professional, property, excess, and general liability policies.

Lauren Boulbol, Associate, Clyde & Co. US LLC New York. Ms. Boulbol focuses her practice on insurance and reinsurance coverage disputes, representing domestic and international insurers in complex coverage matters. She handles coverage and litigation matters involving numerous types of industries, including professional liability, inland marine, catastrophe, excess liability, commercial general liability, and reinsurance. Ms. Boulbol is a member of the Specialty and Investigations practice group and the Professional Liability group in Clyde & Co.

Alec Boyd, Senior Counsel, Clyde & Co. US LLC San Francisco. Mr. Boyd is a litigator with extensive experience representing domestic and foreign insurers in coverage disputes and bad faith claims. He also acts as coverage and monitoring counsel in connection with claims made under D&O, financial institutions, errors and omissions, professional liability, and employment liability insurance policies. Mr. Boyd has represented insurers in connection with securities fraud, shareholder derivative, consumer class action, and employment claims asserted against investment banks, mutual fund companies, technology companies, diversified conglomerates, and their management. Beyond his insurance experience, he has also defended attorneys, insurance brokers, and other professionals in malpractice actions, as well as represented businesses in general litigation, class actions, and employment disputes.

Kimberly Forrester, Senior Counsel, Clyde & Co. US LLC San Francisco. Ms. Forrester advises U.S. and London insurers on complex and high-exposure coverage disputes and claims involving private company and not-for-profit management liability policies. Ms. Forrester has experience in both domestic and international claims under D&O, employment practices, professional liability, fiduciary liability, commercial crime/fidelity, and general liability policies involving government investigations, statutory violations such as the False Claims Act and Fair Credit Reporting Act, and other common law claims. In light of COVID-19, she has expanded her practice to advise and represent insurers on key coverage issues related to employment practices and management liability claims arising from the pandemic, including issues of workplace safety and staffing changes.

Emily Golding, Associate, Clyde & Co. US LLC Washington, D.C. Ms. Golding represents domestic and international insurers in high-exposure, complex insurance coverage disputes arising under various liability policies. Specifically, her practice involves D&O, financial institutions and other professional liability, cyber liability, general liability, and bad faith claims. Ms. Golding also defends insurers in commercial litigation, including in class actions. Several of her matters have involved the effect of bankruptcy proceedings on coverage for claims asserted against debtors or debtor-related entities. In addition to litigated matters, Ms. Golding has been involved in the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of numerous claims disputes.

Timothy D. Kevane, Senior Counsel, Clyde & Co. US LLC New York. Mr. Kevane's practice primarily focuses on complex insurance coverage disputes involving D&O liability insurance, media liability, errors and omissions, employment practices, and commercial general liability policies. His services include coverage counseling, claim monitoring, and litigation on behalf of domestic and international insurance clients.

Martin J. O’Leary, Senior Counsel, Clyde & Co. US LLC San Francisco. Mr. O’Leary handles an array of professional liability insurance matters, including coverage and litigation under D&O liability insurance policies, employment practice liability policies, errors and omissions coverage, and fidelity and commercial crime policies.

Martin Plowden, Associate, Clyde & Co. US LLC San Francisco. Mr. Plowden focuses his practice in the areas of litigation and insurance coverage disputes, advising his clients on disputes arising out of a variety of insurance policies including professional liability, property, D&O liability, specialty, and commercial general liability policies. He also provides coverage advice to cyber insurer clients for claims involving data breaches, cyber security, and privacy matters, as well as the monitoring of third-party litigation, and regulatory investigations arising from these breaches. Mr. Plowden is a dual-qualified attorney, licensed in the jurisdictions of California and England and Wales, having previously trained as a solicitor in Clyde & Co’s London office for two years.

Sarah Rogers Sepe, Senior Associate, Clyde & Co. US LLC New York. Ms. Rogers Sepe analyzes complex, high-exposure coverage matters in connection with professional liability claims, including D&O liability and employment practices liability (EPL) insurance matters. She counsels international and domestic insurers on matters involving public company, private company, and not-for-profit D&O liability policies throughout North America and Europe. Prior to law school, Ms. Rogers Sepe worked as an underwriter at a large international insurance company, where she focused on D&O, EPL, and fiduciary liability insurance coverage for private and nonprofit companies.

Yvonne Schulte, Senior Counsel, Clyde & Co. US LLC Los Angeles and San Francisco. Ms. Schulte has been representing insurance companies in complex coverage disputes, including bad faith litigation, for over 15 years. She advises her clients on claims under commercial general liability, D&O, managed care, errors and omissions, and excess and umbrella policies. Ms. Schulte has additional expertise with environmental policies, including pollution liability and cost cap policies. In addition to representing insurers, she has extensive practice defending companies in employment and other commercial disputes. Her range of experience includes cases involving legal malpractice, agent and broker liability, products liability, and environmental law.