

PREFACE

The Unilateral Conduct Committee is pleased to present this Second Edition of the Monopolization and Dominance Handbook. Monopolization and abuse of dominance issues are increasingly at the forefront of competition law enforcement discussions throughout the world. Since the initial release of the Handbook in 2011, the outer bounds of monopolization law have been refined through a larger body of case law in the United States. Similarly, in jurisdictions outside the United States, monopolization or abuse of dominance enforcement has been active as well. The Second Edition provides an updated overview of monopolization law in the United States. It also contains illustrative comparative discussions of the approaches to dominance issues in other jurisdictions, which highlight the complexities that can be involved in practicing in this area.

The Second Edition is the result of the hard work and contributions of many. The Committee is particularly indebted to Justin Hedge and Dominic Vote, the project chairs, for their outstanding efforts. We also thank the lead chapter authors and editors James Abell, Logan Breed, Derek Moore, Jeffery Prisbrey, Joshua Soven, Howard Ullman, and Daniel Weick, as well as W. Michael Osborne, Dylan Young, Jamie Long, Tanya Freeman and Saman Adikari for their assistance with the manuscript.

Finally, the Second Edition could not be possible without the outstanding research and drafting contributions of the following individuals:
