

About the Author

Travis Miller is the General Counsel and Director of U.S. Operations at Assent Compliance, Inc. He is an international trade and compliance attorney, a frequent speaker, and author/editor of the American Bar Association publication, The Lawyer's Corporate Social Responsibility Deskbook: Practical Guidance for Corporate Counsel and Law Firms. He manages Assent's worldwide legal activities, such as advising the board of directors on legal matters and overseeing corporate compliance, governance initiatives, and other commercial transactions. Mr. Miller provides legal support and insight to every team in the company, from sales to services and partner organizations and to external clients.