Table of Contents

About the Authors ........................................................................................................ v
Table of Special Materials to Access this Treatise .................................................. vii
I. Thoughts on Changes in the Opinion Practice ....................................................... ix
II. Note on Special Uses by: (a) Non-U.S. Attorneys; (b) Business Schools; (c) Specialist Opinion Givers; and (d) Law Schools ................................................................. xi
III. Finding and Using Materials in this Treatise ....................................................... xiii
IV. Note on Reading Court Decisions and Bar Reports on Opinions .................... xvii
V. Understanding the Evolution of Opinion Customary Practice ......................... xxi
VII. Note on the American Law Institute Restatement of Torts, Third ............... xxvii
Table of Chapters ....................................................................................................... xxix
Table of Contents ....................................................................................................... xxxi

Chapter 1 Third-Party Closing Opinions: Basic Concepts, Duties and Roles .......... 1
§ 1:1 Context for Opinion Giving; Some Basic Concepts and Terms Used in the Third-Party Opinion Practice ................................................................. 10
§ 1:1.1 Required Expertise ....................................................................................... 12
§ 1:1.2 Formality, Definitions and Restrictions on Opinions Given ....................... 14
  [A] Formality of Opinion Letters ................................................................. 14
  [B] Confidence in the Opinion; Defining and Restricting the Opinions Given .... 15
§ 1:1.3 Some Terms Used in the Closing Opinion Practice ............................... 17
  [A] Opinion; Opinion Letter; Confirmation ............................................ 19
  [B] Information Versus Advice ................................................................. 20
  [C] Variations from “Standard” Customary Practice ................................. 21
  [D] Caution and Prudence Versus Customary Practice ......................... 22
  [E] Opinion Giver; Opinion Preparer ...................................................... 23
[F] Opinion Giver’s Client; The Company ......................... 24
[G] Opinion Recipient; Third Party; Counterparty ............... 25
[H] Opinion Recipient’s Attorney ....................................... 25
[I] Opinions Are Not Guarantees ....................................... 26
[J] Opinion Letter Liability; Reliance; Reliance Rights ...... 27
[K] Opinion Letter as a Communication ............................ 28
[L] The Opinion Letter as an Integration .......................... 28
[M] Primary Practice Jurisdiction; Statement-of-Laws Covered (“Laws-Covered Limitation”) .................. 29
[N] Opinion Request; Opinion Requirement ..................... 30
[O] Closing; Closing Date; Agreement Date ....................... 31
[P] No Updating of Opinions ............................................ 31
[Q] Restrictions .................................................................. 31
[R] Exceptions, Limitations, Exclusions and Assumptions .... 32
[S] Reasoned (Explained) Opinion .................................... 32
[T] Law; Facts; Unreliable Information ............................. 33
[U] Agreement; Contract; Undertaking ............................... 34
[V] Governing Law; Chosen Law; Covered Law ............... 35
[W] Charter Documents ...................................................... 35
[X] Misleading Opinions; Disclosures ............................... 35
[Y] Advice to Recipient-Client Regarding the Acceptance of the Opinion Letter ............................... 36
[Z] Problematic Add-Ons: Client Business Standards and Outside Attorney Guidelines ............................... 38

§ 1:1.4 The Opinion Preparer Concept .................................. 40
§ 1:2 Closing Opinion Rationale: One Aspect of Business Due Diligence ...................................................... 42
§ 1:3 Establishing Opinion Letter Responsibilities ................ 44
§ 1:4 The Closing Opinion Letter as a Condition of Closing .......................................................... 45
§ 1:5 Client Controls Delivering the Closing Opinion to a Third Party but Does Not Control Content of the Closing Opinion Letter .................................................. 46
§ 1:6 The Two “Faces” of Closing Opinion Letter Acceptability .......................................................... 48
§ 1:6.1 Acceptability of the Opinion Giver .................................. 48
§ 1:6.2 Acceptability of the Opinion Letter Content .................. 50
Table of Contents

§ 1:7  Duty to a Third Party—The Right to Rely on Closing Opinions; Does Reliance Require that an Opinion Letter Be Given at the Client’s Request? ................................................................. 53

§ 1:7.1  The Right to Rely ................................................................. 54

§ 1:7.2  Reliance Rights Based on Circumstances ................................. 55

§ 1:7.3  Ordinarily Recipient Has No Diligence Responsibility .......... 55

§ 1:7.4  Reliance Rights Are Not Conditioned on a Request of Opinion Giver’s Client ............................................................. 56

§ 1:8  The Empty Closing Opinion Problem ........................................... 57

§ 1:9  Do the Proposed Opinion Restrictions Require Opinion Recipient Attention? ................................................................. 58

§ 1:9.1  Evaluating Materiality .......................................................... 58

§ 1:9.2  The Irrelevant ....................................................................... 59

§ 1:9.3  Opinion Letter Excess Language ............................................ 59

§ 1:9.4  Matters That Are Not Material .............................................. 60

§ 1:9.5  Potentially Material Matters .................................................. 60

§ 1:10  Additional Closing Opinions: Local Attorney; Specialized Attorney; “Additional Opinion Attorney” ........................................ 61

§ 1:11  Corporate Law Departments—Inside Corporate Attorney .......... 62

§ 1:12  The E-Mail Closing and Third-Party Opinions .............................. 64

Chapter 2  Vocabulary and Usage in Third-Party Closing Opinion Practice .................................................................. 67

§ 2:1  The Statement of an Opinion ....................................................... 69

§ 2:1.1  The Statement of Restrictions .................................................. 70

[A]  Exceptions ................................................................................ 71

[B]  Assumptions ............................................................................. 72

§ 2:1.2  Confidence in the Opinion: When Is the Opinion “Unclear” ................................................................. 72

§ 2:2  Customary Practice Overview .................................................... 73

§ 2:2.1  Vocabulary and Customary Usage ............................................ 74

§ 2:2.2  Customary Diligence and the Opinion Preparer Group .......... 75

§ 2:2.3  The Customary Practice Group and Its Implications ............ 76

[A]  The Application of Customary Practice to the Opinion Giver .................................................................................. 77

[B]  The Recipient and Customary Practice ....................................... 78
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>§ 2:16.4</td>
<td>Lack of National Customary Practice for</td>
<td>101</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>“Bring-Down” and “Amendment Opinions”</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 2:16.5</td>
<td>Coping with Transaction Change Opinions in the</td>
<td>102</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Absence of a National Customary Practice</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 3</td>
<td>The Setting for Third-Party Closing Opinion Practice</td>
<td>103</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:1</td>
<td>The Opinion Negotiation Process</td>
<td>115</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:1.1</td>
<td>The Setting of the Negotiation Process</td>
<td>116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:1.2</td>
<td>Negotiation Approach and Opportunities</td>
<td>116</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:1.3</td>
<td>Opinion Forms</td>
<td>118</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:1.4</td>
<td>Negotiation Process Is Tentative</td>
<td>119</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:2</td>
<td>A Conservative Approach Is Required When Opinions Are Given to a Nonclient on Behalf of a Client</td>
<td>120</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:2.1</td>
<td>Constraints Applicable to Opinions to Nonclients</td>
<td>120</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:2.2</td>
<td>Minimization of Opinions by Implication:</td>
<td>122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>The Limits of Opinion Giver’s Legal Knowledge</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:2.3</td>
<td>Avoiding Novel Opinion Forms</td>
<td>124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:2.4</td>
<td>The Represented Closing Opinion Recipient</td>
<td>124</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:2.5</td>
<td>The Golden Rule</td>
<td>125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:2.6</td>
<td>Current Oblique Customary Practice Statement:</td>
<td>125</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>New Statement Suggested</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:2.7</td>
<td>Limitation on Further Use of a Closing Opinion Letter</td>
<td>126</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:3</td>
<td>The Danger of Routine in Opinion Practice</td>
<td>128</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:4</td>
<td>The Preference for No-Exception Closing Opinions</td>
<td>129</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:5</td>
<td>Customary Diligence Flexibility; The “Four Corners” Approach to Interpreting Opinion Letters</td>
<td>130</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:6</td>
<td>Closing Opinion Date and Practicality Limits to Diligence</td>
<td>131</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:7</td>
<td>Centrality of the Statement-of-Laws Covered</td>
<td>132</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>(“Laws-Covered” Limitation)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:8</td>
<td>Fair Play in Closing Opinion Giving: The Misleading Closing Opinion; The “Fair and Objective” Standard</td>
<td>134</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:9</td>
<td>The Closing Opinion Recipient Has No Diligence Duty</td>
<td>136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:10</td>
<td>Some Areas Excluded from Closing Opinion Coverage by Customary Practice</td>
<td>136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:11</td>
<td>Closing Opinions Are Professional Judgments, Not Guarantees</td>
<td>138</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:12</td>
<td>The ABA Accord and Its Uses</td>
<td>138</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 3:13</td>
<td>“Kitchen Sink” Opinions Requests and Responses</td>
<td>139</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Chapter 4  The Thought Process of the Closing Opinion Preparer—Emulating the Hypothetical Contemporaneous Court  ...... 141

§ 4:1  From Advocate to Objective Observer; the Mindset of the Opinion Preparer .............................................................. 142

§ 4:1.1 The “Fair and Objective” Opinion ........................................... 142

§ 4:1.2 The Opinion Compared to a Judicial Proceeding on the Issue ........................................................................ 144

§ 4:1.3 Opinion Regarding a Professional Judgment Is Not a Guarantee ................................................................. 144

§ 4:1.4 Communicating the Opinion Situation Through Stated Restrictions or Reasoned Opinions .............................. 145

§ 4:2  The Limited Predictive Quality of Closing Opinions ................. 146

§ 4:3  The Time Frames for the Closing Opinion ........................................ 147

§ 4:4  Applying the Facts as Well as the Law to the Appropriate Time Frame .............................................................. 148

§ 4:5  Forward-Looking Opinions and Hypothetical Facts .................. 149

§ 4:5.1  In the Remedies Opinion, Hypothetical Facts Are Used to Test Defenses .................................................... 149

§ 4:5.2  Common Sense Rules for Assumptions and Hypothetical Facts to Deal with Forward-Looking Opinions .......... 151

§ 4:6  Opinion Issues Are Those on Which Covered Law and Applicable Law Coincide ......................................................... 152

§ 4:7  Knowledge of the Closing Opinion Preparer Must Be Utilized .. 153

§ 4:8  The Incorrect Assumption Requires Disclosure ......................... 155

Chapter 5  Establishing Facts and the Use of Factual Assumptions ..... 157

§ 5:1  Central Role of Facts in Third-Party Closing Opinions .......... 158

§ 5:2  Truth, Facts, and the Limits of Commercially Reasonable Contract-Based Fact Finding ........................................... 160

§ 5:3  “Establishing” Facts and the Applicable Customary Diligence ... 162

§ 5:4  Supporting the Validity of the Commercially Reasonable Factual Search ............................................................. 165

§ 5:4.1  Using Officer’s Certificates to Establish Facts ......................... 166

§ 5:4.2  Using Contract Representations to Establish Facts ................. 168

§ 5:4.3  Using Governmental Certificates to Establish Facts .............. 169

§ 5:4.4  Using “Statements” to Establish Facts .................................. 170

§ 5:5  The Patchwork Quilt of Facts and Assumptions ...................... 170
Table of Contents

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:6</td>
<td>The Quality of Client-Sourced Information</td>
<td>172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:7</td>
<td>The Acceptance of Client and Client-Officer Representations</td>
<td>174</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:8</td>
<td>Customary Diligence Statement Regarding Facts</td>
<td>175</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:9</td>
<td>The Role of Formality in “Establishing” Facts</td>
<td>176</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:10</td>
<td>The “Appropriate Source” Requirement for Establishing Facts and the Automatic Deference to Public Agency Filing Officers as the Appropriate Source</td>
<td>177</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:11</td>
<td>Unreliable Information; Identifying and Handling It</td>
<td>178</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:12</td>
<td>Limitations on Use of Representations</td>
<td>180</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:12.1</td>
<td>“Information” Versus “Fact”</td>
<td>180</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:12.2</td>
<td>Ambiguity of the “Ultimate Fact-Tantamount” Limitation</td>
<td>181</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:12.3</td>
<td>Comparing the Misrepresentation Approach with the Evidence Approach</td>
<td>182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:12.4</td>
<td>A Proposal for Clarifying Reliance on Representations</td>
<td>184</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:13</td>
<td>Permitted Reliance on Ultimate Facts from Certain Public Agencies</td>
<td>185</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:14</td>
<td>Coordinating the Closing Date Availability of Factual Material</td>
<td>186</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:15</td>
<td>The Opinion Preparer’s Knowledge: Primary and Secondary Facts</td>
<td>186</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:15.1</td>
<td>Primary Facts and Secondary Facts</td>
<td>187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:15.2</td>
<td>Factual Information Versus Knowledge</td>
<td>188</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:15.3</td>
<td>The Courts and Secondary Facts; “Red Flag” and “Averting Eyes”</td>
<td>190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:16</td>
<td>The Use of Assumptions as Fact Substitutes</td>
<td>192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:17</td>
<td>Assumptions of Fact—Unstated; the Presumption of Regularity</td>
<td>193</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 5:18</td>
<td>Assumptions of Fact—Stated</td>
<td>195</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Chapter 6  The Remedies (Enforceability) Opinion

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>§ 6:1</td>
<td>Form and Value</td>
<td>211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 6:1.1</td>
<td>Form</td>
<td>211</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 6:2</td>
<td>Scope of the Remedies (Enforceability) Opinions; Formation of Contracts; Some or Specified Remedy for Breach of “Each and Every Undertaking”; Time Span of Opinion</td>
<td>214</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>§ 6:2.1</td>
<td>The “Power” Opinion; the Duly Authorized, Executed and Delivered Opinion; and Their Relationship to the Remedies Opinion</td>
<td>215</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
§ 6:2.2 Opinion Regarding Formation of Contract

§ 6:2.3 Meaning of “Undertaking” and “Promise”; Only Undertakings of the Company Are Covered; Remedy for Breach of “Each and Every” Undertaking

[A] “ Undertakings” Are Promises

[B] Only Undertakings of Clients Are Covered

[C] Opinion Means that There Is a Remedy for Breach of “Each and Every” Undertaking of the Company

§ 6:2.4 Limited Meaning of “Enforceable” and “Legal”

§ 6:2.5 Legal Remedy Versus Practical Relief

§ 6:2.6 Analyzing When an Exception is Needed; “Testing” by Use of Future Hypothetical Facts

§ 6:3 Restrictions on Scope

§ 6:3.1 Unstated Excluded Areas of the Law—Limitation on the Use in the Regulated Context

[A] Examples of Specialized Areas of the Law

[A][1] Expertise of Specialists and a Proposal for Discussion

[A][2] National Security and International Trade Laws

[A][3] Local Law

[B] Areas Not Reasonably Expected to Be Recognized as Applicable

§ 6:3.2 Unstated Exceptions—including Standard (“Agreement”) Exceptions, Limitations and Exclusions

[A] Bankruptcy

[B] Equitable Principles Limitation (Including Materiality, Reasonableness, Good Faith and Fair Dealing Limitation)

[B][1] Traditional Concepts of Equity

[B][2] Materiality

[B][3] Reasonableness, Good Faith and Fair Dealing

[C] Comity and the Allied Bank Case; National Security Laws
Table of Contents

[C][1] Comity and the Allied Bank Case ..................... 240
[C][2] National Security Laws ..................................... 242
[D] Overriding Interest Limitations on Chosen Law ......... 242

§ 6:3.3 Stated Exceptions: Some Remedies Opinion
Problem Areas ................................................................. 243
[A] Risk Shifting ............................................................... 244
[A][1] Indemnification, Exculpation and Waiver of Damages .............................................. 244
[A][2] Non-Reliance and Anti-Sandbagging ................ 245
[B] Dispute Resolution ..................................................... 245
[B][1] Forum Selection; Submission to Jurisdiction .... 246
[B][2] Arbitration ............................................................. 247
[B][3] Advance Jury Trial Waiver ................................. 249
[C] Contract Administration ............................................. 250
[C][1] Set-Off, Acceleration of Loans and Guarantees... 250
[C][2] Choice of Law...................................................... 252
[C][3] No Oral Modification ....................................... 254
[D] Contract Business Terms ............................................ 255
[D][1] Usury, Liquidated Damages, Penalty Clauses and Interest-on-Interest ....................... 255
[D][2] Foreign Currency Obligations and Indemnification ..................................................... 256
[D][3] Statute of Limitations Extensions ....................... 257
[E] Restrictions on Property Transfers ......................... 258
[E][1] Restraints on Alienation and Perpetuities ........ 258
[E][2] Drag-Along Obligations .................................... 258

§ 6:3.4 Unstated Assumptions................................................. 258
§ 6:3.5 Stated Assumptions ....................................................... 260
§ 6:3.6 “Statement-of-Laws Covered” (Laws-Covered Limitation).... 261

§ 6:4 Simplification Attempts: The Practical Realization/ACREL
Generic Exception Approach ............................................ 263
§ 6:4.1 The Original Form—Practical Realization Limitation.......... 263
§ 6:4.2 The 2012 ACREL—“Generic” Comfort ......................... 264
§ 6:4.3 Problematic Reassurance Formats................................. 265

§ 6:5 The “Cost-Benefit” Analysis Versus the “Traditional” Analysis ... 266

§ 6:6 The EEU Bail-In Legislation .............................................. 267
Chapter 7 Contracts, Third-Party Closing Opinions and Multi-Jurisdictional Transactions

§ 7:1 The Structure of Contracts and Third-Party, Closing Opinions... 274
§ 7:2 The Three Categories of Rights Addressed by Remedies Opinions... 276
§ 7:3 Chosen Versus Covered Law; “Primary Practice Jurisdiction”.... 277
§ 7:4 Mandatory Choice of Law Rules Apply to Limit the Application of Chosen Law.................... 278
§ 7:5 The “One-State” Attorney and Multi-Jurisdictional Transactions... 279
  § 7:5.1 Analyzing the Attorneys Needed in a Multi-Jurisdictional Transaction.............................................. 279
  § 7:5.2 Opinions on Law Outside of the Primary Practice Jurisdiction .......................................................... 281
  § 7:5.3 Delaware General Corporation Law, LLC and LP Opinions................................................................. 283
  § 7:5.4 Attorneys Often Restrict Opinions to Law of the Primary Practice Jurisdiction........................................ 284
  § 7:5.5 When Attorneys Decline to Provide Remedies Opinions on Chosen Law; Possible Substitutes .......... 285
    [A] Opinions that Courts of “Other” Jurisdictions Will Apply Chosen Law.................................................. 285
    [B] Remedies Opinions that Assume that Laws of “Other” Jurisdictions Are Chosen Laws; “As-If” Opinions.................................................. 285
  § 7:5.6 Real Estate Opinions on Law Outside of the Primary Practice Jurisdiction............................................... 286
  § 7:5.7 Primary Practice Jurisdiction Is Not Relevant to Qualification to Do Business and Good Standing Opinions.................................................. 286
  § 7:5.8 “Statement-of-Laws Covered” Is Not Relevant to No-Litigation (Claims) Opinions and No-Conflict with-Other-Agreements Opinions.......................... 287
§ 7:6 A Cost-Benefit Analysis for Multi-Jurisdictional Opinions........ 288

Chapter 8 Overview of a Third-Party Closing Opinion Letter......... 289
§ 8:1 Relationships Between Those Involved with Third-Party Closing Opinion Letters................................. 291
Legal Opinions in Business Transactions Volume 1

[B] The Opinion Requests............................................ 315
[C] The Opinions........................................................ 315

§ 8:4.10 Additional Opinion Letters: Local and Specialized Opinions........................................... 316
[A] The Free-Standing Additional Opinion .............. 316
[C] Statement that Reliance Is “Justified”—
   “Form and Scope”...................................................... 318
[D] Problematic Statement of “Concurrence”—
   “Form and Substance”............................................ 318

§ 8:4.11 Opinion Restrictions (Including Assumptions and Exceptions) and Other Statements 318

§ 8:4.12 Restriction on Reliance on Opinion Letter for Other Transactions ............................ 319

§ 8:4.13 Attachments and Incorporation References........................................................ 320

§ 8:4.14 Signatures................................................................. 320

Chapter 9 Some Characteristic Third-Party Closing Opinions.... 323

§ 9:1 Analyzing Characteristic Third-Party Opinions and the Diligence Required to Give Them........................................ 333

§ 9:1.1 Initial Approach to Opinion Request: Dissecting, Categorizing and Assessing Resources........................................ 333

§ 9:1.2 Practical Issues................................................................. 334

[A] Applicable Law.......................................................... 334
[B] Number of Entities ..................................................... 335
[C] Timing........................................................................ 335
[D] Factual Resources ...................................................... 335
[E] Client Representations ................................................ 336
[F] Using a Practical Issue Analysis........................................ 336

§ 9:1.3 The “Performance Add-On”............................................ 337

§ 9:2 Opinions about the Entity................................................. 338

§ 9:2.1 Why Do Opinion Recipients Care about Entity Opinions?................................................ 338

§ 9:2.2 Entity Status Opinions..................................................... 339
| § 9:2.3 | Entity Names and Identifying the Entity Whose Status Is at Issue | 340 |
| § 9:2.4 | State Specific “Good Standing” Opinions and the Good Standing System | 341 |
| [A] | State Reporting and Tax Enforcement | 341 |
| [B] | Diligence for the Good Standing and Qualification Opinions | 342 |
| [C] | Good Standing and Qualification Opinions as Misallocation of Resources | 343 |
| § 9:2.5 | Incorporation/Formation Type Opinions | 343 |
| [A] | Incorporation | 344 |
| [A][1] | Incorporated and Validly Existing Opinions | 344 |
| [A][2] | Duly Organized and Validly Existing Opinions | 345 |
| [A][3] | Historical Opinions | 345 |
| [A][4] | Problem Areas | 346 |
| [A][5] | What Statute Governs | 346 |
| [A][6] | Costs of Organization and Incorporation Opinions | 346 |
| [A][7] | Limited Scope of Incorporation Opinions | 347 |
| [A][8] | Diligence for the Incorporation Opinions | 347 |
| [A][9] | Diligence for the Organization Opinions | 348 |
| [B] | Formation of Limited Liability Companies and Limited Partnerships | 349 |
| [B][1] | Formation Opinions as Historical Opinions | 349 |
| [B][2] | Diligence for Formation Opinions; The Gap Period | 350 |
| § 9:2.6 | Valid Existence Opinions | 351 |
| [A] | Using “Valid Existence Opinions” as Adjuncts | 351 |
| [B] | “Naked Valid Existence Opinions” | 352 |
| [C] | Diligence for the Valid Existence Opinions | 353 |
| § 9:3 | Opinions about the Transaction, Its Documentation and Their Effect | 354 |
| § 9:3.1 | Power and Authorization for the Transaction | 356 |
| [A] | The Opinion | 356 |
| [B] | Power Opinions | 357 |
§ 9:3.2 No Violation of Governing Documents Arising from Transactions ............................................................... 362

§ 9:3.3 No-Violation-of-Law Opinions Resulting from the Transaction ................................................................... 363

§ 9:3.4 No-Governmental-Approvals Opinions Required by Transactions ................................................................. 366
[A] The Opinion ................................................................... 366
[B] Diligence for Opinions ..................................................... 366

§ 9:3.5 No Breach or Default Under Existing Contracts Resulting from the Transaction ........................................... 367
[A] The Opinion ................................................................... 367
[B] Diligence for Opinions ..................................................... 369

§ 9:3.6 No-Violation-of-Court and Administrative Agency Orders Resulting from Transactions .................................... 370
[A] The Opinion ................................................................... 370
[B] Diligence for Opinions ..................................................... 371

§ 9:3.7 No Litigation or Investigations Affecting Transactions ....................................................................................... 372
[A] The Opinion ................................................................... 373
[B] Language Ambiguities in No-Litigation Opinions .......... 376
[C] Diligence for Opinions ..................................................... 378
[D] The Limited Information about Litigation Provided in Closing Opinions .......................................................... 378

§ 9:4 Opinions About the Promises and Property Exchanged ......................................................................................... 379

§ 9:4.1 Remedies Opinions (see Volume 1, Chapter 6) ........................................ 379
§ 9:4.2 Security Interest Opinions (see Volume 2, Chapter 8) ........ 380
§ 9:4.3 State Law Opinions on Entity Issuance of Equity Interests .............................................................................. 381
[A] Overview ........................................................................... 381
[A][1] State Law Applies ............................................................ 381
[A][2] Common-Law Issues ....................................................... 381
[A][3] Statutory Compliance ..................................................... 382
[A][4] Overview of Opinion Requests ...................................... 383
Table of Contents

[A][4.1] Introduction ..................................... 383
[A][4.2] Issuance ........................................... 383
[A][4.3] Transfer ............................................ 384
[A][4.5] Liability to Third Parties .................. 385
[A][4.6] Remedies Opinions ......................... 385
[A][5] Some Diligence Practicalities .................... 386
[A][5.1] Equity Holder Authorization ............ 386
[A][5.2] Dissolution ...................................... 386
[A][5.3] Authorization of Entity Action ...... 387
[B] Common Stock .......................................................... 388
[B][1] Due Authorization Opinions ..................... 388
[B][2] Validly Issued Opinions ......................... 388
[B][3] Fully Paid and Non-Assessable Opinions ....... 389
[C] Preferred Stock Opinions ........................................... 390
[D] LLC and LP Interests ................................................. 391
[D][1] Validly Issued ............................................. 392
[D][2] Admission as a Member .................... 392
[D][3] Opinions on No Liability to Third Parties ...... 393
[D][4] No Liability for Payments or Contributions to the Entity Opinions .................................. 394
[D][5] Remedies Opinions as to Relevant Agreements .......... 395
[D][6] No Participation in Control of Limited Partnership ........................................ 395

§ 9:4.4 Opinions on Regulatory Aspects of Issuance of Equity and Debt Interests .................................................... 396
[A] Exempt Offering ............................................. 396
[B] Registered Offering ........................................ 397
[C] State and Local Governmental Offerings ................... 397

§ 9:5 Opinions Beyond the Scope of the Transaction but Relating to the Company’s Situation ........................................ 398

§ 9:5.1 Power and Authority to Conduct Its Business .......... 399
[A] Opinion ............................................................ 399
[B] Diligence for Opinions ............................................. 400
§ 9:5.2 No Violation of Governing Documents in Conduct of Business .......................................................................... 400

§ 9:5.3 Conduct of Business Generally Does Not Violate Law Opinions ..................................................................... 400
[A] Opinion...................................................................... 400
[B] Diligence for Opinions .............................................. 401

§ 9:5.4 No Governmental Approvals Required for Conduct of Business .......................................................................... 401

§ 9:5.5 No Breach or Default Exists Under Other Company Contracts ........................................................................ 402
[A] Opinion...................................................................... 402
[B] Diligence.................................................................... 402

§ 9:5.6 No Violation of Court and Administrative Agency Orders ........................................................................ 403
[A] Opinion...................................................................... 403
[B] Diligence.................................................................... 403

§ 9:5.7 No Litigation or Investigation ........................................................................ 403
[A] Opinion...................................................................... 403
[B] Diligence.................................................................... 404

§ 9:5.8 Comprehensive Doing Business Compliance Opinions ........................................................................ 404
[A] Opinion...................................................................... 404
[B] Diligence.................................................................... 405

§ 9:6.1 The Misleading Opinion—Customary Practice Standard ........................................................................ 408

§ 9:6.2 Misrepresentation ........................................................................ 409

§ 9:6.3 Fiduciary Duty, Good Faith and Fair Dealing ........................................................................ 410

§ 9:6.4 Aiding and Abetting ........................................................................ 412

§ 9:7 Regulated Opinion Practice Standards ........................................................................ 412

Chapter 10 Opinion Process from the Viewpoint of the Opinion Recipient’s Attorney ........................................................................ 415

§ 10:1 Differing Roles for the Opinion Recipient’s Attorney ........................................................................ 417
§ 10:2 The Opinion Recipient’s Attorney’s Duties

§ 10:2.1 The Opinion Recipient’s Attorney Duties to Its Client

§ 10:2.2 The Opinion Recipient’s Attorney Has No Contractual Relationship to the Opinion Giver and Its Client and No Duty to Them

§ 10:2.3 Customary Practice Is Applicable to the Opinion Recipient and Recipient’s Attorney; Limited Guidance to Recipient’s Attorney Regarding Opinion Review

§ 10:3 Primary Transactional Attorney as the Attorney for the Opinion Recipient

§ 10:3.1 To What Extent Will an Opinion Be of Real Value to the Opinion Recipient in this Transaction?

§ 10:3.2 Advice to the Opinion Recipient Regarding Opinion Request, Possible Need for Local or Specialized Attorney Opinions and Restricted Meaning of Opinions

§ 10:3.3 Acceptability of Proposed Opinion Giver: Expertise and Covered Law of the Opinion Letter

§ 10:3.4 Recipient’s Attorney Review and Opinion Recipient’s Acceptance of the Opinion Letter

§ 10:4 The Unacceptable Opinion Letter Possibility

§ 10:5 Opinion Recipient’s Attorney—Knowledge and Skills Required

§ 10:6 The Opinion Recipient; Consequences of Closing; The Opinion Letter as an Integration

§ 10:7 Opinion Recipient’s Checklists, Standards and Guidelines Affecting Recipient Attorneys

§ 10:8 Identifying Those Entitled to Rely on the Opinion Letter

§ 10:9 Receipt of the Signed Opinion Letter at Closing

§ 10:10 Opinion-Related Claims Involving the Opinion Recipient

§ 10:11 Potential Liability of Opinion Recipient’s Attorney

§ 10:11.1 Ordinarily No Liability for Opinion Letter Conclusion

§ 10:11.2 Opinion Recipient Claims May Include a Claim for Failure to Advise

§ 10:11.3 Asserting Client Rights within a Group
§ 10:11.4 Closing the Potentially Fraudulent Deal; Aiding and Abetting ............................................................ 437

Chapter 11 Opinion Preparer’s Handling of Opinion Requests and the Overall Opinion Situation .................. 439
§ 11:1 The Opinion Preparer’s Role .......................................................... 440
§ 11:2 The Initial Opinion Request .......................................................... 443
  § 11:2.1 Reviewing the Initial Opinion Request ........................................ 443
  § 11:2.2 An Opportunity to Educate the Opinion Recipient .......... 444
§ 11:3 When There Is Only a Non-Specific Opinion Request .......... 444
§ 11:4 Avoiding Delay and Anticipating Costs—Dealing with Issues and Additional Attorneys .................... 445
§ 11:5 The Time for a Detailed Response to the Opinion Request as Refined; Unrelated Party Consents .......... 446
§ 11:6 Granting Reliance Rights to Persons Not Identified at Closing .......................................................... 447
§ 11:7 The Opinion Giver’s Client’s Role in the Opinion Negotiation .......................................................... 447
  § 11:7.1 The Client’s Role in Providing Facts ...................................... 448
  § 11:7.2 Use of Access to the Client to Reduce Opinion Costs; Inside Corporate Attorney’s Role .......... 448
§ 11:8 Last-Minute Exceptions Taken from Other Opinions .......... 449
§ 11:9 Anticipating the Final Comments of Opinion Recipient’s Attorney ................................................... 449
§ 11:10 Comments from Other Interested Parties ................................. 450

Chapter 12 Diligence Patterns Relating to Non-Corporate Entities and Arrangements .............................. 451
§ 12:1 Overview .................................................................................... 452
  § 12:1.1 Non-Corporate Entities .......................................................... 453
  § 12:1.2 Non-Entity Arrangements .................................................... 454
§ 12:2 Types of Non-Corporate Entities and Arrangements ........ 455
  § 12:2.1 Statutory Compliance Entities ............................................. 455
  § 12:2.2 Common-Law Arrangements ............................................. 456
Table of Contents

§ 12:3 Establishing Relevant Documentation ......................................................... 457
§ 12:3.1 Statutory Compliance Entities ................................................................. 457
§ 12:3.2 Common-Law Arrangements ................................................................. 458
§ 12:3.3 Flexibility and Statutory System May Increase Record-Keeping Requirements ............................................ 458
§ 12:4 Formation/Effectiveness ............................................................................. 460
§ 12:4.1 Formation of Statutory-Compliance Entities ........................................ 460
§ 12:4.2 Effectiveness of Common-Law Arrangements ...................................... 461
§ 12:4.3 Date of Formation or Effectiveness Is Typically Not Critical to that Opinion ............................................ 461
§ 12:5 Existence and “Winding Up” ..................................................................... 461
§ 12:5.1 Ending the Existence of Statutory-Compliance Entities ....................... 462
§ 12:5.2 Ending Common-Law Arrangements ................................................... 463
§ 12:5.3 Dissolution .......................................................................................... 463
§ 12:6 Power ..................................................................................................... 463
§ 12:7 Action .................................................................................................... 464
§ 12:8 Other Opinions ....................................................................................... 464

Chapter 13 Client Closing Opinions ............................................................... 465
§ 13:1 Utility of a Client Closing Opinion: Opinion Letter as Part of Advice to Client ............................................ 467
§ 13:2 Client Opinion Compared to Third-Party Opinion ...................................... 468
  § 13:2.1 The Opinion Giver’s Responsibilities to the Opinion Recipient Compared to Its Responsibilities to Its Client ............................................................................. 469
  § 13:2.2 Comparing the Significance of the Same Opinion Letter Delivered to a Third-Party and to the Client ............... 472
  § 13:2.3 Responsibility of Client Opinion Giver to See that Advice Is Understood ......................................................................................................................... 472
§ 13:3 The Influence of Third-Party Customary Practice on Client Opinion Practice ......................................................................................................................... 474
  § 13:3.1 Defining the Engagement: A Key Difference Between Third-Party Opinion Practice and Client Opinion Practice ......................................................................................................................... 475
§ 13:3.2 Client Opinion Letter Versus Client Advice .......... 476
§ 13:3.3 The Client Opinion Letter Format ....................... 478
§ 13:3.4 Reliance and Customary Usage in Client Opinions .... 478
§ 13:3.5 Customary Diligence in Client Opinions ............... 478
§ 13:4 Reliance and Responsibility to the Client After Closing .... 479
§ 13:5 Identifying the Client ........................................ 481
  § 13:5.1 The Client Is the Entity, Not an Officer of It .......... 481
  § 13:5.2 Representing a Member of a Consortium: Opinion and Advice Issues ................. 481
  § 13:5.3 Client Successors ........................................... 484
§ 13:6 Reliance Rights Problems ....................................... 484
§ 13:7 Advice to Clients in the Regulatory Context ............. 485
  § 13:7.1 Primacy of Regulatory Context ......................... 486
  § 13:7.2 Regulation of Attorney Advice Under the Securities and Tax Laws ................. 486
§ 13:8 Limitation of Liability Permitted Regarding Third-Party Opinions, but Restricted Regarding Client Opinions .......... 486
§ 13:10 Will an Opinion to the Client Be Inferred from a Third-Party Closing Opinion? ................................. 487
§ 13:11 Claims Arising Out of an Opinion Negligently Given to a Client ......................................................... 488
  § 13:11.1 Statute of Limitations Questions ....................... 488
  § 13:11.2 Attorney-Client Privilege ................................ 489

Index ................................................................................. 491