CLP Style Sheet for References

All references should appear as endnotes at the end of the document, not footnotes. References within endnotes should follow the Chicago Manual of Style, 14th ed. Refer to the following examples for guidance.

Books

general:

dition:

indicating author(s) & editor(s)

particular volume:

Book Chapters

Journal Articles

Newspapers

Newsletters

Phone Interview

Telephone Interview with Paul Jones, Ph.D., St. Louis, MO, August 15, 1997.

Case Law/Statutes

Use Bluebook format:
In re Baby Boy, 393 A.2d 41 (Pa. 1997). (Note: case names are not italicized in citation text)

Ibid should be used to indicate the current cite is the same as the one directly preceding it.

Ibid, 13. (indicate page # if it differs from page # in previous cite)

To refer to references cited earlier:
Patterson, 1995, 15.

Electronic Sources:

Web Page Documents:

General Format:
Cite the document in the traditional format as indicated above. At the end of the cite, indicate the date of the Internet posting, followed by the Internet site enclosed in <>.

Example:

Book:

Journal article:

Report:

The following are also acceptable ways to cite internet material:
