Carol Steinberg is a litigator in Boston, specializing in plaintiff's personal injury cases and disability employment cases. She is a disability activist, accessibility consultant, writer and speaker. She is a longtime member of the Government Relations Committee of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, New England Chapter, a member of the board of WalkBoston, was a longtime member of the Massachusetts Architectural Access Board, and was president of the board of the Massachusetts Disability Law Center.