RESOLVED, that the American Bar Association urges the adoption by Congress and state and territorial legislatures of campaign finance reform legislation that strives to achieve the following goals: ensure full disclosure of all money raised and spent in federal, state, local and territorial election campaigns; promote full participation by all Americans in the electoral process; establish realistic limits on hard money campaign contributions to eliminate corruption and the appearance of corruption in election campaigns and the legislative process; provide adequate enforcement resources and authority -- including the power to conduct random audits -- and organizational structure, to federal, state, local and territorial campaign regulatory agencies; and adopt existing ABA policy opposing the solicitation and use of soft money contributions in federal election campaigns and supporting public financing of congressional and presidential campaigns.
