Empowering the Next 100 Years

the luncheon

This luncheon will celebrate empowerment, of ourselves and others. It will start with a very special commemoration of the Centennial of one of the most significant empowerment events in history, passage of the 19th Amendment to the US Constitution, followed by a short keynote to share views on how we as individuals, as lawyers and as a Bar Association can continue to help empower the disenfranchised.

Then it will be time to look forward to the next 100 years - which is where you come in! The remainder of the event will enable luncheon attendees to engage with you as part of a curated group of organizations dedicated to self-empowerment and the empowerment of others, and to learn how your organization may be able to empower them, their clients or their employers.

luncheon exhibitor benefits

the meeting

Our premier event of the year, this Meeting is expected to draw over 1,000 lawyers from around the world, from boutiques to some of the world’s largest, most prominent firms, in-house counsel, government lawyers, academics, and NGOs. The Meeting offers a tremendous opportunity for attendees to empower themselves to deal successfully with the demands on our profession today. Leading experts will offer insights on cutting-edge strategies and trends across 80 of the hottest topics in both public and private international law.

the section

The ABA International Law Section is the worldwide leader in the development of policy in the international arena, the promotion of the rule of law and the education of international law practitioners. We bring together lawyers from around the globe to focus on international legal issues, promote the rule of law, and provide education, policy, publishing and practical assistance related to cross-border activity. Our more than 11,000 members hail from more than 100 countries around the world, providing an unparalleled network of international legal expertise, worldwide referral sources, and international business development opportunities.
