
Here Are Five Good Reasons for You to Attend The 2018 National Aging and Law Conference:

• High quality substantive programs on critical issues in Medicare, Medicaid, Long Term Care, Income Security, Elder Justice, Ethics, Health Care Decision Making and Guardianship Reform.
• The presenters are an amazing group of proven experts and emerging voices on substantive issues, policy and program development and legal service delivery.
• National Center on Law and Elder Rights track focusing on critical legal issues faced by the most vulnerable older Americans.
• Balanced agenda with four plenary sessions and 30 workshops to choose from.
• Networking opportunities with advocates and experts from across the country.

We had an overwhelming response to the request for proposals this year resulting in an agenda packed with outstanding programs by known experts and emerging voices in law and aging.

We return to Alexandria, Virginia in 2018, at the Crowne Plaza Old Town. The hotel is about 10 minutes south of Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport (DCA.) The hotel provides shuttle service to and from the airport. The room rate is an affordable $165 per night plus tax. The venue has space for over 300 people, all meeting space is on the same floor, and the reception area and ballroom have natural light.

An optional pre-conference on Wednesday, October 24th features “Skills You Can Use” Practical Training for Aging Services Advocates and Attorneys at only $60 (separate registration required). The optional pre-conference adds 3.5 CLE credits in 60-minute states; 4.2 CLE credits in 50-minute states, including 1 CLE credit ethics in 60-minute states – 1.2 credits in 50-minute states.

The Thursday - Friday agenda includes 11.5 CLE credits in 60-minute states, 13.8 credits in 50-minute states, including 1 CLE credit in ethics in 60-minute states - 1.2 CLE credits in 50-minute states.

We kept the conference registration rates unchanged from 2017 (and lowered the registration cost for the Pre-Conference.) Registration includes CLE credits, lunch on Thursday and Friday, a full breakfast buffet on Friday, the Thursday evening networking reception and refreshments throughout the conference.

I look forward to seeing you in October!

Program subject to change without notice.  |  Page 7
This pre-conference provides the practical tools you need to deliver quality services to older adults. The interactive training is divided into three sessions, covering issue spotting, interviewing, and capacity concerns.

This program will provide you with the tools and information you need to deliver quality legal services and supportive services to older adults. The training is divided into three sections: Intake, Screening & Referrals; Interviewing; and Legal Ethics When Counseling Clients with Diminished Capacity.

Each session will provide relevant legal information, practical tips, and include interactive activities. The first session will provide guidance for recognizing legal issues faced by older adults including health insurance issues, abuse and exploitation, and consumer matters. The second session will teach you skills to successfully interview older clients, including information on providing trauma-informed advocacy and accessibility considerations. The final session will provide detailed information on capacity concerns, focusing on capacity assessments and ethical responsibility.

This pre-conference is designed for new attorneys or experienced attorneys who are new to working with older adults, and non-attorney advocates.

1:00 p.m. - 2:15 p.m.
Legal Issue Spotting, Intake & Referrals

This session will offer guidance for recognizing and classifying issues faced by older adults including health, abuse, and consumer matters. At the very ethical core of an attorney-client relationship is being able to communicate with a client about legal issues in a manner the client can understand. The ability to understand is impacted by brain injury or disease. This session will explore capacity, brain aging, and the ethical guidelines for lawyers. David Godfrey, Dan Marson
