

PART IV. FINANCIAL AID

SCHOLARSHIPS AND GRANTS FROM INTERNAL SOURCES

Scholarships and grants are defined as financial aid that requires neither repayment nor work in exchange for the funds received.

- Include only scholarships and grants received from the law school or university.
- Include all scholarships and grants whether they are need-based, non-need-based or both.
- Grants related to co-curricular activities such as law review may be included.
- A forgivable loan should not be included as a grant or scholarship.
- Do not include scholarships and grants given to non-J.D. students.

1a. For the most recently completed academic year, provide the total unduplicated number of J.D. degree students receiving scholarships and grants from internal sources.

Do not count a student twice when providing the total number of students if a student has more than one grant or scholarship from internal sources.

Note: Tuition includes fees similar to tuition that recur on an annual or semester basis.

1c. For the most recently completed academic year, provide the total amount of scholarships and grants awarded to J.D. degree students.

CONDITIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS

A conditional scholarship is any financial aid award, the retention of which is dependent upon the student maintaining a minimum grade point average or class standing, other than that ordinarily required to remain in good academic standing.

In reporting the number of students whose conditional scholarships were reduced or eliminated, do not include students who met the conditions for renewal of their scholarships, but did not continue their studies. Thus, a student who met the requirements for renewal of the student's scholarship at the end of the first year would not be counted in that category where the student transferred to another school, took a leave of absence, or visited away for a semester or year at another school. Similarly, a student who met the requirements for renewal but lost a scholarship because of academic misconduct would not be included.

2a. Does the school offer conditional scholarships? Yes/No

2b. In the chart provided, provide for the last three academic years the number of students entering with conditional scholarships and the number of students whose conditional scholarships have since been reduced or eliminated.

Do not adjust a previous year's reporting where a student who failed to meet the requirements for renewal after the first year later regained a scholarship.

6. For law schools not affiliated with a university:

6a. Provide the most recently available 3-year cohort default rate

Indicate the fiscal year of the most recently available 3-year cohort default rate.

6b. Indicate the date of the law school's last financial audit.

6c. Indicate the date of any other program review by the Department of Education.

6d. Briefly explain the result of any such audit or review and whether the school is in full compliance of Title IV of the Higher Education Act.

STUDENT LIVING AND BOOK EXPENSES

7. Living Expenses

Provide the total living expense budget for a full-time single student living on campus, off campus, and at home that the law school established for the upcoming academic year. Provide the figures used to determine the student's loan eligibility (commonly referred to as “the budget” in Financial Aid). To calculate the living expense portion of the budget, take the overall Cost of Attendance and subtract tuition and fees.
