Topic: Online & Hybrid Learning Pedagogy Best Practices and Development of Standards

Abstract: The ABA may consider developing Model Standards for online law school programs. At AALS in 2020, a discussion group will be led by William Byrnes based on evolving and improving aspects of proposed Model Standards for online programs that are available under the “Online & Hybrid Learning Pedagogy Model Standards Development” information at the AALS link below. We will examine and discuss potential Model Standards, and discuss how these standards might be deployed, and who might be responsible for applying the standards as in an advisory manner or as an accreditor. As time allows, we will also discuss Recommended Practices and examine how schools may propel their programs toward these loftier goals.  https://am.aals.org/proposals/discussion/

If this topic area is interesting for the Standards Review Sub-Committee of the Council, then I will welcome to provide more information. Thank you for the Standards Review Sub-Committee of the Council’s consideration of this proposal.

Regards,

William H. Byrnes, IV
SSRN: http://ssrn.com/author=339796
Author, Nine Lexis law treatises and compendium
Author, Tax Facts books and Q&A database (National Underwriter)
Author, 10 vol. WoltersKluwer trust and company law compendium
Syndicated Columnist, 900 articles
Editorial Board, Lexis Law360 Tax Authority International
Editorial Board, Revista Jurídica da Advocacia-Geral do Estado de Minas Gerais (Law Review of the Attorney General’s Office of Minas Gerais, Brazil)

Join my 25,000+ LinkedIn subscribers: International Tax Planning Professionals Group
Twitter @williambyrnes

Exec. Prof. of Law; Affiliated Faculty to Texas A&M Energy Institute
Associate Dean, Special Projects
Creator, International Tax, Wealth, & Risk Management Graduate Online Programs
Texas A&M University School of Law
1515 Commerce Street, Fort Worth, Texas 76112
office: 817.212.3969 | mobile: 786.271.5202 | williambyrnes@tamu.edu