The Changing Face of America: Tracking Responses to the Economic and Demographic Transformations Through 37 Years of Systematic Surveys

8:45 AM – 10:00 AM

No city exemplifies more clearly than Houston the trends that are refashioning the social and political landscape across urban America. A new high-tech, knowledge-based, global economy is generating mounting inequalities based primarily on access to quality education. An epic demographic transformation is underway, as this nation, once predominantly composed of European nationalities, becomes a microcosm of all the world’s ethnicities and religions. And quality-of-life attributes now increasingly determine the fates of cities. We review the findings from 37 annual surveys to explore the way the new realities are unfolding and to consider their implications for the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead.
