This panel will explore evolving technologies and the product liability risks and litigation trends surrounding those technologies.

Moderator: Tamar B. Kelber, Gass Weber Mullins LLC, Milwaukee, WI

Speakers: Shayna E. Sacks, Napoli Shkolnik PLLC, New York, NY; Mark Swanson, Kinetic Metrics LLC, Alexandria, VA; Jacob Yormak, Story Ventures, New York, NY

This is not your typical cybersecurity presentation. In this interactive session, the presenters will demonstrate actual hacks and techniques of hackers. The panelists will then engage the audience in a discussion on the legal ramifications of the security events demonstrated and how to prevent or mitigate the impacts.

Moderator: Guillermo Christensen, Ice Miller LLP, Washington, D.C.

Courtroom thrillers like A Civil Action and The Rainmaker paint long odds when smaller firms take on BigLaw in court. Litigators from small and boutique firms will address strategies (including use of technology) for leveling the playing field, and through which these firms are succeeding in litigation against their BigLaw counterparts.

Moderator: John B. Mumford, Jr., Hancock Daniel & Johnson PC, Richmond, VA

The MDL Act was passed in 1958. Now 60 years later, this panel will discuss the process to pursue consolidation of multidistrict litigation before a transferee judge, how transferee judges try to manage cases for pre-trial purposes, and a variety of commonly encountered issues and challenges faced by those confronted with modern multidistrict litigation.

Effective Legal Writing: Greater Clarity Taught with Hilarity
2:00 PM – 3:00 PM
General CLE

O’Neill, Level 4

Moderator: Brian A. Berkley, Fox Rothschild LLP, Philadelphia, PA

This program offers a concentrated study of the basic rules of English composition as they apply to legal writing. The goal is to achieve a style that is simple and understandable to those who read judicial documents. By improving your writing ability, you will enhance both your productivity and efficiency. You will also be able to share many of the concepts and techniques learned through the course with your colleagues. Any judge, judicial officer, law clerk, or court-affiliated staff person who writes briefs, opinions, findings of fact, conclusions of law, jury instructions, or correspondence can benefit from this presentation.

Infringing or Not?” while our “runway models” of intellectual property demonstrate side-by-side views of genuine product and knock-offs.

Although the statutory language of antitrust laws has been largely stable for decades, the field continues to grow and change in important ways. In this session, a panel of practitioners will discuss some of the most significant recent developments in antitrust law and consider how these changes impact the work of lawyers practicing in other areas. These developments include the expansion of antitrust litigation involving employee hiring practices, recent antitrust claims arising from the settlement of non-antitrust litigation, and the potential impact of the Apple v. Pepper case, which is currently pending before the United States Supreme Court.

Moderator: Kyle W. Mach, Munger Tolles & Olson LLP, San Francisco, CA
Speakers: Hollis Salzman, Robins Kaplan LLP, New York, NY; Steve Vieux, Shook Hardy & Bacon LLP, San Francisco, CA

Copying is rampant in fashion and luxury goods, but it is often not covered by intellectual property law. We will review real-world examples in our game of “Infringing or Not?” while our “runway models” of intellectual property demonstrate side-by-side views of genuine product and knock-offs.

Whether the 10th Amendment? State Attorneys General, Federalism, and Litigation

8:15 AM – 9:45 AM

General CLE

Broadway North, Level 6

Issues of federalism are as old as the Constitution. Yet, important recent cases have raised the profile of State Attorneys General, the chief lawyers for their states and the citizens thereof. Whether the cases involve immigration, healthcare, implementation or disregard of federal mandates, litigation initiated by Attorneys General has grown in the past decade in response to initiatives from administrations in Washington from both parties. State AGs on both sides of the aisle have played a major role in federalism-styled litigation during the Trump and Obama administrations. Hear from those in the trenches in state AG offices (both AGs and solicitors) who will share their views as to why they bring (or defend against) these cases and as to how these cases fit into historical context. After listening to this balanced presentation, decide for yourself whether these cases are purely about politics or about the Rule of Law. (Or maybe it’s really some of both!)

Moderator: Ellen F. Rosenblum, Attorney General for the State of Oregon, Salem, OR Speakers: Jeff Landry, Attorney General for the State of Louisiana, Baton Rouge, LA; Karl A. Racine, Attorney General for the District of Columbia, Washington, D.C.; Daniel B. Rodriguez, Northwestern Pritzker School of Law, Chicago, IL; Misha Tseytlin, Former Wisconsin Solicitor General, Troutman Sanders LLP, Chicago, IL

How Do Small Firms and Solo Practitioners Navigate the Class Action Arena?
11:15 AM – 12:15 PM
General CLE
Shubert Complex, Level 6
How do small firms and solo practitioners participate in complex class actions on either side? This is a high-risk menu for plaintiffs and defense lawyers because they must have a relationship with leadership. Plaintiffs’ lawyers must finance their portion of the case and the case must succeed in order to get paid. This panel will discuss how leadership is assigned, how work is distributed, how predictable the outcome is, and the overall challenges.

Moderator: Louis F. Burke, Louis F. Burke PC, New York, NY
Speakers: Emily A. Ambrose, Blackwell Burke PA, Minneapolis, MN; Andrew J. McGuinness, McGuinness Esq., Ann Arbor, MI; Linda Nussbaum, Nussbaum Law Group PC, New York, NY

What’s Hot in M&A Today? The Latest Developments and Trends in Merger and Acquisition Litigation
4:00 PM – 5:00 PM
General CLE

Speakers: Amy DeCesare, Allied World Assurance Company, Farmington, CT; David A. Greetham, RICOH USA, Houston, TX; David J. Shuster, Kramon & Graham PA, Baltimore, MD; Richard A. Simpson, Wiley Rein LLP, Washington, D.C.

The panel provides an interactive example of how U.S. attorneys can obtain evidence from foreign jurisdictions. Based on a factual scenario, this presentation follows a U.S. attorney’s journey through the twists and turns typical in the quest for discovery across the international stage, including Mexico, Canada, the United Kingdom, and China.

Moderator: Jorge A. Mestre, Rivero Mestre LLP, Miami, FL
Speakers: Gavin Foggo, Fox Williams LLP, London, UK; Brett G. Harrison, McMillan LLP, Toronto, ON; José Antonio Rodríguez Márquez, Bufete Rodríguez Márquez SC, Mexico City, MX; Meg Utterback, King & Wood Mallesons, Shanghai, China

Join nationally prominent litigators from both sides of the “v,” an insurance coverage specialist, and a member of the Delaware Court of Chancery for a roundtable discussion of hot topics in the field of merger and acquisition litigation.

Moderator: Raymond J. DiCamillo, Richards Layton & Finger PA, Wilmington, DE

While a mouse click, a determined tech-savvy litigant can obliterate electronically stored information (ESI) with wiping programs or other tactics. The sheer volume and cost of processing ESI makes it difficult for counsel to detect the withholding, alteration, or destruction of ESI. Effective defense to spoliation begins with informed counsel. Artificial intelligence can help.

Moderator: Mitzi T. Shannon, Kemp Smith LLP, El Paso, TX
Speakers: Amy DeCesare, Allied World Assurance Company, Farmington, CT; David A. Greetham, RICOH USA, Houston, TX; David J. Shuster, Kramon & Graham PA, Baltimore, MD; Richard A. Simpson, Wiley Rein LLP, Washington, D.C.

Although diversity within the law is front and center these days, disability diversity among lawyers is often overlooked. In this program, attendees will hear personal anecdotes from lawyers who have disabilities about how they navigate the courtroom, the office, and beyond.

Speakers: Margaret Cimino, Ankura Consulting Group LLC, Los Angeles, CA; Jeremy Guinta, Womble Bond Dickinson LLP, Charlotte, NC; Brett G. Harrison, McKinnell LLP, Boston, MA; Jose Antonio Rodriguez Marez, Bufete Rodriguez Marez SC, Mexico City, MX; Meg Utterback, King & Wood Mallesons, Shanghai, China

Everyone wants to be able to tell a story, and persuasive storytelling is an important part of an attorney’s role. This program is designed to teach litigators and in-house counsel proper data visualization techniques to tell a more powerful story. The program will cover the four O’s (observable, original, objective, and open) of great graphics and how litigators and in-house counsel can portray a better story using data visualizations. Specifically, the program will cover (1) how to use facts and information in pictorial form; (2) useful graphic techniques for trial exhibits or presentations; and (3) good and bad data visualization methods, pitfalls, and other considerations when creating or analyzing a graph.

Arbitration: Where Does It Belong and Not Belong?
Arbitration has been the subject of numerous recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions that generally have supported its use in a wide variety of areas. As the use of arbitration has grown, there has been a counter-movement to prevent what has been termed “forced arbitration” from stifling class actions and preventing lawsuits by consumers, employees, customers of securities brokers, and victims of discrimination. This program will explore the law as it stands and discuss the practical and policy issues on both sides of these sometimes divisive issues.

Moderators: Betsy A. Hellman, Skadden Arps Slate Meagher & Flom LLP, New York, NY; Mitchell L. Marinello, Novack and Macey LLP, Chicago, IL

Speakers: F. Paul Bland, Jr., Public Justice, Washington, D.C.; Eugene I. Farber, Farber Pappalardo & Carbonari, White Plains, NY; Henry C. “Hank” Johnson, Jr., U.S. House of Representatives, 4th Congressional District of Georgia, Atlanta, GA; Debbie Masucci, Masucci Dispute Management and Resolution Services, New York, NY

Developments in Insurance Law: The Top 10 Things Every Litigator Must Now Know About Insurance
Whether you represent the plaintiff or defendant, every lawyer must have a basic understanding of insurance to adequately represent the client. Insurance is often a game changer. It can provide the path to a meaningful recovery or serve as an important safety net. Insurance is important because “Somebody Else Pays!”

Moderator: Ernest Martin, Jr., Haynes and Boone LLP, Dallas, TX

Speakers: Mary E. Borja, Wiley Rein LLP, New York, NY; Hon. Arnold L. Natali, Superior Court of New Jersey, Appellate Division, Jersey City, NJ

Rising Litigation and Compliance Risks Facing Higher Education
This program will explore increasing complexities facing universities as they try to identify and address existential risks before they result in multifaceted litigation, enforcement actions, and reputational risks. The panel will delve into the growing risks that face universities from international research activities, NCAA regulations, and the #MeToo movement, among other topics. Panelists will explore how universities—and in particular their legal and compliance personnel—face unique challenges in identifying and mitigating these risks because of autonomy-afforded professors, more decentralized departments, and incentive structures that differ from typical corporate organizations.

Moderator: Erin R. Schrantz, Jenner & Block LLP, Chicago, IL

Speakers: Donna P. Fenn, Columbia University, New York, NY; Priya J. Harjani, Northwestern University, Evanston, IL; Sankar Suryanarayan, Princeton University, Princeton, NJ

“Trumping” International Law? The Administration at The Half-Term
Just past the halfway mark, how has the Trump administration done on immigration? UN relations? International trade? International criminal law? The law of war and the military? Nuclear security? Press freedoms? International environmental affairs? Women’s and minority rights? What are the implications for the U.S.’s standing in the world?

Moderator: Hon. Delissa A. Ridgway, U.S. Court of International Trade, New York, NY

Money, Money, Money: How to Control Litigation Budgets
In-house counsel are judged on budgets. But, when done right, a budget can be the most effective communication tool with your internal client. This panel will discuss best practices for controlling a litigation budget and how you can use it to your advantage with your internal client.

Moderator: Daniel A. Schnapp, Fox Rothschild LLP, New York, NY

Speakers: Damien Atkins, The Hershey Company, Harrisburg, PA; Merrick L. Gross, Carlton Fields Jorden Burt PA, Miami, FL; Rose Stella, SANDOW and Material Bank, Denver, CO

Rule Changes for Rule 30(b)(6) Depositions: How to Meet the New Requirements in a Post-Rule Change World
Few rules cause more controversy and confusion than 30(b)(6), governing depositions of businesses. At the Section’s request, the Advisory Committee on Civil Rules undertook to review the rule and has made revisions. Hear from judges and practitioners on how the rule will change and what practitioners need to know, including how many topics you can select, how many witnesses will be produced (and for how long), what objections can be made and when, how binding witness testimony is, and what to do with inadequately prepared witnesses.

Moderator: Jeffrey J. Greenbaum, Sils Cummis & Gross PC, Newark, NJ

Speakers: Jennifer B. Bechet, Walmart Inc., Bentonville, AR; Gregory R. Hanthorn, Jones Day, Atlanta, GA; Rebecca Santoro Meller, Hangley Aronchick Segal Pudlin & Schiller, Philadelphia, PA; Leda Dunn Wettre, U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey, Newark, NJ

Developing Our Next Generation of Litigators: Creating Opportunities for Courtroom Experience
Oral advocacy opportunities for young litigators have become more scarce, especially in high-exposure, bet-the-company lawsuits. What can law firms, corporate counsel, and courts do to ensure that young litigators get oral advocacy opportunities? Panelists will discuss best practices and new innovations in developing the next generation of litigators, as well as the unique challenges faced by young women and minority litigators.

Moderator: Alex Chan, Tensereity Law Group LLP, Redwood Shores, CA

A Delicate Balance: Arboring Your Client's Complex Commercial Case Without Sacrificing Speed, Efficiency, and Cost Savings
9:10 AM – 10:10 AM
General CLE

Empire Complex, Level 7

Commercial arbitrations often involve complex disputes with multiple parties, issues, and procedural problems. If not well-managed, the hearings become too lengthy, reducing the ability of counsel and the panel to move with alacrity and cost-effectiveness. Using videos and a hypothetical construction case as an example, three commercial practitioners/arbitrators with extensive experience presenting and arbitrating complex disputes will discuss the newest and best practices that will help small and big firm advocates get their clients' disputes resolved in a fair manner without sacrificing content, speed, or cost.

Speakers: Neal M. Eisenman, Goetz Fitzpatrick LLP, New York, NY; Herbert H. “Hal” Gray III, Ragsdale Beals Seigler Patterson & Gray LLP, Atlanta, GA; Judith B. Ittig, Ittig & Ittig PC, Washington, D.C.

Trial Attorneys: Karen Y. Bitar, Seyfarth Shaw LLP, New York, NY; Bruce H. Nagel, Nagel & Rice LLP, Roseland, NJ; Stephanie A. Scharf, Scharf Banks Marmor LLC, Chicago, IL; John Zavitsanos, Ahmad Zavitsanos Anapakos Alavi & Mensing PC, Houston, TX

Judges: Hon. Stanley R. Chesler, U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey, Camden, NJ; Hon. Eva Martinez Guzman, Texas Supreme Court, Austin, TX

Jurist Consultant: Ronald Beaton, Trial Behavior Consulting, San Francisco, CA

Moderator: Demetrius Pyburn, Haynsworth Sinkler Boyd, Greenville, SC

Speakers: Andrew D. Atkins, McGuireWoods LLP, Charlotte, NC; Michelle L. Burke, Porzio Bromberg & Newman PC, Morristown, NJ; Jamie L. Lanphear, Dykema Gossett PLLC, Washington, D.C.

Wherever your client needs representation in an unfamiliar court, local counsel arrangements can provide important assistance and insights, but not without some risks. This program will identify ethical pitfalls and tips to avoid them. Most lawyers graduate from law school realizing they still have much to learn about the nuts and bolts of practice. This interactive fireside chat will address some of the gaps between law school and practice, and how associates can successfully navigate the early years of the profession.

Moderator: Michael W. Jahnke, Thompson Hine LLP, New York, NY

Speakers: Elise Greenspan, AECOM, Charleston, SC; Steven S. Kaufman, Kaufman & Company LLC, Cleveland, OH; Ellen Yaroshesky, Monroe H. Friedman Institute for the Study of Ethics, Hofstra University, Hempstead, NY
