National Conference of Lawyers and Certified Public Accountants

Aug 1994  The Board approved the jurisdictional statement for the National Conference of Lawyers and Certified Public Accountants.

The National Conference is comprised of seven ABA members appointed by the President for a three-year term and from among whom the President shall annually designate a co-chair, and seven members representing the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

The purpose of the Conference is to foster excellence of professional performance in the public interest and to provide a forum for discussion and resolution of public issues of professional concern between representatives of the American Bar Association and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Aug 1997  The Board approved the request to revise the jurisdictional statement of the National Conference to increase the membership from seven to nine ABA members, with the understanding that the remaining member will be at large and not necessarily chosen from a Section or Division.

The Conference is comprised of nine ABA members, appointed by the President for a three-year term and from among whom the President shall annually designate a co-chair, with one representative each from the sections of General Practice, Solo and Small Firm, Litigation, and Real Property, Probate and Trust; and three representatives from the Section of Taxation.

June 2005  The Board revised the jurisdictional statement of the National Conference to replace the representative from the General Practice, Solo and Small Firm Section with three representatives from the Section of Business Law.
