The way this amendment is drafted will infringe on First Amendment rights, contrary to the wording. This rule should remain limited in scope to the practice of law. Groups of lawyers should be able to freely meet based on religious beliefs without the fear of inadvertently offending someone else.

Sincerely,

Sarah B. Sparling