MICHAEL J. VAN ZANDT

Michael is the co-chair of the Environmental & Natural Resources group at Hanson Bridgett. He has practiced for more than 35 years in the areas of environmental law, natural resources law, adjudication, acquisition, transfer, and defense of water rights, and federal and state administrative law. He represents clients in Takings Claims against the United States, involving water and grazing rights. Michael is the lead attorney in a defense class action case involving more than 4,500 water rights owners. He also represents one of the largest irrigation districts in the State of Nevada.

Michael has extensive experience with hazardous waste, wetlands laws, NEPA, CEQA, Superfund, Clean Air, Clean Water, Safe Drinking Water, Endangered Species Acts, and California's Proposition 65. Under the Clean Water Act, he represents both governmental and private entities sued by citizens groups for alleged violations of storm water and effluent discharge permits. Under Proposition 65, he successfully represented multiple defendants in challenging test methods for detection of lead in plumbing products. He has resolved numerous Proposition 65 cases for companies both inside and outside California without resorting to litigation.

Michael served as chief of environmental law for several Department of Defense organizations. He was the primary environmental law advisor to five major maintenance complexes. He also served as Assistant General Counsel for the Strategic Defense Initiative Organization of the Department of Defense. He is a retired Air Force Officer.

His current activities within the ABA Senior Lawyers Division include serving as Vice-Chair of the Division, Group Director of the Publications Group, Chair of Experience Magazine Board, Chair of the Annual Meeting Committee, Vice Chair of the Bylaws Committee, Co-Chair of the Corporate Sponsorship Committee, Member of the Opioid Initiative Task Force, Liaison Coordinator, and Liaison to the ABA Section of Environment, Energy, and Resources.
Sheila Hollis practices in energy transactional and regulatory law and international and administrative law. She is Chair of Duane Morris’s Washington, D.C. office.

Sheila was the founding Director of the Office of Enforcement at the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission and the first woman to serve as President of the Energy Bar Association. She holds the distinction of being the only person to serve as both President of the EBA and Chair of the ABA’s Section of Environment, Energy and Resources.

Sheila has been appointed as the Senior Lawyers Liaison to the ABA Standing Committee on the Law Library of Congress after serving as Chair of the Standing Committee for three years. She is also serving another term as a Council Member of the ABA Senior Lawyers Division and serves in the ABA House of Delegates as the Senior Delegate of the Section of Environment, Energy and Resources.

Ms. Hollis has received many honors and recognitions from the energy and legal industries including the Senior Lawyers Division Women Trailblazers Project which houses a detailed oral history of her career.

She is also still very involved in the EBA most recently working on the Cornerstone Project 2019 to grant money to Educate Haiti which assists Haitians in the development of schools, buildings, equipment, teachers and educational leaders.
Since joining the faculty of The John Marshall Law School, Professor Mock has served as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, Chair of the Faculty Executive Committee, and Chair of Strategic Planning. He founded the Center for International & Comparative Studies and its LLM programs in Comparative Legal Studies and International Business & Trade Law. He was the co-founder of the Journal of Computer and Information Law, has coached dozens of moot court teams, and has often served as faculty advisor for the International Law Society. Professor Mock's publications are largely in the field of international law, including aspects of both transparency and game theory. Most recently, he published a book that he and an Italian law professor edited on the European Charter of Fundamental Rights. He teaches Corporations, Securities, International Trade Law, International Law, International Human Rights Law, and International Environmental Law.

During 2011-2013, Professor Mock was the Publications Officer of the ABA Section of International Law, supervising the production of scholarly publications going to over 24,000 international legal practitioners. During 2010-2011, he was the Chair of the Section of International & Immigration Law of the Illinois State Bar Association. From 2009-2011, he co-edited (with JMLS Professor Mark Wojcik) the "Year-in-Review" issue of the ABA's publication, The International Lawyer. He was the co-author of the 2000 Jessup moot court problem for the American Society of International Law. He has served on eight academic accreditation teams for the ABA and the Association of American Law Schools. He also serves in a consultative position with the Uniform Law Commission working group on the Vienna Convention on Consular Notification.

His current activities in the ABA Senior Lawyers Division include serving as the Assistant Budget Officer, an SLD Council Member, Co-Chair of the Finance & Budget Committee and Strategic Planning Committee as well as a member of the Diversity and Inclusion (Goal III) Committee.

I am an equity partner in the law firm of Barron Peck Bennie & Schlemmer, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Within the ABA, I have held a wide range of bar association leadership responsibilities, including but not limited to: Chair of ABA GPSolo Division FY2017, Chair of the Programs Board, Chair of the Publications Board, Chair of New Member Benefits, Co-Chair Corporate Sponsor Committee, Chair of Bylaws and Chair of Long Range Planning Committee. In addition to GPSolo, within the ABA I also served on the ABA's Commission on Continuing Legal Education, Group and Prepaid Legal Services, and am a member of the Senior Lawyer Division and Real Property Trust & Estate Law Section.

Within the ABA Senior Lawyer Division, I served as Co-Chair of Member Benefits Committee for FY2018 and currently serve as Chair of Member Benefits FY2019.

At the state and local level of professional activity, I am the District 1 Representative on the Ohio State Bar Association (OSBA) Board of Governors. I have also chaired the OSBA Solo, Small Firm and General Practice Section and numerous committees of this section, contributed as an author to the 13th edition of the OSBA's popular book, The Law and You, and chaired the OSBA Economics of Law Survey, which under my direction won the American Bar Association (ABA) General Practitioner (GP) / Solo Bar Project of the Year.
Karren Pope-Onwukwe is a sole practitioner (www.kpopeatty.com) focusing her practice on elder law and disability rights.

She is past president of the Elder Law and Disability Rights Section Council of the Maryland State Bar Association, co-founder and past co-chair of the Elder Law Section of the Prince George’s County Bar Association and chaired the Prince George’s County Aging Advisory Committee.

Karren is the editor of Practical Approaches to Maryland Guardianship, which was published in 2010 by the Maryland Institute for Continuing Professional Education of Lawyers (MICPEL).

Currently she serves as chair of the ABA SLD Elder Law Committee and is a Commissioner on the ABA Commission on Law and Aging. She previously served on the SLD Opioid Summit’s Steering Committee and was vice chair of the Program Committee.
Judge William (Bill) Caprathe spent 15 years as a successful trial attorney prior to being elected to the Bay County Circuit Court in 1980, where he served as chief judge from 1984 through 1997. In 1998 he became president of the Michigan Judges Association and later chaired the State Bar of Michigan’s Judicial Conference. From 2013 through 2016 he was President of the Michigan Retried Judges Association. After serving 30 years on the bench, Judge Caprathe retired at the end 2010. Since then, he continues to sit on assignment, and he conducts mediations and arbitrations. He is an associate of Professional Resolution Experts of Michigan, LLC (PREMi).

He is a member of the State Bar of Michigan’s Alternative Dispute Resolution Section and the section’s Governance Council. He has also been the chair of the section’s Judicial Access Team. Judge Caprathe is also a member of the American Bar Association and its Judicial Division and Senior Lawyers Division. He chairs JD’s Joint Committee on Mediation and Alternative Dispute Resolution and the SLD’s Alternative Dispute Resolution Committee. He is a member of the ABA’s Dispute Resolution Section and is the Judicial Division’s Liaison to that section.

In 2015, Judge Caprathe produced an ABA Webinar, “The Successful Road to Settlement Roundtable” that observed the perspectives of judges, mediators, and litigators regarding judicial settlement conferences, mediations, and how they interact. Judge Caprathe also authored an article, “Hanging Up the Robe; A Transition to Mediation” that was published by the Oakland and Washtenaw County Legal News, and in 2015 the Michigan State Bar’s ADR Quarterly Newsletter.
Kelly K. Dineen is the director of the health law program at Creighton University School of Law and an Assistant Professor of Law. She holds a PhD, with distinction, in health care ethics from Saint Louis University, as well as a JD, with a concentration in health care law. Professor Dineen practiced nursing for over a decade before attending law school, first in a neurosurgical and abdominal transplant intensive care unit and then in a functional neurosurgery practice primarily caring for patients with movement disorders and high impact chronic pain. After law school, Professor Dineen practiced health care law, representing providers and organizations in matters ranging from administrative appeals to licensure issues to fraud and abuse concerns. In academia, she served as the Assistant Director for the nation's top health law program at Saint Louis University. She also served as the Assistant Dean for Academic Affairs at Saint Louis University School of Law as well as a faculty member in health law and ethics, teaching bioethics and the law and drug and device law. Professor Dineen has served on multiple hospital ethics committees, Institutional Review Boards, and Conflicts of Interest in Research committees. Her research is highly interdisciplinary and focuses on the impact of decision making by law makers, policy makers, and providers on health care quality. Currently she is working on issues around opioid and drug policy as well as the impact of decision making on patients with highly stigmatized conditions; especially pain, substance use disorder (addiction), and serious mental illness. Her work has been published in leading health law journals, such as the American Journal of Law & Medicine, the Journal of Law, Medicine & Ethics, and the Houston Journal of Health Law & Policy. Professor Dineen has been quoted by media outlets, including the Washington Post, the Associated Press, Vice.com, and NPR.

She participated in the SLD Opioid Summit in May 2018, is a member of the SLD Opioid Initiative Task Force, and will be a panelist at the May 4, 2019, CLE “Ethical Considerations in Dealing with Clients and Colleagues Battling Opioid Misuse” during the joint spring meeting with Business Law and GPSolo.

Richard Leslie has been an active member of the ABA Senior Lawyers Division for the past 20 years. He is serving his 4th year on Council currently. He is also on the Experience Magazine Board, and both the liaison from the Tort, Trial, and Insurance Practice Section (TIPS) to the SLD and the SLD’s to TIPS. He finished last year serving on the Transition Planning Task Force. He previously served on the Nominating Committee, as well as 6 years on SLD’s CLE Committee.

Legal Profession: He was admitted to the Illinois Bar in 1961, after graduating from the University of Michigan and clerking Summers in both New York City (Weil, Gotshal, and Manges) and Chicago (McKenna Storer), where he worked with the 5th Chair of the SLD, John Storer. He passed the Florida Bar in 1962, and started with Shutts and Bowen, the oldest firm in South Florida in 1964. He was an equity partner there for 40 years, the longest in the firm’s 109 year history, retiring in 2007 under the Firm’s mandatory age requirement. (He started as the 15th attorney and today there are over 300 Shutts attorneys in Florida.) He was elected for most of his practice to both the firm’s 5 person Executive Committee and its 3 person Distribution($) Committee, which enabled him to learn much about governance, firm leadership, and fiscal responsibility.

He has tried over 200 cases to verdict, including over 150 jury trials. He’s argued in all 5 of the Appellate Courts of Florida, the Florida Supreme Court, the 5th and 11th Circuit Courts of Appeal, and the United States Supreme Court.

ABA: He joined the ABA in 1961, but became very active in 1979, when he was appointed as Chair Elect in what would become TIPS. He served as Chair of the Trial Techniques Committee, and twice as Chair Elect and then Chair of the Admiralty and Maritime Committee. He was Chair of the McKay Committee, and a 3 year member of Long Range Planning. He was Chair of a TIPS Spring Meeting in Florida and served 5 years on the ABA-TIPS Committee. He was elected to a 3 year term on the TIPS Council. He ran for the Chair of the Section, but was defeated in a close race with Linda Klein, who went on to be ABA President. He has attended almost every Annual and Winter meeting of the ABA for the past 40 years. He is currently the 3 year elected representative of the Miami-Dade County Bar Assn. (over 17,000 members) to the House of Delegates. He has have served in the House for 18 years as the representative of the Maritime Law Assn. of the United States, the Florida Bar, and the Miami-Dade Bar.

Other Bar Associations: He has served in various capacities in the MLA (Maritime Law Assn. of the U.S.), including a 3 year elected term on the Board of Directors. In the Federation of Defense and Corporate Council, he has been Vice President, on the Board of Directors for elected terms totaling 5 years, having also served as Committee Chairs, Annual Convention Chair, and Annual Program Chair. He was elected a member in 1970.

He was one of the original members of the Florida Defense Lawyer’s Assn. over 50 years ago. He was elected to their Board of Directors, and also served as their Secretary, Vice President, and President. He was an original member of the Dade County Defense Bar Assn., and a member of its first Board of Directors. He has been elected to 8 three terms on the Miami-Dade County Bar Assn. Board of Directors, which he believes is the longest tenure in the Board’s 102 year history.
