This workshop was held at the 2017 Equal Justice Conference in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Title:
Reinventing Pro Bono Collaborations

Presenters:
Kevin A. Carter, Alcoa Corporation, Pittsburgh, PA
Katy McKee, Neighborhood Legal Services Association, Pittsburgh, PA
Antoinette C. Oliver, Meyer, Unkovic & Scott, Pittsburgh, PA
Nick Oliver, Alcoa Corporation, Pittsburgh, PA

Forming collaborative partnerships feels like a joyous party. But what happens when the party ends and partners leave or the pro bono collaborations lose that spark? Participate in our interactive discussion about reinventing pro bono partnerships, what makes collaborations work and how to infuse the life back into the party.
Preserving and Reviving Pro Bono Projects
What to do when the party's over

Forming collaborative partnerships feels like a joyous party. But what happens when the party ends and partners leave or the pro bono collaborations lose that spark?

Participate in our interactive discussion about:

- Reinventing pro bono partnerships,
- What makes collaborations work, and
- How to infuse the life back into the party.
Overview of the Pittsburgh Pro Bono Partnership

- What is the Partnership?
- Who are the Partnership's members?
- What is the Partnership's goal?
- What does the Partnership do?
What Makes Some Collaborations Successful

- Support from NLSA and the ACBF
- Dedicated Leadership and Members
- Training and Support for Projects
- Helping Members Be Recognized
- In-House and Law Firm Collaborations
- Signature Projects
- Top Down Commitment
What Makes Some Collaborations Unsuccessful

- Divisions of Labor
- Lack of Potential Clients
- Burn Out
- Lack of Training
- Areas of Law
- Scheduling Issues/Time Commitment
- Unclear Expectations
Strategies for Reinventing Projects

- Changing Partners
- Reinventing Projects
- Developing New Projects
Preserving and Reviving Projects

Kevin Carter
Counsel
Alcoa Corporation
412.315.2761
Kevin.Carter@alcoa.com

Antoinette C. Oliver
Partner
Meyer, Unkovic & Scott
412.456.2851
aco@muslaw.com

Katy McKee
Staff Attorney
Neighborhood Legal Services Association
412.586.6160
mckeek@nlsa.us

Nick Oliver
Counsel
Alcoa Legal Department
412.315.2804
Nicklaus.Oliver@alcoa.com