The 33rd Annual National Institute on White Collar Crime
March 6–8, 2019 | Hilton Riverside | New Orleans, LA

Description of Proceedings

The 2019 White Collar Crime National Institute will take place from Wednesday, March 6 to Friday, March 8, 2019, in New Orleans, Louisiana. On March 6, after the luncheon break, we will have a panel devoted to corporate general counsel, followed by a discussion with the heads of enforcement of the Department of Justice Criminal Division, the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Commodities Futures Trading Commission.

In addition to those two plenary sessions, we will have three other such panels, including the much acclaimed panel of United States District Judges, an ethics panel of leading trial lawyers analyzing the complexities of representing multiple defendants in an investigation, and lastly, on Friday morning, distinguished speakers exploring the ethical issues and challenges that confront prosecutors, defense counsel, and legal commentators during high profile investigations.

Our average attendance each of the past two decades has exceeded 1,200 at this nationally recognized annual gathering of the national white collar bar. The Institute is proud to continue to present outstanding panelists who deal with some of the most significant and immediate issues of our time. This year we will continue to have the popular regional panels as well as the many analyses of recent developments in the various substantive areas that comprise white collar law. In light of the ever expanding globalization of the practice, several of the panels will tackle international issues faced by practitioners, including the complexities of foreign data privacy laws and the ever expanding role of monitorships in multi-country settlements. A group of leading lawyers from Canada, England, France, Germany and Brazil will also discuss important recent developments in each of those countries that should be of interest to US lawyers.

Since its establishment in 1987, the Institute has been attended by leading federal and state judges and prosecutors, law enforcement officials, defense attorneys, corporate in-house counsel and members of the academic community. The faculty regularly includes some of the top members of the white collar bar in the United States and abroad. Among the audience are nationally-renowned lawyers, as well as many who are beginning to concentrate in the white collar area. Attendees have consistently given the Institute high ratings for the exceptional quality of its publication, the panelists’ presentations, the valuable updates on new developments and strategies, as well as the rare opportunity to meet colleagues in this field, renew acquaintances and exchange ideas.

Once again, we will have three panels that will qualify for ethics CLE credit. The Institute will have excellent representation from the corporate sector and the judiciary, including Chief Judges Brian Jackson and Patti B. Saris, United States District Judges Denise Cote, Paul Friedman, Paul Huck, Amit Mehta, Carlos Mendoza, Carlton Reeves, Yvonne Gonzalez Rogers, and United States Circuit Judge Amy St. Eve. The general counsel of American International Group, Inc. (AIG), BAE Systems, Inc., Cloudflare, Inc., General Motors, FleishmanHillard, Ingersoll-Rand Plc, and PayPal will be participating, as will and senior members of the legal and compliance groups of Barclays Plc, Bechtel Corp., Computer Forensics Services, Google, Inc., Medtronic, and PIMCO. The Institute will also include senior members of the Department of Justice and distinguished members of academia.
