Description of Proceedings
The 2019 White Collar Crime National Institute will take place from Wednesday, March 6 to Friday, March 8, 2019, in New Orleans, Louisiana. On March 6, after the luncheon break, we will have a panel devoted to corporate general counsel, followed by a discussion with the heads of enforcement of the Department of Justice Criminal Division, the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Commodities Futures Trading Commission.

In addition to those two plenary sessions, we will have three other such panels, including the much acclaimed panel of United States District Judges, an ethics panel of leading trial lawyers analyzing the complexities of representing multiple defendants in an investigation, and lastly, on Friday morning, distinguished speakers exploring the ethical issues and challenges that confront prosecutors, defense counsel, and legal commentators during high profile investigations.

Our average attendance each of the past two decades has exceeded 1,200 at this nationally recognized annual gathering of the national white collar bar. The Institute is proud to continue to present outstanding panelists who deal with some of the most significant and immediate issues of our time. This year we will continue to have the popular regional panels as well as the many analyses of recent developments in the various substantive areas that comprise white collar law. In light of the ever expanding globalization of the practice, several of the panels will tackle international issues faced by practitioners, including the complexities of foreign data privacy laws and the ever expanding role of monitorships in multi-country settlements. A group of leading lawyers from Canada, England, France, Germany, and Brazil will also discuss important recent developments in each of those countries that should be of interest to US lawyers.

Since its establishment in 1987, the Institute has been attended by leading federal and state judges and prosecutors, law enforcement officials, defense attorneys, corporate in-house counsel, and members of the academic community. The faculty regularly includes some of the top members of the white collar bar in the United States and abroad. Among the audience are nationally-renowned lawyers, as well as many who are beginning to concentrate in the white collar area. Attendees have consistently given the Institute high ratings for the exceptional quality of its publication, the panelists’ presentations, the valuable updates on new developments and strategies, as well as the rare opportunity to meet colleagues in this field, renew acquaintances and exchange ideas.

Once again, we will have three panels that will qualify for ethics CLE credit. The Institute will have excellent representation from the corporate sector and the judiciary, including Chief Judges Brian Jackson and Patti B. Saris, United States District Judges Denise Cote, Paul Friedman, Paul Huck, Amit Mehta, Carlos Mendoza, Carlton Reeves, Yvonne Gonzalez Rogers, and United States Circuit Judge Amy St. Eve. The general counsel of American International Group, Inc. (AIG), BAE Systems, Inc., Cloudfare, Inc., General Motors, FleishmanHillard, Ingersoll-Rand Plc, and PayPal will be participating, as well as senior members of the legal and compliance groups of Barclays Plc, Bechtel Corp., Computer Forensics Services, Google, Inc., Medtronic, and PIMCO. The Institute will also include senior members of the Department of Justice and distinguished members of academia.

Nina Marino, Moderator
Brian E. Klein, Michele R. Korver, Mark Lanterman, Patricia Pelaez
Since the explosion of ICOs (initial coin offerings), the SEC and CFTC have been aggressively pursuing investigations and enforcement actions. The DOJ has also been investigating and charging high profile cases involving digital currency. This panel will explore the current landscape and what the future might hold. |
|            | B. New Developments in Criminal Tax Enforcement
Caroline D. Ciraola, Moderator
J. Donald Fort, Paula M. Junghans, Carlos F. Ortiz, Steven Toscher
This panel will consider the ever-expanding role of the IRS Criminal Investigation Division and its new specialized units in the investigation and prosecution of criminal tax cases, and will offer practice tips for dealing with such situations. It will also discuss the use of tax charges in otherwise non-tax cases, and the expansion of international collaboration in such cases. |
|            | C. Antitrust Enforcement
Lisa Tenorio Kutzkey, Moderator
Kathryn Hellings, David Oscar Markus, Mark R. Rosman, Richard Powers
Panelists will focus on emerging trends in the investigation, prosecution and defense of corporations and individuals in criminal antitrust matters, including the proliferation of such cases with international ramifications, and explore key components in developing an effective defense. |
Paul F. Enzinna, Moderator
Julie Edelstein, Jeffery B. Vaden, Joe Whitley, Wendy Wysong
The world has grown “flatter” in the 21st century, and technological advances, globalization, and international terrorism pose new challenges to the rule of law. This panel will address those challenges, and the legal system’s response to them, from border security to individual privacy and government secrecy, and from economic espionage to international trade. |
|            | E. International Data Protection Laws and their Impact on White Collar Practitioners
Jonathan S. Sack, Moderator
Christine Braamskamp, Thibault Guillemin, Bjorn Gercke, Lisa van der Wal
The risks associated with gathering and using personal data have increased in recent years, culminating in the adoption by the European Union (EU) of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) (effective May 2018), which extends the reach of EU law to many entities that conduct business in the EU, even though located in the United States, and imposes increased penalties for noncompliance. Panelists will discuss the GDPR and the individual laws of each represented country, and their impact on businesses that handle personal data of individuals and on defense of white collar cases. |

The Evolving Challenge of Judging: 2019 Edition

- Hon. Paul L. Friedman, Moderator

Six noted federal judges, led by United States District Judge Paul L. Friedman, will again consider some of the personal and professional challenges and difficult substantive issues they confront in the daily administration of justice. This continuing annual judicial panel explores the evolving task of judging in the 21st century.

Sexual Abuse and Workplace Misconduct: Investigation, Prosecution and Defense in the #MeToo Era

- Joan McPhee, Moderator

Fueled by social media and lightning-speed repercussions for institutions and individuals, the #MeToo movement has transformed the way allegations of sexual abuse and misconduct are being addressed across organizations and industries. Gone are the days when these matters could be handled internally and privately. This panel of government and defense counsel, independent investigators, and in-house counsel, will discuss the heightened corporate and individual exposure in the wake of recent developments, best practices for companies, and particular challenges for counsel in the investigation, prosecution and defense of these matters.
