<tr>
<td>1:30 p.m.</td>
<td>Incident Response Preparation for Law Firms</td>
<td>Melissa Ventrone</td>
<td>Holly Brady, Doug Dexter, Robert Kerr, Matthew Meade, Sam Rubin</td>
<td>What happens when it’s your firm that’s been breached? The initial steps taken by a firm to both contain a breach and secure its clients’ information are critical in mitigating risk. Cybersecurity and legal experts will share best practices for firms of all sizes on how to prepare. The panel will provide tips on establishing an incident response program that work for law firms of all sizes. The panel will discuss who should be part of an incident response team, what roles should those individuals play, and what measures a law firm should take before an incident to minimize its risks.</td>

<td>Mock Tabletop Exercise</td>
<td>Melissa Ventrone</td>
<td>Holly Brady, Doug Dexter, Robert Kerr, Matthew Meade, Sam Rubin</td>
<td>The panel will be a continuation and an interactive hour where attendees will work through a series of hypothetical scenarios to address some of the more challenging issues that arise when responding to a data incident. Examples include when/whether to inform a client of a data incident, when/how to engage law enforcement, tips on working with cybersecurity vendors, and cyber liability insurance. Companies are being regularly asked how they manage third parties and have increased expectations for legal counsel managing their data. Learn how to best prepare to demonstrate to your clients that you are responsibly accounting for privacy and security risk.</td>
