Michael Shull is a member of Frost Brown Todd LLC, concentrating his practice on the construction industry and public procurement. His clients involve both public and private owners as well as general contractors, subcontractors and suppliers. He has previously contributed to publications by the ABA, Aspen Publishers, Thomson/West and the Associated General Contractors. Mr. Shull holds a B.S. in civil engineering as well as his J.D., both from the University of Kentucky. Prior to practicing law, Mr. Shull was a research engineer with the Kentucky Transportation Center. He is admitted to practice in Colorado, Georgia and Kentucky.