Adrian Jones (AJ) was starved, beaten until he bled, forced to stand in freezing water and strapped to a board while blindfolded. He wasted away in front of the surveillance camera his biological father and stepmother installed. No one was there to help him, in spite of at least ten calls to the Kansas and Missouri child abuse hotlines, and numerous investigations, including both police and CPS. How can the system be fixed to ensure that no child has to suffer like AJ?

| 10:45 – 12:00 pm | Plenary Session II – The Intersection of the Criminal Justice System and People with Mental Disabilities | People with mental disabilities (mental illness and intellectual/developmental disabilities) are uniquely vulnerable within the criminal justice system. Their behavior and mannerisms may make them suspect, they may not understand the nature of an interrogation, there may be issues surrounding their competency to proceed and sanity at the time of the alleged act, and they may have special challenges in a jail or prison such as being preyed upon by other inmates and an inability to follow rules. This panel - with a prosecutor, former public defender, a judge, and a forensic psychiatrist, moderated by a criminal defense lawyer - will explore how the criminal justice system can be more responsive to people with mental disabilities while at the same time honoring our respective ethical standards.
Moderator: Elizabeth Kelley, Law Offices of Elizabeth Kelley, Spokane, WA
Speakers:
Dr. George S. Woods, Forensic Psychiatrist, Former President, International Academy of Law and Mental Health
Mark A. Dupree, District Attorney, Wyandotte County, KS
Jennifer K. Johnson, Esq., Former Senior Trial Attorney, San Francisco Public Defender

| 1:30 – 2:45 pm  | PLENARY Session III – Exit Ramps from the Wheel of Criminal Justice/Expungement and Sealing Laws | The impediments to housing, employment, education, voting and jury service for those who have criminal conviction history has stirred national attention to expungement laws and procedures. This panel will discuss legislative efforts, pro bono projects and other initiatives crossing the nation designed to ease the path to expungement of criminal history records and the opening of doors previously closed.
Moderator: Marissel Descalzo, Partner, Tache Bronis, Miami, FL
Speakers:
Todd Thompson, County Attorney, Leavenworth County, KS
Christine Campbell, Director, Kansas Legal Services, Wichita KS Statewide Pro Bono
Robert Moody, Martin Pringle, Wichita, KS |
| 2:45 – 3:00 pm  | Afternoon Keynote Address | Honorable Nancy Moritz, Judge, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit |
| 3:00 – 3:15 pm  | Networking Coffee & Tea Break | |
| 3:15 – 4:30 pm  | Plenary Session IV - Challenges in the Exercise of Prosecutorial Discretion | Prosecutors are afforded broad discretion to act as ministers of justice toward the goal of public safety. In recent years, some prosecutors have adopted policies of declining to charge certain categories of crime, in recommending diversion programs in lieu of prosecution.
This interactive panel will explore these issues using case studies that reflect difficult choices face prosecutors and their offices.
Moderator: Professor Ellen Yaroshesfsky, Howard Lichtenstein Professor of Legal Ethics, and Director, Monroe Freedman Institute for the Study of Legal Ethics, Hofstra University School of Law, New York, NY
Speakers:
Ronald Paschal, Chief Deputy District Attorney, Saginaw County, Wichita
Jean Peters Baker, District Attorney, Jackson County, Kansas City, MO |
| 4:30 – 5:45 pm  | Plenary V – Lawyers Protecting the Independence of the American Judiciary and the Rule of Law | An Interactive Discussion addressing the obligation of the legal profession to protect the independence and integrity of the American judiciary, and the separation of powers established by the U.S. Constitution, and an examination of the public comment of U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice John Roberts that the “U.S. doesn’t have “Obama judges or Trump judges, Bush judges or Clinton judges. What we have is an extraordinary group of dedicated judges doing their level best to do equal right to those appearing before them.”

Moderator:
Speakers:  Dan Monnat, Founder, Monnat and Spurrier, Wichita, KS
          Kevin Curtin, Senior Appellate Counsel/Grand Jury Director, Middlesex District Attorney
