Deed fraud is a serious crime and has become more prevalent especially with the boom in real estate markets. In this webinar, you will learn how deed fraud is committed and how prosecutors and notaries public can help combat this form of theft.

Take this course to learn:

- How deed fraud is committed
- How the notary public is the first line of defense in preventing deed fraud
- How recording agencies rely on notarial acts for the authentication of deeds
- How the identity and the records of the notary public are crucial to civil and criminal investigations
- What investigative tools are needed to identify the notary public
- What legislation concerning the notary public is being proposed

Program faculty:

- Jill Mariani (moderator), Special Investigative Counsel, NY County District Attorney’s Office, New York, NY;
- Judy F. Berkman, Senior Counsel, Regional Housing Legal Services, Glenside, PA
- Kimberly Esack, Assistant Supervisor, Economic Crimes Unit, Philadelphia District Attorney’s Office, Philadelphia, PA
