We are thrilled to share this outline of the activities planned for the 13th Annual Labor and Employment Law Conference, which will be held from November 6–9, 2019 at the Hilton New Orleans Riverside.

At this year’s Conference, you can expect:

- Prominent speakers and exciting and balanced panels
- A full year’s worth of CLE credit at a price that can’t be beat
- A curriculum covering all aspects of labor and employment law practice
- A multi-level program that will be of value regardless of your degree of experience
- Opportunities for you to meet with colleagues representing all perspectives in the labor and employment arena

The Conference Planning Committee, comprised of extraordinary Section members representing all affiliations, has worked tirelessly during the past year to make this the preeminent labor and employment law conference. We are excited to bring together speakers from private practice and government agencies for robust panels and dialogues. During the Conference, you will have the opportunity to confer with top practitioners representing employees, employers, unions and government agencies, as well as neutrals, in-house counsel and academics.

New Orleans has long been one of the Section’s favorite cities. The Hilton Riverside is the perfect setting from which to take full advantage of the Crescent City’s offerings, which will be highlighted by our wonderful Host Committee. We are especially looking forward to our Networking Reception on Friday evening at the House of Blues, featuring entertainment by some of New Orleans’ finest musicians. The reception will allow attendees to interact in a less structured setting and relax after a full day of educational programs.

We urge you to make your plans to attend the Conference and encourage your colleagues to join you, too. You will not want to miss any of it!

Additional program details and registration information are available on the Conference website at www.ambar.org/laborconference. Register by September 20, 2019 to take advantage of substantial early registration discounts.

We look forward to welcoming you at the 13th Annual Labor and Employment Law Conference.

Joseph E. Tilson
Chair

Christopher T. Hexter
Chair-Elect
Wednesday, November 6

• 4:30 pm – 5:00 pm

Law Student Orientation

Law student attendees are invited to mingle with each other and members of the Outreach to Law Students Committee prior to the start of the Conference. This event will offer students a casual introduction to the ins and outs of the Annual Section Conference.

• 5:00 pm – 6:00 pm

First-Time Attendee/New Section Member Orientation

If you are a new member of the Section of Labor and Employment Law or if this is your first Section meeting, join your peers for an overview of what you should know about the Section and how to get the most benefit from attending the Conference.

• 6:00 pm – 8:00 pm

Welcome Reception and Committee Expo

All attendees are invited to meet, greet and network during this opening reception at the Hilton New Orleans Riverside. Section Committees will offer information about publications, services and programs they provide to labor and employment lawyers.
Thursday, November 7

Plenary Sessions
- 9:45 am – 10:00 am
  Welcome and Introductions
- 10:00 am – 11:15 am
  Supreme Court Review
  The Section Secretary will review recent decisions from the Supreme Court and look at what is in the pipeline for the coming term.

  SPEAKER:
  Peggie R. Smith, Washington University School of Law, St. Louis, MO

- 4:00 pm – 5:15 pm
  The Changing Workplace
  The media regularly reports about changes to today’s workplace, including the rise of the gig economy and other changes in employer-employee relationships, working arrangements, and compensation and employee benefits structures. Disagreements about the consequences of these changes abound, but there’s little doubt that terms and conditions of employment and the nature of the workplace are changing, and, in some respects, significantly. This panel will identify these significant changes, take an in-depth look at where the workplace is headed, explore how changes in labor and employment laws may have impacted workplaces? When does an employer go too far in seeking to prevent or punish arguably offensive employee conduct involving workplace issues? Where do the NLRB and the EEOC stand on this and what regulatory guidance exists to clarify the issues? How might Title VII litigation be impacted by a concurrent arbitration proceeding concerning whether the plaintiff was disciplined for “just cause” under the collective bargaining agreement or employment agreement?

  PANELISTS:
  Sarah Burke, National Labor Relations Board, Seattle, WA
  Ryan A. Hagerty, Asher Gittler & D’Alba, Ltd., Chicago, IL
  Sonya Richburg, Coca-Cola Bottling Co. Consolidated, Charlotte, NC
  Brent L. Wilson, Elitbee, Thompson, Sapp & Wilson, LLP, Atlanta, GA

  MODERATOR:
  Cynthia E. Nance, University of Arkansas School of Law, Fayetteville, AR

Discrimination, Harassment and Retaliation Track
Sponsored by Welch Consulting
- 8:00 am – 9:15 am
  Balancing Employee Rights Under the NLRA with Employer Obligations Under Title VII
  This panel will explore the tension that exists, or that is perceived to exist, between the right of employees to engage in protected concerted activity under the National Labor Relations Act and the obligation of employers to prevent discrimination and harassment under the federal and state discrimination laws. What special considerations are involved in investigating, prosecuting and defending these types of claims in concert in unionized and nonunionized workplaces? When does an employer go too far in seeking to prevent or punish arguably offensive employee conduct involving workplace issues? Where do the NLRB and the EEOC stand on this and what regulatory guidance exists to clarify the issues? How might Title VII litigation be impacted by a concurrent arbitration proceeding concerning whether the plaintiff was disciplined for “just cause” under the collective bargaining agreement or employment agreement?

  PANELISTS:
  Kimberley Chaput, Association of Flight Attendants, Astoria, OR
  Amber Trzinski Fox, U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, Washington, DC
  Sidney O. Minter, Jackson Lewis PC, Raleigh, NC
  Gillian Thomas, ACLU Women’s Rights Project, New York, NY
  Trish Wray, Duke Energy Corporation, Charlotte, NC

- 2:30 pm – 3:45 pm
  Causation Standards under Employment Discrimination Statutes: But-For, Motivating Factor, Pretext: What Does It All Mean?
  Although plaintiffs always bear the burden of proving discrimination, the causation standards courts have constructed do not always seem to mean the same thing to every judge in every jurisdiction. This presentation will explore how causation standards do or do not differ at various procedural stages of a case and when attempting to prove a claim of Title VII discrimination, Title VII retaliation, age discrimination under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, and other common types of discrimination claims.

  PANELISTS:
  Stephen P. Beiser, McGlinchey Stafford, New Orleans, LA
  Paul W. Mollica, Outten & Golden LLP, Chicago, IL
  Peter Varney, UNC Health Care, Chapel Hill, NC

Employee Benefits Track
- 11:30 am – 12:45 pm
  What Every Employment Litigator Should Know About Employee Benefits
  The resolution of employment litigation often involves issues related to employee benefits. This program will explore employee benefit issues for employment litigators.

  PANELISTS:
  Maria C. Cangemi, Robein, Urann, Spencer, Picard & Cangemi, APLC, New Orleans, LA
  Stacey C.S. Cerrone, Proskauer Rose LLP, New Orleans, LA
  Denise M. Clark, The Clark Law Group, Washington, DC
• 2:30 pm – 3:45 pm

Navigating an Employee Benefit Plan Audit

The U.S. Department of Labor conducts investigations of pension, 401(k), health and welfare, and other types of employee benefit plans. This panel will discuss the DOL investigatory process and prepare advocates to help their clients navigate a DOL investigation.

PANELISTS:
Benjamin Eisner, Spear Wilderman PC, Philadelphia, PA
Aliya Robinson, ERISA Industry Committee (ERIC), Washington, DC
Joanne Roskey, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, DC
Michelle Thomas, Kaiser Permanente, Oakland, CA

Federal Sector Track
• 2:30 pm – 3:45 pm

The Current Administration’s Impact on the Federal Workplace

This panel will review the key changes that the Trump Administration has brought to the federal workforce. Both the implemented and proposed changes have raised a host of legal issues that will be discussed, including the First Amendment and free speech rights for federal workers, collective bargaining rights, and the impact of the May 2018 Executive Orders on the federal workplace. Panelists will offer their insights about how the Trump Administration approaches these rights and responsibilities, as well as suggest best practices for dealing with the new political realities.

PANELISTS:
Cathy Harris, Kator, Parks, Weiser & Harris, PLLC, Washington, DC
Tristan Leavitt, U.S. Merit Systems Protection Board, Washington, DC
Cathie McQuiston, American Federation of Government Employees, Washington, DC
Jeff Rosenblum, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Washington, DC
Nick Schwellenbach, Project on Government Oversight (POGO), Washington, DC

International Track
• 11:30 am – 12:45 pm

The Brave New World: NAFTA 2.0, BREXIT and Cross-Border Labor Migration

Political and economic changes are sweeping the globe, as are changes to the common law, statutory and regulatory framework governing a global workforce. Until now, citizens of European Union member states have been entitled to free movement across borders. UK employers have been free to employ French, Polish and other EU citizens from outside the UK, and European employers have been free to hire British citizens. Simultaneously, NAFTA provided employers with some ability to move key personnel, especially executives, managers and professionals, across borders among Canada, the US and Mexico. The United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement (USMCA), which, assuming ratification, will replace NAFTA, has somewhat different provisions about cross-border employee mobility. This panel will examine, from a comparative perspective, the effects of these changes on US-based employers operating in the UK, the EU and in multiple countries within North America.

PANELISTS:
Osvaldo O. Barsanti, D’Auria & Barsanti, Buenos Aires, Argentina
Mia Belk, Densply Sirona, York, PA
Owen E. Harrnstadt, International Association of Machinists & Aerospace Workers, Upper Marlboro, MD
Danny J. Kafer, Borden Ladner Gervais LLP, Montreal, QC
Marcia Longdon, Kingsley Napley, London, United Kingdom
Kushal Patel, Laura Devine Attorneys, New York, NY

• 2:30 pm – 3:45 pm

Pay Equity around the World: The Next Chapter of the #MeToo Movement

This session will examine the developments in pay equity around the world. More than ever, governments are enacting new equal pay laws and taking other steps to reduce the wage gap between men and women. The panelists will examine these developments and assess their impact.

PANELISTS:
Chris Benson, Leigh Day, London, United Kingdom
Colleen Cleary, CC Solicitors, Dublin, Ireland
Nicole Groves, Facebook, New York, NY
Kimberly Y. Jones, Athena Legal Strategies Group, Boston, MA
Kathryn G. Mantoan, Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP, San Francisco, CA
Yona Rozen, AFL-CIO, Washington, DC

Labor-Management Relations Track
Sponsored by American Arbitration Association
• 8:00 am – 9:15 am

Living the High Life: How Legalizing Marijuana Impacts the Modern Workplace

With the explosion of states legalizing marijuana for medical and/or recreational use, employers are more frequently confronting how to deal with the employee who uses marijuana, including considerations related to drug testing policies. Indeed, employers in this new industry themselves face intriguing challenges in operating businesses that violate federal law while being sanctioned by certain states. This program will address substantive and procedural issues from the perspective of the employer, employee and union representatives, identifying current legal obligations and forecasting on where these obligations may change as legalized marijuana becomes even more widespread.

PANELISTS:
Bennett Allen, Cook & Logothetis, LLC, Cincinnati, OH
Luis Avila, Varnum LLP, Grand Rapids, MI
Erica Brown, Dawn Foods Global, Jackson, MI
Kyle Todd, Law Offices of Kyle Todd, Los Angeles, CA
• 11:30 am – 12:45 pm

Meet the National Labor Relations Board

There have been significant changes in the priorities of the NLRB since the Obama Board. Hear from the Chairman and Members of the Trump Board as they discuss and share insights on decisions as well as agency initiatives and developments since their panel last year.

PANELISTS:
- Hon. John F. Ring, National Labor Relations Board, Washington, DC (invited)
- Hon. Lauren McFerran, National Labor Relations Board, Washington, DC (invited)
- Hon. Marvin E. Kaplan, National Labor Relations Board, Washington, DC (invited)
- Hon. William J. Emanuel, National Labor Relations Board, Washington, DC (invited)

MODERATORS:
- Jennifer Platzkere Snyder, Dilworth Paxson LLP, Philadelphia, PA
- Gwynne A. Wilcox, Levy Butner, P.C., New York, NY

• 2:30 pm – 3:45 pm

Meet the National Labor Relations Board General Counsel

Having completed nearly two years in office, the General Counsel of the NLRB will discuss his vision as General Counsel as well as recent developments, initiatives and changes that have been implemented since last year’s Conference.

MODERATORS:
- Jennifer Abruzzo, Communication Workers of America, Washington, DC
- Amy J. Zdravecky, Barnes & Thornburg LLP, Grand Rapids, MI

PANELISTS:
- Hon. Peter B. Robb, National Labor Relations Board, Washington, DC (invited)
- Alice B. Stock, National Labor Relations Board, Washington, DC (invited)

Litigation and Class Action Track

Sponsored by Welch Consulting

• 8:00 am – 9:15 am

State Law Limitations on the Use of Non-Competition or Non-Solicitation Agreements: How Enforcement Actions Are Impacted in this Ever-Changing Landscape

Several states have enacted or are in the process of enacting laws restricting the use of non-competition and non-solicitation agreements. How do these laws square up with the Defend Trade Secrets Act, and what is a litigator’s best strategy for enforcement/defense of these restrictive agreements? How does the employer/employee’s conduct impact enforcement actions?

PANELISTS:
- Joseph Y. Ahmad, Ahmad, Zavitsanos, Anapiakos, Alawi & Mensing PC, Houston, TX
- William Hamilton, University of Florida College of Law, Gainesville, FL
- Sepideh Smith, CNH Industrial America LLC, Burr Ridge, IL (invited)

MODERATOR:
- Denis Dembowski, Bloomberg Law, Washington, DC

• 11:30 am – 12:45 pm

Motions in Limine: How to Best Use them To Your Advantage

Motions in limine are usually an afterthought. But thinking early about how they can be used to your advantage may be an important strategic benefit. This panel will discuss the pros and cons of motions in limine, which ones plaintiffs and defendants should consider filing and looking out for, and how to draft and respond to them.

PANELISTS:
- Hon. Linda T. Walker, U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia, Atlanta, GA
- Uche N. Egemonye, U.S. Department of Labor, Atlanta, GA
- Marcus G. Keegan, Keegan Law Firm, LLC, Atlanta, GA
- Vanessa M. Kelly, Clark Hill PLC, Princeton, NJ

• 2:30 pm – 3:45 pm

Crafting Winning Opening Statements and Closing Arguments for a Judge or Arbitrator

During the opening statements and closing arguments in a bench trial or arbitration, it is essentially the lawyer that is on trial. This panel will discuss the function and role of both opening statements and closing arguments and how they differ, including how to set the tone for trial or arbitration and how to develop a coherent theme that is ultimately knit together in the end. Panelists will provide tips on engaging a judge or arbitrator (as opposed to a jury) from the start and becoming likeable and trustworthy – two essential components for an effective trial lawyer.

PANELISTS:
- Denise K. Drake, Polsinelli PC, Kansas City, MO
- Hon. Irma E. Gomez (ret.), JAMS, San Diego, CA
- Megan Mechkah, McGillivary Steele Elkins LLP, Washington, DC

Practice and Professionalism Track

• 8:00 am – 9:15 am

How to Avoid and Respond to Sanctionable Conduct: Lessons from Inside the Sandbox (Ethics)

This panel will use real-life labor and employment cases and inspired-by-a-true-story hypotheticals to discuss different types of sanctionable conduct, how to avoid unintentional mishaps, and how to respond when opposing counsel goes low.

PANELISTS:
- Hon. Christopher “Casey” Cooper, U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, Washington, DC
- Paula J. Frederick, State Bar of Georgia, Atlanta, GA
- Ellen J. Messing, Messing, Rudavsky & Welty, P.C., Boston, MA
- Dawn Siler-Nixon, FordHarrison, Tampa, FL

Public Sector Track

• 8:00 am – 9:15 am

When and Where Are Public Employee Strikes Legal?

In the last few years, there has been a number of public employee strikes across the country. Most notably, there have been teacher strikes in several “red” states that have received national attention. This session will look at public employee strikes, at the differences in various states’ laws governing public employee strikes, and the outcome of recent public employee strikes.

PANELISTS:
- Lewis G. Brewer, Lewis G. Brewer PLLC, Charleston, WV
- Emma Leheny, National Education Association, Washington, DC
- Emily Martin, Washington Public Employment Relations Commission, Kirkland, WA
- Alexander A. Molina, Los Angeles Unified School District, Los Angeles, CA
Whistleblower Track

8:00 am – 9:15 am
Whistleblower Laws and Issues from Across the Globe: It’s a Small World After All
Like it or not, we live in a global world: many American employers operate in multiple countries. What whistleblower protections do those countries have, and how do they compare with ours? What are the employers’ systems for complying with these numerous laws? Can foreign employees blow the whistle in the US under US law? What are the pluses and minuses of the multiple systems, both for employers and for employees? The panel will explore these and related topics and provide practical advice for employers and employees operating – or thinking of operating – outside the US.

PANELISTS:
Amanda Clark, Asher Gittler & D’Alba Ltd., Chicago, IL
Kurtis Hale, Poltrick & Poltrick, Chicago, IL
Kay H. Hodge, Stoneman, Chandler & Miller LLP, Boston, MA
Eric Rodriguez, Miami-Dade County Attorney’s Office, Miami, FL

Workers’ Compensation Track

11:30 am – 12:45 pm
Alphabet Soup and the Employment Lawyer: The Interplay of FMLA, ADA and WC
This panel will bring the general employment lawyer through various scenarios in which the Family and Medical Leave Act, Americans with Disabilities Act and state workers’ compensation laws overlap, helping to highlight the advantages and disadvantages of each law as far as protections to the employee and to the employer, and guiding the general employment lawyer to avoid pitfalls and traps not always obvious to the uninitiated.

PANELISTS:
Daisy Gurdian Kane, Ochsner Health System, New Orleans, LA
Robert L. Hendrix III, Morgan & Morgan, Columbus, GA
Elizabeth Connellan Smith, Verrill Dana, LLP, Portland, ME

Workplace Problems and Solutions Track

Sponsored by EmployStats

8:00 am – 9:15 am
The Role of the Lawyer and Ethics Dilemmas (Ethics)
Lawyers often are asked about a range of issues. Is it the lawyer’s role to provide ethical advice to employees or business ethics advice to employers? What are lawyers’ obligations to keep clients honest? What is legal versus business or non-legal advice? This panel will explore the extent of lawyers’ obligations, whether communications are subject to the attorney/client privilege when lawyers act as business partners or confidants, and what steps lawyers should take to differentiate their roles and protect attorney/client privileged communications.

PANELISTS:
Jonathan Ben-Asher, Ritz, Clark & Ben-Asher, New York, NY
Heather R. Boshak, Fox Rothschild LLP, Morristown, NJ
Paula Johnston, Education Minnesota, Minneapolis, MN
Bobby Simpson, General Electric, Louisville, KY

Ensuring Pay Equity

11:30 am – 12:45 pm
Impact the Pay Gap?
Earlier this spring, the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia ordered the EEOC to reinstate a pay data requirement. The EEOC has since announced covered U.S. employers must submit pay data for calendar years 2017 and 2018 by September 30, 2019. The new reporting requirement and state equal pay and pay transparency laws continue to create new legal obligations but also increase pressure for a greater understanding of pay equity issues, including how to address or explain pay gaps. This panel will explore the current state and future of the EEO-1 Component 2 pay reporting requirement in the U.S., the impact of other pay reporting requirements around the globe, whether the reporting requirement will move the needle toward more equitable pay, and some of the more practical and privacy implications.

PANELISTS:
Anne B. Shaver, Lieff, Cabraser, Heimann & Bernstein, LLP, San Francisco, CA
Friday, November 8

Plenary Sessions

• 9:45 am – 10:00 am
ABA Section of Labor and Employment Law Award Presentations

• 10:00 am – 11:15 am
The Power of People Analytics

Employers are using people analytics to make employment decisions. Some employers have entire people analytics teams to further business goals such as recruiting and selecting employees, increasing productivity, improving employee morale, and implementing diversity and inclusion initiatives. As the use of people analytics grows in the workplace, it is important for labor and employment lawyers to understand this burgeoning field and its impact on the workplace. This panel will explore the science behind people analytics, how C-Suites and HR teams are using this data publicly and internally for diversity and inclusion purposes, and the many litigation-related questions this data collection raises. Panelists will consider these questions and provide insights into whether the use of people analytics is more helpful or hurtful to workplaces and diversity and inclusion initiatives.

PANELISTS:
- Peter Boumgarden, Ph.D., Washington University in St. Louis, St. Louis, MO
- Emily M. Dickens, Society for Human Resource Management, Alexandria, VA
- James M. Finberg, Altshuler Berzon LLP, San Francisco, CA
- Samantha C. Grant, Sheppard Mullin Richter & Hampton LLP, Los Angeles, CA

MODERATOR:
- Kelly M. Dermody, Lieff, Cabraser, Heimann & Bernstein, LLP, San Francisco, CA

Discrimination, Harassment and Retaliation Track

Sponsored by Welch Consulting

• 8:00 am – 9:15 am
OFCCP’s New Focused Reviews

This session will examine how OFCCP’s efforts to change disability compliance and inclusion have impacted federal contractors’ and subcontractors’ compliance efforts and explore whether OFCCP’s emphasis on disability compliance will be an impetus for a culture change. Panelists will discuss the current status of the reviews and also will provide insights on how to create a diverse and inclusive workplace culture for individuals with disabilities.

PANELISTS:
- Keir Bickerstaffe, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, DC
- Craig E. Leen, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, DC
- Catherine (Cay) Thompson, Raytheon Company, Boston, MA
- Annette Tyman, Seyfarth Shaw LLP, Chicago, IL

• 11:30 am – 12:45 pm
Who is Entitled to Protection from Retaliation? (Fundamentals)

In Thompson v. North American Stainless, the Supreme Court held “firing a close family member [of a complainant] will almost always” permit a claim for third party retaliation. Since Thompson, third party retaliation claims have continued to grow. This panel will discuss how courts have determined whether different co-employee relationships were sufficient to allow a third party retaliation claim to proceed. The panel will also compare the analysis of third party claims under Title VII with analysis of such claims under anti-retaliation provisions of other labor laws such as the FLSA.

PANELISTS:
- Yvette D. Everhart, Sass Law Firm, Tampa, FL
- Janis Johnson, SunTrust Banks, Atlanta, GA
- Nolan Lafier, Blitman & King LLP, Syracuse, NY
- Angelique R. Vincent-Hamacher, Robinson, Bradshaw & Hinson, P.A., Charlotte, NC

• 2:15 pm – 3:30 pm
Addressing Constructive Discharge in the Individual Discrimination and Harassment Claim

When the plaintiff quits prior to a distinct adverse action, a host of issues arise. Was the plaintiff’s decision justified? What evidence do you need to prove constructive discharge? What’s the impact on damages? This panel will use hypothetical scenarios to explain how to prove or disprove constructive discharge and succeed at trial. The panel also will explore how constructive discharge impacts damages and strategies to maximize or minimize the emotional distress damages that result.

PANELISTS:
- Wynter P. Allen, Alden Law Group, PLLC, Washington, DC
- Lucas J. Kaster, Nichols Kaster, PLLP, Minneapolis, MN
- Carson H. Sullivan, Paul Hastings LLP, Washington, DC

• 4:00 pm – 5:15 pm
Is Using Implicit Bias to Prove Discrimination under Title VII and Other Antidiscrimination Statutes a Viable Option?

It is common knowledge that implicit bias is a real phenomenon – no matter how self-aware a person claims to be, everyone harbors some internal biases. But can an employee successfully claim that her employer’s implicit biases motivated an adverse action? How “intentional” does the discrimination have to be? Is expert testimony on this subject admissible? This panel will explore parties’ use of implicit bias and the testimony of social science experts to prove or rebut claims of employment discrimination. In addition to addressing employee’s and employer’s experience with using implicit bias as a strategy, this presentation will feature a social science expert who has been retained in employment matters and a judge to discuss her experience with the use of implicit bias in employment cases and her reactions when employees use this evidence to criticize the decisions of their employers.

PANELISTS:
- Hon. J. Michele Childs, U.S. District Court for the District of South Carolina, Columbia, SC
- Lloyd B. Chinn, Proskauer Rose LLP, New York, NY
- Lindsey E. Krause, Nichols Kaster, PLLP, Minneapolis, MN
- Melissa S. Woods, Cohen, Weiss and Simon, LLP, New York, NY
- Sheree C. Wright, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, TN

Immigration and Human Trafficking Track

• 8:00 am – 9:15 am

What Every Labor and Employment Lawyer Needs to Know about Immigration Law (Fundamentals)

This program will take the foundation provided at the 2018 Conference and expand upon it in key areas, including common visa classifications (H-1B and H-2B), worksite enforcement, reductions in force, and mergers and acquisitions. Guided by expert practitioners, this panel will help those wishing to cross over into the practice of immigration law – or those wishing to learn how to spot immigration issues – gain a stronger foundation for doing so.

PANELISTS:
- Kathryn Brown, Justice at Work, Philadelphia, PA
- Jonathan A. Grode, Green & Spiegel LLC, Philadelphia, PA
- Monica T. Guizar, Weinberg & Rosenfeld, Los Angeles, CA
- Marisa Warren Sternstein, Dentus Aegis Network, New York, NY

• 2:15 pm – 3:45 pm

Revisiting Creative Responses to Gender-Based Violence in the Workplace and in Global Supply Chains

Gender-based violence continues to be a severe workplace issue that leaves women workers more vulnerable to human trafficking and other labor abuses. In June 2017, the International Labor Organization’s (ILO) began a world-wide Dialogue on Violence Against Women and Men in the Workplace. Since then, a broad range of creative proposals have been advanced to improve working conditions and legal compliance with international and national laws. This program will benefit practitioners from every perspective by providing the most developed “best practices” for employers, trade unions and other stakeholders to assist them in identifying and eliminating gender-based violence throughout global supply chains. Panelists will review available U.S. and international legal frameworks, including worker protection and civil rights statutes and criminal penalties, as well as seizure and criminal remedies available under the recently amended Tariff Act that prohibits importation of goods produced in whole or in part with forced labor.

PANELISTS:
- Eric Carlson, International Labour Organization, Geneva, Switzerland
- Karen M. Edwards, International Paper, Memphis, TN
- Gerald T. Hathaway, Drinker Biddle & Reath LLP, New York, NY
- Jennifer “JJ” Rosenbaum, Global Labor Justice, Washington, DC
- Robin R. Runge, Solidarity Center, Washington, DC

International Track

• 11:30 am – 12:45 pm

Addressing Workplace Mental Health Issues around the World

Mental health has come into much sharper focus in recent years, and employers, employees and unions alike are being faced with challenges, both in relation to responding to the mental health of employees and ensuring appropriate steps are taken to protect the mental health and wellbeing of employees. This session will look at the legislative and collective bargaining approaches around the world to worker protections in relation to mental health issues and risks at work, best practices and protocols being adopted by employers and unions to reduce those risks, and initiatives internationally to raise awareness and remove the stigma for workers coping with mental health issues at work.

PANELISTS:
- Sarah Chilton, CM Murray LLP, London, United Kingdom
- Cristiano Cominotto, AL Assistenza Legale, Milan, Italy
- Judy Krebs, SEIU 775, Seattle, WA
- Patrick Krill, Arvil Strategies, Minneapolis, MN
- Camille A. Olson, Seagarth Shaw LLP, San Francisco, CA

Labor-Management Relations Track

Sponsored by American Arbitration Association

• 8:00 am – 9:15 am

NLRA Basics: An Interactive Labor Law Primer (Fundamentals)

Using a series of hypotheticals drawn from real-life scenarios, this program will lead the audience step by step through various legal issues arising under the National Labor Relations Act, beginning with issues facing non-union workplaces, and continuing through union organizing drives, collective bargaining and various scenarios that could create unfair labor practices.

PANELISTS:
- Allison Anderson, Foley Hoag LLP, Boston, MA
- Steven Flagler, WestRock Company, Atlanta, GA
- Genairna Tyce, National Labor Relations Board, Brooklyn, NY
- Lindsey Wagner, Scott & Wagner and Associates, Los Angeles, CA
- Hannah S. Weinstein, Rothner, Segall & Greenstone, Pasadena, CA

• 11:30 am – 12:45 pm

The Ethics of Collective Bargaining: Bigger and Better! (Ethics)

As last year’s popular interactive ethics program made clear, union and management attorneys face a myriad of ethical issues in negotiating collective bargaining agreements. Against a new factual backdrop, this program will allow attendees to explore more ethical issues that arise in connection with collective bargaining and labor relations issues.

PANELISTS:
- Vanessa D. Bullock, Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, Philadelphia, PA
- Pamela Chandran, UNAC/UHCP, San Dimas, CA
- Susan Davis, Cohen, Weiss and Simon LLP, New York, NY
- Brenda D. Pryor, SIU School of Medicine, Springfield, IL
- Jamie R. Rich, Greenberg Traurig, LLP, San Francisco, CA
2:15 pm – 3:30 pm

Evolving Labor Issues in the Gig Economy

The rise of the gig economy – characterized by employment relationships that are designed to be temporary and flexible – has presented unique issues in the area of labor law. With this type of employment relationship becoming increasingly common, how should practitioners confront common labor problems in this new context? Panelists will provide an open-ended exploration of the issues involved for various practitioners.

Panelists:
- Johnda Bentley, SEIU, Washington, DC
- Caryl Flannery, Centene Corporation, St. Louis, MO
- Richard F. Griffin Jr., Bredhoff & Kaiser PLLC, Washington, DC
- Lori Armstrong Halber, Reed Smith LLP, Philadelphia, PA

4:00 pm – 5:15 pm

Does the Railway Labor Act Need a Formal Union Decertification Procedure?

Panelists will debate whether the National Mediation Board should institute a formal decertification procedure.

Panelists:
- Kevin Brodar, United Transportation Union, North Olmsted, OH
- Marc Esposito, Delta Airlines, Atlanta, GA
- Kyle Fortson, National Mediation Board, Washington, DC
- Aparna B. Joshi, O’Melveny & Myers LLP, Los Angeles, CA
- Stephen B. Moldof, Cohen, Weiss and Simon LLP, New York, NY

Litigation and Class Action Track
Sponsored by Welch Consulting

8:00 am – 9:15 am

Trying the Challenging Employment Case

This panel will discuss strategies for trying some of the more complex/thorny issues in a sexual harassment case to a jury, judge or arbitrator. Issues to be covered include the handling of delayed reporting of harassment by the plaintiff (e.g., “#WhyIDidntReport” arguments), the introduction of, and challenges to, “MeToo” evidence, addressing the continuing violation theory at trial, direct and cross-examination of alleged harassers and victims, and handling challenges presented by the “serial plaintiff” and the “equal opportunity offender.”

Panelists:
- Hon. Rebecca R. Pallmeyer, U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Chicago, IL
- Lisa J. Banks, Katz, Marshall & Banks, Washington, DC
- Eric L. Barnum, Baker & Hostetler LLP, Atlanta, GA
- Sara J. Geenen, The Previant Law Firm, S.C., Milwaukee, WI

2:15 pm – 3:30 pm

Crafting Winning Opening Statements and Closing Arguments in a Jury Trial

During the opening statements and closing arguments in a jury trial, it is essentially the lawyer that is on trial. This panel will discuss the function and role of both opening statements and closing arguments and how they differ, including how to set the tone for trial and how to develop a coherent theme that is ultimately knit together in the end. Panelists also will provide tips on engaging the jury from the start and becoming likeable and trustworthy in the Social Media Age.

Panelists:
- Michael P. Royal, Littler Mendelson P.C., Dallas, TX
- Michael C. Subit, Frank Freed Submit & Thomas LLP, Seattle, WA
- Jill Huntley Taylor, Ph.D., Dispute Dynamics, Philadelphia, PA

4:00 pm – 5:15 pm

Class Action Certifications: When and How to Challenge and The Best Defenses to Withstand the Challenge

In a mock argument format, defense counsel will challenge class certification with plaintiff’s counsel providing the rebuttal. A judge will decide each argument as raised, including lack of commonality of law or facts, class representatives are not truly representative, due process concerns for the defendant, right to raise individualized defenses, lack of standing, etc. The judge will provide feedback on successful arguments/defenses presented and in litigations before the judge and the sufficiency of the evidence relied upon by the defendant.

Panelists:
- Hon. Mary S. Scriven, U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Florida, Tampa, FL
- J. Derek Braziel, Lee & Brzziel LLP, Dallas, TX

Nicolle E. Teixeira, Leonard Carder LLP, Oakland, CA

Technology Track

• 8:00 am – 9:15 am

Technology in the Age of #MeToo

The #MeToo and #TimesUp movements have produced a cascade of revelations concerning serious sexual harassment and other gender-based discrimination in the workplace. These movements have questioned the status quo in many, if not all, industries. How (and what) technology should be employed to address this crisis? And, what are the legal implications, practical impacts, and ethical queries for management, government, unions, and individuals when these technologies are employed? Drawing from their respective expertise and experience, this panel will address these questions in depth. In doing so, panelists will provide insight on technology aiming to prevent pay inequities, gender discrimination and sexual harassment and to assist in the investigation and resolution of claims. They will also discuss this technology’s implementation in the workplace, in investigations, and in the courtroom.

Wage and Hour Track

Sponsored by Welch Consulting

• 8:00 am – 9:15 am

Navigating State Wage and Hour Laws

Many states have wage and hour laws that offer greater protections to workers and stricter requirements for employers than the FLSA. Application of the states’ ABC and other tests for determining whether a worker is an employee and longer statutes of limitations are just two examples. Workers are increasingly bringing state law claims instead of or in conjunction with FLSA claims. This panel will explore trends in state law claims being filed (including tip credit and fluctuating week pay period issues as well as different standards for penalties) and discuss best practices to ensure employer compliance.

Are Grassroots Movements the New Enforcers?

Employees, independent contractors and unions are increasingly using social media and grassroots movements to seek transparency, accountability and social responsibility from employers. What do organizers need to consider when driving these campaigns, especially in the context of public sector walk-outs? What impact do such movements have on employers’ reputations, decision-making and workplace practices? This panel will explore whether grassroots efforts by workers, employees and unions are driving change in employment policies and cultures, how employers are or should be responding, and legal and other issues that these stakeholders should expect to confront in the near future.

How to Achieve Diversity and Inclusion in Arbitrator Selection
Parties select arbitrators based upon a reputation for acceptability and fairness. However, parties have criticized the makeup of arbitration panels as being too white, too male and too old. Yet those same parties select “who they know” to hear and resolve disputes presented. The recruitment and advancement of women and persons of color to serve as arbitrators and mediators presents a vexing problem in the labor and employment ADR community. This panel will discuss the challenges and opportunities in developing more diverse rosters of arbitrators.

NLRB Rulemaking under the APA: Proposals to Revive Notice and Comment Rulemaking and Its Effect on Practitioners
The NLRB recently published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in the Federal Register regarding its joint-employer standard. The NLRB General Counsel has expressed a preference for notice-and-comment rulemaking in important areas of labor law under the assumption that such rulemaking would foster predictability, consistency and stability. What is the current status of the NLRB’s rulemaking authority under the APA? To what extent is deference afforded to the agency under the Chevron, Skidmore as revived by Mead, and other federal authority? To what extent is notice-and-comment rulemaking preferable to judicial rulemaking, or vice-versa, in the unique context of labor law? What role should the NLRB play in fostering labor relations?

Employee Use of Personal Technology at the Workplace: Bound and Gagged at Work or Fair Limits to Ensure Productivity?
The world is increasingly tech dependent and employers want tech savvy employees who can communicate with ease on today’s devices and apps. Yet many employers want these same employees to effectively check their tech at the office door. How is the Board currently balancing employee use of technology to exercise Section 7 rights against the right of employers to control their property and workplace? From recording devices, to email and the internet, this panel will look at the Trump Board’s revisiting of employee rights to use tech at work, including those recently secured by key Obama Board decisions.

- 9:00 am – 10:15 am
The State of OSHA Inspections Post-Mar Jac
On October 9, 2018, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit upheld a district court’s order quashing an Occupational Safety and Health Administration inspection warrant. OSHA unsuccessfully challenged the district court’s finding that the agency lacked administrative probable cause based on injuries noted on a company’s OSHA Form 300 logs. The panel will discuss whether Mar-Jac Poultry impair OSHA’s ability to rely upon 300 logs and similar evidence as the basis for obtaining an administrative search warrant. The panel will also address related legal issues that may arise during various stages of an OSHA inspection.

PANELISTS:

Gamification in Employee Recruiting and Selection
Companies in all industries, from technology to food service, have introduced gamification into the recruiting and hiring process. Now that law firms are on board, the technology looks like it is here to stay. But do pre-employment games really help select the best applicants? Do they favor millennials over older workers? Do applicants of certain ethnicities fare better? This panel will tell you everything you need to know about the gamification of recruiting, what technologies employers are using, whether they accurately predict employee success, and whether they can be validated to eliminate bias.

  Law student attendees are invited to network with each other and members of the Outreach to Law Students Committee and Section Leadership prior to the start of the Conference. This event will offer students a casual introduction to the ins and outs of the Annual Section Conference.

• 5:00 pm – 6:00 pm
  First-Time Attendee/New Section Member Orientation
  If you are a new member of the Section of Labor and Employment Law or if this is your first Section meeting, join your peers for an overview of what you should know about the Section and how to get the most benefit from attending the Conference.

• 6:00 pm – 8:00 pm
  Welcome Reception and Committee Expo
  All attendees are invited to meet, greet and network during this opening reception at the Hilton New Orleans Riverside. Section Committees will provide information about publications, services and programs they provide to labor and employment lawyers.

Thursday, November 7

• 5:15 pm – 6:00 pm
  Standing Committee Business Meetings
  Section of Labor and Employment Law Standing Committees will conduct business meetings in an informal setting.

• 7:30 pm – 10:00 pm
  Young Lawyers Dine-Around
  Members of the ABA Young Lawyers Division are invited to participate in an organized “dine-around” at several of New Orleans’ wonderful restaurants. Sign-up information and further details will be provided to YLD Conference registrants.

• 7:30 pm – 10:00 pm
  Committee Dinners (optional ticketed events)
  • International Labor and Employment Law – Arnaud’s
  • State and Local Government Bargaining and Employment Law – Mother’s Next Door

Friday, November 8

• 7:00 pm – 11:00 pm
  Conference Reception at House of Blues
  Join with old friends and new to celebrate the 13th Annual Labor and Employment Law Conference at the House of Blues, which will feature great food, drinks and live entertainment.
