* Mr. Dietrich graduated from Whitman College in 1979 and graduated from the University Of Montana School Of Law in 1984. He served for six years as a Member of the Board of Directors of the Montana Land Reliance, a land trust having in excess of 650,000 acres under conservation easement protection; David currently serves as a council member of the Real Property Probate and Trust law section of the American Bar Association. Several segments of this article originally appeared in the materials provided under the title of “Pleasing Mother Earth and the IRS: Using Conservation Easements to Save Open Space, Income and Estate Taxes” as presented by David at the Heckerling Institute for Estate Planning for the University of Miami in January 2003. Dietrich and Associates, P.C., is an agricultural tax planning and real estate firm, in Billings, Montana.

David gratefully acknowledges the research, editing, and drafting contributions of his associate, Anna L. Huffman, in the preparation of this article. Mrs. Huffman graduated from North Carolina State University in 1999, with a BS degree, magna cum laude; and attended Vermont Law School and graduated with a Juris Doctorate in 2005. She has been an associate with Dietrich and Associates, P.C. since September, 2005.
