ADOPTED

RESOLUTION

RESOLVED, That the American Bar Association adopts the Model Rule for Minimum Continuing Legal Education (MCLE) and Comments dated February 2017, to replace the Model Rule for MCLE and Comments adopted by the American Bar Association in 1988 and subsequently amended.
American Bar Association

Model Rule for Minimum Continuing Legal Education

February 2017

Purpose

To maintain public confidence in the legal profession and the rule of law, and to promote the fair administration of justice, it is essential that lawyers be competent regarding the law, legal and practice-oriented skills, the standards and ethical obligations of the legal profession, and the management of their practices. In furtherance of this purpose, the ABA recommends this Model Rule for Minimum Continuing Legal Education (MCLE) and Comments, which replaces the prior Model Rule for MCLE and Comments adopted by the American Bar Association in 1988 and subsequently amended.

Section 6. Other MCLE-Qualifying Activities.

Section 1. Definitions.

(A) “Continuing Legal Education Program” or “CLE Program” or “CLE Programming” means a legal education program taught by one or more faculty members that has significant intellectual or practical content designed to increase or maintain the lawyer’s professional competence and skills as a lawyer.

(B) “Credit” or “Credit Hour” means the unit of measurement used for meeting MCLE requirements. For Credits earned through attendance at a CLE Program, a Credit Hour requires sixty minutes of programming. Jurisdictions may also choose to award a fraction of a credit for shorter programs.

(C) “Diversity and Inclusion Programming” means CLE Programming that addresses diversity and inclusion in the legal system of all persons regardless of race, ethnicity, religion, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, or disabilities, and programs regarding the elimination of bias.
(D) “Ethics and Professionalism Programming” means CLE programming that addresses standards set by the Jurisdiction’s Rules of Professional Conduct with which a lawyer must comply to remain authorized to practice law, as well as the tenets of the legal profession by which a lawyer demonstrates civility, honesty, integrity, character, fairness, competence, ethical conduct, public service, and respect for the rules of law, the courts, clients, other lawyers, witnesses, and unrepresented parties.

(E) “In-House CLE Programming” means programming provided to a select private audience by a private law firm, a corporation, or financial institution, or by a federal, state, or local governmental agency, for lawyers who are members, clients, or employees of any of those organizations.

(F) “Interdisciplinary Programming” means programming that crosses academic lines that supports competence in the practice of law.

(G) “Jurisdiction” means United States jurisdictions including the fifty states, the District of Columbia, territories, and Indian tribes.

(H) “Law Practice Programming” means programming specifically designed for lawyers on topics that deal with means and methods for enhancing the quality and efficiency of a lawyer’s service to the lawyer’s clients.

(I) “MCLE” or “Minimum Continuing Legal Education” means the ongoing training and education that a Jurisdiction requires in order for lawyers to maintain their license to practice.

(J) “Mental Health and Substance Use Disorders Programming” means CLE Programming that addresses the prevention, detection, and/or treatment of mental health disorders and/or substance use disorders, which can affect a lawyer’s ability to perform competent legal services.

(K) “Moderated Programming” means programming delivered via a format that provides attendees an opportunity to interact in real time with program faculty members or a qualified commentator who are available to offer comments and answer oral or written questions before, during, or after the program. Current delivery methods considered Moderated Programming include, but are not limited to:

(1) “In-Person” – a live CLE Program presented in a classroom setting devoted to the program, with attendees in the same room as the faculty members.

(2) “Satellite/Groupcast” – a live CLE Program broadcast via technology to remote locations (i.e., a classroom setting or a central viewing or listening location). Attendees participate in the program in a group setting.

(3) “Teleseminar” – a live CLE program broadcast via telephone to remote locations (i.e., a classroom setting or a central listening location) or to individual attendee telephone lines. Attendees may participate in the program in a group setting or individually.
“Video Replay” – a recorded CLE Program presented in a classroom setting devoted to the program, with attendees in the same room as a qualified commentator. Attendees participate in the program in a group setting.

“Webcast/Webinar” – a live CLE Program broadcast via the internet to remote locations (i.e., a classroom setting or a central viewing or listening location) or to individual attendees. Attendees may participate in the program in a group setting or individually.

Webcast/Webinar Replay” - a recorded CLE program broadcast via the internet to remote locations (i.e., a classroom setting or a central viewing or listening location) or to individual attendees. A qualified commentator is available to offer comments or answer questions. Attendees may participate in the program in a group setting or individually.

“New Lawyer Programming” means programming designed for newly licensed lawyers that focuses on basic skills and substantive law that is particularly relevant to lawyers as they transition from law school to the practice of law.

“Non-Moderated Programming with Interactivity as a Key Component” means programming delivered via a recorded format that provides attendees a significant level of interaction with the program, faculty, or other attendees. Types of qualifying interactivity for non-moderated formats include, but are not limited to, the ability of participants to: submit questions to faculty members or a qualified commentator; participate in discussion groups or bulletin boards related to the program; or use quizzes, tests, or other learning assessment tools. Current delivery methods considered Non-Moderated Programming with Interactivity as Key Component include, but are not limited to:

1. “Recorded On Demand Online” – a recorded CLE Program delivered through the internet to an individual attendee’s computer or other electronic device with interactivity built into the program recording or delivery method.
2. “Video or Audio File” – a recorded CLE Program delivered through a downloaded electronic file in mp3, mp4, wav, avi, or other formats with interactivity built into the program recording or delivery method.
3. “Video or Audio Tape” – a recorded CLE Program delivered via a hard copy on tape, DVD, DVR, or other formats with interactivity built into the program recording or delivery method.

“Self-Study” includes activities that are helpful to a lawyer’s continuing education, but do not meet the definition of CLE Programming that qualifies for MCLE Credit. Self-Study includes, but is not limited to:
(1) “Informal Learning” - acquiring knowledge through interaction with other lawyers, such as discussing the law and legal developments

(2) “Non-Moderated Programming Without Interactivity” - viewing recorded CLE Programs that do not have interactivity built into the program recording or delivery method

(3) “Text” - reading or studying content (periodicals, newsletters, blogs, journals, casebooks, textbooks, statutes, etc.)

(O) “Sponsor” means the producer of the CLE Program responsible for adherence to the standards of program content determined by the MCLE rules and regulations of the Jurisdiction. A Sponsor may be an organization, bar association, CLE provider, law firm, corporate or government legal department, or presenter.

(P) “Technology Programming” means programming designed for lawyers that provides education on safe and effective ways to use technology in one’s law practice, such as to communicate, conduct research, ensure cybersecurity, and manage a law office and legal matters. Such programming assists lawyers in satisfying Rule 1.1 of the ABA Model Rules of Professional Conduct in terms of its technology component, as noted in Comment 8 to the Rule (“To maintain the requisite knowledge and skill, a lawyer should keep abreast of changes in the law and its practice, including the benefits and risks associated with relevant technology[.]”).

Section 2. MCLE Commission.

The Jurisdiction’s Supreme Court shall establish an MCLE Commission to develop MCLE regulations and oversee the administration of MCLE.

Comments:

1. Section 2 assumes that the Jurisdiction’s highest court is its Supreme Court and that the Supreme Court is the entity empowered to create an MCLE Commission. The titles of the applicable entities may vary by Jurisdiction.

2. Supreme Courts are encouraged to consider the following when establishing an MCLE Commission: composition of the Commission; terms of service; where and how often the Commission must meet; election of officers; expenses; confidentiality; and staffing.

3. It is anticipated that MCLE Commissions will develop Jurisdiction-specific regulations (or rules) to effectuate the provisions outlined in this Model Rule, such as regulations concerning when and how lawyers must file MCLE reports, penalties for failing to comply, and appeals. Further, it is anticipated that MCLE Commissions will develop regulations concerning the accreditation process for MCLE that is provided by local, state, and national Sponsors. This Model Rule also addresses recommended accreditation standards in Sections 4 and 5.
Section 3. MCLE Requirements and Exemptions.

(A) Requirements.

(1) All lawyers with an active license to practice law in this Jurisdiction shall be required to earn an average of fifteen MCLE credit hours per year during the reporting period established in this Jurisdiction.

(2) As part of the required Credit Hours referenced in Section 3(A)(1), lawyers must earn Credit Hours in each of the following areas:

   (a) Ethics and Professionalism Programming (an average of at least one Credit Hour per year);

   (b) Mental Health and Substance Use Disorders Programming (at least one Credit Hour every three years); and

   (c) Diversity and Inclusion Programming (at least one Credit Hour every three years).

(3) A jurisdiction may establish regulations allowing the MCLE requirements to be satisfied, in whole or in part, by the carryover of Credit Hours from the immediate prior reporting period.

(B) Exemptions. The following lawyers may seek an exemption from this MCLE Requirement:

(1) Lawyers with an inactive license to practice law in this Jurisdiction, including those on retired status.

(2) Nonresident lawyers from other Jurisdictions who are temporarily admitted to practice law in this Jurisdiction under pro hac vice rules.

(3) A lawyer with an active license to practice law in this Jurisdiction who maintains a principal office for the practice of law in another Jurisdiction which requires MCLE and who can demonstrate compliance with the MCLE requirements of that Jurisdiction.

(4) Lawyers who qualify for full or partial exemptions allowed by regulation, such as exemptions for those on active military duty, those who are full-time academics who do not engage in the practice of law, those experiencing medical issues, and those serving as judges (whose continuing education is addressed by other rules).
Comments:

1. While many Jurisdictions have chosen to require twelve Credit Hours per year, and a minority of Jurisdictions require fewer than twelve Credit Hours per year, Section 3(A)(1) recommends an average of fifteen Credit Hours of CLE annually, meaning lawyers must earn fifteen Credit Hours per reporting period in Jurisdictions that require annual reporting, thirty Credit Hours per reporting period in Jurisdictions that require reporting every two years, and forty-five Credit Hours per reporting period in Jurisdictions that require reporting every three years. In addition, this Model Rule recommends sixty minutes of CLE Programming per Credit Hour, which is the standard in the majority of Jurisdictions, although a minority of Jurisdictions have chosen to require only fifty minutes of CLE Programming per Credit Hour.

2. Section 3(A)(1) does not take a position on whether lawyers should report annually, every two years, or every three years, all of which are options various Jurisdictions have chosen to implement, in part based on their own Jurisdiction’s administrative needs. Allowing a lawyer to take credits over a two-year or three-year period provides increased flexibility for the lawyer in choosing when and which credits to earn, but it may also lead to procrastination and may provide less incentive for a lawyer to regularly take CLE that updates his or her professional competence.

3. Section 3(A)(2) recognizes that Jurisdictions may choose to identify specific MCLE credits that each lawyer must earn, such as those addressing particular subject areas. This Model Rule recommends that every lawyer be required to take the specific credits outlined in Section 3(A)(2)(a), (b), and (c). While requiring specific credits may increase administrative burdens on accrediting agencies, CLE Sponsors, and individual lawyers, and also requires proactive efforts to ensure the availability of programs, it is believed that those burdens are outweighed by the benefit of having all lawyers regularly receive education in those specific areas.

4. Many Jurisdictions currently allow CLE Programs on topics outlined in Section 3(A)(2)(b) and (c) (relating to Mental Health and Substance Use Disorders Programming, and Diversity and Inclusion Programming) to count toward the general CLE requirement or the Ethics and Professionalism Programming requirement, rather than specifically requiring attendance at those specialty programs. This Model Rule recommends stand-alone requirements for those specialty programs, in order to ensure that all lawyers receive minimal training in those areas. With respect to Mental Health and Substance Use Disorders Programming in particular, research indicates that lawyers may hesitate to attend such programs due to potential stigma; requiring all lawyers to attend such a program may greatly reduce that concern. Nonetheless, this Model Rule recognizes that Jurisdictions may choose not to impose a stand-alone requirement and, instead, accredit those specialty programs towards the Ethics and Professionalism Programming requirement. All Jurisdictions are encouraged to promote the development of those specialty programs in order to reach as many lawyers as possible. Nearly every Jurisdiction has a lawyers assistance program that can offer, or assist in offering, Mental Health and Substance Use Disorders Programming. In addition, numerous bar associations, including the American Bar Association, have diversity committees that can offer, or assist in offering, Diversity and Inclusion Programming.
5. Section 3(A)(3) endorses regulations that allow lawyers to carry over MCLE credits earned in excess of the current reporting period’s requirement from one reporting period to the next, which encourages lawyers to take extra MCLE credits at a time that meets their professional and learning needs without losing credit for the MCLE activity. It is anticipated that each Jurisdiction will draft carryover credit regulations that best meet the Jurisdiction’s needs, taking into account factors such as the length of the reporting period, the availability of CLE Programs in the Jurisdiction, administrative considerations, and other factors.

6. Section 3(B) recognizes that Jurisdictions may choose to exempt certain lawyers from MCLE requirements. It is anticipated that regulations addressing such exemptions will identify those who are automatically exempt, those who may seek an exemption based on their particular circumstances, and the process for claiming an exemption.

7. Section 3(B)(3) provides a mechanism for lawyers licensed in more than one Jurisdiction to be exempt from MCLE requirements if the lawyer satisfies the MCLE requirements of the Jurisdiction where his or her principal office is located. A Jurisdiction may consider limiting this exemption to lawyers with principal offices in certain Jurisdictions if the Jurisdiction is concerned that the MCLE rules of other Jurisdictions vary too greatly from its own rules. A Jurisdiction may also consider limiting this exemption to require that the lawyer attend particular CLE Programs, such as a Jurisdiction-specific professionalism program, or other specific programs not required in the Jurisdiction where the lawyer’s principal office is located.

Section 4. MCLE-Qualifying Program Standards.

To be approved for credit, Continuing Legal Education Programs must meet the following standards:

(A) The program must have significant intellectual or practical content and be designed for a lawyer audience. Its primary objective must be to increase the attendee’s professional competence and skills as a lawyer, and to improve the quality of legal services rendered to the public.

(B) The program must pertain to a recognized legal subject or other subject matter which integrally relates to the practice of law, professionalism, diversity and inclusion issues, mental health and substance use disorders issues, civility, or the ethical obligations of lawyers. CLE Programs that address any of the following will qualify for MCLE credit, provided the program satisfies the other accreditation requirements outlined herein:
C) The program must be delivered as Moderated Programming, or Non-Moderated Programming with Interactivity as a Key Component. The Sponsor must have a system which allows certification of attendance to be controlled by the Sponsor and which permits the Sponsor to verify the date and time of attendance.

D) Thorough, high-quality instructional written materials which appropriately cover the subject matter must be distributed to all attendees in paper or electronic format during or prior to the program.

E) Each program shall be presented by a faculty member or members qualified by academic or practical experience to teach the topics covered, whether they are lawyers or have other subject matter expertise.

Comments:

1. This Model Rule recommends approval of CLE programs designed for lawyers on the topics outlined in Section 4(B). This Model Rule supports allowing a lawyer to make educated choices about which programs will best meet the lawyer’s educational needs, recognizing that the lawyer’s needs may change over the course of his or her career. Therefore, this Model Rule does not place limits on the number of credits that can be earned through the programs identified in Section 4(B).

2. Section 4(B)(4) supports accrediting CLE Programs specifically designed for new lawyers. Many Jurisdictions require new lawyers to take one or more specific programs that focus on basic skills and substantive law particularly relevant to new lawyers, either prior to or immediately after bar admission. Other Jurisdictions simply accredit such programs as general CLE. The catalyst for some Jurisdictions to begin offering such programs was a 1992 ABA task force report entitled: “Task Force on Law Schools and the Profession: Narrowing the Gap” (commonly known as the “MacCrate Report”), which offered numerous recommendations for preparing law students and new graduates to practice law. This Model Rule supports the creation of programs designed for new lawyers, but does not specifically require such programs, because many Jurisdiction-specific factors may influence a Jurisdiction’s decision on this issue, such as the number of lawyers in the Jurisdiction, the availability of existing CLE programs, whether there are specific Sponsors available to teach such programs, similar educational programs required before licensure, and other factors.

3. Law Practice Programming, Section 4(B)(5), is programming specifically designed for lawyers on topics that deal with means and methods for enhancing the quality and efficiency of a lawyer’s service to the lawyer’s clients. Providing education on the operation and management of one’s legal practice can help lawyers avoid mistakes that harm clients and cause law practices to fail. In some cases, Law Practice Programming may qualify as Ethics and Professionalism Programming.

4. Technology Programming, Section 4(B)(6), provides education on safe and effective ways to use technology in one’s law practice, such as to communicate, conduct research, ensure cybersecurity, and manage a law office and legal matters, thereby assisting lawyers in satisfying Rule 1.1 of the ABA Model Rules of Professional Conduct in terms of its technology component, as noted in Comment 8 to the Rule (“To maintain the requisite knowledge and skill, a lawyer should keep abreast of changes in the law and its practice, including the benefits and risks associated with relevant technology[.]”). In some cases, Technology Programming may qualify as Ethics and Professionalism Programming.

5. Interdisciplinary Programming, Section 4(B)(7), provides a lawyer the opportunity to gain knowledge about a subject pertinent to his or her law practice, such as the treatment of particular physical injuries, child development, and forensic accounting.

6. In recent years, some Jurisdictions have begun accrediting programming that addresses attorney wellness or well-being topics. Some of those programs qualify for accreditation under this Model Rule’s definitions of Mental Health and Substance Use Disorders Programming and Ethics and Professionalism Programming. In the future, this Model Rule may be amended to include additional programming that falls within a broader definition of Attorney Well-Being Programming. For that reason, Section (4)(B)(8) appears in brackets and Attorney Well-Being Programming is not defined in this Model Rule.

7. If a lawyer seeks MCLE credit for attending a program that has not been specifically designed for lawyers, including but not limited to programs on the topics identified in Section 4(B), Jurisdictions may choose to consider creating regulations that would require the lawyer to... explain how the program is beneficial to the lawyer’s practice. The regulations could also address how to calculate Credit Hours for programs that were not designed for lawyers.

8. In-Person Moderated Programming, see Section 4(C) and Section 1(K)(1), requires lawyers to leave their offices and learn alongside other lawyers, which can enhance the education of all and promote collegiality. Other forms of Moderated Programming and Non-Moderated Programming with Interactivity as a Key Component, such as Section 4(C), Section 1(K) and (M), and Section 4(A)(2), allow lawyers to attend programs from any location and, in some cases, at the time of their choice. This flexibility allows lawyers to select programs most relevant to their practice, including specialized programs and programs with a national scope. Some Jurisdictions have expressed concern with approving programming that does not occur In-Person on grounds that the lawyer is less engaged. Thus, some Jurisdictions have declined to accredit or have limited the number of credits that can be earned through these other forms of programming. This Model Rule supports allowing a lawyer to make educated choices about whether attending Moderated Programming (In-Person or other) or Non-Moderated Programming with Interactivity as a Key Component will best meet the lawyer’s educational needs, recognizing that the lawyer’s needs may change over the course of his or her career. Therefore, this Model Rule does not place limits on the number of credits that can be earned through Moderated Programming or Non-Moderated Programming with Interactivity as a Key Component. If a Jurisdiction believes that Moderated Programming, specifically In-Person Programming, is crucial to a lawyer’s education, then it is recommended that the Jurisdiction establish a minimum number of credits that must be earned through this type of programming, rather than place a cap on the number of credits that can be earned through other types of programming. A key factor in deciding whether to require In-Person Programming is the availability of programs throughout a particular Jurisdiction, which may be affected by geography, the number of CLE Sponsors, and other Jurisdiction-specific factors.

9. Currently, all Jurisdictions calculate credits exclusively based on the number of minutes a presentation lasts. Several Jurisdictions have explored offering MCLE credit for self-guided educational programs, such as those offered using a computer simulation that is completed at the lawyer’s individual pace. Jurisdictions may wish to consider offering MCLE credit for such programs, especially as technology continues to advance.

10. Self-Study does not qualify for MCLE Credit. Jurisdictions have used the term “self-study” in varying ways. As defined in this Model Rule, Self-Study refers to activities that are important for a lawyer’s continuing education and professional development, but which do not qualify as MCLE. Lawyers are encouraged to engage in Self-Study as a complement to earning MCLE Credits.

Section 5. Accreditation.

(A) The Jurisdiction shall establish regulations that outline the requirements and procedures by which CLE Sponsors can seek approval for an individual CLE Program. The regulations should indicate whether the Jurisdiction imposes specific requirements with respect to the following:
(1) Faculty credentials

(2) Written materials

(3) Attendance verification

(4) Interactivity

(5) Applications and supplemental information required (agenda, sample of materials, faculty credentials, etc.)

(6) Accreditation fees

(B) Any Sponsor may apply for approval of individual programs, but if the Jurisdiction determines that a Sponsor regularly provides a significant volume of CLE programs that meet the standards of approval and that the Sponsor will maintain and submit the required records, the Jurisdiction may designate, on its own or upon application from a Sponsor, such a Sponsor as an “approved provider.” The MCLE Commission may revoke approval if a Sponsor fails to comply with its regulations, requirements, or program standards.

(C) Programs offered by law firms, corporate or government legal departments, or other similar entities primarily for the education of their members or clients will be approved for credit provided that the program meets the standards for accreditation outlined in Section 4.

(D) A Jurisdiction may establish regulations allowing an individual lawyer attendee to self-apply for MCLE Credit for attending a CLE program that the Sponsor did not submit for accreditation in the Jurisdiction where the individual lawyer is licensed.
1. The vast majority of Jurisdictions now require MCLE. Over the four decades during which Jurisdictions began implementing MCLE requirements, they have taken a variety of approaches to accreditation requirements and processes. This has allowed Jurisdictions to consider Jurisdiction-specific priorities and needs when drafting CLE requirements. However, this has created challenges for CLE Sponsors seeking program approval in multiple Jurisdictions. Many regional and national CLE Sponsors spend considerable time and resources to file applications in multiple Jurisdictions with differing program requirements. This increased financial and administrative burden can increase costs for CLE attendees, and it can also affect the number of programs being offered nationwide on specialized CLE and federal law topics. While differences in regulatory requirements among Jurisdictions are likely to continue, Jurisdictions are encouraged to consider ways to reduce financial and administrative burdens so that CLE Sponsors can offer programming that meets lawyers’ educational needs at a reasonable price. For instance, Jurisdictions can promulgate regulations that are clear and specific, and they can streamline application processes, both of which would make it easier for Sponsors to complete applications and know with greater certainty whether programs are likely to be approved for MCLE credit. In addition, Jurisdictions may choose to reduce administrative costs to the Jurisdictions, CLE Sponsors, and individual lawyers by recognizing an accreditation decision made for a particular program by another Jurisdiction, thereby eliminating the need for the CLE Sponsor or individual lawyer to submit the program for accreditation in multiple Jurisdictions. Jurisdictions might also consider creating a regional or national accrediting agency to supplement or replace accreditation processes in individual Jurisdictions.

2. Many Jurisdictions outline specific requirements for CLE program faculty members, such as requiring that at least one member of the faculty be a licensed lawyer. Section 5(A)(1) does not suggest specific regulations with respect to faculty, but Section 4(B) recognizes the value of programming in Law Practice, Technology, and Interdisciplinary topics. For CLE Programs on those topics, the most qualified speaker may be a non-lawyer. Therefore, Jurisdictions are encouraged to allow non-lawyers to serve as speakers in appropriate circumstances, and Sponsors are encouraged to include lawyers in the planning and execution of programs to ensure that any subject area is discussed in a legal context.

3. All Jurisdictions currently require that a CLE program include written materials, which enhance the program and serve as a permanent resource for attendees. Section 4(D) continues to require program materials for a program to qualify for credit. Section 5(A)(2) does not suggest specific requirements for written materials, but Jurisdictions are encouraged to provide clear guidance on the format and length of required materials, which will better enable CLE Sponsors and individual lawyers seeking credit for programs to satisfy the Jurisdiction’s requirements with respect to written materials.

4. Section 5(A)(3) recognizes that many Jurisdictions require lawyers to complete attendance sheets at In-Person CLE programs or provide proof they are attending an online program. This Model Rule does not take a position on how Jurisdictions should verify attendance, but jurisdictions are encouraged to weigh the benefits of particular methods of verifying attendance against the administrative cost of the various methods of tracking and reporting attendance.

5. Section 5(A)(4) acknowledges that many Jurisdictions require that attendees have an opportunity to ask the speakers questions. While this Model Rule does not offer specific regulations on this topic, this Model Rule does endorse Moderated Programming with Interactivity as a Key Component, which includes allowing lawyers to attend CLE on demand. Those Jurisdictions that wish to provide an opportunity for attendees to ask questions are encouraged to consider alternate ways of allowing speakers and attendees to communicate, such as using Webinar chat rooms or email.

6. Section 5(A)(6) recognizes that most Jurisdictions impose fees on CLE Sponsors or individual lawyers to offset the cost of accrediting and tracking MCLE credits. The amount and type of fees vary greatly by Jurisdiction. In some cases, CLE Sponsors make decisions about where they will apply for accreditation based on the fees assessed, and may decide not to seek credit in particular Jurisdictions, such as if providing MCLE credit for a handful of attendees costs more than the tuition paid by those attendees. This can affect the availability of CLE programming to individual lawyers, especially on national and specialized topics that may not otherwise be offered in a particular Jurisdiction. Jurisdictions are encouraged to consider various fee models when determining how best to cover administrative costs.

7. For an approved provider system, see Section 5(B), Jurisdictions should create regulations which define the standards, application process for approved provider status, ongoing application process for program approval, reporting obligations, fees, and benefits of the status. Benefits may include reduced paperwork when applying for individual programs, reduced fees for program applications, or presumptive approval of all programs.

8. Many Jurisdictions impose specific requirements on In-House CLE Programming, which is sponsored by a private law firm, a corporation, or financial institution, or by a federal, state or local governmental agency for lawyers who are members, clients, or employees of any of the those organizations. This Model Rule recommends that Jurisdictions treat In-House Sponsors the same as other Sponsors and allow for full accreditation of programs when all other standards of Section 4 have been met.

9. Section 5(D) endorses regulations that allow an individual lawyer to self-apply for MCLE credit for attending a CLE Program that would qualify for MCLE Credit under Section 4, but which was not submitted for accreditation by the Sponsor in the Jurisdiction where the individual lawyer is licensed. This allows greater flexibility for a lawyer to select CLE programming that best meets his or her educational needs regardless of where the program Sponsor has chosen to apply for MCLE credit. It is anticipated that each Jurisdiction will draft regulations that best meet the Jurisdiction’s needs, taking into account factors such as: the standards, delivery format, and content of the program; the Sponsor’s qualifications; other accreditation of the program by CLE regulators; the availability of CLE Programs in the Jurisdiction; administrative considerations, including fees; and other factors.

Section 6. Other MCLE-Qualifying Activities.

Upon written application of the lawyer engaged in the activity, MCLE credit may be earned through participation in the following:

(A) Teaching – A lawyer may earn MCLE credit for being a speaker at an accredited CLE program. In addition, lawyers who are not employed full-time by a law school may earn MCLE credit for teaching a course at an ABA-accredited law school, or teaching a law course at a university, college or community college. Jurisdictions shall create regulations which define the standards, credit calculations, and limitations of credit received for teaching or presenting activities.

(B) Writing – A lawyer may earn MCLE credit for legal writing which:

(1) is published or accepted for publication, in print or electronically, in the form of an article, chapter, book, revision or update;

(2) is written in whole or in substantial part by the applicant; and

(3) contributed substantially to the continuing legal education of the applicant and other lawyers.

Jurisdictions shall create regulations which define the standards, credit calculations, and limitations of credit received for writing activities.

(C) Pro Bono

(D) Mentoring

Comments:

1. A minority of Jurisdictions award MCLE credit for providing pro bono legal representation. This Model Rule takes no position on whether such credit should be granted, as many Jurisdiction-specific factors may influence a Jurisdiction’s decision on this issue, such as the extent of free legal services existing in the Jurisdiction and pro bono requirements imposed by the Jurisdiction’s ethical rules. Accordingly, this option appears in brackets in this Model Rule.
2. A minority of Jurisdictions award MCLE credit for participating in mentoring programs for fellow lawyers. This Model Rule takes no position on whether credit should be available for that activity, as many Jurisdiction-specific factors may influence a Jurisdiction’s decision on this issue, such as the perceived need for formal mentoring programs in the Jurisdiction and the availability of organizations to administer formal mentoring programs. Accordingly, this option appears in brackets in this Model Rule.
