

avid Purvis Young Collector, D.J. Kerr (left) and Adriana Sidi (right) here photographed at The Gallery at Fisher Island during a previous exhibit. Purvis Young's painting (Upper Left) published by permission from Short Foreman Fine Art New York. Foreman's "Purvis Young: Paintings from the Street" broke attendance and catalog sales records for the museum.

from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. To arrange ferry access, ring 305.790.4324.SA

The Gallery at Fisher Island's physical address is 40206 Fisher Island Drive, in Fisher Island and is open Monday through Saturday said Sidi coyly, "go naturally together." study of the masters and the spirits they drank. "Tastings and art."

The Gallery also hosts a series of lectures called Art and Wine, a Munitz, Wilfredo Lam, Roberto Matta and Salvador Dalí.

For Art Basel, Sidi plans an exhibit of what she calls "important photography" and also the work of established artists such as Vik

why I do what I like." common," Sidi said. "That's forecasts, do not have much in or buy, and what the art market

"What people like to look at, entitled "New Works."

Choice Award, Purvis Young Art Miami 2006, Director's

folk paintings by winner of chain mail bras and Basquiat walls of The Gallery include artists. Art that graces the rotating stable of both little-known and commercial much as she pleases, with a art from all over the world as exhibit gorgeous works of offers Sidi the opportunity to

The Gallery at Fisher Island art. I don't really need the

HOME IS WHERE THE ART IS

By Yvonne Lederer

Henri Matisse is charged with having said "I wished my missed her only son, Alex, who attends school at Fisher Island Day School.

Last year, Sidi longed for a place and joyousness of a springtime which never lets anyone suspect the labours it cost."

Herein lies the story of The Gallery at Fisher Island.

Brazilian-born art dealer Adriana Sidi enjoyed almost everything about her home on opened a small, elegant studio now known as The Gallery at Fisher Island.

Despite the limited accessibility of the island, The Gallery is a Sorbonne and in Florence, Italy and speaks five languages, has been an art dealer for 10 years, traveling to more than 40 different countries. In 2006, Sidi visited Prince Albert of Monaco with an artist friend who was commissioned through Sidi to sculpt the first bust of Prince Rainier, after his death. Sidi about modern and contemporary with anybody, and raise awareness to just to share my passion for art motivation?" What I really love is And then I thought, "What is my I felt 'squeezed' on the mainland. when I looked for a place to open, galleries. They are all nice, but "I think Miami is saturated with tremendous success.

Despite the limited accessibility of the island, The Gallery is a Sorbonne and in Florence, Italy and speaks five languages, has been an art dealer for 10 years, traveling to more than 40 different countries. In 2006, Sidi visited Prince Albert of Monaco with an artist friend who was commissioned through Sidi to sculpt the first bust of Prince Rainier, after his death. Sidi about modern and contemporary with anybody, and raise awareness to just to share my passion for art motivation?" What I really love is And then I thought, "What is my I felt 'squeezed' on the mainland. when I looked for a place to open, galleries. They are all nice, but "I think Miami is saturated with tremendous success.

Photographed by Joseph Peasor