

The “Nuts & Bolts” of International Arbitration

February 9, 2009
2:00 p.m. - 3:30 p.m. EST
Washington, DC

Reception immediately following program

This *CLE program, the first in the Section of International Law’s “Nuts & Bolts” Series, will provide a foundation in the area of International Arbitration for young lawyers, law students, and lawyers who are interested in expanding into this exciting practice area. Our distinguished panellists will compare and contrast the basic substantive & procedural similarities and differences of arbitration conducted in a variety of international arbitration fora, including, but not limited to, the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), the International Center for the Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID), NAFTA (Chapter 11- Investor-State), and the World Trade Organization. Also, the experts will converse with the audience regarding the most recent developments in these areas of international arbitration, how to locate that information, and how aspiring international arbitration practitioners can advance their careers.

CLE has been applied for in the following states: DC, DE, MD, NY, NJ, PA and VA.*

Panel:

- Mélida Hodgson, Counsel, Foley Hoag, LLP - Washington, DC
