2.2 Presentation Regarding Final Report of Standing Committee on Pro Bono and Public Service Data Collection Study

Mark I. Schickman, Chair of the Standing Committee on Pro Bono and Public Service, discussed with the Board the February 2009 final report of the second national pro bono data collection study, Supporting Justice II: A Report on the Pro Bono Work of America’s Lawyers. The findings of the study show increasing levels of attorney pro bono interest and participation. Both the overall percentage of pro bono participation and the average number of pro bono hours worked are on the rise. Information about participation by various attorney demographic criteria is also provided. Further, the study presents new insights into how to recruit new pro bono attorneys and support them in their work.

Mr. Schickman also advised that the Standing Committee will co-sponsor the eleventh Equal Justice Conference with the National Legal Aid and Defender Association, May 14-16, 2009, in Orlando, Florida. At this jointly sponsored conference, important representatives from both the legal services community and the private bar, including law firm representatives, law school deans and faculty, corporate counsel and judges, explore ideas and develop strategies for meeting the civil legal needs of the poor through attorney volunteers. In addition, the Standing Committee is planning the first National Pro Bono Celebration for October 25-31, 2009. The Celebration is designed to establish a series of events across the country to send a message concerning the value of pro bono work. The goals of the Celebration are to recognize the pro bono efforts of America's lawyers, recruit more pro bono volunteers, and mobilize community support for pro bono.
On behalf of the Board, President Wells commended Mr. Shickman and the staff of the Standing Committee and the Division for Legal Services for their excellent work.

Ms. Bellows emphasized that ABA Day presents the best opportunity for leaders of the Association to speak personally to members of Congress regarding the importance of the ABA’s Legislative and Governmental Priorities. Participation in 2009 ABA Day will be enhanced through a "virtual alert" to members of the House of Delegates asking them to contact their Congressional representatives prior to ABA Day regarding issues House members would like to discuss. President Wells and Ms. Bellows encouraged all Board members to actively participate in 2009 ABA Day and, in particular, advise the ABA Day Planning Committee of members of Congress that they know so that appointments with these U.S. senators and representatives can be scheduled.
