

ABA Commission on Women Publications

Balanced Lives: Changing the Culture of the Legal Practice $25.00

This is a revised and updated edition to the 1990 publication, Lawyers and Balanced Lives. It includes an overview of the challenges posed in accommodating lawyers' personal and professional commitments, along with recommendations for change and sample policies on alternative work schedules and family leaves. 2001. PC: 4920030 (plus shipping and handling)

The Unfinished Agenda: Women in the Legal Profession $25.00

The Unfinished Agenda provides the most comprehensive contemporary review of the status of women in the American legal profession and the justice system. It provides a timely reminder that there is still considerable progress to be made before we accomplish gender equity in the workplace. 2001. PC: 4927003 (plus shipping and handling)

New: Legal Progeny: A Guide to Providing Child Care Benefits for Legal Employers, Lawyers and Bar Associations $20.00/$15.00 for ABA Members

The need for child care benefits has grown more acute in the legal profession, where heavy workloads and long hours leave parents struggling to provide adequate care for their children while satisfying the needs of their clients. Legal Progeny: A Guide to Providing Child Care Benefits for Legal Employers, Lawyers and Bar Associations addresses these issues by outlining how child care can be a win-win proposition for employers and employees alike and by providing a step-by-step process for addressing child care needs. 2003. PC: 4920033 (plus shipping and handling)

New: Empowerment and Leadership: Tried and True Methods for Women Lawyers $25.00/$20.00 for ABA Members

This guide offers information about institutional and individual approaches that foster women lawyers' progress into positions of power and leadership at law firms and corporations. This guide will also include successful strategies from senior women lawyers, managing partners, general counsels, rainmakers and other resources that can assist women in moving beyond the second glass ceiling. 2004. PC: 4920034 (plus shipping and handling)

ABA Commission on Women Publications

The Burdens of Both, The Privileges of Neither $10.00

Report of the Multicultural Women Attorneys Network on the status of multicultural women lawyers. Based on statistical data and anecdotal reports from women of color. 1994. PC: 4520003 (plus shipping and handling)

The Difference "Difference" Makes: Women and Leadership $45.00 Hard cover $17.95 Paperback

This publication highlights the findings of the 2001 Women's Leadership Summit and explores the difference gender makes in both access to leadership and in its exercise. With a focus on law, politics, and business, this report explores the difference gender makes in leadership opportunities, styles, effectiveness, and priorities. Strategies for change at both an institutional and individual level are also included. 2003. (plus shipping and handling)

Fair Measure: Toward Effective Attorney Evaluations $49.95

Provides constructive guidance on how to develop and implement an evaluation process that emphasizes objective performance criteria, eliminates bias and recognizes the value of diversity. 1997. PC: 4920019 (plus shipping and handling)

Goal IX Update No Charge

Annual report measuring women's progress in attaining leadership positions in the ABA.

Sex-Based Harassment Workplace Policies for the Legal Profession $25.00

This update to the Commission's previous publication Lawyers and Balanced Lives: A Guide to Drafting and Implementing Sexual Harassment Policies for Lawyers, provides a survey of the research and legal developments regarding sex based harassment and a discussion of the pervasiveness of sex based harassment in the legal profession. The manual seeks to assist legal employers by providing the most effective strategies that can be utilized to respond to this problem. 2002. PC: 4920032 (plus shipping and handling)

You have heard the expression "born to lead." At the heart of this notion is the fact that sometimes leadership skills come naturally and in other instances, leadership needs a guiding and nurturing hand. The Commission on Women is pleased to launch the first-ever "Women in Law Leadership" Academy. The Academy's mission is to empower recently licensed women lawyers by providing a skill set that enables them to direct and manage their own careers more effectively by gaining knowledge, finding mentors and honing their networking capabilities -- thus providing the guidance to stay the course and keep one's career intact and moving forward. Attendees will get practical advice from successful lawyers who have overcome the obstacles facing women in the profession and gain the confidence they need to thrive, find the right balance, and develop the capacity to lead.

We invite women lawyers from all law firms, corporations, government agencies, academia, judiciary, and nonprofits to join us. Our target audience is women who have been in practice fewer than 10 years. However, we welcome those women who have been practicing more than ten years and indeed might find this Academy an important informational "tool" in their career development. We seek a diverse audience from all racial and ethnic backgrounds, and anticipate that participation in this Academy will be a superb opportunity for all participants to mix, mingle, and learn together. Knowing that law firms and other legal employers recognize the value in retaining their young lawyers, we trust that they will take advantage of this program by actively encouraging your recently hired women to attend.

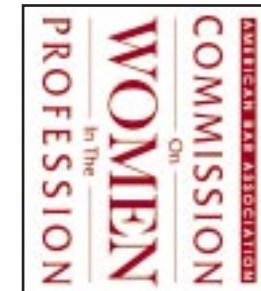

The conference will be held from 12:00pm on Friday, April 16, 2004 through 1:45pm on Saturday, April 17, 2004.

We are offering organizations a special group discount for multiple attendees: for 5-10 attendees, save $50 per person; for 11 or more attendees, save $100 per person.

Please join us in Chicago at the Wyndham Hotel - Friday and Saturday, April 16-17, 2004 for the Academy experience.
